<sup>9</sup> And Shaphan the scribe came to the king, and brought the king word again, and said: Thy servants have emptied out the money* that was found in the house, and have delivered it into the hand of them that do the work, that have the oversight of the house of the LORD. <sup>10</sup> And Shaphan the scribe told the king, saying: Hilkiah the priest hath delivered to me a book. concerning the words of this book that is found; for great is <sup>1</sup> the wrath of the LORD that is kindled against us, because our fathers have not hearkened to the words of this book, to do according to all that which is written concerning us.

<sup>15</sup> And she said unto them: Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Tell the man that sent you to me, <sup>16</sup> Thus saith the LORD: Behold, <sup>a</sup> I will bring evil upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, even all the words of the book which the king of Judah hath read; <sup>17</sup> because <sup>o</sup> they have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their hands; and my wrath is kindled against this place, and <sup>p</sup> it shall not be quenched. <sup>18</sup> But the king of Judah who sent you to inquire of the LORD, thus shall ye say to him: Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, As to the words which thou hast heard; <sup>19</sup> because thy <sup>q</sup> heart was tender, and thou hast <sup>r</sup> humbled thyself before the LORD, when thou heardest what I spake against this place and against the inhabitants thereof, that they should become <sup>s</sup> a desolation and <sup>t</sup> a curse, and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before me; I also have heard thee, saith the LORD. <sup>20</sup> Behold therefore, I will gather thee unto thy fathers, and thou <sup>u</sup> shalt be gathered into thy grave in peace; and thine eyes shall not see all the evil which I will bring upon this place.

And they brought the king word again.

Josiah's great reformatiōns; (4) extermination of idolatry throughout the land, (19) extending to the cities of Samaria; (21) great Passover celebration; (29) Josiah's resistance to the king of Egypt, and his death.

mandments and his testimonies and his statutes, <sup>d</sup> with all their heart and all their soul, to perform the words of this covenant that were written in this book. And <sup>e</sup> all the people stood to the covenant.

<sup>4</sup> And the king commanded Hilkiah the high priest, and the priests of the second order, and the keepers of the door, to bring forth out of the temple of the LORD all the vessels that were made for Baal, and for Asherah<sup>2</sup>, and for all the host of heaven. And he burned them outside Jerusalem, in the fields of Kidron, and carried the ashes of them to Beth-el.

<sup>5</sup> And he put down the <sup>f</sup> idolatrous priests, whom the kings of Judah had appointed to burn incense in the high places, in the cities of Judah and round about Jerusalem; them also that burned incense to Baal, to the sun, and to the moon, and to the constellations, and to all the host of heaven.

<sup>15</sup> Moreover the altar that was at Beth-el, the high place <sup>e</sup> which Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin, had made, both that altar and the high place he brake down; and he burned the high place; he stamped it small to powder; and he burned the Asherah.†

<sup>16</sup> And as Josiah turned himself he saw the sepulchres that were there in the mount; and he sent and took the bones out of the sepulchres; and he burned them upon the altar, and polluted it, according to the <sup>2</sup> word of the LORD which the man of God proclaimed, who proclaimed these words.

<sup>17</sup> Then he said: What pillar is that which I see? And the men of the city told him: The <sup>a</sup> sepulchre of the man of God who came from Judah, and proclaimed these things that thou hast done against the altar of Beth-el. <sup>18</sup> And he said: Let him alone; let no man move his bones. And they saved his bones, with the bones of the prophet that came out of Samaria.

<sup>19</sup> And all the houses also of the high places that were <sup>b</sup> in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel had made, to provoke the LORD to anger, Josiah took away; and he did to them according to all the acts that he had done in Beth-el. <sup>20</sup> And <sup>c</sup> he slew all the priests of the high places that were there, upon the altars; and he burned the bones of men upon them. And he returned to Jerusalem.

<sup>24</sup> Moreover <sup>g</sup> the necromancers and the wizards, and the images † and the idols, and all the abominations that were seen in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem, Josiah put away; that he might perform the words of <sup>h</sup> the law which were written in the book that Hilkiah the priest found in the house of the LORD.

<sup>25</sup> And <sup>i</sup> like unto him was there no king before him, that turned to the LORD with all his heart and with all his soul and with all his might, according to all the law of Moses; neither after him arose there any like him.

And <sup>q</sup> the people of the land took Jehoahaz the son of Josiah, and anointed him, and made him king in his father's stead.

Reigns of (31) Jehoahaz and (34) Jehoikim; (35) subjection to Egypt; (ch. 24) Nebuchadnezzar's invasion, Jehoikim's submission, and subsequent revolt; (2) invasions by the Chaldeans, Syrians, Moabites, and Ammonites.

<sup>32</sup> And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his fathers had done.

Reign of Jehoia<sup>h</sup>chin; (10) Chaldean invasion; siege and capture of Jerusalem, and (14) first transportation of Jews to Babylon.

<sup>8</sup> JEHOIACHIN <sup>a</sup> was eighteen years old when he became king; and he reigned in Jerusalem three months. And his mother's name was Nehushta, the daughter of Elnathan of Jerusalem.

<sup>9</sup> And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father had done.

vants, and his princes and his officers*; and the king of Babylon took him in the eighth year of his reign. <sup>13</sup> And <sup>d</sup> he carried out thence all the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the king's house; and he <sup>e</sup> cut in pieces all the vessels of gold <sup>f</sup> which Solomon, the king of Israel, had made in the temple of the LORD, <sup>g</sup> as the LORD had said. <sup>14</sup> And <sup>h</sup> he carried away all Jerusalem, even all the princes, and all the mighty men of valour, ten thousand captives, and <sup>i</sup> all the craftsmen and the smiths; none remained, save <sup>k</sup> the poorest sort of the people of the land.

Reign of Zedekiah.—(ch. 25. 1) second siege of Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar; (3) destruction of the city and temple; and (11) second transportation of people to Babylon.

<sup>18</sup> ZEDEKIAH <sup>a</sup> was twenty and one years old when he became king, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

<sup>19</sup> And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Jehoia<sup>h</sup>kim had done. <sup>20</sup> For <sup>b</sup> on account of the anger of the LORD it so came to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, until he had cast them out from his presence. And <sup>c</sup> Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

<sup>25</sup> And it came to pass <sup>d</sup> in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, on the tenth of the month, that Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon, came, he and all his host, against Jerusalem, and encamped against it; and they built siege-towers against it round about.

but, forasmuch as he <sup>b</sup> defiled his father's couch, <sup>c</sup> his birthright was given to the sons of Joseph the son of Israel; but the genealogy is not reckoned according to the birthright, <sup>2</sup> for <sup>d</sup> Judah prevailed among his brethren, and from him was the <sup>e</sup> chief ruler*, but the birthright was Joseph's), the sons of <sup>f</sup> Reuben the firstborn of Israel were, Hanoch and Pallu, Hezron and Carmi.

<sup>7</sup> And his brethren by their families, when the genealogy of their generations was reckoned, were, Jeiel the chief, and Zechariah, <sup>8</sup> and Bela, the son of Azaz, the son of <sup>h</sup> Shema, the son of Joel; who dwelt in <sup>i</sup> Aroer, even unto Nebo and Baal-meon; <sup>9</sup> and eastward he inhabited unto the entrance of the wilderness from the river Euphrates; because their cattle were multiplied <sup>k</sup> in the land of Gilead. <sup>10</sup> And in the days of Saul they made war <sup>l</sup> with the Hagarites, who fell by their hand; and they dwelt in their tents, throughout all the land eastward of Gilead.

<sup>14</sup> These were the sons of Abihail the son of Huri, the son of Jaroah, the son of Gilead, the son of Michael, the son of Jeshishai, the son of Jahdo, the son of Buz; <sup>15</sup> Ahi the son of Abdiel, the son of Guni, chief of the house of their fathers. <sup>16</sup> And they dwelt in Gilead, in Bashan, and in its towns, and in all the pasture lands of <sup>n</sup> Sharon, upon their borders. <sup>17</sup> All these were reckoned by genealogies†, in the days of <sup>o</sup> Jotham, the king of Judah, and in the days of <sup>p</sup> Jeroboam, the king of Israel.

<sup>18</sup> The sons of Reuben and the Gadites and half the tribe of Manasseh, of valiant men, men able to bear shield and sword and to shoot with bow, and skilful in war, were four and forty thousand seven hundred and threescore, that went out to the war. <sup>19</sup> And they made war with the Hagarites, with <sup>q</sup> Jetur and Nephish and Nodab. <sup>20</sup> And they were helped against them; and the Hagarites were delivered into their hand, and all that were with them. For <sup>r</sup> they cried to God in the battle, and he was intreated of them, because they <sup>s</sup> put their trust in him. <sup>21</sup> And they took away their cattle; their camels fifty thousand, and sheep two hundred and fifty thousand, and asses two thousand, and men a hundred thousand; <sup>22</sup> for there fell down many slain, because <sup>t</sup> the war was of God. And they dwelt in their steads <sup>u</sup> until the Captivity.

<sup>7</sup> And of the sons of Benjamin: <sup>f</sup> Sallu the son of Meshullam, the son of Hodaviah, the son of Hasenuah; <sup>8</sup> and Ibneiah the son of Jeroham; and Elah the son of Uzzi, the son of Michri; and Meshullam the son of Shephathiah, the son of Reuel, the son of Ibnijah. <sup>9</sup> And their brethren, according to their generations, nine hundred and fifty and six. All these men were chiefs of the fathers to their fathers' houses.

son of Zadok, the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahiutab, the ruler of the house of God; <sup>12</sup> and Adaiah the son of Jeroham, the son of Pashur, the son of Malchijah; and Maasiah the son of Adiel, the son of Jahzerah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Meshillemith, the son of Immer. <sup>13</sup> And their brethren, heads of their fathers' houses, a thousand and seven hundred and threescore; <sup>4</sup> very able men for the work of the service of the house of God.

<sup>14</sup> And of the Levites: Shemaiah the son of Hasshub, the son of Azrikam, the son of Hashabiah, of the sons of Merari; <sup>15</sup> and Bakbakkar, Heresh and Galai; and Mattaniah the son of Micah, the son of Zichri, the son of Asaph; <sup>16</sup> and Obadiah the son of Shemaiah, the son of Galai, the son of Jeduthun; and Berechiah the son of Asa, the son of Elkanah; who dwelt in <sup>k</sup> the villages of the Netophathites.

<sup>19</sup> And Shallum the son of Kore, the son of Ebiasaph, the son of Korah, and his brethren, of the house of his father, the Korahites, were over the work of the service, the keepers of the thresholds of the tabernacle. And their fathers, over the host* of the LORD, were keepers of the entry. <sup>20</sup> And <sup>m</sup> Phinehas the son of Eleazar was the ruler over them in time past, the LORD being with him. <sup>21</sup> Zechariah the son of Meshelemiah was keeper of the door of the Tent of meeting. <sup>22</sup> All these chosen for doorkeepers at the thresholds were two hundred and twelve. <sup>23</sup> So they and their sons were over the gates of the house of the LORD, the house of the Tent, by wards. <sup>24</sup> At the four quarters were the doorkeepers, toward the east, west, north, and south. <sup>25</sup> And their brethren in their villages were to come on the seventh day from time to time with them. <sup>26</sup> For these Levites, the four chief doorkeepers, were in faithfulness; and they were over the chambers and over the treasuries of the house of God. <sup>27</sup> And they lodged round about the house of God, because the charge was upon them, and the opening thereof every morning pertained to them. <sup>28</sup> And part of them had the charge of the ministering vessels, that they should bring

Genealogy of Saul repeated, introductory to (ch. 10, 1) the account of his death, and (14) David's succession to the throne.

<sup>3</sup> And the battle was sore against Saul; and the archers hit him, and he was wounded by the archers. <sup>4</sup> Then said Saul to his armour-bearer: Draw thy sword and thrust me through therewith, lest these uncircumcised come and mock at me. But his armour-bearer would not; for he was sore afraid. So Saul took the sword and fell upon it. <sup>5</sup> And when his armour-bearer saw that Saul was dead, he likewise fell on the sword, and died. <sup>6</sup> So Saul died, and his three sons, and all his house died together.

<sup>7</sup> And when all the men of Israel that were in the valley saw that they fled, and that Saul and his sons were dead, then they forsook their cities, and fled; and the Philistines came and dwelt in them.

<sup>8</sup> And it came to pass on the morrow, when the Philistines came to strip the slain, that they found Saul and his sons fallen in mount Gilboa. <sup>9</sup> And they stripped him, and they took his head and his armour, and sent into the land of the Philistines round about, to carry the glad tidings to their idols and to the people. <sup>10</sup> And they put his armour in the house of their gods; and they fastened his head in the temple of Dagon.

<sup>11</sup> And all Jabesh-gilead heard all that the Philistines had done to Saul; <sup>12</sup> and they arose, all the valiant men, and took away the body of Saul and the bodies of his sons, and brought them to Jabesh. And they buried their bones under the oak* in Jabesh; and they fasted seven days.

David: Thou shalt not come in hither. Nevertheless David took the stronghold of Zion, (which is the City of David). <sup>6</sup> And David said: Whosoever smiteth the Jebusites first shall become chief and captain. So Joab the son of Zeruiah went first up, and became chief.

<sup>8</sup> And he built the city round about, even from the rampart* round about; and Joab repaired the rest of the city. <sup>9</sup> So David waxed greater and greater; for the LORD of hosts was with him.

Jashobeam the son of Hachmoni, the chief of the captains; he brandished his spear against three hundred slain at one time.

<sup>12</sup> And after him Eleazar the son of Dodo, the Ahohite, who was among the three mighty men. <sup>13</sup> He was with David at

<sup>c</sup> Pas-dammim; and there the Philistines were gathered together to battle; and the plot of ground was full of barley; and the people fled from before the Philistines.

<sup>16</sup> And David was then in the stronghold, and the Philistines' garrison was then at Beth-lehem. <sup>17</sup> And David longed and said: Who will cause me to drink of the water of the well of Beth-lehem, that is at the gate? <sup>18</sup> And the three brake through the camp of the Philistines, and drew water out of the well of Beth-lehem, that was by the gate, and took and brought it to David. But David would not drink it, but poured it out to the LORD, <sup>19</sup> and said: My God forbid it me that I should do this thing. Shall I drink the blood of these men that have put their lives in jeopardy? For at the peril of their lives they brought it. And he would not drink it. These things did the three mighty men.

<sup>20</sup> And <sup>f</sup> Abishai the brother of Joab, he was the chief of the second three; and he, brandishing his spear against three hundred, slew them. And he had a name among the three; <sup>21</sup> of the three he was more honourable than the two, and he was their captain; howbeit he attained not to the first three.

12. AND these are <sup>a</sup> they that came to David to Ziklag, while he yet kept himself close, because of Saul the son of Kish : and they were among the mighty men, helpers of the war; <sup>2</sup> armed with bows, using both the right hand and <sup>b</sup> the left with stones and with arrows on the bow. They were of Saul's brethren from Benjamin. <sup>3</sup> The chiefs were Ahiczer and Joash, the sons of Shemaah the Gibeathite; and Jeziel and Pelet, the sons of Azmaveth; and Berachah; and Jehu the Antothite; <sup>4</sup> and Ismaiah the Gibeonite, a mighty man among the thirty and over the thirty; and Jeremiah and Jahaziel and Johanan; and Josabad the Gederathite; <sup>5</sup> Eluzai and Jerimoth and Bealiah and Shemariah; and Shephatiah the Haruphite; <sup>6</sup> Elkanah and Jesiah and Azarel and Joezer and Jashobeam, the Korhites; <sup>7</sup> and Joelah and Zebadiah, the sons of Jeroham of Gedor.

<sup>16</sup> And there came of the sons of Benjamin and Judah to the stronghold, unto David. <sup>17</sup> And David went out to meet them; and he answered and said unto them: If ye be come peaceably unto me to help me, / my heart shall be knit unto you; but if to betray me to mine enemies, seeing there is no wrong in my hands, <sup>g</sup> let the God of our fathers see and rebuke it. <sup>18</sup> And <sup>h</sup> the spirit came upon <sup>i</sup> Amasai, the chief of the captains*, and he said: Thine are we, David, and on thy side; thou son of Jesse! Peace, peace unto thee, and peace to thy helpers! For thy God helpeth thee. And David received them, and put them among the heads of the troop.

vid, <sup>k</sup> when he went with the Philistines against Saul to the battle; but he helped them not, for the lords of the Philistines upon advisement sent him away, saying: <sup>l</sup> He will fall to his master Saul to the peril of our heads. <sup>20</sup> As he went to Ziklag, there fell to him out of Manasseh, Adnah and Jozabad and Jedaiel and Michael and Jozabad and Elihu and Zilthai, captains of the thousands that were of Manasseh. <sup>21</sup> And they helped David against <sup>m</sup> the robber-band; for they were all mighty men of valour, and were captains in <sup>n</sup> the host. <sup>22</sup> For at that time day by day they came to David to help him, until there was a great host*, like the host* of God.

<sup>24</sup> The sons of Judah that bare shield and spear were six thousand and eight hundred, ready armed to the war.

<sup>29</sup> And of the sons of Benjamin, the kindred of Saul, three thousand; but hitherto the greatest part of them had kept the ward of the house of Saul.

<sup>30</sup> And of the sons of Ephraim twenty thousand and eight hundred, mighty men of valour, famous in their fathers' houses.

<sup>31</sup> And of the half-tribe of Manasseh eighteen thousand, who were distinguished by names, to come and make David king.

<sup>32</sup> And of the sons of Issachar, <sup>e</sup> all that had understanding of the times, to know what Israel ought to do; the heads of them were two hundred; and all their brethren were at their bidding.

<sup>33</sup> Of Zebulun, such as went forth to battle, expert in war, with all instruments of war, fifty thousand, who could keep rank, without double heart.

<sup>37</sup> And from the other side of the Jordan, of the Reubenites and the Gadites and of the half-tribe of Manasseh, with all manner of instruments of war, for the battle, a hundred and twenty thousand.

<sup>38</sup> All these men of war, that could keep rank, came with a perfect heart to Hebron, <sup>f</sup> to make David king over all Israel. And all the rest of Israel also were of one heart to make David king. <sup>39</sup> And they were there with David three days, eating and drinking; for their brethren had prepared for them. <sup>40</sup> Moreover they that were nigh them, as far as Issachar and Zebulun and Naphtali, brought food on asses and on camels and on mules and on oxen; provision of meal, cakes of figs and cakes of raisins, and wine and oil, and oxen and sheep abundantly; for there was joy in Israel.

Removal of the ark of God from Kirjath-jearim; (14) its temporary home in the house of Obed-edom.

13. AND David consulted with the captains of thousands and hundreds, with every leader. <sup>2</sup> And David said unto all the congregation of Israel: If it seem good to you, and it be of the LORD our God, let us send abroad unto our brethren every where that are left in all the land of Israel, and with them are the priests and the Levites in the cities of their suburbs, that they may gather themselves unto us; <sup>3</sup> and let us bring again the ark of our God to us; <sup>a</sup> for we inquired not at it in the days of Saul. <sup>4</sup> And all the congregation bade to do so; for the thing was right in the eyes of all the people.

<sup>10</sup> And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Uzza, and he smote him, <sup>k</sup> because he put his hand to the ark; and there he <sup>l</sup> died before God. <sup>11</sup> And David was displeased because the LORD had made a breach upon Uzza. Wherefore that place is called Perez-uzza [i. e. Breach of Uzza], to this day.

<sup>12</sup> And David was afraid of God that day, saying: How shall I bring the ark of God to me! <sup>13</sup> So David brought not the ark unto himself, to the City of David; but he carried it aside into the house of Obed-edom the Gittite.

<sup>14</sup> And <sup>m</sup> the ark of God remained with the family of Obed-edom in his house three months. And the LORD blessed the house of Obed-edom and all that he had.

David's palace; (3) his family.

14. AND <sup>a</sup> Hiram, the king of Tyre, sent messengers to David, and timber of cedars, and masons and carpenters, to build for him a house.

Two victories over the Philistines.

8 AND the Philistines heard that <sup>a</sup> David was anointed king over all Israel; and all the Philistines went up to seek David. And David heard of it, and went out against them.

<sup>9</sup> And the Philistines came and spread themselves <sup>b</sup> in the valley of Rephaim. <sup>10</sup> And David inquired of God, saying: Shall I go up against the Philistines; and wilt thou deliver them into my hand? And the LORD said unto him: Go up; for I will deliver them into thy hand. <sup>11</sup> So they came up to Baal-perazim; and David smote them there. And David said: God hath broken down mine enemies by my hand, like the breaking forth of waters. Therefore they called the name of that place Baal-perazim [i. e. Place of breaches]. <sup>12</sup> And they left their gods there; and David gave a commandment, and they were burned with fire.

David inquired again of God; and God said unto him: Go not up after them; turn away from them, and come upon them over against the mulberry-trees*; <sup>15</sup> and it shall be, when thou shalt hear a sound of marching in the tops of the mulberry-trees*, then thou shalt go out to battle; for God goeth forth before thee to smite the host of the Philistines. <sup>16</sup> And David did as God commanded him; and they smote the host of the Philistines from <sup>c</sup> Gibeon even to Gazer.

The bringing up of the ark of God to Jerusalem; (ch. 16. 1) followed by sacrifices and a great festival.

15. AND David made for himself houses in the City of David; and he prepared a place for the ark of God, and <sup>a</sup> pitched for it a tent.

<sup>2</sup> Then David said: None ought to carry the ark of God but the Levites; for <sup>b</sup> them hath the LORD chosen to carry the ark of God, and to minister unto him for ever.

<sup>14</sup> So the priests and the Levites sanctified themselves to bring up the ark of the LORD, the God of Israel. <sup>15</sup> And the sons of the Levites bare the ark of God upon their shoulders, with the staves upon them;

as <sup>o</sup> Moses commanded, according to the word of the LORD.

<sup>24</sup> And Shebaniah and Jehoshaphat and Nethaneel and Amasai and Zechariah and Benaiah and Eliezer, the priests, blew with <sup>m</sup> the trumpets before the ark of God. And Obed-edom and Jehiah were doorkeepers for the ark.

16. So they brought the ark of God, and set it in the midst of the tent that David had pitched for it. And they offered burnt-sacrifices and peace-offerings before God. <sup>2</sup> And when David had made an end of offering the burnt-offerings and the peace-offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD. <sup>3</sup> And he dealt out to every one of Israel, both man and woman, to every one a loaf of bread, and a measure of wine, and a cake of raisins.

David's arrangements for the conduct of divine worship before the ark of God—(7) Liturgical psalm for public worship—(37) The Levites appointed to minister, before the ark at Jerusalem, and (39) before the tabernacle at Gibeon.

<sup>4</sup> AND he appointed some of the Levites ministering before the ark of the LORD, both to <sup>a</sup> celebrate, and to thank and to praise the LORD, the God of Israel; <sup>5</sup> Asaph the chief, and next to him Zechariah, Jehiel and Shemiramoth and Jehiel and Mattithiah and Eliab and Benaiah and Obed-edom; and Jehiel with instruments of psalteries and with harps; and Asaph making a loud sound with the cymbals; <sup>6</sup> and Benaiah and Jahaziel the priests with trumpets continually before the ark of the covenant of God.

Make known his deeds among the peoples.

Let the heart of them rejoice that seek the LORD.

An <sup>g</sup> everlasting <sup>h</sup> covenant, to Israel;

<sup>19</sup> When ye were few men, Very <sup>i</sup> few, and strangers in it;

And from <sup>j</sup> one kingdom to another people;

Give unto the LORD glory and strength.

Bring an offering, and come before him: Worship the LORD in <sup>q</sup> the beauty of holiness*.

<sup>30</sup> Fear ye before him, all the earth!

The world also is established, it shall not be moved.

<sup>31</sup> Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice;

<sup>32</sup> Let <sup>s</sup> the sea roar, and the fulness thereof; Let the field exult, and all that is therein.

For his mercy endureth for ever.

And gather us together, and deliver us from the nations,

To give thanks to thy holy name, to glory in thy praise.

David's desire to build a temple for Jehovah; (3) God's message respecting the temple-building, and promise of the perpetuity of the kingdom; (16) David's thanksgiving and prayer.

17. AND <sup>a</sup> it came to pass, when David dwelt in his house, that David said to Nathan the prophet: Lo, I dwell in a house of cedars, but the ark of the covenant of the LORD is under curtains. <sup>2</sup> And Nathan said unto David: Do all that is in thy heart; for God is with thee.

<sup>3</sup> And it came to pass the same night, that the word of God came unto Nathan, saying, <sup>4</sup> Go and tell David my servant:

Thus saith the LORD: Thou shalt not build me a house to dwell in. <sup>5</sup> For I have not dwelt in a house since the day that I brought up Israel unto this day; but have gone <sup>b</sup> from tent to tent, and from tabernacle to tabernacle, <sup>6</sup> wheresoever I have walked about with all Israel. Have I spoken a word to any of the judges of Israel whom I commanded to feed my people, saying, Why have ye not built for me a house of cedars?

walked, and have cut off all thine enemies from before thee; and have made thee a name like the name of the great men that are in the earth. <sup>9</sup> Also I have appointed a place for my people Israel, and have planted them, and they dwell in their place, and shall be moved no more; neither shall the sons of wickedness waste them any more, as beforetime; <sup>10</sup> and since the time that I commanded <sup>e</sup> judges over my people Israel. And I have subdued all thine enemies.

And I tell thee that the LORD will build thee a house. <sup>11</sup> And it shall come to pass, when thy days are expired that thou must go to be with thy fathers, that I will raise up thy seed after thee, him who shall be of thy sons; and I will establish his kingdom. <sup>12</sup> He shall build me a house, and I will establish his throne for ever. <sup>13</sup> I will be his father, and he shall be my son. And I will not take my mercy away from him, as I took it from him that was before thee; <sup>14</sup> but <sup>f</sup> I will settle him in my house and in my kingdom for ever; and <sup>h</sup> his throne shall be established for evermore.

<sup>15</sup> According to all these words, and according to all this vision, so did Nathan speak unto David.

<sup>16</sup> And David the king went in and sat before the LORD; and he said:

Who <sup>i</sup> am I, O LORD God, and <sup>k</sup> what is my house, that thou hast brought me hitherto? <sup>17</sup> And this was a small thing in thine eyes, O God; and thou hast spoken of thy servant's house for a great while to come, and hast regarded me according to the estate of a man of high degree, O LORD God. <sup>18</sup> What can David add more to thee as to the honour of thy servant? For <sup>l</sup> thou knowest thy servant. <sup>19</sup> Thou, LORD, for thy servant's sake, and according to thine own heart, hast done all this greatness, in making known all these great things. <sup>20</sup> O LORD, <sup>m</sup> there is none like thee, and there is no God beside thee, according to all that we have heard with our ears. <sup>21</sup> And <sup>n</sup> what one nation in the earth is like thy people Israel, whom God went to redeem to be a people for himself, to make for thyself a name of greatness and terribleness, by driving out nations from before thy people, whom thou hast redeemed out of Egypt? <sup>22</sup> For <sup>o</sup> thy people Israel didst thou make thine own people for ever; and thou, LORD, becamest their God.

And let the house of David thy servant be established before thee. <sup>25</sup> For thou, my God, hast told thy servant that thou wilt build him a house. Therefore hath thy servant found in his heart to pray before thee. <sup>26</sup> And now, LORD, thou art God, and thou hast promised this goodness unto thy servant; <sup>27</sup> and now thou hast been pleased * to bless the house of thy servant, that it may be before thee for ever: for <sup>p</sup> thou, LORD, blestest, and it shall be blessed for ever.

Subjugation of (1) the Philistines, (2) Moabites, (3) Syrians, and (13) Edomites.

18. AND after this <sup>a</sup> it came to pass, that David smote the Philistines, and subdued them; and he took Gath and its villages out of the hand of the Philistines.

<sup>9</sup> And <sup>i</sup> Tou, the king of Hamath, heard how David had smitten all the host of Hadarezer, the king of Zobah; <sup>10</sup> and he sent <sup>k</sup> Hadoram his son to king David, to inquire of his welfare, and to bless him, because he had fought against Hadarezer, and smitten him, (for Hadarezer had war with Tou), and with him all manner of vessels of gold and silver and brass. <sup>11</sup> Them also did king David dedicate unto the LORD, with the silver and the gold that he brought from all the nations; from Edom, and from Moab, and from the sons of Ammon, and from the Philistines, and from Amalek.

And the LORD made David victorious whithersoever he went.

The king of Ammon's insult; (6) war with the Ammonites and their Syrian allies; ending in (19) the submission of the Syrians, and (ch. 20. 1) subjugation of the Ammonites.

19. AND <sup>a</sup> it came to pass after this, that Nahash the king of the children of Ammon died, and his son reigned in his stead. <sup>2</sup> And David said: I will show kindness to Hanun the son of Nahash, because his father showed kindness to me. And David sent messengers to comfort him concerning his father. And the servants of David came into the land of the children of Ammon, to Hanun, to comfort him. <sup>3</sup> And the princes of the children of Ammon said to Hanun: Thinkest thou that David doth honour thy father, because he hath sent comforters unto thee? Are not his servants come to thee to search and to overthrow and to spy out the land? <sup>4</sup> Wherefore Hanun took David's servants and shaved them, and cut off their garments in the middle to their buttocks, and sent them away.

<sup>5</sup> And certain went and told David concerning the men. And he sent to meet them; for the men were greatly ashamed. And the king said: Tarry ye at Jericho until your beards be grown; and ye shall return.

<sup>6</sup> And the children of Ammon saw that they had made themselves odious to David; so Hanun and the children of Ammon sent a thousand talents of silver to hire for themselves chariots and horsemen out of Mesopotamia, and out of Syria-maachah, and out of <sup>b</sup> Zobah. <sup>7</sup> So they hired for themselves thirty and two thousand chariots, and the king of Maachah and his people; who came and encamped before Medeba. And the children of Ammon gathered themselves together from their cities, and came to the battle.

<sup>8</sup> And when David heard of it, he sent Joab and all the host of the mighty men.

<sup>9</sup> And the children of Ammon came out, and put the battle in array at the entrance of the city. And the kings that were come were by themselves in the field.

<sup>10</sup> And when Joab saw that the battle was set against him before and behind, he chose part of all the choice of Israel, and put them in array against the Syrians.

<sup>11</sup> And the rest of the people he delivered unto the hand of Abishai his brother, and they set themselves in array against the children of Ammon. <sup>12</sup> And he said: If the Syrians be too strong for me, then thou shalt help me; but if the children of Ammon be too strong for thee, then I will help thee. <sup>13</sup> Be of good courage; and let us behave ourselves valiantly for our people, and for the cities of our God. And let the LORD do what is good in his sight.

<sup>14</sup> And Joab and the people that were with him drew nigh before the Syrians unto the battle; and they fled before him.

<sup>15</sup> And when the children of Ammon saw that the Syrians fled, they also fled before Abishai his brother, and entered into the city. Then Joab came to Jerusalem.

<sup>16</sup> And when the Syrians saw that they were put to the worse before Israel, they sent messengers, and drew forth the Syrians that were beyond the <sup>c</sup> river; and <sup>d</sup> Shophach the captain of the host of Hadarezer went before them. <sup>17</sup> And it was told David; and he gathered all Israel, and passed over the Jordan, and came upon them, and set the battle in array against them. And when David had put the battle in array against the Syrians, they fought with him. <sup>18</sup> And the Syrians fled before Israel; and David slew of the Syrians seven thousand in chariots, and forty thousand footmen; and he killed Shophach the captain of the host. <sup>19</sup> And when the servants of Hadarezer saw that they were put to the worse before Israel, they made peace with David, and became his servants; neither were the Syrians willing to help the children of Ammon any more.

army, and wasted the country of the children of Ammon; and he went and besieged Rabbah; (but David tarried at Jerusalem); and <sup>f</sup> Joab smote Rabbah, and destroyed it.

<sup>6</sup> And again <sup>f</sup> there was war at Gath, where was a man of stature, whose fingers and toes were four and twenty, six on each hand and six on each foot; and he also was the son of the giant†; and he defied Israel; and Jonathan the son of <sup>g</sup> Shimea David's brother slew him. <sup>8</sup> These were born to the giant‡ in Gath; and they fell by the hand of David, and by the hand of his servants.

Numbering of the people; (9) judgment by pestilence; (17) David's prayer, (18) and sacrifice, by God's command; (ch. 22. 1)—Determination of the future site of the temple.

21. AND <sup>a</sup> Satan stood up against Israel, and incited David to number Israel. <sup>2</sup> And David said to Joab and to the rulers of the people: Go ye, number Israel, from Beer-sheba even to Dan; <sup>b</sup> and bring the number of them to me, that I may know it. <sup>3</sup> And Joab answered: THE LORD make his people a hundred times so many more as they are; but, my lord the king, are they not all my lord's servants? Why then doth my lord require this thing? Why should there be a trespass to Israel?

<sup>c</sup> And all Israel were a thousand thousand and a hundred thousand men that drew sword; and Judah four hundred threescore and ten thousand men that drew sword.

<sup>f</sup> And God was displeased on account of this thing; and he smote Israel. <sup>g</sup> And David said unto God: <sup>h</sup> I have sinned greatly, because I have done this thing; but now, I beseech thee, <sup>i</sup> take away the iniquity of thy servant; for I have done very foolishly.

<sup>s</sup> And the LORD sent pestilence upon Israel; and there fell of Israel seventy thousand men. <sup>t</sup> And God sent an angel unto Jerusalem to destroy it: and as he was destroying, the LORD beheld, and <sup>u</sup> he repented him of the evil, and said to the angel that destroyed: It is enough, stay now thy hand. And the angel of the LORD was standing by the threshing-floor of <sup>v</sup> Ornan the Jebusite.

<sup>w</sup> And David lifted up his eyes and <sup>x</sup> saw the angel of the LORD standing between the earth and the heaven, and his sword drawn in his hand and stretched out over Jerusalem. And David and the elders, clothed in sackcloth, fell upon their faces. <sup>y</sup> And David said unto God: Did not I command the people to be numbered? Even I it is that have sinned and done evil indeed; but these sheep, what have they done? Let thy hand, I pray thee, O LORD my God, be on me, and on my father's house, but not on thy people, for a plague.

<sup>z</sup> Then the angel of the LORD commanded Gad to say to David, that David should go up and set up an altar unto the LORD in the threshing-floor of Ornan the Jebusite. <sup>aa</sup> And David went up, according to the word of Gad, which he spake in the name of the LORD. <sup>ab</sup> And Ornan turned back, and saw the angel; and his four sons with him hid themselves. Now Ornan was threshing wheat; <sup>ac</sup> and as David came to Ornan, <sup>ad</sup> Ornan looked and saw David; and he went out of the threshing-floor, and bowed himself to David with <sup>ae</sup> his face to the ground.

<sup>af</sup> Then David said to Ornan: Grant me the place of the threshing-floor, that I may build an altar therein unto the LORD; thou shalt grant it me for the full price*; that the plague may be stayed from the people. <sup>ag</sup> And Ornan said unto David: Take <sup>ah</sup> it to thee, and let my lord the king do what is good in his eyes; lo, I give the oxen for the burnt-offerings, and the threshing-instruments for the wood, and the wheat for the meal-offering; I give it all. <sup>ai</sup> And king David said to Ornan: Nay, but I will verily buy it for the full price†; for I will not take what is thine for the LORD, even to offer burnt-offerings without cost. <sup>aj</sup> So David gave to Ornan for the place six hundred shekels of gold by weight.

<sup>ak</sup> And David built there an altar unto the LORD, and offered burnt-offerings and peace-offerings, and called upon the LORD; and <sup>al</sup> he answered him from heaven by fire upon the altar of burnt-offering. <sup>am</sup> And the LORD commanded the angel, and he put up his sword again into its sheath.

<sup>an</sup> At that time when David saw that the LORD had answered him in the threshing-floor of Ornan the Jebusite, then he sacrificed there. <sup>ao</sup> And the tabernacle of the LORD, which Moses made in the wilderness, and the altar of the burnt-offering, were at that season in the high place at <sup>ap</sup> Gibeon; <sup>aq</sup> but David could not go before it to inquire of God; for he was afraid because of the sword of the angel of the LORD.

<sup>ar</sup> Then David said: This is: the house of the LORD God, and this is † the altar of burnt-offering for Israel.

David's preparations for building the temple; (6) his charge and commission to Solomon and the princes of Israel.

<sup>24</sup> These were the sons of Levi according to their fathers' houses; the chiefs of the fathers, as they were counted by number of names by their polls, that did the work for the service of the house of the LORD, from the age of <sup>7</sup> twenty years and upward. <sup>25</sup> For David said: <sup>8</sup> The LORD, the God of Israel, hath given rest unto his people, and hath made his dwelling-place in Jerusalem for ever; <sup>26</sup> and also it shall not be for the Levites to <sup>9</sup> carry the tabernacle, or any of its vessels for its service.

distributed them, both Zadok of the sons of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sons of Ithamar, according to their offices in their service.

<sup>4</sup> And there were more chief men found of the sons of Eleazar than of the sons of Ithamar; and they divided them. Among the sons of Eleazar there were sixteen chief men of the house of their fathers, and eight among the sons of Ithamar, according to the house of their fathers. <sup>5</sup> They divided them by lot, one sort with another; for they were the princes of the sanctuary and the princes of God, from the sons of Eleazar, and among the sons of Ithamar. <sup>6</sup> And Shemaiah the son of Nethaneel the scribe, one of the Levites, enrolled them, before the king and the princes, and Zadok the priest, and Ahimelech the son of Abiathar, and the chiefs of the fathers of the priests and Levites; one principal household being taken for Eleazar, and one taken for Ithamar.

Of the Korhites was <sup>a</sup> Meshelemiah the son of Kore, of the sons of <sup>b</sup> Asaph. <sup>2</sup> And the sons of Meshelemiah were, Zechariah the firstborn, Madaiah the second, Zebadiah the third, Jathniel the fourth, <sup>3</sup> Elam the fifth, Jehohanan the sixth, Elioenai the seventh.

<sup>4</sup> And the sons of Obed-edom were, She-maiah the firstborn, Jehozabad the second, Joah the third, and Sacar the fourth, and Nethaneel the fifth, <sup>5</sup> Ammiel the sixth, Issachar the seventh, Peulthai the eighth: for God blessed <sup>c</sup> him. <sup>6</sup> Also unto She-maiah his son were sons born, the rulers of the house of their father; for they were mighty men of valour. <sup>7</sup> The sons of She-maiah: Othni and Rephael and Obed, El-zabad, whose brethren were able men;

Beno and Shoham and Zaccur and Ibrî. Elihu and Semachiah. <sup>8</sup> All these of the sons of Obed-edom, they and their sons and their brethren, able men in strength for the service, were threescore and two of Obed-edom.

mul <sup>n</sup> the seer, and Saul the son of Kish, and Abner the son of Ner, and Joab the son of Zeruiah, had dedicated, whosoever had dedicated any thing, it was under the hand of Shelomith and of his brethren.

In every division; were twenty and four thousand.

hath chosen <sup>1</sup>Judah for ruler, and among the house of Judah, <sup>2</sup>the house of my father; and among the sons of my father he showed me favour to make me king over all Israel. <sup>5</sup>And of all my sons (for <sup>4</sup>the LORD hath given me many sons), he hath chosen Solomon my son to sit upon the throne of the kingdom of the LORD over Israel. <sup>6</sup>And he said unto me, <sup>m</sup>Solomon thy son, he shall build my house and my courts; for I have chosen him for my son, and I will be his father. <sup>7</sup>And I will establish his kingdom for ever, <sup>n</sup>if he be constant* to do my commandments and my judgments, as at this day.

<sup>8</sup>And now in the eyes of all Israel, the congregation of the LORD, and in the ears of our God, keep and seek for all the commandments of the LORD your God; that ye may possess this good land, and leave it for an inheritance for your children after you for ever.

<sup>11</sup>And David gave to Solomon his son <sup>s</sup>the pattern of the porch, and of the houses thereof and of the treasures thereof, and of the upper rooms thereof and of the inner chambers thereof, and of the place of the mercy-seat; <sup>12</sup>and the pattern of all that he had in his spirit, of the courts of the house of the LORD and of all the chambers† round about; of the treasures‡ of the house of God and of the treasures of the dedicated things; <sup>13</sup>and for the divisions§ of the priests and the Levites; and for all the work of the service of the house of the LORD, and for all the vessels of service in the house of the LORD; <sup>14</sup>gold by weight for things of gold, for all instruments of all manner of service; for all instruments of silver by weight; for all instruments of every kind of service; <sup>15</sup>even the weight for the lamp-stands of gold, and for their lamps of gold, by weight for every lamp-stand and for its lamps; and for the lamp-stands of silver by weight, for the lamp-stand and for its lamps, according to the use of every lamp-stand; <sup>16</sup>and <sup>t</sup>gold by weight for <sup>u</sup>the tables of shewbread, for every table; and silver for the tables of silver; <sup>17</sup>also pure gold for the flesh-hooks and the bowls and the cups; and for the golden basins by weight for every basin; and by weight for every basin of silver; <sup>18</sup>and for the altar of incense refined gold by weight; and gold for the pattern of <sup>z</sup>the chariot of the cherubim that spread out their wings and covered the ark of the covenant of the LORD. <sup>19</sup>The whole, said David, <sup>v</sup>he made me understand in writing for me, from the LORD's hand, even all the works of this pattern.

The offerings for the temple-building, from (1) David, and (6) the chiefs of the people; (10) David's thanksgiving and prayer; (20) the people's response, and (21) sacrifices.

<sup>22</sup>AND David the king said unto all the congregation: Solomon my son, whom alone God hath chosen, is <sup>a</sup>young and tender; and the work is great; for the palace is not for man, but for the LORD God. <sup>2</sup>Now I have prepared with all my might for the house of my God the gold for things of gold, and the silver for things of silver, and the brass* for things of brass*, the iron for things of iron, and wood for things of wood; <sup>b</sup>onyx stones and settings, glistening stones and of divers colours, and all manner of precious stones and stones of alabaster, in abundance. <sup>3</sup>And because I have taken pleasure in the house of my God, <sup>c</sup>what I have of mine own proper good, of gold and silver, I give to the house of my God, over and above all that I have prepared for the holy house; <sup>4</sup>three thousand talents of gold, of <sup>e</sup>the gold of Ophir, and seven thousand talents of refined silver, to overlay the walls of the houses; <sup>5</sup>the gold for things of gold and the silver for things of silver; and for all manner of work by the hands of artificers. And who is willing to consecrate his service† this day unto the LORD?

and <sup>e</sup> the captains of the king's work, offered willingly; <sup>7</sup> and they gave for the service of the house of God, of gold five thousand talents and ten thousand darics, and of silver ten thousand talents, and of brass* eighteen thousand talents, and of iron one hundred thousand talents. <sup>8</sup> And they with whom stones† were found gave them to the treasure of the house of the LORD, by the hand of <sup>f</sup> Jehiel the Gershonite.

Blessed art thou, O LORD, the God of Israel, our Father, for ever and ever! <sup>11</sup> Thine, <sup>h</sup> O LORD, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty; for all that is in the heaven and on the earth is thine. Thine, O LORD, is the kingdom, and thou art exalted as head above all.

<sup>12</sup> Both <sup>i</sup> riches and honour come of thee,† and thou reignest over all; and in thy hand is power and might; and in thy hand it is to make great, and to <sup>k</sup> give strength unto all. <sup>13</sup> And now, O our God, we thank thee, and praise thy glorious name.

<sup>14</sup> But who am I, and what is my people, that we should be able to offer willingly after this sort! For <sup>l</sup> all things are from thee, and of thine own have we given thee.

<sup>17</sup> I know also, my God, that <sup>o</sup> thou triest the heart, and <sup>p</sup> thou hast pleasure in uprightness. As for me, in the uprightness of my heart I have willingly offered all these things; and now have I seen with joy thy people who are present here to offer willingly unto thee.

Solomon my son a perfect heart, to keep thy commandments, thy testimonies and thy statutes, and to do all, and to build the palace for which <sup>a</sup> I have made preparation.

<sup>20</sup> And David said to all the congregation: Now bless the LORD your God. And all the congregation blessed the LORD, the God of their fathers, and bowed down, and prostrated themselves to the LORD, and to the king.

<sup>21</sup> And they sacrificed sacrifices unto the LORD and offered burnt-offerings unto the LORD, on the morrow after that day; a thousand bullocks, a thousand rams, a thousand lambs, and their drink-offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel; <sup>22</sup> and they did eat and drink before the LORD on that day with great gladness.

Solomon's accession to the throne; (22) David's death in peace and honour.

AND they made Solomon the son of David king the second time, and <sup>a</sup> anointed him unto the LORD for prince, and <sup>b</sup> Zadok for priest.

<sup>23</sup> And Solomon sat on the throne of the LORD as king, instead of David his father, and prospered; and all Israel obeyed him.

<sup>29</sup> Now the acts of David the king, the first and the last, behold, they are written in the book of Samuel the seer and in the book of Nathan the prophet and in the book of Gad the seer, <sup>30</sup> with all his reign and his might, and the times that passed over him, and over Israel, and over all the kingdoms of the countries.

11 And God said to Solomon: Because this was in thy heart, and thou hast not asked riches, wealth, or honour, or the life of thine enemies, neither yet hast asked long life; but hast asked wisdom and knowledge for thyself, that thou mayest judge my people, over whom I have made 13 And Solomon came from the high place that was at Gibeon to Jerusalem, from before the Tent of meeting; and he reigned over Israel.

Solomon's chariots and horses, and riches.

14 AND <sup>a</sup> Solomon gathered chariots and horsemen; and he had a thousand and four hundred chariots and twelve thousand horsemen, which he placed in the chariot-cities, and with the king at Jerusalem.

15 And <sup>b</sup> the king made silver and gold in Jerusalem like the stones; and cedars made he as the sycamore-trees that are in the lowlands for abundance. <sup>16</sup> And Solomon had horses brought out of Egypt; and the caravan of the king's merchant-men took the drove at a price. <sup>17</sup> And they fetched up and brought forth out of Egypt a chariot for six hundred shekels of silver, and a horse for a hundred and fifty; and so brought they out horses for all the kings of the Hittites, and for the kings of Syria, by their means.

and for <sup>o</sup> the burnt-offerings morning and evening, on the sabbaths and on the new moons, and on the solemn feasts of the LORD our God: this tieth for ever upon Israel. <sup>5</sup> And the house which I build is great; for <sup>h</sup> great is our God, above all gods. <sup>6</sup> But † who is able to build him a house, seeing the heaven, yea, the heaven of heavens cannot contain him? Who am I then, that I should build him a house, save only to burn incense before him? <sup>7</sup> And now send me a man wise to work in gold and in silver, and in brass* and in iron, and in purple and crimson and blue, and that knoweth how to carve carvings, with the wise men that are with me in Judah and in Jerusalem, <sup>k</sup> whom David my father did provide. <sup>8</sup> Send <sup>l</sup> me also cedar-trees, cypress-trees and <sup>m</sup> al-gum-trees, out of Lebanon; for I know that thy servants know how to cut timber in Lebanon; and behold, my servants shall be with thy servants, <sup>9</sup> even to prepare me timber in abundance; for the house which I build shall be great and wonderful. <sup>10</sup> And <sup>n</sup> behold, I will give to thy servants, the hewers that cut timber, twenty thousand cors† of beaten wheat and twenty thousand cors of barley, and twenty thousand baths of wine and twenty thousand baths of oil.

after the numbering wherewith <sup>z</sup> David his father had numbered them; and there were found a hundred and fifty thousand and three thousand and six hundred. <sup>18</sup> And he made seventy thousand of them bearers of burdens, and eighty thousand hewers in the mountain, and three thousand and six hundred overseers, to cause the people to work.

Building of the temple—(3) External dimensions of the temple and porch—Its internal construction—(5) The holy place, and (8) holy of holies, with (10) the cherubim, and (14) the separating veil. (15) The two pillars before the porch.

<sup>3</sup> And <sup>e</sup> this was Solomon's foundation for the building of the house of God: the length by cubits after the first measure was threescore cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits; <sup>4</sup> and the porch that was in the front, its length was, according to the breadth of the house, twenty cubits, and the height was a hundred and twenty. And he overlaid it within with pure gold.

<sup>5</sup> And <sup>f</sup> the great house he ceiled* with cypress-wood, and he overlaid it with fine gold; and he set thereon palm-trees and chains. <sup>6</sup> And he garnished the house with precious stones for beauty†; and the gold was the gold of Parvaim†. <sup>7</sup> And he overlaid the house, its beams, its thresholds, and its walls and its doors, with gold; and he carved cherubim on the walls.

<sup>8</sup> And he made the house of the holy of holies; its length was, according to the breadth of the house, twenty cubits, and its breadth twenty cubits. And he overlaid it with fine gold, as much as six hundred talents. <sup>9</sup> And the weight of the nails was fifty shekels of gold. And he overlaid the upper rooms with gold.

cherub. <sup>13</sup> The wings of these cherubim spread themselves forth twenty cubits; and they stood on their feet, and their faces were towards the house.

<sup>14</sup> And he made <sup>a</sup> the veil of blue and purple and crimson and fine linen, and he wrought cherubim thereon.

<sup>15</sup> And he made in front of the house <sup>i</sup> two pillars of thirty and five cubits high; and the capital that was on the top of each of them was five cubits. <sup>16</sup> And he made chains in the oracle, and put them on the tops of the pillars; and he made a hundred pomegranates, and put them on the chains. <sup>17</sup> And he reared up the pillars in front of the temple, one on the right hand and the other on the left; and he called the name of the right one, Jachin [i. e. He shall establish], and the name of the left, Boaz [i. e. In Him is strength].

The furniture of the court, viz. (1) the altar, (2) molten sea, and (6) ten lavers; furniture of the holy places, viz. (7) the lamp-stands, (8) and tables—The (11) brazen and (19) golden vessels and utensils.

4. AND HE MADE <sup>a</sup> the altar of brass*, twenty cubits the length thereof, and twenty cubits the breadth thereof, and ten cubits the height thereof.

<sup>2</sup> Also <sup>b</sup> he made the molten sea, of ten cubits from brim to brim round in compass, and five cubits in height; and a line of thirty cubits encompassed it round about. <sup>3</sup> And under it was the similitude of oxen, which encompassed it round about; ten in a cubit, encompassing the sea round about. Two rows of oxen were cast, when it was cast. <sup>4</sup> It stood upon twelve oxen; three looking toward the north, and three looking toward the west, and three looking toward the south, and three looking toward the east; and the sea was above upon them, and all their hinder parts were inward. <sup>5</sup> And the thickness of it was a hand-breadth; and the brim of it like the work of the brim of a cup, with flowers of lilies. It received and held three thousand baths.

and five on the left. And he made a hundred basins of gold.

<sup>12</sup> And Hiram finished the work that he was to make for king Solomon for the house of God: <sup>12</sup> the two pillars, and the bowls, and the capitals on the top of the two pillars, and the two networks to cover the two bowls of the capitals which were on the top of the pillars; <sup>13</sup> and <sup>k</sup> four hundred pomegranates on the two networks; two rows of pomegranates on each network, to cover the two bowls of the capitals which were upon the pillars. <sup>14</sup> And he made the bases†; and he made the lavers upon the bases‡; <sup>15</sup> and <sup>l</sup> one sea, and twelve oxen under it; <sup>16</sup> and the pots, and the shovels and the flesh-hooks, and all their vessels: Hiram his father; made them for king Solomon, for the house of the LORD, of bright brass||. <sup>17</sup> In the circuit of the Jordan did the king cast them, in the clay ground between Succoth and Zeredathah. <sup>18</sup> Thus Solomon made all these vessels in great abundance; but the weight of the brass§ was not found out.

5. AND <sup>o</sup> all the work that Solomon made for the house of the LORD was finished. And Solomon brought in the things that David his father had dedicated; and the silver and the gold, and all the vessels, put he among the treasures of the house of God.

The removal to the temple of the ark, the tabernacle and the holy vessels—(11) Manifestation of the Divine glory therein.

<sup>10</sup> There was nothing in the ark save <sup>d</sup> the two tables which Moses put in at Horeb, when the LORD made a covenant with the children of Israel, when they came out of Egypt.

<sup>11</sup> And it came to pass, when the priests were come out of the sanctuary, (for all the priests present were sanctified, they did not wait by divisions), <sup>12</sup> and <sup>e</sup> the Levites, the singers, (all they of Asaph, of Heman, of Jeduthun, with their sons and their brethren), arrayed in white linen, having cymbals and psalteries and harps, stood at the east end of the altar, and with them a hundred and twenty priests <sup>f</sup> sounding with trumpets, <sup>13</sup> even it came to pass, when the trumpeters and singers were as one, to make one sound to be heard in praising and thanking the LORD, and when they lifted up their voice, with trumpets and cymbals and instruments of music, and praised the LORD, saying: <sup>g</sup> For he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever; that the house was filled with a cloud, the house of the LORD; <sup>14</sup> and the priests could not stand to minister by reason of the cloud; for <sup>h</sup> the glory of the LORD filled the house of God.

Dedication of the temple—(1) Solomon's address to the people; and (14) dedicatory prayer.

6. THEN <sup>a</sup> said Solomon: The LORD hath said that he would dwell in the <sup>b</sup> thick darkness. <sup>2</sup> And I have built a house of habitation for thee, and a place for thy dwelling for ever.

<sup>4</sup> And he said: Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, who spake with his mouth to my father David, and with his hands hath fulfilled it, saying, <sup>5</sup> Since the day that I brought forth my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no city among all the tribes of Israel to build a house in, that my name might be there; neither chose I any man to be a ruler over my people Israel; <sup>6</sup> but <sup>c</sup> I have chosen Jerusalem, that my name might be there; and I <sup>d</sup> have chosen David to be over my people Israel.

<sup>7</sup> Now <sup>e</sup> it was in the heart of David my father to build a house for the name of the LORD, the God of Israel. <sup>8</sup> But the LORD said to David my father, Forasmuch as it was in thy heart to build a house for my name, thou didst well in that it was in thy heart: <sup>9</sup> notwithstanding thou shalt not build the house; but thy son who shall come forth out of thy loins, he shall build the house for my name. <sup>10</sup> And the LORD hath performed his word that he spake; for I am risen up in the room of David my father, and am set on the throne of Israel, as the LORD promised; and I have built the house for the name of the LORD, the God of Israel. <sup>11</sup> And in it have I put the ark, <sup>f</sup> wherein is the covenant of the LORD which he made with the children of Israel.

<sup>12</sup> And <sup>g</sup> he stood before the altar of the LORD in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and spread forth his hands; <sup>13</sup> for Solomon had made a brazen pulpit, of five cubits long and five cubits broad and three cubits high, and had set it in the midst of the court; and upon it he stood; and he kneeled down upon his knees, before all the congregation of Israel; and he spread forth his hands toward heaven; <sup>14</sup> and he said:

O LORD, the God of Israel! <sup>h</sup> There is no God like thee, in the heaven or in the earth; who keepest covenant and mercy unto thy servants that walk before thee with all their hearts; <sup>15</sup> thou <sup>i</sup> who hast kept with thy servant David my father that which thou hast promised him; yea, thou spakest with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thy hand, as at this day. <sup>16</sup> And now, O LORD, the God of Israel, keep with thy servant David my father that which thou hast promised him, saying, <sup>j</sup> There shall not fail thee a man in my sight to sit upon the throne of Israel; <sup>k</sup> only if thy

<sup>19</sup> But have thou respect to the prayer of thy servant, and to his supplication, O LORD my God, to hearken unto the cry and the prayer which thy servant prayeth before thee; <sup>20</sup> that thine eyes may be open toward this house day and night, toward the place whereof thou hast said that thou wouldest put thy name there; to hearken unto the prayer which thy servant prayeth toward this place. <sup>21</sup> And hearken thou unto the supplications of thy servant, and of thy people Israel, which they shall make toward this place. Hear thou from thy dwelling-place, from heaven, and when thou hearest, forgive.

prayer, whatever supplication shall be made by any man, or by all thy people Israel, who shall know each one his own plague and his own grief, and shall spread forth his hands toward this house; <sup>30</sup> then hear thou from heaven thy dwelling-place, and forgive, and render unto every man according unto all his ways whose heart thou knowest, (for thou only <sup>s</sup> knowest the heart of the children of men), <sup>31</sup> that they may fear thee, to walk in thy ways, so long as they live in the land which thou gavest unto our fathers.

<sup>32</sup> Moreover concerning the stranger, <sup>t</sup> who is not of thy people Israel, but is come from a far country, for thy great name's sake, and thy mighty hand and thy stretched-out arm, when they come and pray toward this house, <sup>33</sup> then hear thou from the heavens, from thy dwelling-place, and do according to all that the stranger calleth to thee for; that all the peoples of the earth may know thy name, and fear thee, like thy people Israel, and may know that this house which I have built is called by thy name.

<sup>36</sup> When they shall sin against thee (for there is <sup>u</sup> no man who sinneth not), and thou shalt be angry with them, and deliver them over before the enemy, and they carry them away captives unto a land far off or near; <sup>37</sup> and they shall bethink themselves in the land whither they are carried captive, and turn and pray unto thee in the land of their captivity, saying, We have sinned, we have done amiss, and have dealt wickedly; <sup>38</sup> when they return to thee with all their heart and with all their soul, in the land of their captivity whither they have carried them captives, and pray toward their land which thou gavest unto their fathers, and the city which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I have built for thy name, <sup>39</sup> then hear thou from the heavens, from thy dwelling-place, their prayer and their supplications, and maintain their cause, and forgive thy people who have sinned against thee.

Divine consecration of the temple—(4) Sacrifices and festival.

7. AND <sup>a</sup> when Solomon had made an end of praying, <sup>b</sup> then the fire came down from heaven, and consumed the burnt-offering and the sacrifices. And <sup>c</sup> the glory of the LORD filled the house; <sup>2</sup> and the priests could not enter into the house of the LORD, because the glory of the LORD filled the LORD's house.

<sup>3</sup> And when all the children of Israel saw how the fire came down, and the glory of the LORD upon the house, they bowed down with their faces to the ground upon the pavement*, and worshipped, and praised the LORD: saying, <sup>d</sup> For he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever.

<sup>4</sup> And <sup>e</sup> the king and all the people offered sacrifices before the LORD. <sup>5</sup> And king Solomon offered a sacrifice of twenty and two thousand oxen, and a hundred and twenty thousand sheep. So the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

<sup>7</sup> And Solomon hallowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the LORD; for there he offered burnt-offerings and the fat of the peace-offerings; because the brazen altar which Solomon had made was not able to receive the burnt-offerings and the meal-offerings and the fat.

<sup>8</sup> And at the same time Solomon kept <sup>h</sup> the feast seven days, and all Israel with him, a very great congregation, from the entrance <sup>i</sup> of Hamath unto the river of Egypt. <sup>9</sup> And on the eighth day they made a solemn assembly; for they kept the dedication of the altar seven days, and the feast seven days. <sup>10</sup> And on the three and twentieth day of the seventh month he sent the people away to their tents, glad and merry of heart for the goodness that the LORD had showed unto David, and to Solomon, and to Israel his people.

<sup>11</sup> And <sup>k</sup> Solomon finished the house of the LORD, and the king's house; and all that came into Solomon's heart to make in the house of the LORD, and in his own house, he did prosperously.

The Lord's answer to Solomon's prayer.

<sup>12</sup> AND the LORD appeared to Solomon in the night, and said unto him:

I have heard thy prayer, <sup>a</sup> and I have chosen this place to myself for the house of sacrifice. <sup>13</sup> If <sup>b</sup> I shut up heaven that there be no rain, or if I command locusts to devour the land, or if I send pestilence among my people; <sup>14</sup> if my people, who are called by my name, shall <sup>c</sup> humble themselves and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways, <sup>d</sup> then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land. <sup>15</sup> Now <sup>e</sup> mine eyes shall be open, and mine ears attentive unto the prayer in this place. <sup>16</sup> For now have <sup>f</sup> I chosen and sanctified this house, that my name may be there for ever; and mine eyes and my heart shall be there always.

<sup>17</sup> And as for thee, if thou wilt walk before me, as David thy father walked, and do according to all that I have commanded thee, and wilt observe my statutes and my judgments, <sup>18</sup> then will I establish the throne of thy kingdom, according as I have covenanted with David thy father, saying, <sup>g</sup> There shall not fail thee a man ruling in Israel.

<sup>19</sup> But <sup>h</sup> if ye turn away, and forsake my statutes and my commandments which I have set before you, and shall go and serve other gods, and worship them, <sup>20</sup> then will I uproot them out of my land which I have given them; and this house, which I have sanctified for my name, will I cast out of my sight, and will make it a proverb and a byword among all the peoples. <sup>21</sup> And this house which is high shall be an astonishment to every one that passeth by it; so that he shall say, <sup>i</sup> Why hath the LORD done thus unto this land, and unto this house? <sup>22</sup> And they shall say, Because they forsook the LORD, the God of their fathers, who brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, and laid hold on other gods, and worshipped them and served them; therefore hath he brought all this evil upon them.

8. AND <sup>a</sup> it came to pass at the end of twenty years, wherein Solomon had built the house of the LORD, and his own house, <sup>2</sup> that as to the cities which Huram gave to Solomon, Solomon built them, and caused the children of Israel to dwell there.

<sup>7</sup> As for all the people that were left of the Hittites and the Amorites and the Perizzites and the Hivites and the Jebusites, who were not of Israel, <sup>8</sup> those of their children who were left after them in the land, whom the children of Israel destroyed not, them did Solomon enrol for tribute-service, until this day.

<sup>9</sup> But of the children of Israel did Solomon make no servants for his work. For they were men of war, and chief of his captains, and captains of his chariots, and his horsemen; <sup>10</sup> and these were the chiefs of king Solomon's officers, two hundred and fifty, that bare rule over the people.

<sup>11</sup> And Solomon <sup>d</sup> brought up the daughter of Pharaoh out of the City of David unto the house that he had built for her; for he said: My wife shall not dwell in the house of David, the king of Israel, because the places are holy whereunto the ark of the LORD hath come.

<sup>9</sup>, And <sup>a</sup> the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon; and she came to prove Solomon with hard questions; at Jerusalem, with a very great company, and camels that bare spices, and gold in abundance, and precious stones. And she came to Solomon, and communed with him of all that was in her heart. <sup>2</sup> And Solomon told her all her matters; and there was nothing hidden from Solomon which he told her not.

<sup>3</sup> And when the queen of Sheba saw the wisdom of Solomon, and the house that he had built, <sup>4</sup> and the provision for his table, and the assemblage of his servants, and the array of his attendants, and their apparel, and his cup-bearers and their apparel, and his ascent by which he went up into the house of the LORD, there was no more spirit in her. <sup>5</sup> And she said to the king: True was the report which I heard in mine own land of thine acts* and of thy wisdom; <sup>6</sup> but I believed not their words, until I came and mine eyes had seen; and behold, the one half of the greatness of thy wisdom was not told me; thou exceedest the fame that I heard. <sup>7</sup> Happy are thy men, and happy are these thy servants, who stand continually before thee, and hear thy wisdom. <sup>8</sup> Blessed be the LORD thy God, who delighted in thee, to set thee on his throne, to be king for the LORD thy God! Because thy God loveth Israel, to establish them for ever, therefore made he thee king over them, to do judgment and justice.

Solomon's magnificence and (23) wisdom; and (26) the extent of his kingdom.

13 AND <sup>a</sup>the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year was six hundred and threescore and six talents of gold, <sup>14</sup> besides what the chapmen and the merchants brought. And all the kings of Arabia and the governors of the country brought gold and silver to Solomon.

15 And king Solomon made two hundred great shields of beaten gold; six hundred shekels of beaten gold went to one great shield: <sup>16</sup> and three hundred shields of beaten gold; three hundred shekels of gold went to one shield. And the king put them in the house of the forest of Lebanon.

17 And the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with pure gold. <sup>18</sup> And there were six steps to the throne, with a footstool of gold, fastened to the throne, and arms on each side of the sitting place, and two lions standing by the arms; <sup>19</sup> and twelve lions stood there on the one side and on the other, upon the six steps. There was not the like made in any kingdom.

20 And all the drinking-vessels of king Solomon were gold; and all the vessels of the house of the forest of Lebanon were pure gold; silver was nothing accounted of in the days of Solomon. <sup>21</sup> For the king's ships went to Tarshish with the servants of Huram; once in three years came the ships of Tarshish bringing gold and silver, ivory and apes and peacocks.

22 And king Solomon was greater than all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdom. <sup>23</sup> And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Solomon, to hear his wisdom, which God had put in his heart. <sup>24</sup> And they brought every man his present; vessels of silver and vessels of gold, and raiment, armour and spices, horses and mules, a rate year by year.

25 And Solomon <sup>b</sup>had four thousand stalls of horses and chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen; and whom he placed in the chariot-cities, and with the king at Jerusalem.

26 And <sup>c</sup>he reigned over all the kings from the <sup>d</sup>river even unto the land of the Philistines and to the border of Egypt.

27 And <sup>e</sup>the king made silver in Jerusalem as the stones, and cedar-trees made he as the sycamore-trees that are in the lowlands for abundance. <sup>28</sup> And they brought to Solomon horses, out of Egypt, and out of all the lands.

29 Now <sup>f</sup>the rest of the acts of Solomon, the first and the last, are they not written in the words of Nathan the prophet, and in the Prophecy of <sup>g</sup>Ahijah the Shilonite, and in the Visions of <sup>h</sup>Ido the seer concerning Jeroboam the son of Nebat?

30 And Solomon reigned in Jerusalem over all Israel forty years. <sup>31</sup> And Solomon slept with his fathers, and he was buried in the City of David his father; and Rehoboam his son reigned in his stead.

Reign of Rehoboam; (16) revolt of ten tribes from the house of David.

10. AND <sup>a</sup>Rehoboam went to Shechem; for all Israel were come to Shechem to make him king.

2 And it came to pass, when Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who was in Egypt, (<sup>b</sup> whether he had fled from the presence of Solomon the king), heard it, that Jeroboam returned out of Egypt. <sup>3</sup> And they sent and called him.

And Jeroboam and all Israel came and spake to Rehoboam, saying: <sup>4</sup> Thy father made our yoke grievous; now therefore ease thou somewhat the grievous servitude of thy father, and his heavy yoke that he put upon us, and we will serve thee. <sup>5</sup> And he said unto them: Come again unto me in three days. And the people departed.

6 And king Rehoboam took counsel with the old men that had stood before Solomon his father while he yet lived, saying: How counsel ye to return answer to this people? <sup>7</sup> And <sup>c</sup>they spake unto him, saying: If thou be kind to this people, and please them, and <sup>d</sup>speak good words to them, they will be thy servants for ever.

8 But he forsook the counsel which the old men counselled him, and took counsel with the young men who had grown up with him, who stood before him. <sup>9</sup> And he said unto them: What advice give ye that we may return answer to this people, who have spoken to me, saying, Ease somewhat the yoke that thy father put upon us? <sup>10</sup> And the young men who had grown up with him spake unto him, saying: Thus shalt thou answer the people that spake unto thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, but make thou it somewhat lighter for us; thus shalt thou say unto them: My little finger is thicker than my father's loins; <sup>11</sup> for whereas my father put a heavy yoke upon you, I will put more to your yoke; my father chastised you with whips, but I will do it with scorpions.

12 So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam on the third day, as the king bade, saying, Come again to me on the third day. <sup>13</sup> And the king answered them roughly. And king Rehoboam forsook the counsel of the old men, <sup>14</sup> and answered them after the advice of the young men, saying: My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add thereto; my father chastised you with whips, but I will do it with scorpions.

<sup>16</sup> And when all Israel saw that the king would not hearken unto them, the people answered the king, saying: What portion have we in David? And we have no inheritance in the son of Jesse. Every man to your tents, Israel! Now, David, see to thine own house. And all Israel went to their tents. <sup>17</sup> But as for the children of Israel that dwelt in the cities of Judah, Rehoboam reigned over them.

<sup>18</sup> And king Rehoboam sent Hadoram, who was over the tribute-service; and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, that he died. And king Rehoboam made speed to mount his chariot, to flee to Jerusalem. <sup>19</sup> And Israel rebelled against the house of David, unto this day.

Kingdom of Judah—(5) Rehoboam's measures for its defence; (18) great migration of priests and Levites, and pious Israelites, from the northern kingdom into Judah.

Benjamin. <sup>11</sup> And he fortified the strongholds, and put captains in them, and stores of food and oil and wine. <sup>12</sup> And in every several city he put shields and spears, and made them exceedingly strong. To him belonged Judah and Benjamin.

<sup>17</sup> So they strengthened the kingdom of Judah, and made Rehoboam the son of Solomon strong, three years; for they walked in the way of David and Solomon for three years.

Rehoboam's family history.

(1) Apostasy of Rehoboam and his people, and (2) their punishment by an Egyptian invasion.

<sup>12.</sup> AND it came to pass, when Rehoboam had established the kingdom, and had strengthened himself, <sup>a</sup> he forsook the law of the LORD, and all Israel with him.

cry alarm against you. O children of Israel, <sup>2</sup> fight ye not against the LORD, the God of your fathers; for ye shall not prosper.

<sup>13</sup> But Jeroboam led an ambush round, to come behind them; so they were in front of Judah, and the ambush ~~was~~ behind them.

<sup>14</sup> And when Judah looked back, behold, the battle was before and behind. And they cried unto the LORD, and the priests sounded with the trumpets. <sup>15</sup> And the men of Judah gave a shout; and as the men of Judah shouted, it came to pass that God smote Jeroboam and all Israel before Abijah and Judah. <sup>16</sup> And the children of Israel fled before Judah; and God delivered them into their hand. <sup>17</sup> And Abijah and his people slew them with a great slaughter; so there fell down slain* of Israel five hundred thousand chosen men.

<sup>19</sup> And Abijah pursued after Jeroboam, and took cities from him; Beth-el and its towns, and Jeshanah and its towns, and <sup>8</sup> Ephraim and its towns. <sup>20</sup> And Jeroboam did not recover strength again in the days of Abijah. And † the LORD struck him, and he died.

<sup>21</sup> But Abijah waxed mighty; and he married fourteen wives, and begat twenty and two sons, and sixteen daughters.

Reign of Asa—(2) Suppression of idolatry; (6) military defences; (9) victory over Zerah the Cushite and his great army.

14. AND † Abijah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the City of David. And Asa his son reigned in his stead. In his days the land was quiet ten years.

Let us build these cities, and make around them walls and towers, gates and bars, while the land is before us; because we have sought the LORD our God; we have sought him, and he hath given us rest on every side. So they built and prospered. <sup>8</sup> And Asa had an army that bare targets and spears; out of Judah three hundred thousand, and out of Benjamin, that bare shields and drew bows, two hundred and eighty thousand; all these were mighty men of valour.

<sup>11</sup> And Asa † cried unto the LORD his God, and said: O LORD, in † helping there is with thee no difference between the mighty and the powerless. Help us, O LORD our God; for † we rest on thee, and † in thy name we go against this multitude. O LORD, thou art our God; let not man prevail against thee.

sought him, he was found of them. <sup>5</sup> And <sup>k</sup> in those times there was no peace to him that went out nor to him that came in; but great vexations were upon all the inhabitants of the countries: <sup>6</sup> and nation was destroyed by nation, and city by city; for <sup>i</sup> God vexed them with all adversity. <sup>7</sup> But be ye strong, and <sup>d</sup> let not your hands be weak; for your work shall be rewarded.

<sup>8</sup> And when Asa heard these words, and the prophecy of Oded the prophet, he took courage, and put away the abominations* out of all the land of Judah and Benjamin, and out of the cities <sup>k</sup> which he had taken from the hill-country of Ephraim; and he renewed the altar of the LORD that was before the porch of the LORD.

<sup>9</sup> And he gathered all Judah and Benjamin, and <sup>l</sup> the strangers with them, out of Ephraim and Manasseh and out of Simeon; for they fell to him out of Israel in abundance when they saw that the LORD his God was with him. <sup>10</sup> So they gathered themselves together at Jerusalem in the third month, in the fifteenth year of the reign of Asa. <sup>11</sup> And they offered unto the LORD in that day, from <sup>m</sup> the spoil they had brought, seven hundred oxen and seven thousand sheep. <sup>12</sup> And <sup>n</sup> they entered into a covenant to seek the LORD, the God of their fathers, with all their heart and with all their soul; <sup>13</sup> and <sup>o</sup> that whosoever would not seek the LORD, the God of Israel, should be put to death, whether small or great, whether man or woman. <sup>14</sup> And they sware unto the LORD with a loud voice, and with shouting and with trumpets and with cornets. <sup>15</sup> And all Judah rejoiced at the oath, for they had sworn with all their heart; and they sought him with their whole desire, and he was found of them. And the LORD gave them rest round about.

Reign of Asa—(19) Baasha's war with Judah; (ch. 16. 2) Asa's application for help to the king of Syria; (7) the prophet Hanani's rebuke, and (10) the king's anger.

<sup>19</sup> AND there was no war until the five and thirtieth year of the reign of Asa.

<sup>16</sup> In the six and thirtieth year of the reign of Asa, <sup>a</sup> Baasha, the king of Israel, came up against Judah; and he built Ramah, <sup>b</sup> to the intent that he might let none go out or come in to Asa king of Judah.

<sup>2</sup> Then Asa brought out silver and gold, out of the treasures of the house of the LORD and of the king's house, and sent to Ben-hadad king of Syria, who dwelt at Damascus, saying: <sup>3</sup> Let there be a league between me and thee, as there was between my father and thy father; behold, I have sent thee silver and gold; come, break thy league with Baasha, the king of Israel, that he may depart from me. <sup>4</sup> And Ben-hadad hearkened unto king Asa, and sent the captains of his forces against the cities of Israel; and they smote Ijon and Dan and Abel-main, and all the store-houses* of the cities of Naphtali.

<sup>7</sup> And at that time <sup>e</sup> Hanani the seer came to Asa, the king of Judah, and said unto him: <sup>d</sup> Because thou hast relied on the king of Syria, and not relied on the LORD thy God, therefore is the host of the king of Syria escaped out of thy hand. <sup>8</sup> Were not <sup>e</sup> the Ethiopians and <sup>f</sup> the Lybians a huge host, with very many chariots and horsemen? Yet, <sup>g</sup> because thou didst rely on the LORD, he delivered them into thy hand. <sup>9</sup> For <sup>k</sup> the eyes of the LORD run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to show himself strong on the behalf of them <sup>i</sup> whose heart is perfect toward him. Herein <sup>k</sup> thou hast done foolishly; therefore from henceforth thou shalt have wars.

Reign of Jehoshaphat—(2) He strengthens his kingdom by garrisoning the cities and fortresses; (6) roots out idolatry, and (7) sends certain princes, Levites and priests throughout the country, to teach the people—(10) His greatness, and (11) power.

17. AND <sup>a</sup> Jehoshaphat his son reigned in his stead. And he strengthened himself against Israel; <sup>2</sup> and he placed forces in all the fortified cities of Judah, and set garrisons in the land of Judah, and in the cities of Ephraim <sup>b</sup> which Asa his father had taken. <sup>3</sup> And the LORD was with Jehoshaphat, because he walked in the first ways of his father David; and he sought not unto the Baals; <sup>4</sup> but sought to the God of his father, and walked in his commandments, and not after the doing of Israel. <sup>5</sup> Therefore <sup>c</sup> the LORD established the kingdom in his hand; and all Judah gave to Jehoshaphat presents*; and he had riches and honour in abundance. <sup>6</sup> And his heart was lifted up in the ways of the LORD. Moreover <sup>d</sup> he took away the high places and the Asherim <sup>e</sup> out of Judah.

<sup>10</sup> And <sup>g</sup> the fear of the LORD was upon all the kingdoms of the lands that were round about Judah; so that they made no war against Jehoshaphat. <sup>11</sup> And some of the Philistines brought unto Jehoshaphat presents and tribute-silver; also the Arabians brought him flocks, seven thousand and seven hundred rams, and seven thousand and seven hundred he-goats. <sup>12</sup> And Jehoshaphat became great exceedingly; and he built in Judah castles and cities of stores. <sup>13</sup> And he had much business in the cities of Judah; and the men of war, mighty men of valour, in Jerusalem.

stood and said: Hear ye me, Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem! <sup>c</sup> Believe in the LORD your God, and ye shall be established; believe his prophets, and ye shall prosper. <sup>21</sup> And when he had consulted with the people, he appointed singers unto the LORD, both <sup>d</sup> praising in the beauty of holiness <sup>e</sup>, as they went out before the army, and saying, Praise ye <sup>e</sup> the LORD! For his mercy endureth for ever.

<sup>24</sup> And Judah came upon the lofty place in the wilderness; and they looked unto the multitude, and behold, they were dead bodies, fallen to the earth, and none had escaped. <sup>25</sup> And Jehoshaphat and his people came to plunder the spoil of them; and they found among them in abundance, with the dead bodies, both riches and precious jewels, which they stripped off for themselves, more than they could carry away. And they were three days in plundering the spoil, it was so much. <sup>26</sup> And on the fourth day they assembled themselves in the valley of Berachah [i. e. Blessing]; for there they blessed the LORD. Therefore the name of that place was called The valley of Berachah, unto this day.

<sup>29</sup> And <sup>i</sup> the fear of God was on all the kingdoms of the countries, when they heard that the LORD fought against the enemies of Israel. <sup>30</sup> And the realm of Jehoshaphat was quiet; for his <sup>k</sup> God gave him rest round about.

<sup>31</sup> AND <sup>a</sup> Jehoshaphat reigned over Judah; he was thirty and five years old when he became king, and he reigned twenty and five years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Azubah the daughter of Shihhi.

<sup>34</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat, the first and the last, behold, they are written in the book of Jehu the son of Hanani, <sup>d</sup> who is mentioned in the book of the kings of Israel.

Reign of Jehoram—(4) His murder of his brethren; (5) revolt of the Edomites and of Libnah; (11) Jehoram's idolatry; (12) the prophet Elijah's letter; (16) invasions by the Philistines and Arabians.

ram went forth, with his captains and all his chariots with him; and he rose up by night, and smote the Edomites who compassed him in, and the captains of the chariots. <sup>10</sup> But the Edomites revolted from under the hand of Judah, unto this day.

Then did Libnah revolt from under his hand; because he had forsaken the LORD, the God of his fathers.

<sup>11</sup> Also he made high places in the mountains of Judah, and caused the inhabitants of Jerusalem to commit fornication, and sinned Judah.

<sup>18</sup> And after all this the LORD smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease; <sup>19</sup> and it came to pass, that in process of time, after the end of two years, his bowels fell out by reason of his suffering; so he died of sore diseases. And his people made no burning for him, like the burning of his fathers.

<sup>20</sup> Thirty and two years old was he when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem eight years; and he departed <sup>o</sup> without being regretted. <sup>p</sup> Howbeit they buried him in the City of David, <sup>q</sup> but not in the sepulchres of the kings.

his stead; for the band of men that came with the Arabians to the camp had slain all the eldest. So Ahaziah the son of Jehoram, the king of Judah, reigned. <sup>2</sup> Forty and two years old * was Ahaziah when he became king, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was <sup>b</sup> Athaliah the daughter of Omri.

<sup>3</sup> And he walked in the ways of the house of Ahab; for his mother was his counsellor to do wickedly. <sup>4</sup> And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, like the house of Ahab; for they were his counsellors after the death of his father, to his destruction. <sup>5</sup> He also walked after their counsel; and he went with Jehoram the son of Ahab, the king of Israel, to war against Hazael, the king of Syria, at Ramoth-gilead. And the Syrians smote Joram; <sup>6</sup> and <sup>c</sup> he returned to be healed in Jezreel; because of the wounds which were given him at Ramah, when he fought with Hazael, the king of Syria.

And <sup>d</sup> Azariah the son of Jehoram, the king of Judah, went down to see Jehoram the son of Ahab, at Jezreel, because he was sick. <sup>7</sup> And the ruin of Ahaziah <sup>e</sup> was from God, by coming to Joram; for when he was come, he <sup>f</sup> went out with Jehoram against Jehu the son of Nimshi, <sup>g</sup> whom the LORD had anointed to cut off the house of Ahab. <sup>8</sup> And it came to pass, that when Jehu was <sup>h</sup> executing judgment upon the house of Ahab, and he <sup>i</sup> found the princes of Judah and the sons of the brethren of Ahaziah ministering to Ahaziah, he slew them. <sup>9</sup> And he sought Ahaziah; and they caught him, (for he was hidden in Samaria), and brought him to Jehu. And when they had slain him, they buried him: Because, said they, he is the son of Jehoshaphat, who <sup>k</sup> sought the LORD with all his heart.

And the house of Ahaziah had no one able to hold the kingdom. <sup>10</sup> And <sup>l</sup> when Athaliah, the mother of Ahaziah, saw that her son was dead, she arose and destroyed all the seed-royal of the house of Judah.

<sup>11</sup> But <sup>m</sup> Jehoshabeath, the daughter of the king, took Joash the son of Ahaziah, and stole him from among the king's sons that were slain, and put him and his nurse in the chamber for beds. So Jehoshabeath, the daughter of king Jehoram, the wife of Jehoiada the priest, (for she was the sister of Ahaziah), hid him from Athaliah, so that she slew him not. <sup>12</sup> And he was with them hidden in the house of God six years. And Athaliah reigned over the land.

End of Athaliah's usurpation, and restoration of the throne to the line of David; (16) renewal of the national covenant with God; (17) destruction of idolatry in Jerusalem; and (18) restoration of divine worship.

23. AND <sup>a</sup>in the seventh year Jehoiada strengthened himself, and took the captains of hundreds, Azariah the son of Jeroham, and Ishmael the son of Jehohanan, and Azariah the son of Obed, and Maaseiah the son of Adaiah, and Elishaphat the son of Zichri, into covenant with him. <sup>2</sup>And they went about in Judah, and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Judah, and the chiefs of the fathers of Israel; and they came to Jerusalem. <sup>3</sup>And all the congregation made a covenant with the king in the house of God.

And he <sup>a</sup>said unto them: Behold, the king's son shall reign, as <sup>b</sup>the LORD said concerning the sons of David. <sup>4</sup>This is the thing that ye shall do: The third part of you entering on the sabbath, of the priests and of the Levites, shall be <sup>c</sup>keepers of the doors; <sup>5</sup>and the third part at the king's house; and the third part at the gate of the foundation; and all the people shall be in the courts of the house of the LORD. <sup>6</sup>But let none come into the house of the LORD save the priests and <sup>d</sup>they of the Levites that minister; they shall go in, for they are holy; but all the people shall keep the watch of the LORD. <sup>7</sup>And the Levites shall compass the king round about, every man with his weapons in his hand; and whosoever cometh into the house, he shall be put to death; and be ye with the king when he cometh in and when he goeth out.

<sup>8</sup>And the Levites and all Judah did according to all things that Jehoiada the priest commanded. And they took each his men that were to come in on the sabbath, with them that were to go out on the sabbath; for Jehoiada the priest dismissed not the divisions*. <sup>9</sup>And Jehoiada the priest delivered to the captains of hundreds the spears and the bucklers and the shields that king David had, which were in the house of God. <sup>10</sup>And he set all the people, every man having his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the temple to the left side of the temple, along by the altar and the house, near the king round about. <sup>11</sup>And they brought out the king's son, and put upon him the crown and <sup>e</sup>the testimony, and made him king. And Jehoiada and his sons anointed him, and said: Long live the king!

she came to the people, into the house of the LORD. <sup>13</sup>And she looked, and behold, the king stood upon his stand* at the entrance; and the princes and the trumpets by the king; and all the people of the land were rejoicing and sounding with trumpets, also the singers with the instruments of music, and such as taught to sing/praîset. And Athaliah rent her clothes, and said: Conspiracy, conspiracy! <sup>14</sup>And Jehoiada the priest brought out the captains of hundreds that were set over the host, and said unto them: Lead her forth outside the ranks; and whoso followeth her, let him be slain with the sword. For the priest said: Slay her not in the house of the LORD. <sup>15</sup>And they laid hands on her; and when she was come to the entrance <sup>g</sup>of the gate of the horses, by the king's house, they slew her there.

<sup>16</sup>And Jehoiada made a covenant between himself and all the people and the king, that they should be the LORD's people. <sup>17</sup>And all the people went to the house of Baal, and brake it down, and brake in pieces his altars and his images; and <sup>h</sup>they slew Mattan the priest of Baal before the altars.

<sup>20</sup>And <sup>l</sup>he took the captains of hundreds, and the nobles, and the governors over the people, and all the people of the land, and brought down the king from the house of the LORD; and they came through the upper gate into the king's house, and set the king upon the throne of the kingdom.

<sup>21</sup>And all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was quiet. And they slew Athaliah with the sword.

Reign of Joash—(5) Repair of the temple; (17) apostacy of the king and people; (20) Zechariah's protest; (21) his murder, by the king's command; (23) Syrian invasion.

24. JOASH <sup>a</sup>was seven years old when he became king, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Zibiah of Beer-sheba.

<sup>4</sup> And it came to pass after this that Joash was minded to repair the house of the LORD. <sup>5</sup> And he gathered together the priests and the Levites, and said to them: Go out unto the cities of Judah, and <sup>6</sup> gather from all Israel money to repair the house of your God, from year to year; and see that ye hasten the matter. But the Levites hastened not.

<sup>11</sup> And it came to pass that at the time the chest was brought to the king's officers, by the hand of the Levites, and <sup>h</sup> when they saw that there was much money, then came the king's secretary and the high priest's officer, and they emptied the chest; and they took it and carried it to its place again. Thus they did day by day, and gathered money in abundance. <sup>12</sup> And the king and Jehoiada gave it to such as did the work of the service of the house of the LORD; and they hired masons and carpenters to repair the house of the LORD, and also workers in iron and brass†, to repair the house of the LORD. <sup>13</sup> And the workmen wrought, and the work was perfected by them, and they set the house of God in its state, and strengthened it.

<sup>15</sup> And Jehoiada waxed old, and was full of days, and died; he was a hundred and thirty years old when he died. <sup>16</sup> And they buried him in the City of David, among the kings, <sup>k</sup> because he had done good in Israel, and towards God and his house.

<sup>23</sup> And it came to pass at the end of the year, that <sup>t</sup> the host of Syria came up against him; and they came to Judah and Jerusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoil of them unto the king of Damascus. <sup>24</sup> For the army of the Syrians <sup>u</sup> came with a small company of men, and the LORD <sup>v</sup> delivered a very great host into their hand, because they had forsaken the LORD, the God of their fathers. So they executed judgment against Joash.

<sup>27</sup> And as to his sons, and the greatness of <sup>c</sup> the tribute laid upon him, and the repairing of the house of God, behold, they are written in the story† of the book of the kings. And <sup>d</sup> Amaziah his son reigned in his stead.

Reign of Amaziah—(5) His preparations for war, and victory over the Edomites; (14) his idolatry, and (15) God's rebuke by a prophet; (17) his disastrous war with the king of Israel.

25. AMAZIAH <sup>a</sup> became king when he was five and twenty years old, and he reigned twenty and nine years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Jehoaddan of Jerusalem.

<sup>2</sup> And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, but not with a perfect heart.

<sup>3</sup> And it came to pass, when the kingdom was established to him, that he slew his servants that had killed the king his father. <sup>4</sup> But he slew not their children, but did as it is written in the law in the book of Moses, where the LORD commanded, saying: <sup>b</sup> The fathers shall not die because of the children, neither shall the children die because of the fathers, but they shall die every man for his own sin.

<sup>5</sup> And Amaziah gathered Judah together, and made them captains over thousands and captains over hundreds, according to the fathers' houses, throughout all Judah and Benjamin. And he numbered them <sup>c</sup> from twenty years old and upwards, and found them three hundred thousand choice men, to go forth to war, handling spear and shield.

<sup>10</sup> And Amaziah separated them, even the army that came to him out of Ephraim, to go home again. And their anger was greatly kindled against Judah, and they returned home in great anger.

<sup>13</sup> And the soldiers of the army which Amaziah sent back, that they should not go with him to battle, fell upon the cities of Judah, from Samaria even unto Beth-horon, and smote three thousand of them, and took much spoil.

<sup>14</sup> Now it came to pass, after Amaziah was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, that <sup>f</sup> he brought the gods of the children of Seir, and set them up for his own gods, and bowed himself down before them, and burned incense unto them.

<sup>15</sup> And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Amaziah, and he sent unto him a prophet, who said unto him: Why hast thou sought after <sup>g</sup> the gods of the people which could not deliver their own people out of thy hand? <sup>16</sup> And it came to pass, as he talked with him, that the king said unto him: Art thou made of the king's counsel? Forbear; why shouldst thou be smitten? Then the prophet forbore, and said: I know that <sup>h</sup> God hath determined to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and hast not hearkened unto my counsel.

<sup>17</sup> Then <sup>i</sup> Amaziah, the king of Judah, took counsel, and sent to Joash, the son of Jehoahaz, the son of Jehu, the king of Israel, saying: Come, let us look one another in the face. <sup>18</sup> And Joash, the king of Israel, sent to Amaziah, the king of Judah, saying: The thorn-bush that was in Lebanon sent to the cedar that was in Lebanon, saying, Give thy daughter to my son to wife; and there passed by a wild beast that was in Lebanon, and trode down the thorn-bush*. <sup>19</sup> Thou sayest, Lo, thou hast smitten the Edomites; and thy heart lifteth thee up to boast. Now abide at home; why dost thou excite thyself for harm, that thou shouldst fall; thou, and Judah with thee? <sup>20</sup> But Amaziah would not hear; for <sup>k</sup> it was from God, that he might deliver them into the enemy's hand, because they sought after the gods of Edom.

in the house of God with Obed-edom, and the treasures of the king's house, and the hostages; and he returned to Samaria.

<sup>25</sup> And <sup>m</sup> Amaziah the son of Joash, the king of Judah, lived after the death of Joash, the son of Jehoahaz, the king of Israel, fifteen years. <sup>26</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Amaziah, the first and the last, behold, are they not written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel?

<sup>27</sup> And after the time that Amaziah turned away from following the LORD they made a conspiracy against him in Jerusalem; and he fled to Lachish; but they sent to Lachish after him, and slew him there. <sup>28</sup> And they brought him upon horses, and buried him with his fathers in the City of <sup>n</sup> Judah.

Reign of Uziah—(6) His successful wars, (9) buildings and other works, and (11) military power; (16) his pride, usurpation of priestly functions, and (19) punishment.

26. AND all the people of Judah took <sup>a</sup> Uziah, who was sixteen years old, and made him king in the room of his father Amaziah.

<sup>3</sup> Sixteen years old was Uziah when he became king, and he reigned fifty and two years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Jecoliah of Jerusalem.

<sup>4</sup> And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father Amaziah did. <sup>5</sup> And he sought God, in the days of Zechariah, who <sup>c</sup> had understanding in the visions of God; and as long as he sought the LORD, God made him to prosper.

<sup>11</sup> And Uziah had a host of fighting men, that went out to war by bands, under the hand of Hananiah, one of the king's captains, according to the number of their account, by the hand of Jeiel the scribe and Maaseiah the ruler. <sup>12</sup> The whole number of the chiefs of the fathers, of the mighty men of valour, were two thousand and six hundred. <sup>13</sup> And under their hand was an army, three hundred thousand and seven thousand and five hundred, that made war with mighty power, to help the king against the enemy.

<sup>21</sup> And <sup>o</sup> Uziah the king was a leper unto the day of his death; and he dwelt in a <sup>p</sup> separate house, being a leper, for he was cut off from the house of the LORD. And Jotham his son was over the king's house, judging the people of the land.

the kings; for they said, He is a leper. And Jotham his son reigned in his stead.

Reign of Jotham—(3) His fortifications and other buildings; (5) subjugation of the Ammonites.

27. JOTHAM <sup>a</sup> was twenty and five years old when he became king, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Jerushah, the daughter of Zadok.

<sup>2</sup> And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father Uzziah did; howbeit he <sup>b</sup> entered not into the temple of the LORD; but the people yet did corruptly.

<sup>3</sup> He built the upper gate of the house of the LORD; and on the wall of Ophel* he built much. <sup>4</sup> And he built cities in the mountains of Judah; and in the forests he built castles and towers.

<sup>5</sup> And he fought with the king of the Ammonites, and prevailed against them. And <sup>c</sup> the children of Ammon gave him the same year a hundred talents of silver, and ten thousand measures of wheat, and ten thousand of barley. So much did the children of Ammon pay to him, both the second year and the third. <sup>6</sup> So Jotham became mighty, because he prepared his ways before the LORD his God.

<sup>7</sup> And the rest of the acts of Jotham, and all his wars and his ways, lo, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah. <sup>8</sup> He was five and twenty years old when he became king; and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. <sup>9</sup> And Jotham slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David; and Ahaz his son reigned in his stead.

Reign of Ahaz—(1) His wickedness; and chastisements by the (5) Syrians, (6) Israelites, (17) Edomites, and (18) Philistines.

28. AHAZ <sup>a</sup> was twenty years old when he became king; and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. And he did not what was right in the sight of the LORD, like David his father; <sup>2</sup> but he walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, and <sup>b</sup> made also molten images for <sup>c</sup> the Baals. <sup>3</sup> Moreover he burnt incense in <sup>d</sup> the Valley of the son of Hinnom, and <sup>e</sup> burnt his sons in the fire, according to the abominations of the nations whom the LORD had cast out before the children of Israel. <sup>4</sup> He also sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places, and on the hills, and under every green tree.

great multitude of them captives, and brought them to Damascus.

And he was also delivered into the hand of the king of Israel, who smote him with a great slaughter. <sup>6</sup> For <sup>h</sup> Pekah the son of Remaliah slew in Judah a hundred and twenty thousand in one day, all valiant men; <sup>i</sup> because they had forsaken the LORD, the God of their fathers. <sup>7</sup> And Zichri, a mighty man of Ephraim, slew Maaseiah the king's son, and Azrikam the governor of the house, and Elkanah, who was next to the king*. <sup>8</sup> And the children of Israel carried away captive of their brethren two hundred thousand, women, sons and daughters; and they took also away much spoil from them, and brought the spoil to Samaria.

<sup>9</sup> And a prophet of the LORD was there, whose name was Oded; and he went out in face of the host that were coming to Samaria, and said unto them: Behold, <sup>k</sup> because the LORD, the God of your fathers, was wroth with Judah, he hath delivered them into your hand, and ye have slain them in a rage that <sup>l</sup> reacheth up unto the heavens. <sup>10</sup> And now ye purpose to keep under the children of Judah and Jerusalem for <sup>m</sup> bondmen and bondwomen unto you. But are there not with you, even with you, sins against the LORD your God? <sup>11</sup> So now hear me, and deliver back the captives again, whom ye have taken captive of your brethren; for the fierce wrath of the LORD is upon you.

the Edomites came and smote Judah, and carried away captives.

18 The <sup>r</sup>Philistines also invaded the cities of the lowlands, and of the South of Judah, and took Beth-shemesh and Ajalon and Gederoth, and Shochmo and its villages, and Timnah and its villages, also Gimzo and its villages; and they dwelt there.

19 For the LORD brought Judah low, because of Ahaz, the king of <sup>s</sup>Israel; for he let Judah loose*, and transgressed sorely against the LORD.

20 And <sup>t</sup>Tilgath-pilneser, the king of Assyria, came unto him; and he distressed him, but strengthened him not; <sup>u</sup>for Ahaz had <sup>u</sup>despoiled the house of the LORD, and the house of the king and of the princes, and had given to the king of Assyria; but it helped him not.

22 And <sup>x</sup>in the time of his distress he trespassed yet more against the LORD, this king Ahaz. <sup>z</sup>And <sup>z</sup>he sacrificed unto the gods of Damascus, which smote him; and he said: Because the gods of the kings of Syria help them, I will sacrifice to them, that <sup>z</sup>they may help me. But they <sup>a</sup>were the ruin of him and of all Israel.

21 And Ahaz gathered together the vessels of the house of God, and <sup>b</sup>cut in pieces the vessels of the house of God; and <sup>c</sup>he shut up the doors of the house of the LORD; and he made for himself altars in every corner of Jerusalem. <sup>z</sup>And in every several city of Judah he made high places, to burn incense unto other gods, and provoked to anger the LORD, the God of his fathers.

26 Now <sup>d</sup>the rest of his acts and of all his ways, the first and the last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel. <sup>e</sup>And Ahaz slept with his fathers; and they buried him in the city, in Jerusalem; <sup>e</sup>but they brought him not into the sepulchres of <sup>f</sup>the kings of Israel. And Hezekiah his son reigned in his stead.

Reign of Hezekiah—(5) Purification and (20) re-dedication of the temple.

29. HEZEKIAH <sup>a</sup>became king when he was five and twenty years old, and he reigned nine and twenty years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Abijah, the daughter of <sup>b</sup>Zechariah.

2 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that David his father had done.

3 He in the first year of his reign, in the first month, <sup>c</sup>opened the doors of the house of the LORD, and repaired them. <sup>d</sup>And he brought in the priests and the Levites, and gathered them together into the East street, <sup>e</sup>and said unto them:

Hear me, ye Levites! <sup>d</sup>Sanctify now yourselves, and sanctify the house of the LORD, the God of your fathers, and carry forth the filthiness out of the sanctuary.

6 For <sup>e</sup>our fathers have trespassed and done what was evil in the eyes of the LORD our God, and <sup>f</sup>have forsaken him, and <sup>g</sup>have turned away their faces from the habitation of the LORD, and have turned their backs. <sup>h</sup>Also <sup>h</sup>they have shut up the doors of the porch, and put out the lamps; and have not burned incense nor offered burnt-offerings in the sanctuary unto the God of Israel. <sup>i</sup>And the <sup>i</sup>wrath of the LORD hath been upon Judah and Jerusalem, and he hath delivered them to trouble, <sup>k</sup>to astonishment and to <sup>k</sup>hissing, as ye see with your eyes. <sup>l</sup>For lo, <sup>l</sup>our fathers have fallen by the sword, and our sons and our daughters and our wives are in captivity for this. <sup>m</sup>Now it is in my heart to make a <sup>m</sup>covenant with the LORD, the God of Israel, that his fierce wrath may turn away from us. <sup>n</sup>My sons, now be not negligent; for the LORD hath <sup>n</sup>chosen you to stand before him, to serve him, and that ye should minister unto him, and burn incense.

12 And the Levites arose: Mahath the son of Amasai, and Joel the son of Azariah, of the sons of the Kohathites; and of the sons of Merari, Kish the son of Abdi, and Azariah the son of Jehalelel; and of the Gershonites, Joah the son of Zimmah, and Eden the son of Joah; <sup>o</sup>and of the sons of Elizaphan, Shimri and Jeiel; and of the sons of Asaph, Zechariah and Mattaniah; <sup>p</sup>and of the sons of Heman, Jehiel and Shimei; and of the sons of Jeduthun, Shemaiah and Uzziel. <sup>q</sup>And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselves, and came, according to <sup>q</sup>the commandment of the king by the words of the LORD, <sup>r</sup>to cleanse the house of the LORD.

16 And the priests went into <sup>s</sup>the inner part of the house of the LORD, to cleanse it; and they brought out all the uncleanness that they found in the temple of the LORD into the court of the house of the LORD. And the Levites took it to carry out abroad into the valley of the Kidron. <sup>t</sup>And they began to sanctify on the first of the first month, and on the eighth day of the month came they to <sup>t</sup>the porch of the LORD. And they sanctified the house of the LORD in eight days; and in the sixteenth day of the first month they made an end. <sup>18</sup> And they went in to Hezekiah the king, and said: We have cleansed all the house of the LORD, and the altar of burnt-offering with all its vessels, and the shewbread table with all its vessels. <sup>19</sup> And all the vessels, which king Ahaz in his reign, profaned in his transgression have we prepared and sanctified, and behold, they are before the altar of the LORD.

<sup>20</sup> And Hezekiah the king rose early, and gathered the chief men of the city, and went up to the house of the LORD. <sup>21</sup> And they brought seven bullocks and seven rams, and seven lambs and seven he-goats, for a sin-offering, for the kingdom and for the sanctuary and for Judah. And he commanded the priests, the sons of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the LORD. <sup>22</sup> And they killed the bullocks, and the priests received the blood and <sup>a</sup> sprinkled it on the altar; likewise they killed the rams, and sprinkled the blood upon the altar; they killed also the lambs, and sprinkled the blood upon the altar. <sup>23</sup> And they brought near the he-goats for the sin-offering, before the king and the congregation, and they laid their <sup>b</sup> hands upon them; <sup>24</sup> and the priests killed them; and <sup>c</sup> they made reconciliation with their blood upon the altar, <sup>a</sup> to make an atonement for all Israel; for the king commanded the burnt-offering and the sin-offering for all Israel.

<sup>27</sup> And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt-offering upon the altar. And when the burnt-offering began, <sup>h</sup> the song of the LORD began, with the trumpets and with the instruments of David, the king of Israel. <sup>28</sup> And all the congregation worshipped, and the singers sang, and the trumpeters sounded; all until the burnt-offering was finished. <sup>29</sup> And when they had made an end of offering, <sup>i</sup> the king and all that were present with him bowed down and worshipped. <sup>30</sup> And Hezekiah the king and the princes commanded the Levites to sing praise unto the LORD, <sup>k</sup> in the words of David and of Asaph the seer. And they sang praises with gladness, and they bowed their heads and worshipped.

ye have consecrated yourselves unto the LORD, come near and bring sacrifices and thank-offerings into the house of the LORD. And the congregation brought in sacrifices and thank-offerings; and every one of a free heart brought burnt-offerings. <sup>32</sup> And the number of the burnt-offerings which the congregation brought was threescore and ten bullocks, a hundred rams, and two hundred lambs; all these for a burnt-offering to the LORD. <sup>33</sup> And the consecrated things were six hundred oxen and three thousand sheep.

<sup>34</sup> But the priests were too few, so that they could not slay all the burnt-offerings; wherefore <sup>m</sup> their brethren the Levites helped them, till the work was ended, and until the priests had sanctified themselves; for <sup>n</sup> the Levites were more upright in heart to sanctify themselves than the priests. <sup>35</sup> And also the burnt-offering was in abundance, with <sup>o</sup> the fat of the peace-offerings, and <sup>p</sup> the drink-offerings for the burnt-offering.

So the service of the house of the LORD was set up. <sup>36</sup> And Hezekiah rejoiced, and all the people, that God had prepared the people; for the thing was done suddenly.

Reign of Hezekiah—(1) Great Passover celebration, to which all Israel are invited; (ch. 31. 1) destruction of idolatry throughout the country.

30. AND Hezekiah sent to all Israel and Judah, and wrote letters also to Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the LORD at Jerusalem, to keep the Passover unto the LORD, the God of Israel. <sup>2</sup> For the king had taken counsel, and his princes, and all the congregation in Jerusalem, to keep the Passover <sup>a</sup> in the second month; <sup>3</sup> for they could not keep it <sup>b</sup> at that time, <sup>c</sup> because the priests had not sanctified themselves sufficiently, neither had the people gathered themselves together to Jerusalem. <sup>4</sup> And the thing pleased the king and all the congregation. <sup>5</sup> So they established a decree to make proclamation throughout all Israel, from Beer-sheba even to Dan, that they should come to keep the Passover unto the LORD, the God of Israel, at Jerusalem. For they had not done it for a long time as it was written.

<sup>6</sup> So the runners went, with the letters from the hand of the king and his princes, throughout all Israel and Judah, and according to the commandment of the king, saying:

Ye children of Israel, <sup>d</sup> turn again unto the LORD, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Israel, and he will return to the remnant of you that are escaped out of the hand of <sup>e</sup> the kings of Assyria. <sup>7</sup> And be not ye <sup>f</sup> like your fathers and like your brethren, who trespassed against the LORD, the God of their fathers; so that he <sup>g</sup> gave them up to desolation, as ye see. <sup>8</sup> Now <sup>h</sup> be ye not stiffnecked, like your fathers; yield yourselves <sup>i</sup> unto the LORD, and enter into his sanctuary, which he hath sanctified for ever; and serve the LORD your God; <sup>j</sup> that the fierceness of his wrath may turn away from you. <sup>9</sup> For when ye turn again unto the LORD, your brethren and your children <sup>k</sup> shall find compassion before them that lead them captive, <sup>l</sup> even to return into this land. For the LORD your God is <sup>m</sup> gracious and merciful; and <sup>n</sup> he will not turn away his face from you if ye <sup>o</sup> return unto him.

<sup>13</sup> And there assembled at Jerusalem much people to keep the feast of Unleavened bread, in the second month, a very great congregation. <sup>14</sup> And they arose and took away <sup>s</sup> the altars that were in Jerusalem; and all the altars for incense took they away, and cast them into the brook Kidron. <sup>15</sup> And they killed the passover on the fourteenth of the second month. And the priests and the Levites were <sup>t</sup> ashamed; and they sanctified themselves, and brought in the burnt-offerings into the house of the LORD. <sup>16</sup> And they stood in their place after their manner, according to the law of Moses, the man of God; and <sup>u</sup> the priests sprinkled the blood, from the hand of the Levites.

LORD, the God of his fathers, but not according to the purification of the sanctuary; <sup>20</sup> and the LORD hearkened to Hezekiah, and forgave the people.

<sup>25</sup> And all the congregation of Judah, and the priests and the Levites, and all the congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, and that dwelt in Judah, rejoiced. <sup>26</sup> And there was great joy in Jerusalem; <sup>h</sup> for since the time of Solomon the son of David, the king of Israel, there was not the like in Jerusalem. <sup>27</sup> And the priests the Levites arose and <sup>i</sup> blessed the people; and their voice was heard, and <sup>k</sup> their prayer came into His holy dwelling-place, into heaven.

31. And when all this was finished, all Israel that were present went out to the cities of Judah, and <sup>l</sup> brake the images in pieces, and cut down the Asherim<sup>m</sup>, and brake down the high places and the altars out of all Judah and Benjamin, also in Ephraim and Manasseh, until they made an end.

Then all the children of Israel returned, every man to his possession, into their own cities.

Reign of Hezekiah—(2) Restoration of the temple services; and (4) of the provisions for the same, and for the priests and Levites.

<sup>9</sup> more are with us than with him; <sup>8</sup> with him is <sup>a</sup>an arm of flesh, but <sup>t</sup>with us is the LORD our God, to help us and to fight our battles. And the people rested themselves upon the words of Hezekiah, the king of Judah.

<sup>10</sup> Thus saith Sennacherib, the king of Assyria: Whereon do ye trust, that ye abide in the stronghold <sup>t</sup>in Jerusalem? <sup>11</sup> Doth not Hezekiah incite you, to deliver you to die by famine and by thirst, saying, The LORD our God will deliver us out of the hand of the king of Assyria? <sup>12</sup> Hath not the same Hezekiah taken away his high places and his altars, and commanded Judah and Jerusalem saying, Ye shall worship before one altar, and burn incense upon it? <sup>13</sup> Know ye not what I and my fathers have done unto all the people of the lands? Were the gods of the nations of those lands at all able to deliver their lands out of my hand? <sup>14</sup> Who was there among all the gods of those nations which my fathers utterly destroyed that could deliver his people out of my hand, that your God should be able to deliver you out of my hand? <sup>15</sup> And now let not Hezekiah deceive you or incite you in this manner; neither yet believe him; for no god of any nation or kingdom hath been able to deliver his people out of my hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much less shall your God deliver you out of my hand?

<sup>17</sup> He +also wrote letters to rail on the LORD, the God of Israel, and to speak against him saying: As the gods of the nations of the lands have not delivered their people out of my hand, so shall not the God of Hezekiah deliver his people out of my hand.

<sup>18</sup> And they cried with a loud voice in the Jews' speech unto the people of Jerusalem that were on the wall, to affright them and to trouble them; that they might take the city. <sup>19</sup> And they spake against the God of Jerusalem as against the gods of the peoples of the earth, <sup>m</sup>the work of man's hand.

<sup>p</sup>the LORD sent an angel, who cut off all the mighty men of valour and the leaders and captains in the camp of the king of Assyria. So he returned with shame of face to his own land. And when he entered into the house of his god, they that came forth of his own bowels made him fall there by the sword.

<sup>22</sup> Thus the LORD saved Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem from the hand of Sennacherib, the king of Assyria, and from the hand of all; and he protected them on every side. <sup>23</sup> And many brought gifts unto the LORD, to Jerusalem, and <sup>q</sup>presents to Hezekiah, the king of Judah; so that he was <sup>r</sup>magnified in the sight of all the nations from thenceforth.

Reign of Hezekiah—(1) His sickness and recovery; (27) his wealth and prosperity; (26, 31) his pride and humiliation.

<sup>24</sup> IN <sup>a</sup>those days Hezekiah was sick even to death, and he prayed unto the LORD; and he spake unto him, and gave him a sign.

<sup>25</sup> But Hezekiah rendered not again according to the benefit done unto him, for <sup>b</sup>his heart was lifted up; <sup>c</sup>and there was wrath upon him, and upon Judah and Jerusalem. <sup>26</sup> But <sup>d</sup>Hezekiah humbled himself for the pride of his heart; he and the inhabitants of Jerusalem; so that the wrath of the LORD came not upon them <sup>e</sup>in the days of Hezekiah.

<sup>27</sup> And Hezekiah had exceeding much riches and honour; and he made for himself treasuries, for silver and for gold, and for precious stones, and for spices, and for shields, and for all manner of pleasant vessels; <sup>28</sup> and storehouses for the increase of corn and wine and oil; and stalls for all manner of beasts, and cotes for flocks. <sup>29</sup> And he provided for himself cities, and possessions of flocks and herds in abundance; for <sup>f</sup>God had given him very much substance.

Reign of Josiah—(1) His piety, and (3) extermination of idolatry, in Jerusalem and throughout Judah, and (6) in the land of Israel.

34. JOSIAH <sup>a</sup> was eight years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem one and thirty years.

<sup>4</sup> And <sup>e</sup> they brake down the altars of the Baals, in his presence; and the sun-images that were on high above them he cut down; and the Asherim† and the carved images and the molten images he brake in pieces and made into dust, and <sup>f</sup> strewed it upon the graves of them that had sacrificed unto them; <sup>5</sup> and he burnt <sup>g</sup> the bones of the priests upon their altars. And he cleansed Judah and Jerusalem. <sup>6</sup> And in the cities of Manasseh and Ephraim and Simeon, even unto Naphtali, he† searched their houses round about. <sup>7</sup> And when he had broken down the altars and the Asherim‡, and had <sup>h</sup> beaten the graven images into powder, and cut down all the sun-images, throughout all the land of Israel, he returned to Jerusalem.

Reign of Josiah—(8) Repair of the temple; (14) discovery of the book of the law; (19) Josiah's inquiry of the prophetess Huldah concerning the judgments threatened therein, and (23) the Lord's answer; (29) public reading of the law; and (31) renewal of the national covenant with God.

<sup>8</sup> AND <sup>a</sup> in the eighteenth year of his reign, when he had cleansed the land, and the house§, he sent Shaphan the son of Azaliah, and Maaseiah the governor of the city, and Joah the son of Joahaz the recorder, to repair the house of the LORD his God. <sup>9</sup> And they came to Hilkiah the high priest; and they delivered <sup>b</sup> the money that had been brought into the house of God, which the Levites that kept the threshold had gathered from the hand of Manasseh and Ephraim, and from all the remnant of Israel, and from all Judah and Benjamin; and they returned to Jerusalem*. <sup>10</sup> And they gave it unto the hand of the workmen that had the oversight of the house of the LORD; and they gave it to the workmen that wrought in the house of the LORD, to repair and amend the house; <sup>11</sup> even to the artificers† and to the builders gave they it, to buy hewn stone, and timber for the beams, and to floor* the houses† which the kings of Judah had destroyed.

<sup>12</sup> And <sup>c</sup> the men did the work faithfully. And the overseers of them were Jahath and Obadiah, the Levites, of the sons of Merari; and Zechariah and Meshullam, of the sons of the Kohathites, to preside; and all the Levites that had skill in instruments of music; <sup>13</sup> also some over the bearers of burdens, and overseers of all that wrought the work in any manner of service; <sup>14</sup> and some of the Levites were scribes and officers and porters.

<sup>14</sup> And when they brought out the money that had been brought into the house of the LORD, Hilkiah the priest found the book of the law of the LORD, by the hand of Moses. <sup>15</sup> And Hilkiah answered and said to Shaphan the scribe: I have found the book of the law in the house of the LORD. And Hilkiah delivered the book to Shaphan.

<sup>16</sup> And Shaphan carried the book to the king, and brought the king word back again, saying: All that was committed to thy servants, they are doing it. <sup>17</sup> And they have emptied out the money that was found in the house of the LORD, and have delivered it into the hand of the overseers, and into the hand of the workmen. <sup>18</sup> And Shaphan the scribe told the king saying: Hilkiah the priest hath given me a book. And Shaphan read in it before the king.

<sup>22</sup> And Hilkiah, and they whom the king sent, went to Huldah <sup>f</sup> the prophetess, the wife of Shallum the son of Tikvath, the son of <sup>g</sup> Hasrah, keeper of the robes, (now she dwelt in Jerusalem in the second part), and they spake to her according to that.

place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, all the curses that are written in the book which they have read before the king of Judah. <sup>25</sup> Because they have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their hands, therefore my wrath shall be poured out upon this place, and shall not be quenched. <sup>26</sup> But as for the king of Judah, who sent you to inquire of the LORD, thus shall ye say unto him: Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the words which thou hast heard: <sup>27</sup> Because thy heart is tender, and thou hast humbled thyself before God, when thou heardest his words against this place and against its inhabitants, and hast humbled thyself before me, and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before me, even I also have heard thee, saith the LORD. <sup>28</sup> Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be gathered to thy grave in peace, and thine eyes shall not look on all the evil that I will bring upon this place, and upon its inhabitants.

So they brought the king word again.

<sup>29</sup> And <sup>r</sup> the king sent and gathered together all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem. <sup>30</sup> And the king went up into the house of the LORD, and all the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the priests and the Levites, and all the people, great and small. And he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant that was found in the house of the LORD. <sup>31</sup> And the king stood upon <sup>s</sup> his stand*, and made a covenant before the LORD, to walk after the LORD, and to keep his commandments and his testimonies and his statutes, with all his heart and with all his soul, to perform the words of the covenant which are written in this book. <sup>32</sup> And he caused all that were present in Jerusalem and Benjamin to stand to it. And the inhabitants of Jerusalem did according to the covenant of God, the God of their fathers.

<sup>33</sup> And Josiah took away all the abominations out of all the countries which the children of Israel had; and he made all that were present in Israel to serve, even to serve the LORD their God. All his days they departed not from following the LORD, the God of their fathers.

Reign of Josiah—Great Passover celebration.

35. AND <sup>a</sup> Josiah kept a Passover unto the LORD in Jerusalem; and they killed the passover <sup>b</sup> on the fourteenth of the first month.

<sup>14</sup> And afterwards they made ready for themselves and for the priests; because the priests the sons of Aaron were engaged in offering the burnt-offerings and the fat until night; therefore the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the priests the sons of Aaron. <sup>15</sup> And the singers the sons of Asaph were in their place, according to the <sup>2</sup> commandment of David, and Asaph and Heman, and Jeduthun the king's seer; and <sup>16</sup> the doorkeepers were at every gate; they had not to depart from their service; for their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

<sup>16</sup> So all the service of the LORD was prepared on that day, for keeping the Passover, and for offering burnt-offerings upon the altar of the LORD, according to the commandment of king Josiah. <sup>17</sup> And the <sup>2</sup> children of Israel that were present kept the Passover at that time, and the feast of Unleavened bread seven days.

<sup>18</sup> And <sup>a</sup> there was no Passover like that kept in Israel from the days of Samuel the prophet; neither did any of the kings of Israel keep such a Passover as Josiah kept, and the priests and the Levites, and all Judah and Israel that were present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. <sup>19</sup> In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josiah was this Passover kept.

Josiah's resistance to the king of Egypt, and (13) death in battle; (24) the national mourning for him.

<sup>20</sup> AFTER <sup>a</sup> all this, when Josiah had restored the temple, Necho, the king of Egypt, came up to fight at Charehemish, by the Euphrates; and Josiah went out against him. <sup>21</sup> And he sent ambassadors to him, saying: What have I to do with thee, thou king of Judah? Not against thee thyself come I this day; but against the house* wherewith I have war; for God commanded me to make haste. Forbear thee from God, who is with me, that he destroy thee not.

<sup>22</sup> But Josiah would not turn his face from him; but he disguised himself, that he might fight with him; and he hearkened not unto the words of Necho from the mouth of God; and he came to fight in the valley of Megiddo. <sup>23</sup> And the archers shot at king Josiah; and the king said to his servants: Take me away, for I am sorely wounded. <sup>24</sup> His servants therefore took him out of that chariot, and put him into the second chariot that he had; and they brought him to Jerusalem. And he died, and was buried in the sepulchres of his fathers.

the singing women spake of Josiah in their lamentations, to this day; and they made them an ordinance in Israel; and behold, they are written in the lamentations.

Reigns of (1) Jehoahaz, (5) Jehoiakim, (9) Jehoiachin, and (11) Zedekiah— (12) The wickedness of the king and people; (17) their destruction by the Chaldeans; (18) transportation to Babylon of treasures and people; and (21) desolation of the land for seventy years.

36. AND the <sup>a</sup> people of the land took Jehoahaz the son of Josiah, and made him king in his father's stead, in Jerusalem. <sup>2</sup> Jehoahaz was twenty and three years old when he became king, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup> And the king of Egypt put him aside at Jerusalem; and he condemned the land in a hundred talents of silver and a talent of gold. <sup>4</sup> And the king of Egypt made Eliakim his brother king over Judah and Jerusalem; and he turned his name to Jehoiakim. And Necho took Jehoahaz his son, and carried him to Egypt.

<sup>5</sup> Jehoiakim <sup>b</sup> was twenty and five years old when he became king, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem.

And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD his God. <sup>6</sup> Against <sup>c</sup> him came up Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon; and he bound him in fetters, to <sup>d</sup> carry him to Babylon. <sup>7</sup> Nebuchadnezzar <sup>e</sup> also carried part of the vessels of the house of the LORD to Babylon, and put them in his temple at Babylon.

<sup>8</sup> Now <sup>f</sup> the rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, and his abominations which he did, and that which was found in him, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah. And <sup>9</sup> Jehoiachin his son reigned in his stead.

<sup>10</sup> Jehoiachin <sup>a</sup> was eight years old when he became king, and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem. And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. <sup>11</sup> And at the return of the year, <sup>b</sup> king Nebuchadnezzar sent, and brought him to Babylon, with the goodly vessels of the house of the LORD. And he made <sup>c</sup> Zedekiah his brother king over Judah and Jerusalem.

<sup>12</sup> And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD his God; he humbled not himself before Jeremiah the prophet speaking from the mouth of the LORD. <sup>13</sup> And <sup>m</sup> he also rebelled against king Nebuchadnezzar, who had made him swear by God; and <sup>n</sup> he stiffened his neck, and hardened his heart from turning unto the LORD, the God of Israel.

<sup>14</sup> Moreover all the chiefs of the priests and the people transgressed very much, according to all the abominations of the heathen; and polluted the house of the LORD which he had hallowed in Jerusalem. <sup>15</sup> And <sup>o</sup> the LORD, the God of their fathers, sent to them, by his messengers, rising up betimes and sending, because <sup>p</sup> he had compassion on his people and on his dwelling-place; <sup>16</sup> but <sup>q</sup> they derided the messengers of God, and <sup>r</sup> despised his words, and <sup>s</sup> mocked at his prophets, until the <sup>t</sup> wrath of the LORD arose against his people, till there was no remedy.

the king and of his princes, the whole he brought to Babylon. <sup>19</sup> And <sup>y</sup> they burnt the house of God, and brake down the wall of Jerusalem, and burnt all the palaces thereof with fire, and destroyed all the goodly vessels thereof.

<sup>23</sup> Thus saith Cyrus, the king of Persia: All the kingdoms of the earth hath the LORD, the God of heaven, given to me; and he hath charged me to build for him a house at Jerusalem, which is in Judah. Cyrus's proclamation; (5) the departure of the Jews from Babylon; (7) the restoration of the temple treasures.

1. NOW in the first year of Cyrus, the king of Persia, that the word of the LORD <sup>a</sup> by the mouth of Jeremiah might be fulfilled, <sup>b</sup> the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus, the king of Persia, <sup>c</sup> that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and also in writing, saying:

<sup>2</sup> Thus saith Cyrus, the king of Persia: The LORD, the God of heaven, hath given to me all the kingdoms of the earth; and <sup>d</sup> he hath charged me to build for him a house at Jerusalem, which is in Judah. <sup>3</sup> Who is there among you of all his people? His God be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judah, and build the house of the LORD, the God of Israel (<sup>e</sup> he is the God) which is at Jerusalem. <sup>4</sup> And whosoever remaineth, in any place where he sojourneth, let the men of his place help him, with silver and with gold, and with goods and with beasts, besides <sup>f</sup> the freewill offering for the house of God that is at Jerusalem.

<sup>5</sup> Then rose up the chiefs of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin, and the priests and the Levites, with all <sup>g</sup> whose spirit God had stirred up, to go up to build the house of the LORD which is at Jerusalem. <sup>6</sup> And all they that were about them strengthened their hands with vessels of silver, with gold, with goods and with beasts, and with

<sup>59</sup> And these were they who went up from Tel-melah, Tel-harsa, Cherub, <sup>g</sup> Ad-dan, and Immer, but could not show their fathers' house and their lineage, whether they were of Israel: <sup>60</sup> The sons of Delaiah, the sons of Tobiah, the sons of Nekoda, six hundred fifty and two.
<sup>64</sup> The <sup>o</sup> whole congregation together was forty and two thousand three hundred and sixty; <sup>65</sup> besides their servants and their maids, of whom there were seven thousand three hundred thirty and seven. And there were among them two hundred singing men and singing women. <sup>66</sup> Their horses were seven hundred thirty and six; their mules, two hundred forty and five; <sup>67</sup> their camels, four hundred thirty and five; their asses, six thousand seven hundred and twenty.
<sup>70</sup> And <sup>r</sup> the priests and the Levites, and some of the people, and the singers and the doorkeepers and the Nethinim, dwelt in their cities, and all Israel in their cities.
Restoration of (2) the daily sacrifices and (4) sacred festivals; and (7) commencement of the rebuilding of the temple.
3. AND when the seventh month was come, and the children of Israel were in the cities, the people gathered themselves together as one man to Jerusalem. <sup>2</sup> Then stood up <sup>a</sup> Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and his brethren the priests, and <sup>b</sup> Zerubbabel the son of <sup>c</sup> Shealtiel, and his brethren, and built the altar of the God of Israel, to offer burnt-offerings thereon, as it is

<sup>3</sup> And they set the altar upon its bases; for fear was upon them because of the people of those countries. And they offered burnt-offerings thereon unto the LORD, burnt-offerings morning and evening. <sup>4</sup> And they <sup>e</sup> kept the feast of Tabernacles, <sup>f</sup> as it is written; and they <sup>g</sup> offered the daily burnt-offerings by number, according to the ordinance, as the duty of every day required; <sup>5</sup> and afterwards the <sup>h</sup> continual burnt-offering, both of the new moons and of all the set feasts of the LORD that were kept holy, and of every one that willingly offered a freewill offering unto the LORD. <sup>6</sup> From the first day of the seventh month began they to offer burnt-offerings unto the LORD.

But the foundation of the temple of the LORD was not laid; <sup>7</sup> but they gave money to the masons and to the carpenters; and <sup>i</sup> food and drink and oil, to them of Zidon and to them of Tyre, to bring cedar-trees from Lebanon to the sea of <sup>k</sup> Joppa, <sup>l</sup> according to the permission of Cyrus, the king of Persia.

<sup>8</sup> And in the second year of their coming to the house of God at Jerusalem, in the second month, began Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and the remnant of their brethren the priests and the Levites, and all they that were come out of the captivity to Jerusalem; and <sup>m</sup> they appointed the Levites, from twenty years old and upward, to preside over the work of the house of the LORD. <sup>9</sup> Then stood <sup>n</sup> Jeshua, his sons and his brethren, and Kadmiel and his sons, the sons of <sup>o</sup> Judah, together, to preside over the workmen in the house of God; and the sons of Henadad, their sons and their brethren the Levites.

And all the people <sup>u</sup> shouted with a great shout, when they praised the LORD, because the foundation of the house of the LORD was laid. <sup>12</sup> But <sup>v</sup> many of the priests and Levites and chiefs of the fathers, old men, who had seen the first house, when the foundation of this house was laid before their eyes, wept with a loud voice; and

Opposition of the Samaritans; (11) their letter to the king of Persia; and (17) the king's decree forbidding the rebuilding of the temple.

4. AND the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin heard that the children of the captivity were building the temple unto the LORD, the God of Israel; <sup>2</sup> and they came to Zerubbabel, and to the chiefs of the fathers, and said unto them: <sup>a</sup> Let us build with you; <sup>b</sup> for we, like you, seek your God; and we sacrifice unto him <sup>c</sup> since the days of Esar-haddon, the king of <sup>d</sup> Assyria, who brought us up hither.

<sup>3</sup> But Zerubbabel and Jeshua, and the rest of the chiefs of the fathers of Israel, said unto them: <sup>e</sup> Ye have nothing to do with us to build a house unto our God; but we ourselves together will build unto the LORD, the God of Israel, as <sup>f</sup> king Cyrus, the king of Persia, hath commanded us.

<sup>11</sup> This is the copy of the letter that they sent unto him, even unto Artaxerxes the king. Thy servants, the men beyond the river, and so forth: <sup>12</sup> Be it known unto the king, that the Jews who came up from thee to us are come unto Jerusalem, they are building the <sup>k</sup> rebellious and wicked city, and have set up the walls and joined the foundations. <sup>13</sup> Now be it known unto the king, that if this city be built and the walls set up, they will not pay <sup>l</sup> toll, tribute, and custom, and in the end thou wilt damage the kings. <sup>14</sup> Now because we eat salt from the palace, and it was not meet for us to see the king's injury, therefore have we sent and certified the king; <sup>15</sup> that search may be made in the book of the records of thy fathers. So shalt thou find in the book of the records and know that this city is a rebellious city, and damaging to kings and provinces, and that they have moved sedition within the same of old time; <sup>m</sup> for which cause was this city destroyed. <sup>16</sup> We certify the king that if this city be built and its walls set up, by this means thou shalt have no portion beyond the river.

<sup>17</sup> Then the king sent answer unto Rehum the chancellor, and Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their companions, that dwelt in Samaria, and the rest beyond the river: Peace, and so forth. <sup>18</sup> The letter which ye sent unto us hath been plainly read before me. <sup>19</sup> And I commanded and search hath been made, and <sup>n</sup> it is found that this city of old time hath made insurrection against kings, and rebellion and sedition have been made therein. <sup>20</sup> There have been mighty kings also over Jerusalem, who have <sup>o</sup> ruled over all <sup>p</sup> beyond the river; and toll, <sup>q</sup> tribute, and custom was paid to them. <sup>21</sup> Give ye now commandment to cause these men to cease, and that this city be not built until a commandment shall be given from me. <sup>22</sup> Take heed now that ye fail not to do this. Why should harm grow to the damage of the kings?

<sup>23</sup> Then when the copy of king Artaxerxes' letter was read before Rehum, and Shimshai the scribe, and their companions, they went up in haste to Jerusalem, unto the Jews, and made them to cease by force and might. <sup>24</sup> Then ceased the work of the house of God which is at Jerusalem. And it ceased until the second year of the reign of Darius, the king of Persia.

Recommencement of the temple by the Jews, stirred up by the prophets Haggai and Zechariah; (8) visit of the Persian governor and his council; (6) their report to the king; and (ch. 6. 1) the royal decree thereupon.

Completion, and (16) dedication of the temple; and (19) celebration of the Passover.

<sup>14</sup> AND <sup>a</sup> the elders of the Jews built; and they prospered through the prophesying of Haggai the prophet and Zechariah the son of Iddo. And they built, and finished, <sup>b</sup> according to the commandment of the God of Israel, and <sup>c</sup> according to the decree of Cyrus, and Darius, and <sup>d</sup> Artaxerxes, the king of Persia. <sup>15</sup> And this house was finished on the third day of the month Adar, which was in the sixth year of the reign of Darius the king.

<sup>7.</sup> AND after these things, in the reign of Artaxerxes, the king of Persia, Ezra <sup>a</sup> the son of Seraiah, the son of Azariah, the son of Hilkiah, <sup>2</sup> the son of Shallum, the son of Zadok, the son of Ahitub, <sup>3</sup> the son of Amariah, the son of Azariah, the son of Meraioth, <sup>4</sup> the son of Zerahiah, the son of Uzzi, the son of Bukki, <sup>5</sup> the son of Abishua, the son of Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the chief priest, <sup>6</sup> this Ezra went up from Babylon. And he was <sup>b</sup> a ready scribe in the law of Moses, which the LORD, the God of Israel, had given. And the king granted him all his request, <sup>c</sup> according to the hand of the LORD his God upon him.

<sup>8</sup> And he came to Jerusalem in the fifth month, which was in the seventh year of the king. <sup>9</sup> For upon the first of the first month began he to go up from Babylon; and on the first of the fifth month came he to Jerusalem, according to the good hand of his God upon him. <sup>10</sup> For Ezra had <sup>f</sup> prepared his heart to <sup>g</sup> seek the law of the LORD, and to do it, and <sup>h</sup> to teach in Israel statutes and judgments.

whom David and the princes had appointed for the service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty Nethinim: all of them were expressed by names.

<sup>28</sup> And I said unto them: Ye are <sup>v</sup> holy unto the LORD; and <sup>w</sup> the vessels are holy; and the silver and the gold are a freewill offering unto the LORD, the God of your fathers. <sup>29</sup> Watch ye and keep them until ye weigh them before the chiefs of the priests and the Levites, and the chiefs of the fathers of Israel, at Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of the LORD. <sup>30</sup> And the priests and the Levites took the weight of the silver and the gold and the vessels, to bring them to Jerusalem unto the house of our God.

<sup>31</sup> And we departed from the river of Ahava on the twelfth of the first month, to go unto Jerusalem. And the hand of our God was upon us, and he delivered us from the hand of the enemy, and the lie-in-wait by the way.

<sup>32</sup> And we came to Jerusalem; and we abode there three days. <sup>33</sup> And on the fourth day the silver and the gold and the vessels <sup>a</sup> were weighed, in the house of our God, by the hand of Meremoth the son of Uriah the priest; and with him was Eleazar the son of Phinehas; and with them were Jozabad the son of Jeshua, and Noadiah the son of Binnui, Levites; <sup>34</sup> by number and by weight of every one; and all the weight was written at that time.

<sup>35</sup> And the children of those that had been carried away, who were come out of the captivity, <sup>b</sup> offered burnt-offerings unto the God of Israel; twelve bullocks for all Israel, ninety and six rams, seventy and seven lambs, twelve he-goats for a sin-offering; all a burnt-offering unto the LORD.

<sup>36</sup> And they delivered the king's <sup>c</sup> mandates to the king's lieutenants, and to the governors beyond the river. And they furthered the people, and the house of God.

Intermarriages of the Jews with the heathen; (3) Ezra's distress and prayer; (ch. 10. 1.) the people's repentance and reformation.

<sup>9</sup>, AND when these things were done, the princes came to me, saying: The people of Israel, and the priests and the Levites, have not <sup>a</sup> separated themselves from the peoples of the lands, <sup>b</sup> according to their abominations, even of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites; <sup>2</sup> for <sup>c</sup> they have taken of their daughters for themselves, and for their sons; so that <sup>d</sup> the holy seed have <sup>e</sup> mingled themselves with the peoples of the lands; yea, the hand of the princes and rulers hath been chief in this trespass.

<sup>3</sup> And when I heard this thing, I rent my garment and my mantle, and <sup>f</sup> plucked off the hair of my head and my beard, and sat down <sup>g</sup> astonished. <sup>4</sup> Then were assembled unto me every one that <sup>h</sup> trembled at the words of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of those that had been carried away; and I sat astonished until <sup>i</sup> the evening sacrifice.

<sup>5</sup> And at the evening sacrifice I arose up from my humiliation; and having rent my garment and my mantle, I fell upon my knees, and <sup>k</sup> spread out my hands unto the LORD my God, <sup>l</sup> and said:

O my God, I am <sup>m</sup> ashamed and blush to lift up my face to thee, my God! "reviving in our bondage. <sup>9</sup> For we are bondmen, <sup>z</sup> yet our God hath not forsaken us in our bondage, but <sup>y</sup> hath extended mercy to us in the sight of the kings of Persia; to give us a reviving, <sup>z</sup> to set up the house of our God, and to repair its desolations, and to give us a wall in Judah and in Jerusalem.

<sup>10</sup> And now, O our God, what shall we say after this? For we have forsaken thy commandments, <sup>11</sup> which thou hast commanded by thy servants the prophets, saying, <sup>a</sup> The land unto which ye go to possess it is an unclean land, with the filthiness of the peoples of the lands, with their abominations, who have filled it from one end to another with their uncleanness; <sup>12</sup> now therefore <sup>b</sup> give not your daughters unto their sons, neither take their daughters unto your sons, nor <sup>c</sup> seek their peace or their wealth for ever; that ye may be strong, and <sup>d</sup> eat the good of the land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children for ever. <sup>13</sup> And after all that is come upon us for our evil deeds, and for our great guilt, seeing that thou our God <sup>e</sup> hast punished us less than our iniquities deserve, and hast given us deliverance like this, <sup>14</sup> should we <sup>f</sup> again break thy commandments, and <sup>g</sup> join in affinity with the people of these abominations, wouldest not thou be angry with us till thou hadst consumed us, so that there should be no remnant nor escaping?

<sup>10.</sup> Now when Ezra had prayed, and when he had confessed, weeping and casting himself down <sup>k</sup> before the house of God, there assembled unto him out of Israel a very great congregation of men and women and children; for the people wept very sore.

<sup>2</sup> And Shechaniah the son of Jehiel, one of the sons of Elam, answered and said unto Ezra: <sup>1</sup> We have trespassed against our God, and have taken strange wives of the peoples of the land; yet now there is hope in Israel concerning this thing. <sup>3</sup> Now therefore let us make a <sup>m</sup> covenant with our God to put away all the wives, and such as are born of them, according to the counsel of my lord and of those that <sup>n</sup> tremble at <sup>o</sup> the commandment of our God; and let it be done according to the law. <sup>4</sup> Arise, for the matter resteth with thee; <sup>p</sup> we also are with thee; be of good courage, and do it.

<sup>5</sup> Then Ezra arose, and made the chief priests, the Levites, and all Israel, <sup>q</sup> to swear that they would do according to this word; and they swore. <sup>6</sup> And Ezra rose up from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Johanan the son of Eliashib. And when he came thither, he <sup>r</sup> did eat no bread, nor drink water; for he mourned because of the transgression of them that had been carried away.

<sup>7</sup> And they made proclamation throughout Judah and Jerusalem, unto all the children of the captivity, that they should gather themselves together unto Jerusalem; <sup>8</sup> and <sup>s</sup> that whosoever would not come within three days, according to the counsel of the princes and the elders, all his substance should be forfeited, and himself separated from the congregation of those that had been carried away.

<sup>9</sup> Then all the men of Judah and Benjamin gathered themselves together unto Jerusalem within the three days. It was the ninth month, on the twentieth of the month; and <sup>t</sup> all the people sat in the street * of the house of God, trembling, because of the matter, and for the great rains.

<sup>12</sup> And all the congregation answered and said with a loud voice: As thou hast said, so must we do; <sup>13</sup> but <sup>x</sup> the people are many, and it is a time of much rain, and we are not able to stand without; neither is this a work for one day or for two; for we are many that have transgressed in this thing. <sup>14</sup> Let now our princes stand for all the congregation, and let all those in our cities who have taken foreign wives come at appointed times, and with them the elders of every city, and the judges thereof; until <sup>y</sup> the fierce wrath of our God for this matter be turned from us.

<sup>16</sup> And the children of the captivity did so. And Ezra the priest, with certain chiefs of the fathers, after their fathers' houses, and all of them by names, were separated, and sat down on the first day of the tenth month to examine the matter. <sup>17</sup> And they made an end with all the men that had

BOOK OF NEHEMIAH.

Nehemiah's information concerning the distressed condition of Jerusalem; (4) his grief and prayer.

1. THE words of Nehemiah the son of Hachaliah.

And it came to pass in the month Chisleu, in the twentieth year*, as I was in Shushan the palace†, that <sup>a</sup> Hanani, one of my brethren, came, he and certain men of Judah. And I asked them concerning the Jews that had escaped, who were left of the captivity, and concerning Jerusalem.

<sup>4</sup> And it came to pass, when I heard these words, that I <sup>c</sup> sat down and wept and mourned for days, and fasted; and I prayed before the God of heaven <sup>d</sup> and said:

I beseech thee, <sup>d</sup> O LORD, the God of heaven, the great and terrible God, <sup>e</sup> who keepeth covenant and mercy for them that love him and observe his commandments, <sup>f</sup> let thine ear now be attentive, and <sup>g</sup> thine eyes open, that thou mayest hear the prayer of thy servant which I pray before thee now, <sup>h</sup> day and night, for the children of Israel thy servants; and <sup>i</sup> confess the sins of the children of Israel, which we have sinned against thee; both I and my father's house have sinned. <sup>j</sup> We <sup>k</sup> have dealt very corruptly against thee, and have not kept the commandments nor the statutes nor the judgments, which thou commandedst thy servant Moses.

<sup>8</sup> Remember, <sup>k</sup> I beseech thee, the word that thou commandedst thy servant Moses, saying, <sup>l</sup> If ye transgress, I will scatter you abroad among the nations; <sup>m</sup> but <sup>n</sup> if ye turn unto me, and keep my commandments and do them; though some of you were

<sup>7</sup> I also said unto the king: If it please the king, let letters be given me to the governors beyond the river*, that they may send me forward till I come into Judah; <sup>8</sup> and a letter unto Asaph the keeper of the king's forest†, that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the palace‡ which appertaineth <sup>k</sup> to the house, and for the wall of the city, and for the house that I shall enter into. And the king granted me, <sup>8</sup> according to the good hand of my God upon me.

<sup>9</sup> And I came to the governors beyond the river, and gave them the king's letters.

And the king had sent the captains of a force and horsemen with me.

<sup>10</sup> And Sanballat <sup>m</sup> the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant, the Ammonite, heard of it; and it grieved them exceedingly that there was come a man to seek the welfare of the children of Israel.

<sup>11</sup> And I came to Jerusalem, and was there three days. <sup>12</sup> And I arose by night, I and some few men with me; but I told not a man what my God had put in my heart to do for Jerusalem. And there was no beast with me save the beast that I rode upon. <sup>13</sup> And I went out by night by <sup>n</sup> the Valley Gate, even before the Dragon Well, and to the Dung Port; and I viewed the walls of Jerusalem, which were <sup>o</sup> broken down, and its gates which were consumed with fire. <sup>14</sup> And I went on to <sup>p</sup> the Fountain Gate, and to <sup>q</sup> the King's Pool; but there was no place for the beast under me to pass. <sup>15</sup> And I went by night by the <sup>r</sup> brook, and viewed the wall; and I turned back, and entered by the Valley Gate, and returned.

<sup>16</sup> And the rulers knew not whither I went, or what I did; nor had I as yet told it to the Jews, neither to the priests, nor to the nobles, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that did the work. <sup>17</sup> Then said I unto them: Ye see the distress that we are in; how Jerusalem lieth waste, and its gates are burned with fire. Come, and let us build up the wall of Jerusalem, that we be no more <sup>a</sup> a reproach. <sup>18</sup> Then I told them of the hand of my God which was good upon me; as also the king's words that he had said unto me. And they said: Let us rise up and build. And <sup>t</sup> they strengthened their hands for the good work.

The individuals and families who performed the work; and the gates and portions of wall built by them respectively.

mocked the Jews; <sup>2</sup> and he spake before his brethren and the army of Samaria, and said: What do these feeble Jews? Will they allow it to them? Will they sacrifice? Will they finish to-day? Will they revive the stones out of the heaps of rubbish which are burned? <sup>3</sup> And Tobiah the Ammonite was by him, and he said: Even that which they build, if a fox go up then he shall break down their stone wall.

<sup>6</sup> But we built the wall; and all the wall was joined together unto the half thereof; for the people had a mind to work.

<sup>7</sup> And it came to pass, when Sanballat and Tobiah, and the Arabians and the Ammonites and the Ashdodites, heard that the walls of Jerusalem were being repaired, and that the breaches began to be stopped, then they were very wroth; <sup>8</sup> and they <sup>e</sup> conspired all of them together to come to fight against Jerusalem, and to hinder it.

<sup>9</sup> But <sup>f</sup> we made our prayer unto our God; and we set a watch against them day and night, because of them. <sup>10</sup> And Judah said: <sup>g</sup> The strength of the bearers of burdens faileth, and there is much rubbish, so that we are not able to build at the wall.

<sup>11</sup> And our adversaries said: They shall not know nor see, till we come into the midst among them, and slay them, and cause the work to cease.

<sup>12</sup> And it came to pass, when the Jews who dwelt near them came, and said unto us <sup>h</sup> ten times, From all the places where ye return they will be upon us; <sup>13</sup> I set in the lower places behind the wall, in the highest places, I even set the people according to their families, with their swords, their spears and their bows. <sup>14</sup> And I looked and rose up, and said to the nobles and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people: <sup>i</sup> Be not ye afraid of them; <sup>k</sup> remember the Lord, the <sup>l</sup> great and terrible, and <sup>m</sup> fight for your brethren, your sons and your daughters, your wives and your houses.

<sup>15</sup> And it came to pass, when our enemies heard that it was known unto us <sup>n</sup> and that God had brought their counsel to nought, that we returned all of us to the wall, every one unto his work. <sup>16</sup> And it came to pass from that day, that the half of my servants wrought in the work, and the other half of them held the spears and the shields, and the bows, and the corslets; and the captains were behind all the house of Judah. <sup>17</sup> And they who built at the wall, both they who bare the burdens and those who loaded, every one with one of his hands wrought in the work, and with the other held a weapon, <sup>18</sup> and the builders had every one his sword girded by his side, and built. And <sup>o</sup> he that sounded the trumpet was by me.

<sup>19</sup> And I said to the nobles and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people: The work is great and extended, and we are separated upon the wall, one far from another. <sup>20</sup> In what place ye hear the sound of the trumpet, thither assemble yourselves unto us. <sup>p</sup> Our God will fight for us.

<sup>21</sup> And we laboured in the work; and half of them held the spears from the rising of the morning till the stars appeared.

<sup>22</sup> Also at that time I said unto the people: Let every one with his servant lodge within Jerusalem, that in the night they may be a guard to us, and be for labour in the day.

<sup>23</sup> And neither I, nor my brethren, nor my servants, nor the men of the guard who followed me, none of us put off our clothes: *saving** that every one put them off for washing.

Nehemiah's proceedings for redressing the wrongs of the poor.

<sup>5</sup> AND there was a great <sup>a</sup> cry of the people and of their wives against their <sup>b</sup> brethren the Jews. <sup>2</sup> And there were some that said: We, our sons and our daughters, are many; therefore let us get corn, that we may eat and live. <sup>3</sup> Also there were some that said: <sup>c</sup> We have mortgaged our lands, vineyards, and houses, that we might get corn, because of the dearth. <sup>4</sup> There were also some that said: We have borrowed money for <sup>d</sup> the king's tribute on our lands and vineyards; <sup>5</sup> yet now <sup>e</sup> our flesh is as the flesh of our brethren, our children as their children; and lo, we <sup>f</sup> subject our sons and our daughters to be servants, and some of our daughters are in subjection; neither is it in the power of our hand to redeem them; for other men have our lands and vineyards.

<sup>12</sup> Then said they: We will restore, and will require nothing of them; so will we do as thou sayest. Then I called the priests, <sup>n</sup> and I took an oath of them, that they should do according to this promise. <sup>13</sup> Also <sup>o</sup> I shook my bosom and said: So God shake out every man from his house and from his labour who performeth not this promise; even thus be he shaken out and emptied. And all the congregation said Amen, and praised the LORD. And <sup>p</sup> the people did according to this promise.

<sup>17</sup> And there were at my table of the Jews, both a hundred and fifty rulers, and those that came unto us from among the nations that were about us. <sup>18</sup> And <sup>u</sup> what was prepared daily was one ox, and six choice sheep; also fowls were prepared for me, and once in ten days store of all wine. But for all this I required not the bread of the governor, because the <sup>v</sup> service was heavy upon this people.

<sup>19</sup> Remember for me, my God, for good, all that I have done for this people.

(15) Completion of the city wall.

6. AND it came to pass, <sup>a</sup> when Sanballat and Tobiah and <sup>b</sup> Geshem the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies, heard that I had built the wall, and there was no breach left therein, (<sup>c</sup> though at that time I had not set in the doors, in the gates), <sup>2</sup> that Sanballat and Geshem <sup>d</sup> sent unto me, saying: Come, let us meet together in <sup>e</sup> the villages, in the plain of <sup>f</sup> Ono. But <sup>g</sup> they thought to do me mischief.

<sup>3</sup> And <sup>h</sup> I sent messengers unto them saying: I am doing a great work, and I cannot come down. Why should the work cease whilst I leave it and come down to you?

<sup>4</sup> But they sent unto me four times after this sort; and I answered them after the same manner.

<sup>5</sup> And Sanballat sent his servant unto me in that manner, the fifth time, with an open letter in his hand, <sup>6</sup> wherein was written: It is reported among the nations, and <sup>i</sup> Gashmu saith, <sup>k</sup> that thou and the Jews think to rebel; for which cause thou buildest the wall, that thou mayest be their king, according to these words; <sup>7</sup> and thou hast also appointed prophets to proclaim concerning thee at Jerusalem, saying, There is a king in Judah! And now it will be reported to the king according to these words. But now come, and let us take counsel together.

<sup>8</sup> And I sent unto him, saying: There are no such things done as thou sayest, but thou feignest them out of thine own heart. <sup>9</sup> For they all were making us afraid, saying, Their hands shall be slackened from the work, that it be not done.

But <sup>l</sup> now, my God, strengthen thou my hands.

<sup>10</sup> And I came unto the house of She-maiah the son of Delaiah the son of Mehetabeel, who was shut up; and he said: Let us meet together in the house of God, within the temple, and let us shut the doors of the temple; for they are coming to slay thee; even to night they are coming to slay thee.

<sup>11</sup> And I said: <sup>m</sup> Shall such a man as I flee? And who like me is there that would go into the temple to save his life? I will not go in. <sup>12</sup> And I perceived, and lo, <sup>n</sup> God had not sent him; but he spake the prophecy against me, and Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him. <sup>13</sup> To this end was he hired, that I should be afraid, and do so, and sin, and <sup>o</sup> it might be to them for an evil report, that they might reproach me.

<sup>14</sup> Remember <sup>p</sup> thou, my God, Tobiah and Sanballat according to these their works, and also the prophetess Noadiah, and the rest of the prophets, who would have put me to fear.

LORD their God the fourth part of the day ; and a fourth part they confessed, and worshipped the LORD their God.

4 Then stood up on the stairs* of the Levites, Jeshua and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani and Chebani ; and they cried with a loud voice unto the LORD their God. 5 And the Levites, Jeshua and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabniah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, said :

Stand up, ° bless ye the LORD your God for ever and ever ! And blessed be ° thy glorious name, which is exalted above all blessing and praise. 6 Thou, ° even thou, art LORD alone. ° Thou hast made heaven, ° the heaven of heavens, with ° all their host, the earth and all that is upon it, the seas and all that is in them ; and thou ° preservest them all. And ° the host of heaven worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art the LORD, the God who didst choose ° Abram, and broughtest him forth out of Ur of the Chaldees, and gavest him the name of ° Abraham ; 8 and thou foundedst his heart faithful before thee ; and thou madest a ° covenant with him to give the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Jebusites, and the Girgashites,—to give it to his seed ; and thou ° hast performed thy words ; for thou art righteous.

9 And ° thou didst see the affliction of our fathers in Egypt ; and thou hearest their cry by the Red Sea ; 10 and ° thou showedst signs and wonders upon Pharaoh, and on all his servants, and on all the people of his land ; for thou knewest that ° they dealt proudly against them. And thou didst ° get thee a name, as at this day. 11 And ° thou didst divide the sea before them, so that they went through the midst of the sea on the dry land ; and ° their pursuers thou threwest into the deeps, as a stone into mighty waters. 12 And thou ° leddest them in the day by the cloudy pillar, and in the night by the pillar of fire, to give them light in the way wherein they should go.

13 And thou ° camest down upon mount Sinai, and spakest with them from heaven ; and thou gavest them ° right judgments and true laws, good statutes and commandments ; 14 and thou madest known to them thy ° holy sabbath, and ° commandedst them precepts, statutes, and a law, by the hand of Moses thy servant. 15 And thou ° gavest them bread from heaven for their hunger, and ° broughtest forth water for them out of the rock for their thirst.

house of God. <sup>23</sup> For there was the king's* command concerning them, and there was an allowance for† the singers, concerning the matter of every day.

shib, Joiada and Johanan and Jaddua, the chiefs of the fathers were recorded; also the priests, in the reign of Darius the Persian. <sup>23</sup> The sons of Levi, the chiefs of the fathers, were written in the book of the <sup>o</sup> chronicles, even until the days of Johanan the son* of Eliashib. <sup>24</sup> And the chiefs of the Levites: Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeshua the son of Kadmiel, and their brethren like them, to praise and to give thanks,
<sup>p</sup> according to the commandment of David,
<sup>25</sup> Mattaniah and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Me-shullam, Talmon, Akkub, were doorkeepers keeping guard at the stores of the gates.

<sup>26</sup> These were in the days of Joiakim the son of Jeshua, the son of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor, and of Ezra the priest, <sup>s</sup> the scribe.

Dedication of the city walls.

<sup>27</sup> AND at <sup>a</sup> the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem they sought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them to Jerusalem to make the dedication with gladness;
both <sup>b</sup> with thanksgivings and with singing, with cymbals, psalteries, and with harps.

<sup>28</sup> And the sons of the singers gathered themselves together, both out of <sup>c</sup> the circuit round about Jerusalem, and from the villages of <sup>d</sup> the Netophathites; <sup>29</sup> also from the house of Gilgal, and from the fields of Geba and Azmaveth; for the singers had built for themselves villages round about Jerusalem. <sup>30</sup> And the priests and the Levites purified themselves; and they purified the people, and the gates and the wall.

<sup>31</sup> And I brought up the princes of Judah upon the wall, and appointed two great companies <sup>t</sup> and processions; whereof one went on the right hand, upon the wall, toward <sup>e</sup> the Dung Gate; <sup>32</sup> and after them went Hoshaiiah, and half of the princes of Judah, <sup>33</sup> and Azariah, Ezra, and Meshullam, <sup>34</sup> Judah, and Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Jeremiah, <sup>35</sup> and some of the priests' sons <sup>f</sup> with trumpets: Zechariah

the son of Jonathan, the son of Shemaiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Michaiah, the son of Zaccur, the son of Asaph; <sup>36</sup> and his brethren, Shemaiah and Azarcel, Milalai,

Gilalai, Maai, Nethaneel and Judah, Hanani, with <sup>g</sup> the musical instruments of David the man of God; and Ezra the scribe before them. <sup>37</sup> And <sup>h</sup> at the Fountain Gate, and over against them*, they went up by <sup>i</sup> the stairs of the City of David, at the ascent of the wall, above the house of David, even unto <sup>k</sup> the Water Gate eastward.

<sup>38</sup> And the second company† went in the opposite way, and I after them, and the half of the people, upon the wall, from beyond <sup>l</sup> the Tower of the furnaces even unto <sup>m</sup> the broad wall; <sup>39</sup> and <sup>n</sup> from above
Meah, even unto the Sheep Gate; and they stood in <sup>s</sup> the Prison Gate.

<sup>40</sup> And the two companies† stood in the house|| of God; and I, and the half of the rulers with me: <sup>41</sup> and the priests, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai,
Zechariah, and Hananiah, with trumpets;
<sup>42</sup> and Maaseiah and Shemaiah and Eleazar and Uzzi and Jehohanan and Malchijah and Elam and Ezer. And the singers <sup>t</sup> sang loud, and Jezrahiah the overseer <sup>s</sup>.

<sup>43</sup> And that day they offered great sacrifices, and rejoiced; for God had made them rejoice with great joy: also the wives and the children rejoiced; and the joy of Jerusalem was heard even afar off.

Provisions for the maintenance of Divine worship.

<sup>44</sup> AND at that time men were appointed over <sup>a</sup> the chambers for the treasures, for the offerings, for the firstfruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them out of the fields of the cities <sup>b</sup> the portions by the law for the priests and Levites. For Judah rejoiced for the priests and for the Levites that waited. <sup>45</sup> And both the singers and the doorkeepers kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purification, <sup>c</sup> according to the commandment of David and of Solomon his son. <sup>46</sup> For in the days of David and Asaph of old, there were the chiefs of the singers, and the songs of praise and thanksgiving unto God. <sup>47</sup> And all Israel, in the days of Zerubbabel and in the days of Nehemiah, gave the portions of the singers and the doorkeepers, every day its portion; and <sup>d</sup> they consecrated for the Levites; and the Levites consecrated for the sons of Aaron.

*Reformation of evils; viz. (1) unlawful association with the heathen; (3) desecration of the temple chambers; (10) withholding of tithes and offerings; (15) profanation of the Sabof Moses in the audience of the people; and therein was found written, that <sup>b</sup> the Ammonite and the Moabite should not come into the congregation of God for ever; <sup>2</sup> because they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water, but <sup>c</sup> hired Balaam against them, that he should curse them; (<sup>d</sup> but our God turned the curse into a blessing;) <sup>3</sup> and it came to pass, when they had heard the law, that <sup>e</sup> they separated from Israel all the mixed multitude.

<sup>4</sup> And before this, <sup>f</sup> Eliashib the priest, who was appointed over the chamber of the house of our God, was <sup>g</sup> allied unto Tobiah; <sup>5</sup> and he had prepared for him a great chamber, where aforetime they laid the meal-offerings, the frankincense, and the vessels, and the tithe of the corn, the new wine and the oil, <sup>h</sup> which was commanded for the Levites and the singers and the doorkeepers; and the offering for the priests.

<sup>6</sup> But in all this time I was not at Jerusalem; for <sup>i</sup> in the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes, the king of Babylon, came I unto the king. And after certain days I asked leave of the king; <sup>7</sup> and I came to Jerusalem. And I noticed the evil that Eliashib did for Tobiah, in preparing for him a chamber in the courts of the house of God. <sup>8</sup> And it grieved me sorely; therefore I cast forth all the household stuff of Tobiah out of the chamber. <sup>9</sup> And I commanded that <sup>k</sup> they should cleanse the chambers; and thither brought I again the vessels of the house of God, with the meal-offering and the frankincense.

<sup>14</sup> Remember <sup>s</sup> me, my God, for this, and wipe not out my pious deeds that I have done for the house of my God and for the rites thereof.

<sup>15</sup> In those days I saw in Judah men treading wine-presses <sup>t</sup> on the sabbath, and bringing in sheaves, and lading on the asses even both wine, grapes and figs, and all burdens, <sup>u</sup> which they brought into Jerusalem on the sabbath day. And I protested in the day wherein they sold provision. <sup>16</sup> And men of Tyre dwelt therein, bringing fish and all kinds of wares, and selling on the sabbath to the sons of Judah, and in Jerusalem. <sup>17</sup> And I contended with the nobles of Judah, and said unto them: What is this evil thing that ye do, even profaning the sabbath day? <sup>18</sup> Did not <sup>x</sup> your fathers thus, and did not our God bring all this evil upon us and upon this city? And ye are bringing more wrath upon Israel by profaning the sabbath.

<sup>19</sup> And it came to pass, that when the gates of Jerusalem <sup>y</sup> began to be dark before the sabbath, I commanded that the gates should be shut, and I commanded that they should not be opened till after the sabbath. And some of my servants I set at the gates, saying, There shall no burden be brought in on the sabbath day. <sup>20</sup> And the merchants and sellers of all kinds of wares lodged without Jerusalem once or twice. <sup>21</sup> And I testified against them and said unto them: Why lodge ye before the wall? If ye do it again, I will lay hands on you. From that time forth they came not on the sabbath.

<sup>22</sup> And I commanded the Levites that <sup>z</sup> they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and keep the gates, to <sup>a</sup> sanctify the sabbath day. Also this do thou remember for me, O my God, and <sup>b</sup> spare me according to the greatness of thy mercy.

<sup>23</sup> Also in those days I saw the Jews who <sup>c</sup> had married wives of Ashdod, of Ammon and of Moab; <sup>24</sup> and their children <sup>d</sup> spake half in the speech of Ashdod, and could not speak Jewish; but according to the language of each people. <sup>25</sup> And I contended with them, and <sup>e</sup> cursed them, and smote certain of them, and plucked off their hair, and I made them swear <sup>f</sup> by God saying, Ye shall not give your daughters unto their sons, nor take their daughters unto your sons or for yourselves. <sup>26</sup> Did <sup>g</sup> not Solomon, the king of Israel, sin by these things? And <sup>h</sup> among the many nations was there no king like him, <sup>i</sup> who was beloved by his God, and God made him king over all Israel; nevertheless even him did foreign wives cause to sin. <sup>27</sup> Shall we then hearken to you, to do all this great evil, to <sup>j</sup> transgress against our God by marrying foreign wives?

THE BOOK OF ESTHER.

Ahasuerus's great feast; (10) deposition of the queen.

1. NOW it came to pass in the days of

<sup>5</sup> And when these days were fulfilled, the king made a feast unto all the people that were present in Shushan the palace†, both unto great and small, seven days, in the court of the garden of the king's palace; <sup>6</sup> with white, green, and blue hangings‡, fastened with cords of fine linen and purple to silver rings and pillars of white marble. <sup>7</sup> The couches were gold and silver, upon the pavement of red and blue and white and black marble. <sup>7</sup> And they gave drink in vessels of gold, the vessels being diverse one from another, and the royal wine in abundance, according to the bounty of the king. <sup>8</sup> And the drinking was according to the law; none did compel; for so the king had appointed to all the officers of his house, that they should do according to every man's pleasure. <sup>9</sup> Also Vashti the queen made a feast for the women in the royal house which the king Ahasuerus had.

of Ahasuerus the king, <sup>11</sup> to bring Vashti the queen before the king, with the crown royal, to show the people and the princes her beauty; for she was fair to look on. <sup>12</sup> But the queen Vashti refused to come at the king's commandment by the hand of the eunuchs. And the king was very wroth, and his anger burned in him.

<sup>16</sup> And Memucan answered before the king and the princes: Vashti the queen hath not done wrong to the king only, but also to all the princes, and to all the peoples that are in all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus. <sup>17</sup> For the queen's act will come abroad unto all the women, so that they will despise their husbands in their eyes, when they say: The king Ahasuerus commanded Vashti the queen to be brought in before him, but she came not. <sup>18</sup> The princesses also of Persia and Media will say if this day unto all the king's princes, who have heard of the deed of the queen. And there will be contempt and anger enough! <sup>19</sup> If it please the king, let a royal commandment go forth from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Persians and the Medes, <sup>n</sup> that it be not altered, That Vashti come no more before the king Ahasuerus; and let the king give her royal estate unto another that is better

2. AFTER these things, when the wrath of king Ahasuerus was appeased, he remembered Vashti, and what she had done, and <sup>a</sup> what had been decreed against her. <sup>2</sup> Then said the king's servants that ministered unto him: Let fair young virgins be sought for the king; <sup>3</sup> and let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom, that they may gather together every fair young virgin unto Shushan the palace*, to the house of the women, unto the hand of <sup>b</sup> Hegai the king's eunuch, the keeper of the women; and let the things for their purification† be given; <sup>4</sup> and let the maiden who pleaseth the king be queen instead of Vashti. And the saying pleased the king; and he did so.

<sup>8</sup> So it came to pass, when the king's commandment and his decree was heard, and when many maidens were gathered together unto Shushan the palace‡, to the hand of Hegai, that Esther also was brought unto the king's house, to the hand of Hegai, the keeper of the women. <sup>9</sup> And the maiden pleased him, and <sup>o</sup> she obtained favour in his sight; and he hastened the things for her purification, with such things as belonged to her, and the seven maidens that were selected to be given her, out of the king's house. And he removed her and her maidens to the best part of the house of the women.

<sup>10</sup> Esther had not declared her people or her kindred; for Mordecai had charged her that she should not declare it. <sup>11</sup> And Mordecai walked every day before the court of the women's house, to know Esther's welfare, and what should become of her.

<sup>12</sup> And when each maiden's turn drew nigh to go in to the king Ahasuerus, after she had been twelve months, according to the manner of the women; (for thus were the days of their purifications accomplished: six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with sweet odours, and with things for the purifying of the women); <sup>13</sup> then thus came the maiden unto the king; whatsoever she desired was given her to go with her out of the house of the women unto the king's house. <sup>14</sup> In the evening she went, and on the morrow she returned into the second house of the women, to the hand of Shaashgaz, the king's eunuch, keeper of the concubines. She came in unto the king no more, unless the king delighted in her, and she were called by name.

<sup>15</sup> Now when the turn of Esther, the daughter of Abihail, the uncle of Mordecai, who had taken her for his daughter, was come to go in unto the king, she required nothing but what Hegai the king's eunuch, the keeper of the women, appointed. And Esther obtained favour in the sight of all that looked upon her. <sup>16</sup> And Esther was taken unto the king Ahasuerus, into his house royal, in the tenth month, (which is the month Tebeth), in the seventh year of his reign. <sup>17</sup> And the king loved Esther above all the women, and she obtained grace and favour in his sight more than all the virgins; so that <sup>h</sup> he set the crown royal upon her head, and made her queen instead of Vashti.

<sup>18</sup> Then the king <sup>i</sup> made a great feast unto all his princes and his servants, Esther's feast. And he made a release* to the provinces, and gave gifts, according to the state† of the king.

Mordecai's discovery of a conspiracy against the king; (23) which is recorded in the chronicles of the kingdom.

of all that had happened to him, and the account of the money that Haman had promised to pay to the king's treasures, for the Jews, to destroy them. <sup>8</sup> Also he gave him the copy of the writing of the decree that was given at Shushan to destroy them, to show to Esther, and to inform her, and to charge her that she should go in unto the king, to make supplication unto him, and to make request before him for her people. <sup>9</sup> And Hatach came and told Esther the words of Mordecai.

<sup>15</sup> And Esther bade to answer Mordecai: <sup>16</sup> Go, gather together all the Jews that are present in Shushan; and fast ye for me, and neither eat nor drink <sup>three</sup> days, night or day: I also and my maidens will fast likewise. And so will I go in unto the king, which is not according to the law; and <sup>m</sup> if I perish, I perish. <sup>17</sup> And Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Esther had commanded him.

Esther answered: If <sup>it seem</sup> good unto the king, let the king and Haman come this day unto the banquet that I have prepared for him. <sup>6</sup> Then the king said: Cause ye Haman to make haste that he may do as Esther hath said.

And the king and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared. <sup>6</sup> And the king said unto Esther at the banquet of wine: What is thy petition? And it shall be granted thee. And what is thy request? Even to the half of the kingdom it shall be done. <sup>7</sup> And Esther answered and said: My petition and my request is; <sup>8</sup> If I have found favour in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to grant my petition, and to do my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them; and I will do to-morrow according to <sup>t</sup> the king's word.

<sup>9</sup> AND Haman went forth that day joyful and with a glad heart. But when Haman observed Mordecai in the king's gate, <sup>a</sup> that he stood not up nor moved for him, he was full of indignation against Mordecai; <sup>10</sup> but Haman restrained himself. And when he came home, he sent and called for his friends, and Zeresh his wife. <sup>11</sup> And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, and <sup>b</sup> the multitude of his sons, and all wherein the king had magnified him, and how he had advanced him above the princes and servants of the king. <sup>12</sup> Haman said moreover: Yea, Esther the queen letteth no man come in with the king unto the banquet that she prepareth but myself; and even for to-morrow am I invited unto her with the king. <sup>13</sup> Yet <sup>c</sup> all this availeth me nothing so long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the king's gate.

<sup>14</sup> Then <sup>d</sup> said Zeresh his wife and all his friends unto him: Let a gallows* be made of fifty cubits high, and to-morrow speak thou unto the king that Mordecai may be hanged thereon. And go thou in merrily with the king unto the banquet. And the thing pleased Haman; and he caused the gallows to be made.

And the king said: Let him come in; <sup>6</sup> and Haman came in. And the king said unto him: What shall be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour? Now Haman thought in his heart: <sup>q</sup> To whom will the king delight to do honour more than to myself? <sup>7</sup> And Haman answered the king: For the man whom the king delighteth to honour, <sup>8</sup> let the royal apparel which the king weareth be brought, and <sup>r</sup> a horse that the king rideth upon, and that the crown royal be put upon his head; <sup>9</sup> and let this apparel and horse be delivered to the hand of one of the king's most noble princes, and let them array the man whom the king delighteth to honour, and cause him to ride on the horse through the street* of the city; and let them <sup>s</sup> proclaim before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

<sup>10</sup> And the king said to Haman: Make haste, take the apparel and the horse, as thou hast said, and do even so to Mordecai the Jew, who sitteth at the king's gate. Let nothing fail of all that thou hast spoken. <sup>11</sup> And Haman took the apparel and the horse, and arrayed Mordecai, and caused him to ride on the horse through the street of the city; and he proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

And Haman was terrified before the king and the queen. <sup>7</sup> And the king arose in his wrath to go from the banquet of wine into the palace garden. So Esther arose, and stood before the king, <sup>5</sup>and said: If it please the king, and if I have found favour in his sight, and the thing is right before the king, and I am good in his eyes, let it be written to reverse the letters devised by Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, which he wrote, to destroy the Jews who are in all the king's provinces. <sup>6</sup>For how can I endure to see <sup>c</sup>the evil that shall come unto my people, or how can I endure to see the destruction of my kindred?

<sup>7</sup>And the king Ahasuerus said unto Esther the queen, and to Mordecai the Jew: Behold, <sup>d</sup>I have given to Esther the house of Haman; and <sup>e</sup>him they have hanged upon the gallows, because he stretched his hand upon the Jews. <sup>8</sup>But do ye write for the Jews as it seemeth good to you, in the king's name, and seal <sup>f</sup>it with the king's signet. <sup>9</sup>And <sup>h</sup>the king's scribes were called, at that time, in the third month, (that is the month Sivan,) on the three and twentieth day thereof. And it was written according to all that Mordecai commanded, to the Jews, and to the lieutenants and the deputies and rulers of the provinces which are <sup>i</sup>from India unto Ethiopia, a hundred twenty and seven provinces; to every province <sup>k</sup>according to the writing thereof, and to every people according to their language; and to the Jews according to their writing and according to their language.

9. AND <sup>x</sup>in the twelfth month, (that is, the month Adar), on the thirteenth day of it, when <sup>y</sup>the king's commandment and his decree drew near to be put in execution, on the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to have power over them; (though it was turned to the contrary, that <sup>z</sup>the Jews themselves had power over them that hated them); <sup>2</sup>the Jews <sup>a</sup>gathered themselves together, in their cities, throughout all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus, to lay hand on such as <sup>b</sup>sought their hurt. And no man could withstand them; for <sup>c</sup>the fear of them fell upon all the peoples.

<sup>5</sup>And the Jews smote all their enemies with the smiting of the sword and slaughter and destruction, and did what they would unto those that hated them. <sup>6</sup>And in Shushan the palace<sup>h</sup> the Jews slew and destroyed five hundred men. <sup>7</sup>And Parshandatha and Dalphon and Aspatha <sup>8</sup>and Poratha and Adalia and Aridatha <sup>9</sup>and Parmashta and Arisai and Aridai and Vajezatha, <sup>10</sup>the <sup>k</sup>ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the enemy of the Jews, slew they. But <sup>l</sup>on the spoil they laid not their hand.

<sup>11</sup>On that day the number of those that were slain in Shushan the palace<sup>m</sup>, was brought before the king. <sup>12</sup>And the king said unto Esther the queen: The Jews have slain and destroyed five hundred men in Shushan the palace*, and the ten sons

THE BOOK OF JOB.

Job's condition and character.

1. THERE was a man in the land of <sup>a</sup>Uz whose name was <sup>b</sup>Job; and that man was <sup>c</sup>perfect and upright, and one who <sup>d</sup>feared God and eschewed evil.

2 And there were born unto him seven sons and three daughters. <sup>3</sup> And his substance was seven thousand sheep and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen and five hundred she-asses, and very many servants; and this man was <sup>e</sup>the greatest of all the men of the East.

4 And his sons went and held a feast in the house of each on his day; and they sent and invited their three sisters to eat and to drink with them. <sup>5</sup> And it was so, when the feast-days went round, that Job sent and <sup>f</sup>sanctified them; and he rose up early in the morning and offered burnt-offerings according to the number of them all; for Job said: It may be that my sons have sinned and cursed <sup>g</sup>God in their hearts. Thus did Job continually.

Job's first trial, and (20) its issue.

6 NOW there was a day <sup>a</sup>when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD; and Satan† also came among them. <sup>7</sup> And the LORD said unto Satan: Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the LORD and said: From <sup>b</sup>going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

8 And the LORD said unto Satan: <sup>c</sup>Hast thou observed my servant Job? For there is none like him on the earth, a perfect and upright man, one who feareth God and escheweth evil. <sup>9</sup> And Satan answered the LORD and said: Doth <sup>d</sup>Job fear God for nought? <sup>10</sup> Hast not thou made a hedge about him, and about his house, and about all that he hath, on every side? Thou hast blessed the work of his hands, and his cattle have spread abroad in the land. <sup>11</sup> But <sup>e</sup>put forth thy hand now, and touch all that he hath, and he will curse: thee to thy face! <sup>12</sup> And the LORD said unto Satan: <sup>f</sup>Behold, all that he hath is in thy power; only upon himself put not forth thy hand.

And Satan went forth from the presence of the LORD.

<sup>13</sup> And there was a day when his sons and his daughters were eating, and drinking wine, in their eldest brother's house.

<sup>14</sup> And a messenger came unto Job, and said: The oxen were ploughing, and the asses feeding beside them; <sup>15</sup> and <sup>g</sup>the Sabeans attacked and took them; and the servants they have smitten with the edge of the sword; and only I alone escaped to tell thee.

<sup>16</sup> While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said: <sup>h</sup>The fire of God fell from heaven, and burned up the flocks and the servants, and consumed them; and only I alone escaped to tell thee.

<sup>17</sup> While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said: The <sup>i</sup>Chaldeans made out <sup>k</sup>three bands, and fell upon the camels, and took them; and the servants they smote with the edge of the sword; and only I alone escaped to tell thee.

<sup>18</sup> While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said: Thy sons and thy daughters were eating, and drinking wine, in their eldest brother's house; <sup>19</sup> and behold, there came <sup>l</sup>a great wind from beyond the wilderness, and smote the four corners of the house, and it fell upon the youths, and they died; and only I alone escaped to tell thee.

Job's second trial, and (9) its issue.

2. AGAIN <sup>a</sup>there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan also came among them to present himself before the LORD. <sup>2</sup> And the LORD said unto Satan: From whence comest thou? And Satan answered the LORD and said: From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

<sup>3</sup> And the LORD said unto Satan: Hast thou observed my servant Job? For there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and upright man, one that feareth God and escheweth evil? And still <sup>b</sup> he holdeth fast his integrity, though thou movedst me against him, to destroy him without cause. <sup>4</sup> And Satan answered the LORD and said: Skin for skin; and * all that a man hath will he give for his life; <sup>5</sup> but put forth thy hand now and touch his <sup>c</sup> bone and his flesh, and he will curse <sup>d</sup> thee to thy face. <sup>6</sup> And the LORD said unto Satan: Behold, he is in thy hand; only spare his life.

In all this Job sinned not with his lips.

Visit of Job's three friends, and (13) their silent condolence.

<sup>11</sup> AND three of Job's friends heard of all this evil that was come upon him; and they came every one from his own place; Eliphaz the <sup>a</sup> Temanite, and Bildad the <sup>b</sup> Shuhite, and Zophar the <sup>c</sup> Naamathite: and they made an appointment together to come <sup>d</sup> to mourn with him and to comfort him. <sup>12</sup> And when they lifted up their eyes afar off and knew him not, they lifted up their voice and wept; and <sup>e</sup> they rent every one his mantle, and <sup>f</sup> sprinkled dust upon their heads towards heaven.

Let not God seek for it from above!
Neither let light shine out upon it!

Let clouds settle upon it!

Let darkenings of the day terrify it!

<sup>6</sup> That night, let darkness seize upon it!

Let it not rejoice among the days of the year!

Let it not come into the number of the months!

<sup>7</sup> Lo, let that night be barren!

Let no joyful sound enter therein!

<sup>8</sup> Let them curse it that curse the day,

Who are skillful to rouse the dragon*!

<sup>9</sup> Let the stars of its twilight be dark!

Let it wait for light, and have none,

And let it not see the dawning of the day†!

Nor had trouble from mine eyes.

Come forth from the belly and die?

<sup>12</sup> Wherefore did the knees succour me,

And why the breasts, that I should suck?

<sup>13</sup> For now I had lain down and been quiet;

I had slept; then had I been at rest;

<sup>14</sup> With kings and councillors of the earth,

Who <sup>c</sup> built for themselves ruins;

<sup>15</sup> Or with princes who had gold,

Who filled their houses with silver:

<sup>16</sup> Or like a hidden untimely birth I had not been,

Like infants that never saw light.

<sup>17</sup> There the wicked cease from troubling,

And there the weary are <sup>f</sup> at rest;

<sup>18</sup> The prisoners together are at ease,

They hear not the task-master's voice;

<sup>19</sup> The small and the great are there;

And the servant is free from his master.

And life unto <sup>a</sup> those bitter of soul;

And dig for it more than for hidden treasures;

And are glad, when they find the grave;

And <sup>l</sup> whom God hath hedged in?

And <sup>m</sup> my groanings are poured out like water.

<sup>25</sup> For I feared a fear, and it hath come upon me,

And what I dreaded hath come to me.

<sup>26</sup> I was not safe, nor was I at ease, nor was I at rest;

And trouble came.

First speech of Eliphaz—(2) He rebukes Job's complaints; (7) asserts the inseparable connection between sin and suffering; (12) relates a vision which revealed to him the sinfulness of man's contending with God; (ch. 5. 1) shews that the cause of affliction is in man himself; (8) exhorts to submission to God; (16) and extols its blessings.

4. And Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said :

2 If a word be essayed to thee, wilt thou be offended?

But who can withhold himself from speaking?

3 Behold, thou hast instructed many, And <sup>a</sup> thou hast strengthened the weak hands;

4 Thy words have upholden the stumbling, And the sinking knees hast thou strengthened.

5 But now it is come to thee, and <sup>b</sup> thou faintest;

It toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.

6 Is not thy piety thy confidence, Thy hope, even <sup>c</sup> the uprightness of thy ways?

7 Remember, I pray thee, who hath perished being innocent?

And where were the righteous cut off?

8 As I have seen, <sup>d</sup> they that plough iniquity, And sow mischief, reap the same.

9 By <sup>e</sup> the blast of God they perish, And <sup>f</sup> by the breath of his anger are they consumed.

10 The roar of the lion and the voice of the fierce lion,

11 The stout lion perisheth* for lack of prey,

And the lioness's whelps are scattered.

12 Now a word was secretly brought to me, And mine ear caught a whisper thereof.

13 In <sup>h</sup> thoughts from the visions of the night,

When deep sleep falleth on men;

14 Fear came upon me, and <sup>i</sup> trembling, Which made all my bones to shake.

15 And <sup>k</sup> a spirit passed before my face;

The hair of my flesh stood up.

16 It stood still, but I did not discern its form :

An image was before mine eyes ;
There was silence ; and I heard a voice :—

17 Shall <sup>l</sup> a mortal be more just than God ? Shall a man be more pure than his Maker ?

18 Behold, he <sup>m</sup> putteth no trust in his servants,

And <sup>n</sup> his angels he chargeth with folly :

19 Much more them that dwell in <sup>o</sup> houses of clay,

Whose foundation is in the dust,
Who are <sup>p</sup> crushed before* the moth !

20 From morning to evening they <sup>q</sup> are destroyed,

They <sup>r</sup> perish for ever without any one heeding.

21 Is not their excellency in them taken away † ?

They die, even without wisdom.

5. Call now ; is there any that will answer thee?

And to whom among the holy ones <sup>s</sup> wilt thou turn?

2 For <sup>t</sup> vexation killeth the foolish, And envy slayeth the silly one.

3 I myself have seen <sup>u</sup> the foolish † taking root ;

But suddenly I cursed his habitation.

4 His <sup>v</sup> children are far from safety, And they are crushed in the gate,

And <sup>w</sup> there is no deliverer ;

5 Whose harvest the hungry eateth up, And taketh it even out from the thorns ;

And the robber swalloweth up <sup>x</sup> their substance.

6 For affliction cometh not forth from the dust,

Nor <sup>y</sup> doth trouble spring out of the ground ;

7 For man is <sup>z</sup> born unto trouble,

As the sparks fly upward.

8 But as for me, unto God would <sup>b</sup> I seek, And <sup>c</sup> unto God would I commit my cause :

9 Who <sup>d</sup> doeth great things and unsearchable,

Marvellous things, without number ;

10 Who <sup>e</sup> giveth rain on the face of the earth,

And sendeth waters on the face of the fields ;

11 To <sup>f</sup> set up on high those that are low ; And mourners are exalted to prosperity.

12 He frustrateth the devices of the crafty, So that <sup>g</sup> their hands shall not perform the enterprise.

13 He <sup>h</sup> taketh the wise in their craftiness, And the counsel of the cunning is carried headlong ;

14 They <sup>i</sup> meet with darkness in the day time,

And they grope at noon-day, as in the night.

15 And he saveth the poor from the sword out of their mouth,

And from the hand of the mighty.

16 And the poor hath hope,

And iniquity stoppeth her mouth.

17 Behold, <sup>k</sup> happy is the man whom God correcteth ;

7 Will ye speak what is wrong for God,
And for him speak deceit?
8 Will ye be partial for his sake,
Or will ye contend for God?
9 Is it good that he should search you out?
Or can ye deceive him, as one may deceive
a man?

10 He <sup>a</sup> will surely reprove you,
If ye do secretly accept persons.
11 Shall <sup>b</sup> not his majesty make you afraid,
And <sup>c</sup> his dread fall upon you?

12 Your memorable sayings are proverbs of ashes,
Your bulwarks are bulwarks of mire.

13 Hold your peace from me, and let me speak;
And let come on me what will.

14 Why do I take my flesh in my teeth,
And <sup>d</sup> put my life in my hand?

15 Lo, he slayeth me, but in him I hope*;
Yet <sup>e</sup> will I defend my ways before him.

16 Even this shall be <sup>f</sup> my salvation;
That a hypocrite† shall not come before him.

17 Hear attentively my speech,
And my declaration in your ears.

18 Behold now, I have ordered my cause;
I know that I shall be justified.

19 Who <sup>g</sup> is he that will contend with me?
For then I will hold my peace, and will give up the ghost.

20 Only do not thou two things unto me,
Then will I not hide myself from thee:

21 Withdraw <sup>h</sup> thy hand far from me,
And let not thy terror make me afraid.

22 Then call thou, and I will answer,
Or I will speak, and answer thou me.

23 How many are mine iniquities and sins?

Make <sup>i</sup> me to know my transgression and my sin.

24 Wherefore <sup>k</sup> hidest thou thy face,
And <sup>l</sup> holdest me for thine enemy?

25 Wilt thou terrify a driven leaf,
And wilt thou pursue the dry stubble?

26 For thou writest bitter things against me,
And <sup>m</sup> makest me to possess the iniquities of my youth.

27 And thou <sup>n</sup> putttest my feet in the stocks,

And <sup>o</sup> watchest all my paths;
Thou settest a bound about the soles of my feet;

28 Although he, as a rotten thing, consumeth,
As a garment that the moth eateth.

14. Man, born of woman,
Is of few days, and <sup>p</sup> full of trouble.

2 He <sup>q</sup> cometh forth like a flower, and he is cut down,
And he <sup>r</sup> fleeth, like a shadow, and con-tinueth not.

3 Even <sup>s</sup> upon such an one dost thou open thine eyes;
And <sup>t</sup> bringest thou me into judgment with thee?

4 Who <sup>u</sup> can bring the clean out of the unclean?
Not one.

5 If his days are determined,
If the number of his months is with thee,
And thou hast appointed his bounds which he cannot pass;

6 Turn <sup>v</sup> from him, that he may rest,
Till he shall accomplish*, as <sup>w</sup> a hireling, his day.

7 For there is hope for a tree, if it be cut down,
That it will revive again, and that its sprout will not fail;

8 Though its root wax old in the earth,
And its stock die in the ground;

9 Through the scent of water it will bud,
And bring forth boughs like a sapling.

10 But man dieth and wasteth away, Yea, man giveth up the ghost, and <sup>x</sup> where is he?

11 As the waters flow off from a sea†,
And a river diminisheth and drieth up;

12 So man lieth down, and he riseth not;
Till <sup>y</sup> the heavens are no more, they shall not <sup>z</sup> awake,
Nor be aroused from their sleep.

13 Oh that thou wouldest hide me in the grave‡,

That thou wouldest keep me secret <sup>a</sup> until thy wrath turn away,
That thou wouldest appoint me a set time,
and remember me!

14 If a man die, <sup>b</sup> shall he live again?
All the days of my warfare will I wait,
Till my change come.

15 Thou <sup>c</sup> wilt call, and I will answer thee, Thou wilt have a desire to the work of thine hands.

16 For <sup>d</sup> now thou numberest my steps,
Thou watchest over my sin.

17 My <sup>e</sup> transgression is sealed up in a bag,
And thou sewest up <sup>f</sup> mine iniquity.

18 But surely the mountain falling cometh to nought,

And the rock is removed out of its place;
19 The waters wear away the stones,
Its floods wash away the dust of the earth;
So thou destroyest the hope of man;

20 Thou crushest him for ever, and he passeth away,

Job's answer—(2) He complains of the aggravation of his sufferings by his friends; and (10) describes by the strongest figures the terrible sufferings with which God has visited him; but (ch. 17. 3) still desires to appeal to Him; though (13) he looks for no rest but in the grave.

16. AND Job answered and said:

2 I have heard many such things;
Miserable <sup>a</sup> comforters are ye all.

3 Shall the vain words have an end?

Or what emboldeneth thee that thou answerest?

4 I also could speak like you,
If your soul were in my soul's stead;
I could heap up words against you,
And <sup>b</sup> shake my head at you.

5 But I would strengthen you with my mouth,
And the sympathy of my lips should relieve.

6 If I speak, my grief is not relieved,
And if I forbear, what am I eased*?

7 But now he hath made me weary;

Thou hast made desolate all my company.

8 And thou hast filled me with wrinkles†;
It is become a witness,
And my leanness riseth against me,
It beareth witness to my face.

9 His wrath teareth, <sup>c</sup> and it pursueth me,
He gnasheth upon me with his teeth,
Mine enemy sharpeneth his eyes at me.

10 They <sup>d</sup> gape upon me with their mouth,
They <sup>e</sup> smite upon my cheeks reproachfully,

They <sup>f</sup> array themselves together against me.
11 God <sup>g</sup> delivereth me up to the ungodly,
And casteth me into the hands of the wicked.

12 I was at ease, but he shattered me;
He also took hold of my neck and shook <sup>h</sup> me to pieces,

And <sup>i</sup> he set me up for his mark.

13 His arrows† compass me round about,

He <sup>k</sup> cleaveth my reins, and spareth not,

He poureth out my gall upon the ground.

14 He breaketh me with breach upon breach,

He runneth upon me like a mighty man.

15 I have sewed sackcloth upon my skin,

And <sup>l</sup> defiled my horn in the dust.

16 My face is red with weeping.

And <sup>m</sup> on my eyelids is the shadow of death;

17 Although no violence is in my hands,
And my prayer is pure.

18 Earth, <sup>n</sup> cover not thou my blood,
And let my cry have no resting-place.

19 Even now, behold, my Witness is in heaven,

And my Testifier is on high.

20 My friends are my <sup>o</sup> mockers;

But mine eye poureth out tears unto God;

21 That one might plead for* a man with God,

As a son of man for† his fellow!

22 When a few years are come,

Then I <sup>q</sup> go the way I shall not return.

17. My breath is corrupt,

My days are extinct,

The <sup>r</sup> graves are ready for me.

2 There were <sup>s</sup> mockers with me;

And mine eye dwelleth upon their provocation.

3 Lay down† now, be thou surety for me with thyself;

Who is he that <sup>t</sup> will strike hands with me?

4 For thou hast hidden their heart from understanding;

Therefore thou wilt not exalt them.

5 Whoso denounceth his friends for a prey,
Even the eyes of his children shall fail.

6 He hath set me for <sup>u</sup> the peoples' byword,
And I am become one to be spit on in the face;

7 And mine <sup>v</sup> eye is become dim with grief,
And all my members are as a shadow.

8 The upright shall be astonished at this,
And the innocent will stir up himself against the hypocrite†.

9 But the righteous <sup>w</sup> shall hold on his way,

And he that hath clean hands shall be stronger and stronger.

10 But as for you all, pray, come on again;
And I shall not find a wise man among you.

11 My <sup>x</sup> days are past,
My purposes are broken off,
The cherished thoughts<sup>y</sup> of my heart.

12 They put night for day,
The light is short because of <sup>z</sup> the darkness.

13 If I wait, the grave* is my house,

I <sup>a</sup> make my bed in the darkness.

14 I have said to corruption, Thou art my father,

To <sup>b</sup> the worm, My mother, and my sister!

15 And where then is my hope,

Yea, my hope, who shall see it?

16 They shall go down to the bars of the pit†,

When our rest together is in the dust.

Job's reply—(2) He proves by undeniable facts that suffering does not always attend sin, but that the wicked often enjoy unbroken prosperity until their death, and (32) are carried to the grave in honour.

21. AND Job answered and said:

2 Hear ye attentively my speech,
And let this be your consolations.
3 Suffer me that I may speak,
And after I have spoken, <sup>a</sup> mock on.
4 As for me, <sup>b</sup> is my complaint to man?
Or why should not my spirit be impatient?

5 Look on me, and be astonished,
And <sup>c</sup> lay your hand upon your mouth.
6 Even <sup>d</sup> when I remember, I am afraid,
And trembling taketh hold of my flesh.

7 Wherefore <sup>e</sup> do the wicked live,
Grow old, yea, become mighty in power?
8 Their seed with them is established in their sight,

9 And their offspring before their eyes.
10 Their houses are safe from fear,
And <sup>f</sup> the rod of God is not upon them.
11 His bull gendereth and faileth not,
His cow calveth and casteth not her calf.
12 They send forth their little ones like a flock,

13 And their children dance.
14 They shout to the timbrel and harp,
And rejoice at the sound of the pipe.
15 They spend their days in prosperity,

16 And <sup>g</sup> in a moment go down to the grave*.
17 And <sup>h</sup> they say unto God, Depart from us,
For we desire not the knowledge of thy ways.

18 What <sup>i</sup> is the Almighty that we should serve him?
19 And <sup>k</sup> what are we profited if we pray unto him?

20 Lo, their good is not in their hand:
The counsel of the wicked is far from me †.

21 How often is the lamp of the wicked put out?

22 And their destruction cometh upon them?
God † distributeth sorrows in his anger.

23 They <sup>m</sup> are as stubble before the wind,
And as chaff that the whirlwind carrieth away.

24 God layeth up his iniquity <sup>n</sup> for his children;

25 Let Him requite it, that he may know it;
26 Let his eyes see his destruction,

27 And <sup>o</sup> let him drink of the wrath of the Almighty.

28 For what is his concern in his house after him,

29 When <sup>p</sup> the number of his months is cut off in the midst?

22 Shall <sup>q</sup> any teach God knowledge,
Seeing <sup>r</sup> He judgeth those that are high?

23 One dieth in his full strength,
Being wholly at ease and quiet;

24 His breasts* are full of milk,
And the marrow of his bones is moistened;

25 And another dieth in bitterness of soul,
And <sup>s</sup> hath not tasted good:

26 Together they <sup>t</sup> lie down in the dust,
And the worms cover them.

27 Behold, I know your thoughts,
And the devices ye wrongfully imagine against me.

28 For ye say, <sup>u</sup> Where is the house of the prince?

29 And where are the dwelling-places of the wicked?

30 Have ye not asked the wayfarers,
And do ye not know their tokens?

31 That <sup>z</sup> the wicked is reserved to the day of destruction?

32 They shall be brought forth † to the day of wrath.

33 Who will declare his way to his face?
And who shall requite him what he hath done?

34 Yet he is brought to the graves,
And watch is kept over the tomb;

35 The clouds of the valley are sweet unto him,
And <sup>y</sup> all men draw after him,

36 As there were innumerable before him.

37 How <sup>z</sup> then comfort ye me in vain?

Seeing <sup>a</sup> in your replies there remaineth falsehood.

Third speech of Eliphaz—(2) He maintains that God rewards virtue and punishes vice solely as such; (5) he charges Job with heinous crimes, (10) which have brought his calamities upon him; and (12) with denying God's government of the world; and (21) exhorts him to repentance; which (23) shall bring great blessing.

22. AND Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said:

2 Can <sup>a</sup> a man be profitable unto God
For it is himself the wise man profiteth.

3 Is it a pleasure to the Almighty that thou art righteous,

Or a gain to him that thou makest thy ways perfect?

4 Will he reprove thee for fear of thee?
Will <sup>b</sup> he enter into judgment with thee?

5 Is not thy wickedness great?
And thine iniquities without end?

6 For thou hast <sup>c</sup> taken a pledge from thy brother for nought,

And stripped off the clothing of the naked.

7 Thou hast not given water to the fainting to drink,

<sup>9</sup> Widows thou hast sent away empty,
And the arms of <sup>d</sup> the fatherless have been broken.

<sup>10</sup> Therefore <sup>e</sup> snares are round about thee,
And sudden fear troubleth thee;

<sup>11</sup> Or <sup>f</sup> darkness, that thou canst not see;
And the flood of <sup>g</sup> waters covereth thee.

And behold the height‡ of the stars, how high they are!

Can he judge through the dark cloud?

<sup>14</sup> Thick clouds <sup>k</sup> are a covering to him, that he seeth not;

And he walketh on the arch of heaven.

<sup>15</sup> Wilt thou observe <sup>l</sup> the ancient way,
Which wicked men trod;

<sup>16</sup> Who <sup>m</sup> were taken away before the time,
Whose <sup>n</sup> foundation was overflowed with a flood;

<sup>17</sup> Who <sup>o</sup> said unto God, Depart from us,
And what doeth the Almighty to them?

<sup>18</sup> Yet he filled their houses with good;
(But <sup>p</sup> the counsel of the wicked is far|| from me.)

And the innocent laugh them to scorn:

<sup>20</sup> Is not our adversary cut off§!

And their residue a fire consumeth!

Thereby good shall come unto thee.

<sup>22</sup> Receive, I pray thee, the law from his mouth,

And <sup>s</sup> lay up his words in thy heart.

Thou shalt be built up:

If thou put away iniquity far from thy tents,

<sup>24</sup> And cast to the dust thy precious ore,
And the gold of Ophir among the stones of the brooks;

<sup>25</sup> Then will <sup>u</sup> the Almighty be thy precious ores,
And plenty of silver¶ unto thee.

And <sup>w</sup> shalt lift up thy face unto God.

<sup>27</sup> Thou <sup>x</sup> shalt make thy prayer unto him, and he will hear thee,
And <sup>y</sup> thou shalt perform thy vows.

<sup>28</sup> Thou shalt also decree a thing, and it shall be established unto thee,
And light shall shine upon thy ways.

<sup>29</sup> When men are cast down, thou shalt say,
There is lifting up;

And <sup>b</sup> he will save the humble person.

<sup>30</sup> He <sup>c</sup> will deliver him that is not innocent,

And he is delivered through the pureness of thy hands.

Job's answer—(2) He repeats his desire to bring his cause before God, (6) who upon hearing his defence would acquit him; but (13) he fears that God has decreed his destruction.

23. AND Job answered and said:

<sup>2</sup> Even to-day my complaint is bitter*;
My stroke is heavier than my groaning.

That I might come even to his seat!

<sup>4</sup> I would order my cause before him,
And fill my mouth with arguments;

<sup>5</sup> I would know the words he would answer me,
And mark what he would say to me.

<sup>6</sup> Would he contend with me with great power?
No, but he would give heed to me.

<sup>7</sup> There the righteous might argue with him;
And I should be delivered for ever from my judge.

<sup>8</sup> Behold <sup>b</sup> I go eastward, but he is not there,

And westward, but I perceive him not;

<sup>9</sup> Northward, where he worketh, but I behold him not;

He <sup>c</sup> hideth himself in the south, and I see him not.

<sup>10</sup> But he <sup>d</sup> knoweth the way that I take;
When <sup>e</sup> he hath tried me / I shall come forth as gold.

<sup>11</sup> My <sup>f</sup> foot hath held fast to his steps,
His way have I kept, and have not turned aside.

<sup>12</sup> Neither have I put away the commandment of his lips,

I <sup>h</sup> have treasured up the words of his mouth more than my own law.

<sup>13</sup> But he is in one mind†, and <sup>i</sup> who can turn him?

And <sup>k</sup> what his soul desireth, even that he doeth.

And many such things are with him.

<sup>15</sup> Therefore am I troubled at his presence,
When I consider, I am afraid of him.

<sup>16</sup> And God <sup>m</sup> maketh my heart faint,
And the Almighty troubleth me;

<sup>17</sup> Because I was not cut off before the darkness,

Neither hath he covered‡ the darkness from my face.

Job's answer continued—(1) In contrast with his own punishment, he describes the prosperity of evil doers—(2) merciless oppressors of the poor and weak, (14) murderers, and (15) adulterers; (19) who do not meet with their deserved retribution in this life.

24. WHY, seeing <sup>a</sup> times are not hidden from the Almighty,

Do not they that know him see his days?

2 <sup>b</sup> Some remove <sup>b</sup> landmarks;

They violently take away a herd, and pasture it.

3 They drive away the ass of the fatherless,

They <sup>c</sup> take the widow's ox for a pledge.

4 They turn the needy out of the way,

The <sup>d</sup> poor of the land are made to hide themselves together.

5 Behold, <sup>e</sup> as wild asses in the wilderness,

They go forth to their work, <sup>f</sup> seeking for the prey;

The desert is to them food for the children.

6 They reap his fodder in the field,

And they glean the vineyard of the wicked.

7 They pass the night naked without clothing,

And have no covering in the cold.

8 They are wet with the storm of the mountains,

And embrace the rock for want of shelter.

9 They seize the fatherless from the breast, And take a pledge of the poor.

10 Naked they go about without clothing,

And hungry they carry the sheaf.

11 They press out oil within their walls,

They tread the winepresses, but suffer thirst.

12 Men <sup>g</sup> groan from out of the city,

And the soul of the wounded crieth out;

Yet God layeth not folly to them*.

13 There are those that <sup>i</sup> rebel against the light;

They know not the ways thereof,

Nor abide in the paths thereof.

14 At early dawn riseth the <sup>k</sup> murderer,

He killeth the poor and needy;

And in the night he is as the thief.

15 And the <sup>l</sup> eye of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight,

Saying, <sup>m</sup> No eye shall see me;

And he disguiseth <sup>n</sup> his face.

16 In the dark <sup>n</sup> they dig through houses;

They shut themselves up in the daytime;

They know not the light.

17 For the morning is to them all <sup>o</sup> as the shadow of death,

For they know the terrors of the shadow of death.

18 He is light † upon the face of the waters;

Their portion is cursed upon the earth;

He turneth not unto the way of the vineyards.

19 As drouth <sup>o</sup> and heat consume the snow waters,

So the grave <sup>p</sup> doth sinners.

20 The womb shall forget him,

The <sup>q</sup> worm shall feed sweetly on him,

He <sup>r</sup> shall be no more remembered;

And <sup>r</sup> wickedness shall be broken as a tree.

21 He despoileth the barren <sup>s</sup> that beareth not,

And doeth not good to the widow.

22 He draweth <sup>t</sup> the mighty by his power,

He riseth up, and no <sup>u</sup> man is sure of life.

23 He giveth to him security, and he is sustained,

And <sup>v</sup> his eyes are upon their ways.

24 They <sup>w</sup> are exalted for a little while, and they are gone;

They are laid low, and they die, like all,

And are cut off, as the tops of the ears of corn.

25 And if it be not so, who will make me a liar,

And make my speech nothing worth?

Bildad's third speech—He sets forth (2) the majesty and holiness of God, and (4) the frailty and sinfulness of man.

25. AND Bildad the Shuhite answered and said:

2 Dominion <sup>a</sup> and fear are with Him,

He maketh peace in his high places.

3 Is <sup>b</sup> there any number of his armies?

And upon whom doth not <sup>c</sup> his light arise?

4 How <sup>d</sup> then shall man be just with God?

And <sup>e</sup> how shall he be pure, that is born of a woman?

5 Behold even the moon, and it shineth not,

And the stars are not pure in his sight.

6 How much less man, a worm,

And the son of man, <sup>f</sup> a worm!

Job's answer—(2) After noticing the foregoing speech, (6) he again descants on God's power and majesty, and dominion over all creation.

26. AND Job answered and said:

2 How <sup>a</sup> hast thou helped the powerless!

How hast thou saved the arm without strength!

3 How hast thou counselled the unwise;

And <sup>b</sup> how hast thou abundantly declared wisdom?

4 To whom hast thou uttered words?

And whose spirit <sup>c</sup> came from thee?

5 The shades <sup>d</sup> tremble, Beneath the waters, and their inhabitants.

6 Before him Sheol <sup>e</sup> is naked,

And destruction <sup>f</sup> hath no covering.

And the cloud is not rent under them.

9 He <sup>c</sup> covereth the face of his throne,
Spreading his cloud over it.

10 He <sup>f</sup> hath encompassed the waters with

Unto the limit of light and darkness.

11 The <sup>g</sup> pillars of heaven tremble,
And are astonished, at his rebuke.

12 He <sup>h</sup> stirreth up the sea by his power,
And by his understanding he smiteth

13 By his spirit † the heavens are garnished;

Job's final speech.—(2) He holds fast the assurance of his own integrity, and (8) describes the miserable and hopeless end of the wicked man.

27. AND Job continued his parable ||, and said :

2 As <sup>a</sup> God liveth, <sup>b</sup> who hath taken away my right,

And the Almighty, <sup>who</sup> hath vexed my soul;

3 As long as my breath is in me,

And <sup>c</sup> the spirit of God is in my nostrils;

4 My lips shall not speak wickedness,
Nor my tongue utter deceit.

5 Far be it from me that I should justify you;

Till I die <sup>d</sup> I will not put away mine integrity from me.

6 My righteousness <sup>e</sup> I hold fast, and will not let it go,

My <sup>f</sup> heart reproacheth none of my days.

7 Let mine enemy be as the wicked,

And he that riseth up against me as the unrighteous.

8 For <sup>g</sup> what is the hope of the hypocrite §, though he getteth gain,
When God taketh away his soul?

9 Will <sup>h</sup> God hear his cry,
When trouble cometh upon him?

10 Will he delight himself in the Almighty?
Will he at all times call upon God?

11 I will teach you concerning the hand of God,
What <sup>i</sup> is with the Almighty will I not conceal.

12 Behold, all ye yourselves have seen it;
Why then are ye thus altogether vain? —

13 This <sup>i</sup> is the portion of a wicked man with God,
And the heritage of oppressors, which they receive from the Almighty.

14 If <sup>k</sup> his children multiply, <sup>it</sup> is for the sword,

And his offspring shall not be satisfied with bread.

15 Those that remain of him shall be buried in the pestilence,

And <sup>l</sup> his widows shall not weep.

16 Though he heap up silver as the dust,
And prepare raiment as the clay;

17 He may prepare <sup>it</sup>, but <sup>m</sup> the just shall wear it,

And the innocent shall divide the silver.

18 He buildeth his house like a moth,

And <sup>n</sup> like a booth <sup>that</sup> the watchman maketh.

19 The rich man shall lie down, but he shall not be gathered;

He <sup>o</sup> openeth his eyes, and he is no more.

20 Terrors <sup>p</sup> overtake him like waters,
A tempest stealeth him away in the night.

21 The <sup>q</sup> east wind carrieth him away, and he is gone,

Yea, it hurleth him out of his place.

22 For God casteth upon him, and spareth not;

He would fain flee out of his hand.

23 Men <sup>r</sup> clap their hands at him,

And hiss him out of his place.

Job's final speech continued.—(1) He shows that though man can search out the earth's hidden treasures, (12) the wisdom of God is far beyond his comprehension; and that (28) man's wisdom consists in the fear of God and turning away from evil.

28. SURELY there is a vein* for the silver,

And a place for the gold, which they refine.

2 Iron is taken out of the earth,
And copper is molten out of stone.

3 He † putteth an end to the darkness,;

And he searcheth out, to the very end,
Stones of darkness and of the shadow of death.

4 He openeth out a shaft, away from the dweller <sup>abore</sup>;

Forgotten of the foot, §

They hang down, they swing, far from men.

5 As for the earth, <sup>a</sup> out of it cometh bread,

And beneath, it is turned up as <sup>by</sup> fire.

The words of Job are ended.

Speech of Elihu—(2) Constrained to speak by his disapproval of the speakers on both sides, (ch. 33. 8) he censures Job's self-justification and complaints of God; and (14) affirms that God's chastisements are designed to warn the sufferer, to teach him self-knowledge and to lead him to repentance.

32. SO these three men ceased from answering Job, because he was <sup>a</sup> righteous in his own eyes. <sup>2</sup> Then was kindled the anger of Elihu the son of Barachel <sup>b</sup> the Buzite, of the kindred of Ram; against Job was his anger kindled, because he justified himself rather than God; <sup>3</sup> also against his three friends was his anger kindled; because they found no answer, and yet <sup>c</sup> condemned Job. <sup>4</sup> But Elihu had delayed answering Job, because they were older than he. <sup>5</sup> When Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of the three men, then his anger was kindled. <sup>6</sup> And Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite answered and said:

Nor do the aged understand judgment.
<sup>10</sup> Therefore I say, Harken to me;
I will show my opinion, even I.

<sup>12</sup> I <sup>h</sup> gave ear to your reasonings,
Whilst ye searched out what to say.
<sup>13</sup> Yea, I attended to you,
But behold, there was none of you that confuted Job,
Or that answered his words.
<sup>14</sup> Lest ye should say, We have found out wisdom,
God shall thrust him down, not man.
<sup>15</sup> Now he hath not directed words against me,
And I will not answer him with your speeches.

<sup>16</sup> They were confounded, they answered no more,
They left off speaking.

<sup>17</sup> And I waited; for they spake not,
Because they stood still, they answered no more;

<sup>18</sup> I will answer on my part, even I,
I will show my opinion, even I.

<sup>19</sup> For I am full of words,

The <sup>i</sup> spirit within me constraineth me.

<sup>20</sup> Behold, my belly is like wine which hath

It is ready to burst, like new wine-skins.

<sup>21</sup> I will speak, that I may be relieved,
I will open my lips and answer.

<sup>22</sup> Let me not, I pray, <sup>k</sup> accept any man's Nor let me give flattery unto man.

My Maker would soon take me away.

33. But hear, Job, I pray thee, my utter-

And hearken to all my words.

<sup>2</sup> Behold now, I have opened my mouth,
My tongue speaketh in my mouth.

<sup>3</sup> My <sup>a</sup> words are of the uprightness of my

And <sup>b</sup> my lips utter knowledge purely.

<sup>4</sup> The <sup>c</sup> Spirit of God made me,
And the breath of the Almighty hath given

<sup>5</sup> If thou canst, answer me,
Array thyself against me, take thy stand.

<sup>6</sup> Behold, I, like thyself, belong to God,

I also was <sup>d</sup> formed out of the clay.

<sup>7</sup> Behold, my <sup>e</sup> terror shall not make thee afraid,

Nor shall my burden be heavy upon thee.

<sup>8</sup> Surely thou hast said in mine ears,
And I heard the sound of thy words:

<sup>9</sup> I <sup>f</sup> am pure, without transgression,
I am innocent, and there is no iniquity in
me;

<sup>10</sup> Behold, <sup>g</sup> he findeth occasions against me,
He <sup>h</sup> counteth me for his enemy;

<sup>11</sup> He <sup>i</sup> putteth my feet in the stocks,
He <sup>k</sup> observeth all my paths.

<sup>12</sup> Behold in this thou art not just; I will answer thee;

For God is greater than man.

<sup>13</sup> Why dost thou <sup>l</sup> strive against him?

Because <sup>m</sup> he giveth no account of any of his matters.

Yea twice, but man perceiveth it not*.

Elihu's speech continued—(2) He argues that piety gives nothing to God that calls for his reward; and (3) that prayer is often not answered because it is offered in a wrong spirit.

35. AND ELIHU spake moreover and said :

2 Thinkest thou this to be right,
My righteousness, sayest thou, is more than God's?

3 For <sup>a</sup>thou sayest, What advantage is it unto thee,

What will it profit me more than my sin?

4 I will answer thee,
And thy friends with thee.

5 Look <sup>b</sup>unto the heavens and see,
And survey the skies, which are high above thee.

6 If thou sinnest, what doest thou <sup>c</sup>against Him?

And if thy transgressions be multiplied, what doest thou unto him?

7 If <sup>d</sup>thou be righteous, what givest thou to him?

Or what receiveth he from thy hand?

8 Thy <sup>e</sup>wickedness may hurt a man like thyself,

And thy righteousness may profit a son of man.

9 By <sup>f</sup>reason of the multitude of oppressions they cry aloud,

They cry for help by reason of the arm of the mighty :

10 But none saith, Where is God my Maker,
Who <sup>g</sup>giveth songs in the night ;

11 Who teacheth us more than the beasts of the earth,

And maketh us wiser than the birds of heaven?

12 There <sup>h</sup>they cry aloud, but He answereth not,

Because of the pride of evil men.

13 Surely <sup>i</sup>God will not hear vanity,

Nor will the Almighty regard it.

14 Although <sup>k</sup>thou sayest thou discernest him not,

Yet the cause is before him ;

Therefore wait thou for <sup>l</sup>him.

15 But now, because his anger visiteth not,
And he taketh no strict account of the transgression ;

16 Therefore <sup>m</sup>Job openeth his mouth without reason,

He multiplieth words without knowledge.

Elihu's speech concluded ; (2) He shows the merciful purposes of God's chastisements, and (21) exhorts to penitential submission, (23) in the contemplation of God's infinite power, wisdom, and goodness.

36. ELIHU also added and said :

2 Suffer me a little, and I will show thee,

For I have yet to speak <sup>a</sup> on God's behalf.

3 I will fetch my knowledge from afar,
And will <sup>b</sup>ascribe righteousness to my Maker.

4 For truly <sup>c</sup>my words are not falsehood,
One perfect in knowledge is with thee.

5 Behold, God is mighty, but he <sup>d</sup>despiseth not,

<sup>e</sup>He is mighty in strength of understanding.

6 He <sup>f</sup>preserveth not the life of the wicked,
But <sup>g</sup>giveth right to the afflicted.

7 He <sup>h</sup>withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous ;

But, <sup>i</sup>with kings on the throne,

<sup>k</sup>He doth even establish them for ever, and they are exalted.

8 And if, bound in fetters,

They be holden in cords of affliction ;

9 Then <sup>l</sup>he sheweth them their doing,

And their transgressions, that they have acted proudly.

10 And he <sup>m</sup>openeth their ear for instruction,
And <sup>n</sup>commandeth that they turn from iniquity.

11 If they obey and serve <sup>o</sup>him,

They <sup>p</sup>spend their days in prosperity,

And their years in pleasures ;

12 But if they obey not,

They perish by the sword*,

And <sup>q</sup>die without knowledge.

13 So the hypocrites in heart <sup>r</sup>lay up wrath,
They <sup>s</sup>cry not for help when he bindeth them.

14 Their soul dieth in their youth,

And their life among the unclean.

15 He delivereth the afflicted in his affliction,

And openeth their ears in their oppression.

16 Even so he doth allure thee away from the jaws of distress,

To <sup>t</sup>a broad place where there is no straitness ;

And the supply of thy table shall be full of fatness.

17 But thou art full of the judgment† of the wicked ;

So judgment and justice shall take hold on thee.

18 For beware lest he in wrath take thee away with a stroke ;

Then a great ransom cannot deliver thee‡.

19 Will he esteem thy riches ?

No, not gold, nor all§ the forces of wealth.

20 Long not for the night,

When peoples are cut off from their place.

21 Take heed, turn not to iniquity ;

For this hast thou chosen rather than affliction.

15 Behold now behemoth*, which I made with thee;

He eateth grass like the cattle.

16 Lo now, his strength is in his loins, And his force in the muscles of his belly;

17 He bendeth his tail like a cedar, The sinews of his flanks are knit together;

18 His bones are like pipes of brass†, His bones are like bars of iron.

19 He is the chief of the ways of God; He who made him giveth him his sword.

20 Surely the mountains bring him food, Where all the beasts of the field play.

21 He lieth under the lotus-trees, In the covert of reeds and marsh;

22 The lotus-trees cover him with shade, The willows of the brook compass him about.

23 Behold, the river overfloweth, he startleth not,

He is confident though Jordan rush into his mouth.

24 In his sight let one take him, Let one pierce his nose with hooks!

41. Wilt thou draw out leviathan† with a hook?

Or press down his tongue with a cord?

2 Wilt thou put a rush-ropo into his nose, Or pierce his jaw with a hook?

3 Will he make many supplications to thee? Will he speak soft things to thee?

4 Will he make a covenant with thee? Wilt thou take him for a slave for ever?

5 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird? And bind him for thy maidens?

6 Will partners‡ bargain§ for him? Will they divide him among the merchants?

7 Wilt thou fill his skin with darts, And his head with fish-spears?

8 Lay thy hand upon him, Remember the battle, do no more.

9 Behold, the hope of him is in vain; Even at the sight of him is not one cast down?

10 None is so fierce that he will stir him up.

Who then is able to stand before Me?

11 Who<sup>a</sup> hath first given to me, that I should repay him?

Whatsoever is under<sup>b</sup> the whole heaven is mine.

12 I will not be silent about his parts, And his strength§, and his comely array.

13 Who can uncover the face of his garment? Who can come within his double jaws?

14 Who can open the doors of his face? His teeth are terrible round about.

15 His strong shields are his pride, Shut up together as with a close seal;

16 One is so close to another

That no air cometh between them;

17 They are joined one to another, They stick together, so that they cannot be sundered.

18 By his sneezings a light shineth, And his eyes are like the eyelids of the morning.

19 Out of his mouth go forth flames, Sparks of fire leap out;

20 Out of his nostrils goeth forth smoke, As out of a heated pot or caldron;

21 His breath kindleth coals, And a flame goeth out of his mouth.

22 In his neck lodgeth strength, And terror danceth before him.

23 The flakes of his flesh cleave together, Firm upon him, they cannot be moved.

24 His heart is firm as a stone, Yea, firm as the nether millstone.

25 When he riseth up the mighty are afraid, They are beside themselves through terror.

26 If one reacheth him with the<sup>c</sup> sword, it shall not hold;

Nor spear, nor dart, nor coat of mail*;

27 He esteemeth iron as straw, Brass† as rotten wood.

28 The arrow shall not make him flee, Slingstones are for him turned to stubble;

29 Clubs are counted as stubble, He laugheth at the shaking of the spear.

30 Sharp scales are under him, He spreadeth sharp pointed things‡ upon the mire.

31 He maketh the deep to boil like a cauldron, He maketh the sea like a pot of ointment;

32 He maketh the path behind him to shine, One would think the deep hoary.

33 Upon<sup>d</sup> earth there is not his like, He is made without fear;

34 He beholdeth every high thing, He is king over all the sons of pride.

THE PSALMS.

PSALM I.

The characteristics of the godly man, and his blessedness, (4) contrasted with the condition and destiny of the wicked.

<sup>2</sup> But <sup>b</sup> his delight is in the law of the LORD,
And <sup>c</sup> in his law doth he meditate day and night.
<sup>3</sup> And he is like a tree <sup>d</sup> planted by the water-courses,
That <sup>e</sup> yieldeth its fruit in his season, And whose leaf shall not wither;
And all that he doeth shall <sup>f</sup> prosper.

<sup>4</sup> Not so are the wicked,
But <sup>are</sup> <sup>g</sup> like the chaff which the wind driveth away.

<sup>5</sup> Therefore the wicked shall <sup>h</sup> not stand in the judgment,
Nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.
<sup>6</sup> For <sup>i</sup> the LORD knoweth the way of the righteous,
But <sup>k</sup> the way of the wicked shall perish.

PSALM II.

The conflict between the powers of this world and the kingdom of God—(1) The nations and their rulers revolt against Jehovah; (4) who mocks and confounds their designs; (7) the anointed King proclaims his rights and power; (10) and the rebels are counselled to submission.

The Psalmist, (1) in danger and distress, (3) calls to remembrance God's former mercy, and (5) relies upon his help.

A Psalm of David, a when he fled from Absalom his son.

<sup>1</sup> LORD, b how many are my foes!
 Many are rising up against me;
<sup>2</sup> Many are saying of my soul,

 That have set themselves against me round

<sup>7</sup> Arise, l O LORD! Save me, O my God!
 For thou smitest all mine enemies upon the cheeks,
 Thou breakest the teeth of the wicked.

<sup>8</sup> Salvation m is the LORD's;
 Thy blessing n be upon thy people! Selah.

PSALM VIII.

God's manifested glory in creation; and (4) his gracious appointment of man as head and king of this lower world.

For the Chief musician. Upon the Gittith.†
A Psalm of David.

1 O LORD our Lord,
How excellent is thy name in all the earth!

Thou who hast set thy glory over the heavens!

2 Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou founded strength;
Because of thine enemies,
To still the enemy and the avenger.

3 When I behold thy heavens, O the work of thy fingers,
The moon and the stars, which thou hast prepared;

4 What is man, that thou art mindful of him,
And the son of man, that thou visitest him;

5 And makest him a little lower than God,
And crownest him with glory and honour!

6 Thou makest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands,
Thou dost put all under his feet;

7 Sheep and oxen, all of them,
Yea, and the beasts of the field,

8 The birds of the air, and the fish of the sea,
Whatsoever passeth through the paths of the seas.

9 O LORD, our Lord,
How excellent is thy name in all the earth!

PSALM IX.

Thanksgiving to God (4) the righteous Governor of the world, (5) who punishes the wicked and (9) defends the oppressed; and (13) prayer for deliverance from trouble.

For the Chief musician. Upon Muth-labben.†
A Psalm of David.

1 I WILL praise the LORD with my whole heart,
I will show forth all thy wonderful works;

2 I will be glad and rejoice in thee,
I will sing praise to thy name, O thou Most High!

3 When mine enemies are turned back,
They stumble and perish at thy presence.

4 For thou hast maintained my right and my cause;
Thou satest on the throne judging righteously.

5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen*, thou hast destroyed the wicked,
Thou hast blotted out their name for ever and ever.

6 The enemy hath come to an end in ruins for ever;
And thou hast destroyed cities,

Even the remembrance of them hath perished.

7 But the LORD sitteth enthroned for ever;
He hath prepared his throne for judgment:

8 And he will judge the world in righteousness,
He will minister judgment to the peoples in uprightness.

9 And the LORD will be a refuge for the oppressed,
A refuge in times of trouble.

10 And they that know thy name will trust in thee;
For thou, LORD, hast not forsaken them that seek thee.

11 Sing ye praise to the LORD, who dwelleth in Zion, Declare among the peoples his doings.

12 For He who maketh inquisition for blood, remembereth them,
He forgetteth not the cry of the suffering.

13 Have mercy upon me, O LORD;
Behold my suffering from them that hate me,
Thou who liftest me up from the gates of death!

14 That I may show forth all thy praise,
In the gates of the daughter of Zion;
And rejoice in thy salvation.

15 The heathen are sunk down in the pit which they made,
In the net which they hid is their own foot taken.

16 The LORD hath made himself known,
He executeth judgment;
The wicked hath been snared in the work of his own hands. Higgaion Selah.†

17 The wicked shall be turned into hell;
All the nations that forget God.

	The LORD will deliver him in the day of evil; 2 The LORD will preserve him, and keep him alive; He shall be blessed upon the earth*; Thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies; 3 The LORD will strengthen him upon the bed of languishing, Thou wilt make all his bed in his sickness.	2 My <sup>a</sup> soul thirsteth for God, for the living God; When <sup>b</sup> shall I come and appear before God? 3 My tears have been my food day and night, While <sup>c</sup> they continually say unto me, Where is thy God? 4 I will remember these things, And will pour out my soul within me; How I passed along with the multitude, How I went in procession* with them to the house of God, With <sup>d</sup> the voice of joy and praise; A multitude keeping holy-day. 5 Why <sup>e</sup> art thou cast down, my soul, And why art thou disquieted within me? Hope <sup>f</sup> thou in God; for I shall yet praise him, For <sup>g</sup> the help of his countenance. 6 O my God, my soul is cast down within me; Therefore <sup>h</sup> will I remember thee <sup>i</sup> from the land of Jordan, And the Hermons, from the mount Mizar. 7 Deep callest unto deep at the noise of thy water-spouts, All <sup>k</sup> thy waves and thy billows have passed over me. 8 By day, will the LORD command his lovingkindness, And <sup>l</sup> in the night his song shall be with me; A prayer unto the God of my life. 9 I will say unto <sup>m</sup> God, my rock, <sup>n</sup> Why hast thou forgotten me? Why <sup>o</sup> go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy? 10 As with a crushing in my boues, mine enemies reproach me, While <sup>p</sup> they say unto me all the day, Where is thy God? 11 Why <sup>q</sup> art thou cast down, my soul, And why art thou disquieted within me? u Ps. 40. 11; 57. 3.	8 Send <sup>u</sup> out thy light and thy truth, Let them lead me ;	12 Thou <sup>p</sup> sellest thy people for nought, And hast not increased thy wealth by their price.	p Deu. 22. 30; Jer. 15. 13.
x Ps. 3. 4.	Let them bring me unto <sup>x</sup> thy holy mount, And to thy tabernacles. 4 And I will go unto the altar of God, Unto God my exceeding joy : And upon the harp will I praise thee, O God, my God !	13 Thou <sup>q</sup> makest us a reproach to our neighbours, A scorn and derision to them that are round about us ; 14 Thou <sup>r</sup> makest us a byword among the nations, A shaking of the head among the peoples. 15 All the day long my <sup>s</sup> disgrace is before me, And <sup>t</sup> the shame of my face covereth me ; 16 Because of <sup>u</sup> the voice of the reviler and blasphemer, Because of <sup>x</sup> the enemy and the revenger.	q Ps. 79. 4.  r Deu. 28. 37; Jer. 24. 9.  s Ezra 9. 6.  t Ps. 69. 7; Jer. 51. 51. u Ps. 74. 18.
y Ps. 42. 5, 11.	5 Why <sup>y</sup> art thou cast down, my soul, And why art thou disquieted within me ? Hope thou in God, for I shall yet praise him ; The health of my countenance, and my God.	17 All this is come upon us ; but we have not forgotten thee, Nor have we been false in thy covenant ; 18 Our heart hath not turned back, Nor <sup>v</sup> have our steps declined from thy way. 19 But thou hast sorely broken us, in <sup>w</sup> the place of jackals, And covered us with <sup>x</sup> the shadow of death.	  v Ps. 119. 51. 157; Job 23. 11, 12. z Is. 54. 13, 14; Jer. 9. 11. a Ps. 23. 4.

PSALM XLIV*. Prayer in a time of national calamity, (1) recall- ing the great things formerly wrought by God for his people, (17) declaring their present fidelity to his covenant, (23) and entreating deliverance. For the Chief musician. Maschil † of the sons of Korah. 1 O GOD, we have heard with our ears, Our <sup>a</sup> fathers have told us, The work thou didst in their days, In the days of old. 2 Thou, by thy hand, <sup>b</sup> didst dispossess the nations, <sup>c</sup> but them thou didst plant ; Thou didst <sup>d</sup> afflict the peoples, but them thou didst cause to spread out. 3 For <sup>e</sup> they got not possession of the land by their own sword, Nor did their own arm save them ; But thy right hand and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance ; Because <sup>f</sup> thou didst favour them. 4 Thou, O God, art my King ; Command thou deliverances for Jacob. 5 Through <sup>g</sup> thee shall we push down our enemies, Through thy name shall we <sup>h</sup> tread them under that rise up against us. 6 For <sup>i</sup> I will not trust in my bow, Nor shall my sword save me : 7 But thou hast saved us from our enemies, And hast put to shame them that hated us. 8 In <sup>k</sup> God we glory all the day, And we praise thy name for ever. Selah. 9 But <sup>l</sup> thou hast cast off, and put us to shame, And thou goest not forth with our armies. 10 Thou makest us to <sup>m</sup> turn back from the enemy, And they who hate us spoil for themselves. 11 Thou <sup>n</sup> hast given us like sheep for food, And <sup>o</sup> hast scattered us among the na- tions.	19 But thou hast sorely broken us, in <sup>w</sup> the place of jackals, And covered us with <sup>x</sup> the shadow of death. 20 If we have forgotten the name of our God, And stretched out our hands to a strange god ; 21 Will not God search this out ? For <sup>b</sup> he knoweth the secrets of the heart. 22 Yea, <sup>c</sup> for thy sake are we killed all the day long, We are counted as sheep for slaughter. 23 Awake, <sup>d</sup> why sleepest thou, O Lord ? Arise, cast us not off for ever. 24 Wherefore <sup>e</sup> hidest thou thy face, And forgettest our affliction and our op- pression ? 25 For <sup>f</sup> our soul is bowed down to the dust, Our belly cleaveth to the earth. 26 Arise for our help, And redeem us, for thy mercy's sake.	  b Ps. 139; Jer. 17. 10; Rev. 2. 23. c Ro. 8. 36.  d Ps. 7. 6; 78. 65. e Ps. 10. 1; 88. 14.  f Ps. 119. 25.

PSALM XLIX.

The Psalmist, after (1) summoning the whole world to listen, (5) shows the vanity of riches, and (11) contrasts the end of the prosperous worldling with that of the righteous.

For the Chief musician. A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

1 HEAR this, all ye peoples,
Give ear, all ye inhabitants of the world ;
2 Both men of low and men of high degree,
Rich and poor, together !
3 My <sup>a</sup> mouth shall speak wisdom,
And the meditation of my heart is understanding.

4 I <sup>b</sup> will incline mine ear to a parable <sup>g</sup>,
I will open my dark saying <sup>h</sup> upon the harp.

5 Wherefore should I fear in the days of evil,
When the iniquity of my heels <sup>i</sup> encompasseth me ?

6 Those who trust in their wealth,
And boast themselves in the abundance of their riches.

7 No man can by any means redeem a brother,

Nor <sup>c</sup> give to God a ransom for him :

8 (Yea, costly is <sup>d</sup> the redemption of their soul* ,

And it faileth for ever :)

9 That he should still live on for ever,
And <sup>e</sup> should not see corruption †.

10 For he shall see it ;
Wise <sup>f</sup> men die ;

Together the fool and the brutish perish,
And <sup>g</sup> they leave their wealth to others.

11 Their inward thought is that their houses are for ever,

Their dwellings to all generations ;
They <sup>h</sup> call their lands after their own names.

12 But <sup>i</sup> man, being in honour, abideth not,
He <sup>k</sup> is like the beasts that perish.

13 This is their way ; <sup>l</sup> folly is theirs ;
And their posterity approve their sayings.
Selah.

14 Like <sup>m</sup> sheep they are laid in the grave †,
Death feedeth on them ;

And <sup>n</sup> the upright shall have dominion over them in the morning ;

And their <sup>o</sup> form shall consume in the

PSALM LV.

*Bitter sufferings from violence and treachery ;
(16) prayer for deliverance.*

For the Chief musician. On Neginoth*. Maschil‡ of David.

<sup>1</sup> GIVE ear to my prayer, O God,
And <sup>a</sup> hide not thyself from my supplication ;

<sup>2</sup> Attend unto me and answer me ;
I <sup>b</sup> mourn || in my complaint, and moan aloud ;

<sup>3</sup> Because of the voice of the enemy,
Because of the oppression of the wicked.
For they cast iniquity upon me‡,
And in anger they lay wait for me.

<sup>4</sup> My heart is writhing within me,
And <sup>d</sup> the terrors of death are fallen upon me ;

<sup>5</sup> Fear and trembling are come upon me,
And horror overwhelmeth me.

<sup>6</sup> And I say, Oh that I had wings like a dove !

I would fly away, and be at rest ;

<sup>7</sup> Lo, <sup>e</sup> I would flee afar off,

I would lodge in the wilderness : Selah :

<sup>8</sup> I would hasten my escape,
From <sup>f</sup> the stormy wind and tempest.

For I have seen violence and strife in the city.

<sup>10</sup> And night they go round it, upon its walls ;
And mischief and sorrow are in the midst of it ;

<sup>11</sup> Wickedness is in the midst of it, Oppression and deceit depart not from its streets*.

<sup>12</sup> For it is not an enemy that reproach-eth me,
Or I should bear it ;
Nor is it he that hated me that acteth
proudly against me,
Or I would hide myself from him.

<sup>13</sup> But thou, a man mine own equal,
My <sup>h</sup> familiar and my intimate friend.
<sup>14</sup> We took sweet counsel together,
And walked to the house of God in the company.

<sup>15</sup> Let death seize upon them,
Let them <sup>i</sup> go down alive into the gravet
For wickedness is in their dwellings, in the midst of them.

<sup>16</sup> As for me, <sup>k</sup> I will call upon God,
And the LORD will save me.

<sup>17</sup> Evening <sup>l</sup> and morning and at noon will I pray and cry aloud‡,
And he will hear my voice.

<sup>18</sup> He delivered my soul in peace from the battle that was against me ;
For there were many <sup>m</sup> against me.

<sup>19</sup> God will hear, and will answer || them,
(He, who is <sup>n</sup> enthroned of old) ; Selah :
Them who have <sup>o</sup> no changes,
And who fear not God.

<sup>20</sup> He put forth his hands against those at peace with him ;
He profaned his covenant.

<sup>21</sup> Smooth were the flatteries <sup>p</sup> of his mouth,
But his heart was war ;
His words were softer than oil,
Yet were they drawn swords.

<sup>22</sup> Cast <sup>q</sup> thy burden‡ upon the LORD, and he will sustain thee ;
He <sup>r</sup> will never suffer the righteous to be moved.

<sup>23</sup> But thou, O God, wilt bring them down into the pit of destruction ;
Bloody and deceitful men shall not live out half their days :

But as for me, in thee will I trust.

Prayers for help against enemies, mingled with joyful confidences in God.

For the Chief musician. Upon Jonath-elem-rechokim*. Michtam† of David, when the Philistines took him in Gath.

<sup>1</sup> BE merciful unto me, O God; for man would swallow me up||,

For many are fighting against me proudly.

<sup>4</sup> In God I will praise his word,

All their thoughts are against me for evil.

Put thou my tears into thy bottle;

Are <sup>k</sup> they not in thy book?

<sup>9</sup> In the day when I call upon thee then shall mine enemies turn back;

This I know, for <sup>l</sup> God is for me.

<sup>10</sup> In God will I praise his word,

In the LORD will I praise his word.

<sup>11</sup> In God do I put my trust, I <sup>m</sup> will not fear;

What can man do unto me?

Wilt not thou keep my feet from stumbling?

For the Chief musician. Al-taschith†. Michtam* of David, <sup>a</sup> when he fled from Saul in the cave.

They <sup>l</sup> digged a pit before me,

Into the midst whereof they fell. Selah.

<sup>7</sup> My <sup>m</sup> heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed,

I will sing and give praise*.

Prayer for deliverance and restoration, (3) founded on past experience of God's mercy.

For the Chief musician. Upon Negina†. A Psalm of David.

1 HEAR my cry, O God,
Attend unto my prayer.

2 From <sup>a</sup> the end of the earth I cry unto thee, when my heart fainteth.

Lead me to <sup>b</sup> a rock that is too high for me.

3 For <sup>c</sup> thou hast been a refuge for me,

7 He <sup>i</sup> shall abide before God for ever:

8 So will I sing praise unto thy name for ever,

That <sup>l</sup> I may daily perform my vows.

PSALM LXII.

Confidence in God contrasted with reliance on human strength and earthly riches.

For the Chief musician. To Jeduthun*. A Psalm of David.

1 ONLY upon God my soul waiteth in <sup>a</sup> silence,

From <sup>b</sup> him is my salvation.

2 He only <sup>c</sup> is my rock and my salvation,

My high fortress; I shall not be greatly moved.

3 How long will ye rush upon a man,
Will ye break him down, all of you,
As a bowing wall, or a tottering fence ?

4 They <sup>d</sup> consult only to thrust him down from his dignity;

They delight in lies;
They <sup>e</sup> bless, each with his mouth,
But in their inward part they curse. Selah.

5 My <sup>f</sup> soul, wait thou in silence only upon God,

For <sup>g</sup> my expectation is from him.

6 He only is my rock and my salvation,
My high fortress; <sup>h</sup> I shall not be moved.

7 In God <sup>i</sup> is my salvation and my glory;
The rock of my strength, my refuge, is in God.

8 Trust <sup>k</sup> in him at all times, ye people;

Pour out your heart before him :
God is <sup>l</sup> a refuge for us. Selah.

9 Men of low degree are only vanity,
Men of high degree a lie;

In the balance they surely mount upward;

They are altogether <sup>m</sup> of vanity.

10 Trust not in oppression,
And become not vain in robbery;
When wealth <sup>n</sup> increaseth, set not your heart upon it.

11 Once hath God spoken,

Twice have I heard this :

That <sup>o</sup> power belongeth unto God,

12 And unto thee, O Lord, belongeth <sup>p</sup> mercy;
For <sup>q</sup> thou renderest to every man according to his work.

A Psalm of David, <sup>a</sup> when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

1 O GOD, <sup>b</sup> thou art my God; <sup>c</sup> earnestly do I seek thee !

My <sup>d</sup> soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh pineth for thee,

In a dry and thirsty land, without water :

2 So have I seen thee <sup>e</sup> in the sanctuary,

Beholding thy power and thy glory.

3 For thy lovingkindness is better than life;

My lips shall praise thee.

4 Thus <sup>f</sup> will I bless thee while I live,

I will lift up my hands in thy name.

PSALM LXVI.

A call to the whole world to praise God for his wonderful doings on behalf of his people—(13) Personal acknowledgment of special mercy.

For the Chief musician. A Song or Psalm.

Through the greatness of thy power shall thine enemies submit themselves unto thee.

<sup>4</sup> All <sup>c</sup> the earth shall worship thee, and shall sing† unto thee;

They shall sing to thy name. Selah.

<sup>7</sup> He ruleth by his power for ever; His eyes keep watch upon the nations;

Let <sup>h</sup> not the rebellious exalt themselves. Selah.

<sup>8</sup> Bless our God, ye peoples, And make the voice of his praise to be heard;

<sup>9</sup> Who <sup>i</sup> holdeth our soul in life, And <sup>k</sup> suffereth not our feet to be moved.

We went through fire and through water; But thou broughtest us out into abundance.

<sup>13</sup> I <sup>n</sup> will go into thy house with burnt-offerings,

I <sup>o</sup> will pay unto thee my vows,

<sup>15</sup> I will offer unto thee burnt-offerings of fatlings, with the incense of rams, I will sacrifice bullocks with goats. Selah.

<sup>16</sup> Come, and hear, all ye that fear God, And <sup>q</sup> I will declare what he hath done for my soul.

<sup>17</sup> I cried unto him with my mouth, And he was extolled with my tongue.

<sup>18</sup> If <sup>r</sup> I regarded iniquity in my heart, The Lord would not hear me;

<sup>19</sup> But God <sup>s</sup> hath heard me, He hath attended to the voice of my prayer.

<sup>20</sup> Blessed be God, Who hath not turned away my prayer, Nor his mercy from me.

PSALM LXVII.

A liturgical Psalm, praying that the God of Israel may be acknowledged and worshipped by the whole world.

For the Chief musician. On Neginoth†. A Psalm or Song.

For <sup>e</sup> thou wilt judge the peoples righteously, And the nations upon earth, thou wilt guide them. Selah.

May God, our own God, bless us,

<sup>7</sup> May God bless us, And let <sup>g</sup> all the ends of the earth fear him.

PSALM LXVIII.

A triumphal hymn, commemorating God's former deliverances, (7) when he led Israel through the desert, and victoriously into Canaan; and celebrating (23) His present entry into the sanctuary at Zion.

For the Chief musician. A Psalm or Song of David.

<sup>1</sup> LET <sup>a</sup> God arise, let his enemies be scattered, And let them that hate him flee before him.

So drive them away;

As <sup>c</sup> wax is melted before the fire,

Let the wicked perish <sup>d</sup> before God.

<sup>3</sup> But <sup>e</sup> let the righteous be glad, let them rejoice before God,

Yea, let them exceedingly rejoice.

<sup>5</sup> Cast up a highway for him who rideth <sup>g</sup> through the deserts,

His <sup>h</sup> name is JAH;

And rejoice before him.

<sup>5</sup> The <sup>i</sup> father of the fatherless, and <sup>k</sup> the judge of the widows,

Is God <sup>l</sup> in his holy habitation.

20 Thou, d who hast showed us great and sore troubles,
Wilt e quicken us again;
And thou wilt f bring us up again from the depths of the earth.

21 Thou z wilt increase my greatness,
And thou wilt turn again, to comfort me.

22 Also I will praise thee with the psaltery,
Even thy truth, O my God!
Unto thee will I sing with the harp,
Thou Holy One of Israel.

23 My lips shall greatly rejoice when I sing u unto thee,
And my soul, which thou hast redeemed.

24 My tongue also shall talk of s thy righteousness all the day;
For they are confounded, for they are brought to shame, who seek my hurt.

Israel,
Who alone doeth wondrous things!

BOOK III*.
PSALM LXXIII.

The Psalmist's sore perplexity at seeing the prosperity of the wicked, (17) until Divine teaching shows him the end of their course, (28) in contrast with that of the godly.

<sup>1</sup>TRULY God is good to Israel,
To <sup>b</sup>the pure in heart.
<sup>2</sup>But as for me, my feet were almost gone,
My <sup>c</sup>steps well nigh slipped.
<sup>3</sup>For <sup>d</sup>I was envious at the foolish,
When I saw <sup>t</sup>the prosperity of the wicked.
<sup>4</sup>For their death hath no pangs,
And their <sup>e</sup>strength is firm.
<sup>5</sup>They <sup>f</sup>are not troubled as other men,
Neither are they plagued like other men.
<sup>6</sup>Therefore pride encompasseth them, as a neck-chain,
Violence <sup>g</sup>covereth them <sup>v</sup>as a mantle.
<sup>7</sup>Their <sup>h</sup>eyes stand out with fatness,
They have more than heart imagineth*.
<sup>8</sup>They mock, and they wickedly speak oppression,
They speak haughtily †;
<sup>9</sup>They set their mouth in the heavens,
And their tongue walketh through the earth.
<sup>10</sup>Therefore his people turn hither, And waters in fulness are <sup>i</sup>drunk up by them.
<sup>11</sup>And they say, <sup>k</sup>How doth God know?
And is <sup>l</sup>there knowledge in the Most High?
<sup>12</sup>Behold, these are the wicked,
And, ever prosperous, <sup>m</sup>they increase in riches.
<sup>13</sup>Verily <sup>n</sup>in vain have I cleansed my heart,
And washed <sup>o</sup>my hands in innocency;
<sup>14</sup>And have been smitten <sup>p</sup>all the day,
And chastened every morning.
<sup>15</sup>If I say, I will speak thus, Behold, I should <sup>q</sup>be faithless to the generation of thy children.
<sup>16</sup>And I meditated to know this;
It was too painful for me †;
<sup>17</sup>Until <sup>r</sup>I went into the sanctuary of God,
And considered <sup>s</sup>their end.
<sup>18</sup>Surely <sup>t</sup>thou settest them in slippery places,
Thou <sup>u</sup>castest them down into ruin.
<sup>19</sup>How are they brought to desolation, <sup>v</sup>as in a moment!
They pass away, they perish with terrors.
<sup>20</sup>As <sup>w</sup>a dream when one awaketh,
So, O Lord, <sup>x</sup>when thou awakest, thou dost despise their image.

Why doth thine anger smoke against <sup>b</sup> the sheep of thy pasture? 2 Remember thy congregation which <sup>c</sup> thou didst purchase of old, The <sup>d</sup> tribe of thine inheritance which thou didst redeem, Mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt. 3 Lift up thy steps unto the perpetual desolations, All <sup>e</sup> that the enemy hath destroyed in the sanctuary. 4 Thine <sup>f</sup> enemies roared in the midst of thy congregation, They set up their signs for signs. 5 A <sup>g</sup> man was known as the lifter up of axes in the thicket of trees; 6 And now they break down <sup>h</sup> its carved work altogether, With hatchet and hammers. 7 They <sup>i</sup> have set on fire thy sanctuary, They have profaned <sup>j</sup> the dwelling-place of thy name to the ground. 8 They said in their hearts, <sup>k</sup> Let us destroy them together; They have burned up all God's places of assembly in the land.		9 We see not our signs; There <sup>l</sup> is no more any prophet, Nor any among us that knoweth how long. 10 How <sup>m</sup> long, O God, shall the adversary reproach? Shall the enemy blaspheme thy name for ever? 11 Why <sup>n</sup> withdrawest thou thy hand, even thy right hand? Pluck it out of thy bosom! 12 For <sup>o</sup> God is my King of old, Working salvation in the midst of the earth. 13 Thou <sup>p</sup> didst divide the sea by thy strength; Thou <sup>q</sup> didst break the heads of monsters on the waters. 14 Thou didst crush the heads of <sup>r</sup> leviathan in pieces, And gavest him for food to <sup>s</sup> a people inhabiting the desert. 15 Thou <sup>t</sup> didst cleave fountain and torrent, Thou <sup>u</sup> driedst up never-failing rivers. 16 The day is thine, the night also is thine, Thou <sup>v</sup> hast prepared the light and the sun. 17 Thou <sup>w</sup> hast set all the borders of the earth, Thou hast <sup>x</sup> formed summer and winter. 18 Remember <sup>y</sup> this, that an enemy hath blasphemed the LORD, And a foolish people have contemned thy name. 19 Deliver thou not the soul <sup>b</sup> of thy turtle-dove unto the multitude of the wicked *, Forget not the congregation of thy poor for ever. 20 Have <sup>c</sup> thou respect unto the covenant, For the dark places of the earth† are full of the habitations of <sup>d</sup> cruelty. 21 Let not the oppressed turn back ashamed, Let the poor and needy praise thy name. 22 Arise <sup>e</sup> , O God, plead thine own cause; Remember how the foolish man blasphemed thee all the day. 23 Forget not the voice of thine enemies, The <sup>f</sup> uproar of those that rise up against thee, going up continually.		11 Sam. 3. 1; Mic. 3. 6. m Ps. 78. 4, 5; Dan. 9. 16—18. n Lam. 2. 3. o Num. 23. 21. p Ex. 14. 21. q Ex. 14. 28; Is. 51. 9, 10. r Is. 27. 1. s Ex. 14. 31; Pro. 23. 25, 26; Joel 1. 6. t Ex. 17. 5, 6; Is. 48. 21. u Ge. 1. 3—5. v Ge. 1. 14—18. w Pro. 8. 27; Ac. 17. 26. x Ge. 8. 22. y Ps. 89. 50, 51. b S. PSALM LXXVII.

Sorrow and despondency (10) conquered by the remembrance of God's former deliverances of his people.

For the Chief musician; for Jeduthun†. A Psalm of Asaph.

1 MY voice is <sup>a</sup> unto God, and I will cry, Unto God is my voice; and <sup>b</sup> do thou give ear unto me.

2 In <sup>c</sup> the day of my trouble I sought the LORD:

My hand was stretched out in the night,
and ceased not:

My soul <sup>d</sup> refused to be comforted.

3 I <sup>e</sup> remember God, and I mourn,
I muse, and my <sup>f</sup> spirit fainteth. Selah.

4 Thou holdest <sup>g</sup> mine eyes watching.

6 I call to remembrance <sup>k</sup> my song in the night:

I <sup>l</sup> commune with my own heart,
And my spirit maketh search.

7 Will the Lord <sup>m</sup> cast off for ever?

And will he be favourable no more?

8 Is his mercy clean gone for ever?

Hath the promise failed to all generations?

9 Hath God <sup>n</sup> forgotten to be gracious?
Or hath he in anger shut up his tender mercies? Selah.

10 And I said, This is <sup>o</sup> my infirmity!

But I will remember the years of the right hand† of the Most High!

11 I <sup>p</sup> will remember the deeds of the LORD, Surely I will remember thy wonders from of old;

12 And I will meditate on all thy work,
And muse on thy doings.

13 Thy way, O God, is in holiness:

Who <sup>q</sup> is a great God as our God?

14 Thou art <sup>r</sup> the God that doest wonders, Thou madest known thy strength among the peoples.

15 Thou <sup>s</sup> didst with thine arm redeem thy people,

The sons of Jacob and Joseph. Selah.

16 The <sup>t</sup> waters saw thee, O God,

17 The clouds poured out water,

The skies uttered a voice;

PSALM, LXXVIII.

	<sup>31</sup> And the wrath of God came upon them, And slew the stoutest of them, And laid low the young men of Israel. <sup>32</sup> For all this, <sup>k</sup> they sinned still, And believed not in his wondrous works. <sup>33</sup> And he consumed <sup>l</sup> their days in vanity, And their years in terror. <sup>34</sup> When <sup>m</sup> he slew them, then they sought him, And they returned and sought earnestly after God : <sup>35</sup> And they remembered that <sup>n</sup> God was their rock, And the most high God <sup>o</sup> their redeemer. <sup>36</sup> But they deceived <sup>p</sup> him with their mouth, And they lied unto him with their tongue. <sup>37</sup> And their heart was not right with him, Neither <sup>q</sup> were they faithful in his cove- nant. <sup>38</sup> But <sup>r</sup> he, full of compassion, forgave the iniquity, and destroyed them not ; And many a time he turned his anger away, And did not stir up all his wrath. <sup>39</sup> For <sup>s</sup> he remembered that they were flesh, A <sup>t</sup> breath that passeth away, and cometh not again. <sup>40</sup> How oft did they <sup>u</sup> rebel against him in the wilderness, Grieve him in the desert ! <sup>41</sup> Yea, <sup>z</sup> again and again they tempted God, And grieved * the Holy One of Israel. <sup>42</sup> They remembered not his hand, The day when he delivered them from the enemy : <sup>43</sup> How <sup>v</sup> he set his signs in Egypt, And his wonders in the field of Zoan. <sup>44</sup> He <sup>w</sup> turned their rivers into blood, So that they could not drink of their streams. <sup>45</sup> He <sup>a</sup> sent the gad-fly among them, and consumed them ; <sup>46</sup> He <sup>c</sup> gave also their increase unto the caterpillar, And their labour unto the locust. <sup>47</sup> He <sup>d</sup> destroyed their vines with the hail, And their sycamore trees with frost. <sup>48</sup> And he gave up their cattle to the hail, And their herds to the lightnings. <sup>49</sup> He sent upon them the fierceness of his anger, Wrath and indignation and distress, By sending evil angels among them <sup>t</sup>. <sup>50</sup> He made a way for his anger ;	He spared not their soul from death, But gave their life over to the pestilence ; <sup>51</sup> And he <sup>e</sup> smote every firstborn in Egypt, The <sup>f</sup> firstlings of strength in the tents of <sup>g</sup> Ham. <sup>52</sup> And he made <sup>h</sup> his people to go forth, like a flock, And guided them in the wilderness, like a herd. <sup>53</sup> And he <sup>i</sup> led them on safely, and they feared not ; But the sea <sup>k</sup> overwhelmed their enemies. <sup>54</sup> And he brought them to <sup>l</sup> his holy bor- der. This mountain, <sup>m</sup> which his right hand won, <sup>55</sup> And he drove <sup>n</sup> out nations before them ; And he <sup>o</sup> allotted them an inheritance by line, And made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents. <sup>56</sup> But <sup>p</sup> they tempted and rebelled against God, the Most High, And kept not his testimonies : <sup>57</sup> And they <sup>q</sup> turned back, and dealt trea- cherously, like their fathers ; b Ps. 101. 1.

	I have laid help upon a mighty one, I have exalted one chosen out of the people ; 20 I <sup>a</sup> have found David my servant, With my holy oil have I anointed him ; 21 With whom my hand shall be established, Yea mine <sup>a</sup> arm shall strengthen him. 22 No enemy shall exact upon him, Nor shall the son of wickedness afflict him. 23 And I <sup>b</sup> will beat down his foes before his face, And will smite them that hate him. 24 And <sup>c</sup> my faithfulness and my mercy shall be with him, And in my name shall his horn be exalted. 25 And I <sup>d</sup> will set his hand on the sea, And his right hand on the rivers.		a Ps. 79. 4. b Lam. 2. 17. c Le. 26. 33, 37.

A Psalm of David.
1 BLESS ° the LORD, O my soul,

PSALMS, CHII, CIV.

And all that is within me, bless his holy name!

<sup>2</sup> Bless the LORD, O my soul,
And forget not all his benefits!

<sup>3</sup> Who <sup>b</sup> forgiveth all thine iniquities,
Who <sup>c</sup> healeth all thy diseases,
<sup>4</sup> Who <sup>d</sup> redeemeth thy life from destruction,
Who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies,

<sup>5</sup> Who <sup>e</sup> satisfieth thy mouth * with good things;
Thy <sup>f</sup> youth is renewed like the eagle's.

<sup>6</sup> The LORD <sup>g</sup> executeth righteousness,
And judgment for all the oppressed.
<sup>7</sup> He <sup>h</sup> made known his ways unto Moses,
His acts unto the children of Israel.

Slow <sup>k</sup> to anger and plenteous in mercy.
<sup>9</sup> He will not always chide,
Neither <sup>l</sup> will he keep his anger for ever.
<sup>10</sup> He <sup>m</sup> hath not dealt with us according to our sins,
Nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.

<sup>11</sup> For <sup>n</sup> as the heavens are high above the earth,
So great is his mercy toward them that fear
him.

<sup>12</sup> As far as the East is from the West <sup>t</sup>,
So far hath he <sup>o</sup> removed our transgressions from us.

<sup>13</sup> Like <sup>p</sup> as a father pitieth his children,
So the LORD pitieth them that fear him.

<sup>14</sup> For he knoweth our frame,
He <sup>q</sup> remembereth that we are dust.

<sup>15</sup> As for man, <sup>r</sup> his days are as grass,
As a flower of the field, so he flourisheth; <sup>16</sup> For <sup>s</sup> the wind passeth over it, and it is gone,

And <sup>t</sup> its place knoweth it no more.

<sup>17</sup> But <sup>u</sup> the mercy of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him,

And his righteousness unto children's children;
And his righteousness unto children's children;

<sup>18</sup> To <sup>v</sup> such as keep his covenant,
And to those that remember his commandments to do them.

<sup>19</sup> The LORD hath established his throne
in the heavens,

And his <sup>w</sup> kingdom ruleth over all.

<sup>20</sup> Bless the LORD, <sup>x</sup> ye his angels,
That excel in strength, that do his commandments,
Hearkening unto the voice of his word!

His <sup>b</sup> ministers, that do his pleasure!

In all places of his dominion!

Bless the LORD, O my soul!

PSALM CIV.

Praise to the Almighty Creator and Preserver of all things; which universally display his power, wisdom and goodness.

<sup>1</sup> BLESS <sup>a</sup> the LORD, O my soul!

O LORD, my God, thou art very great,
Thou art <sup>b</sup> clothed with honour and majesty.

<sup>2</sup> Who coverest thyself with <sup>c</sup> light, as with a mantle,
Who stretchest <sup>d</sup> out the heavens, like a curtain *:

<sup>3</sup> Who <sup>e</sup> layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters,
Who maketh clouds his chariot,
Who <sup>f</sup> goeth about upon the wings of the wind:

<sup>4</sup> Who maketh <sup>g</sup> the winds his messengers <sup>t</sup>,
The flaming fire his ministers.

<sup>5</sup> He set the earth on its <sup>h</sup> foundations;
It <sup>i</sup> shall not be removed for ever.

<sup>6</sup> Thou <sup>k</sup> coverdest it with the deep, as with a garment,
The waters stood above the mountains;

<sup>7</sup> At thy rebuke they fled,
At the voice of thy thunder they hasted away—

<sup>8</sup> The mountains rose, the valleys sank—Unto <sup>l</sup> the place which thou hadst founded for them.

<sup>9</sup> Thou <sup>m</sup> didst set a bound, that they cannot pass over;
That <sup>n</sup> they return not, to cover the earth.

<sup>10</sup> He sendeth springs in the valleys;
They flow between the mountains;

<sup>11</sup> They give drink to every beast of the field,

The wild asses quench their thirst.

<sup>12</sup> Above them dwell the birds of heaven,
Which sing among the branches.

<sup>13</sup> He <sup>o</sup> watereth the mountains from his chambers:

The <sup>p</sup> earth is filled with the fruit of thy works.

<sup>14</sup> He <sup>q</sup> causeth grass to grow for the cattle,

And herb for the service of man,
Bringing forth bread out of the earth;

<sup>15</sup> And with <sup>r</sup> wine he maketh glad the heart of man,

With oil making his face to shine,
And with bread he strengtheneth man's heart.

11 The <sup>a</sup> word of the LORD had proved him.
12 The king sent and loosed him,
The ruler of the peoples, and let him go free.
13 He <sup>a</sup> made him lord of his house,
And ruler of all his substance;
14 To bind his princes at his pleasure,
And to teach his senators wisdom.
15 And Israel <sup>a</sup> came into Egypt,
And Jacob sojourned in <sup>v</sup> the land of Ham.
16 And he <sup>a</sup> made his people fruitful exceedingly,
And he made them stronger than their enemies.
17 He <sup>a</sup> turned their heart to hate his people,
To deal subtilly with his servants.
18 He <sup>b</sup> sent Moses his servant,
And <sup>c</sup> Aaron whom he had chosen.
19 They <sup>d</sup> showed among them his signs,
And wonders, in the land of Ham.
20 He sent <sup>e</sup> darkness, and made it dark;
And they rebelled not against his word.
21 He <sup>f</sup> turned their waters into blood,
And caused their fish to die
22 Their <sup>g</sup> land swarmed with frogs,
In the chambers of their kings.
23 He <sup>h</sup> spake, and the gadfly came
And gnats* in all their borders.
24 He gave them <sup>i</sup> hail for rain,
And flaming fire in their land.
25 And he smote their vines and their fig trees,
And brake the trees of their borders.
26 He spake, and the <sup>k</sup> locusts came,
And the caterpillars, and that without number,
27 And they ate up every herb in their land,
And devoured the fruit of their ground.
28 He <sup>l</sup> smote every firstborn in their land,
The <sup>m</sup> prime of all their strength.
29 And he <sup>n</sup> brought them forth, with silver and gold;
And there <sup>o</sup> was not a feeble person among his tribes.
30 Egypt <sup>p</sup> was glad when they departed,
For the dread of them had fallen upon them.
31 He <sup>q</sup> spread a cloud for a covering,
And fire to give light in the night.
32 They asked, and he <sup>r</sup> brought quails,
And he <sup>s</sup> satisfied them with the bread of heaven.
33 He <sup>t</sup> opened the rock, and the waters gushed out,
They ran in the dry places, like a river.

42 For he remembered <sup>u</sup> his holy word,
And Abraham his servant;
43 And he <sup>x</sup> led forth his people with joy,
His chosen with gladness;
44 And he gave <sup>y</sup> them the lands of the nations,
And they took possession of the labour of the peoples;
45 That <sup>z</sup> they might observe his statutes,
And keep his laws.
Praise ye the LORD.

PSALM CVI.

Praise and prayer, introducing (6) a confession of Israel's ungrateful returns for God's mercies, (7) in Egypt, and at the Red Sea, (13) in the desert, and (34) after their settlement in Canaan; concluding with (40) an acknowledgment of the justice of God's chastisements, and (47) a prayer for restoration.

1 PRAISE ye the LORD!
Give <sup>a</sup> thanks unto the LORD, for he is good,
For his mercy is for ever.
2 Who <sup>b</sup> can utter the mighty acts of the LORD?
Who can shew forth all his praise?
3 Blessed <sup>c</sup> are they that <sup>c</sup> keep judgment,
He that <sup>d</sup> doeth righteousness at all times.
4 Remember <sup>e</sup> me, O LORD, with the favour thou bearest unto thy people,
Visit me with thy salvation;
5 That I may see the good of <sup>f</sup> thy chosen,
That I may rejoice in the gladness of thy nation,
That I may glory with <sup>g</sup> thine inheritance.
6 We <sup>h</sup> have sinned, with our fathers,
We have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.
7 Our <sup>i</sup> fathers in Egypt considered not thy wonders,
They <sup>k</sup> remembered not the multitude of thy mercies;
But <sup>l</sup> rebelled at the Sea, at the Red Sea.
8 Yet he saved them, <sup>m</sup> for his name's sake,
To <sup>n</sup> make known his mighty power;
9 And he <sup>o</sup> rebuked the Red Sea, and it dried up;
And <sup>p</sup> he led them through the depths, as through the wilderness.
10 And he <sup>q</sup> saved them from the hand of him that hated them,
And <sup>r</sup> redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.
11 And <sup>s</sup> the waters covered their enemies,
There was not one of them left.
12 Then <sup>t</sup> believed they his words,
They sang his praise.
13 They <sup>u</sup> soon forgot his doings,
They waited not for his counsel;

BOOK V. PSALM CVII.

A call to all who have experienced God's protection and deliverance to praise him for his merciful answers to their prayers.

- GIVE <sup>a</sup> thanks unto the LORD, for he is good,
For his mercy is for ever.
- Let the redeemed of the LORD say so,
Whom <sup>b</sup> he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy;

PSALM, CVII.

<sup>f</sup> Ps. 77. 20; Ezra 8. 21-23.	6 And they <sup>e</sup> cried unto the LORD in their trouble; He delivered them out of their distresses,	26 They mount up to the heaven, They go down again to the depths,
	7 And he <sup>f</sup> led them forth by a right way, That they might go to a city of habita- tion;	27 They reel and stagger like a drunken man, And are at their wit's end.
	8 Let them praise the LORD, for his mercy, And his wonderful works to the children of men!	28 Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, And he bringeth them out of their dis- tresses;
<sup>g</sup> Jer. 31. 14; Mt. 5. 6; Lk. 1. 53.	9 For <sup>g</sup> he satisfieth the longing soul, And filleth the hungry soul with good.	29 He <sup>v</sup> maketh the storm a calm, So that the waves thereof are still;	<sup>y</sup> Ps. 69. 9; Mt. 8. 26.
<sup>A</sup> Is. 9. 2; Lk. 1. 79.	10 Such as sat <sup>a</sup> in darkness and in the shadow of death, Bound in affliction and iron;	30 Then are they glad because they are quiet; And he bringeth them to their desired haven.
<sup>i</sup> Is. 63. 10, 11; Lam. 5. 42.	11 Because they <sup>i</sup> rebelled against the words of God, And contemned <sup>k</sup> the counsel of the Most High;	31 Let them praise the LORD for his mercy, And his wonderful works to the children of men;
<sup>k</sup> 2 Chr. 33. 10; Lk. 7. 50.	12 And he <sup>j</sup> brought down their heart with labour,	32 And let them exalt him <sup>z</sup> in the congre- gation of the people, And praise him in the assembly of the elders!	<sup>z</sup> Ps. 22. 23, 25; 111. 1.
<sup>l</sup> Ps. 108. 43; Ne. 9. 37.	They fell down, and there was <sup>m</sup> no helper.

PSALM CX.

A divine oracle, (1) assuring to the King of Zion a share in Jehovah's regal dignity, (4) a royal and eternal priesthood, and (5) victory over all his enemies.

A Psalm of David.

<sup>1</sup> THE <sup>a</sup> LORD said unto my Lord:
Sit thou at my right hand,
Until <sup>b</sup> I make thine enemies
A <sup>c</sup> footstool for thy feet.

<sup>2</sup> The sceptre of thy might Will the LORD send forth out of Zion;
Rule thou in the midst of thine enemies.

<sup>3</sup> Thy people are willing * in the day of thy power,
In the beauties of holiness†;
From the womb of the morning,
Thou hast the <sup>d</sup> dew of thy young men.

<sup>4</sup> The LORD hath sworn, and he will not repent;
Thou <sup>e</sup> art a priest for ever,
After the order of Melchizedek.

<sup>5</sup> The Lord, at thy right hand,
Hath smitten kings <sup>f</sup> in the day of his wrath.

<sup>6</sup> He <sup>h</sup> shall judge among the nations,
He <sup>i</sup> shall fill the land with dead bodies,
He shall <sup>k</sup> smite the head over a great land.

<sup>7</sup> He shall drink of the brook in the way;
Therefore shall he lift up the head.

<sup>3</sup> His work is honourable and glorious,

<sup>4</sup> He hath made a <sup>d</sup> memorial for his wonderful works;
The LORD is gracious and full of compas-

<sup>5</sup> He hath given food unto them that fear
him;
He will ever be mindful of his covenant.

<sup>6</sup> He <sup>e</sup> hath showed to his people the might of his works;
To give <sup>f</sup> them the heritage of the nations.

<sup>7</sup> The works of his hands are <sup>g</sup> verity and judgment,
All his commandments are faithful;
<sup>8</sup> They <sup>h</sup> stand fast for ever and ever Done <sup>i</sup> in truth and uprightness.

<sup>9</sup> He <sup>k</sup> sent redemption for his people;
He <sup>l</sup> hath established his covenant for

PSALM CXIV.

God's wonderful doings for his people while leading them from Egypt to the promised land.

1 WHEN Israel went out of Egypt,
 The house of Jacob from a people of strange language,

<sup>2</sup> Judah became his sanctuary,
 Israel his dominions.
<sup>3</sup> The <sup>a</sup> sea saw, and fled,
 The Jordan <sup>b</sup> turned back;

 The hills like lambs.
<sup>5</sup> What <sup>d</sup> aileth thee, O sea, that thou fleest?
 Thou Jordan, that thou turnest back?
<sup>6</sup> Ye mountains, that ye skip like rams,
 Ye hills, like lambs?

 At the presence of the God of Jacob;

 The flint into a fountain of waters.

PSALM CXVI.

Thanksgiving to God for deliverance from peril of death, and other great mercies—(12) Grateful self-consecration to his service.

<sup>1</sup> I <sup>a</sup> LOVE the LORD, because he heareth
My voice and my supplications;

<sup>2</sup> For he hath inclined his ear unto me;
And I will call upon him as long as I live.

<sup>3</sup> The <sup>b</sup> cords of death encompassed me,
And the pains of Sheol† gat hold upon
me;

I found trouble and sorrow.

<sup>4</sup> Then called I upon the name of the LORD:

O LORD, I beseech thee, <sup>c</sup> deliver my soul!

<sup>5</sup> Gracious is the LORD, and <sup>d</sup> righteous, Yea, our God is merciful.

<sup>6</sup> The LORD preserveth the simple;
I was brought low, and he helped me.

<sup>7</sup> Return unto thy <sup>e</sup> rest, O my soul,
For <sup>f</sup> the LORD hath dealt bountifully with thee.

<sup>8</sup> For <sup>g</sup> thou hast delivered my soul from death,

Mine <sup>h</sup> eyes from tears, and <sup>i</sup> my feet from falling.

<sup>9</sup> I will <sup>k</sup> walk before the LORD,
In the land of the living.

<sup>10</sup> I <sup>l</sup> believed, therefore have I spoken;
As for me, I was greatly afflicted:

<sup>11</sup> As for me, I <sup>m</sup> said in my haste,
All <sup>n</sup> men are liars.

<sup>12</sup> What <sup>o</sup> shall I render unto the LORD
For all his benefits towards me?

<sup>13</sup> I will take the cup of salvation,

Thou hast loosed my bonds.

<sup>17</sup> I will offer to thee <sup>s</sup> the sacrifice of thanksgiving.

<sup>1</sup> PRAISE <sup>a</sup> the LORD, all ye nations,
Laud him, all ye peoples!

<sup>2</sup> For his mercy is great towards us,
And <sup>b</sup> the truth of the LORD is for ever.

Praise ye the LORD†!

PSALM CXVIII.

Praise to (1) the ever-merciful Jehovah, for (5) hearing the prayers of his people, and (10) delivering them from their enemies.

<sup>1</sup> GIVE thanks unto the LORD, for he is good,

For his mercy endureth for ever;

<sup>2</sup> Oh let <sup>a</sup> Israel say,

That his mercy endureth for ever;

<sup>3</sup> Oh let the house of Aaron say,

That his mercy endureth for ever;

<sup>4</sup> Oh let them who fear the LORD say,

That his mercy endureth for ever.

<sup>5</sup> I <sup>b</sup> called upon the LORD‡ in distress;
The LORD§ answered me, and <sup>c</sup> set me in a large place.

<sup>6</sup> The <sup>d</sup> LORD is for me; I will not fear;
What can man do unto me?

<sup>7</sup> The <sup>e</sup> LORD is for me, among my helpers,
And I shall <sup>f</sup> see my desire upon them that hate me.

<sup>8</sup> It <sup>g</sup> is better to trust in the LORD
Than to put confidence in man;

<sup>9</sup> It <sup>h</sup> is better to trust in the LORD
Than to put confidence in princes.

<sup>10</sup> All <sup>i</sup> nations compassed me about;
But in the name of the LORD I shall destroy them.

<sup>11</sup> They <sup>k</sup> compassed me about, yea they compassed me about;

But in the name of the LORD I shall destroy them.

<sup>12</sup> They compassed me about like bees,
They are quenched <sup>l</sup> as the fire of thorns;
For <sup>m</sup> in the name of the LORD I shall destroy them.

<sup>13</sup> Thou didst thrust sorely at me, that I might fall,

But the LORD helped me.

<sup>14</sup> The LORD§ is <sup>n</sup> my strength and song,
And he is become my salvation.

<sup>15</sup> The <sup>o</sup> voice of rejoicing and salvation
Is in the tents of the righteous;
The right hand of the LORD doeth valiantly:

PSALM CXXII.

The gladness of going up to the holy city for worship—(3) Her privileges and glory—(6) Prayer for her prosperity.

A Song of * the goings up. Of David.

1 I WAS <sup>a</sup> glad when they said† unto me,

Let <sup>b</sup> us go to the house of the LORD.

2 Our feet shall stand;

Within thy gates, O Jerusalem!

3 Jerusalem, which art built,

As a city that is compact together:

4 Whither <sup>c</sup> the tribes go up, the tribes of the LORD,

An ordinance for Israel||,

To give thanks unto the name of the LORD.

5 For <sup>d</sup> there are set thrones for judgment, Thrones of the house of David.

6 Pray ye for the peace of Jerusalem;

They shall§ prosper that love thee!

7 Peace be within thy walls,

Prosperity within thy palaces!

8 For my brethren and companions' sakes, I will now say, Peace be within thee!

9 For the sake of the house of the LORD, our God

I will <sup>f</sup> seek thy good.

PSALM CXXIII*.

Prayer under scornful oppression.

A Song of† the goings up.

1 UNTO thee <sup>a</sup> do I lift up mine eyes, O <sup>b</sup> thou who dwellest in the heavens!

2 Behold, as the eyes of servants are towards the hand of their masters,

As the eyes of a maid-servant towards the hand of her mistress;

So our eyes <sup>c</sup> are towards the LORD our God,

Until he have mercy upon us.

3 Have mercy upon us, O LORD, have mercy upon us,

For <sup>d</sup> we are exceedingly filled with contempt.

4 Our soul is exceedingly filled With the scorn of those that are at ease,

With the contempt of the proud.

PSALM CXXIV.

Thanksgiving for deliverance from imminent danger.

A Song of† the goings up. Of David.

1 IF it had not been <sup>a</sup> the LORD who was on our side—

Oh let Israel say—

2 If it had not been the LORD who was on our side,

When men <sup>b</sup> rose up against us;

3 Then they had <sup>c</sup> swallowed us up alive, When their wrath was kindled against us;

4 Then <sup>d</sup> the waters had overwhelmed us, The stream had gone over our soul;

5 Then the proud waters Had gone over our soul.

6 Blessed be the LORD,

Who <sup>e</sup> hath not given us a prey to their teeth.

7 Our soul is like <sup>f</sup> a bird escaped from the snare of the fowlers,

The snare is broken, and we are escaped.

8 Our <sup>g</sup> help is in the name of the LORD, The Maker of heaven and earth.

PSALM CXXV*.

The safety of those who trust in the Lord.

A Song of† the goings up.

1 THEY that trust in the LORD are as mount Zion,

Which shall not be moved, it abideth for ever.

2 The mountains are round about Jerusalem;

And <sup>a</sup> the LORD is round about his people, Henceforth, even for evermore.

3 For the rod† of wickedness shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous,

Lest the righteous put forth their hands unto iniquity.

4 Do <sup>b</sup> good, O LORD, unto the good, And to them that are <sup>c</sup> upright in their hearts.

5 But <sup>d</sup> as for those that turn <sup>d</sup> aside unto their crooked ways,

The LORD will lead them away with the workers of iniquity.

Peace <sup>e</sup> be upon Israel.

PSALM CXXVI*.

Grateful joy of the returned exiles; and (4) prayer for complete restoration.

A Song of† the goings up.

1 WHEN <sup>a</sup> the LORD turned again the captivity of Zion,

We were like them that dream;

2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter, And our tongue with singing.

Then <sup>b</sup> said they among the nations:

The LORD hath done great things for these!

3 The LORD hath done great things for us;

Whereof we are glad.

4 Turn again our captivity†, O LORD,

As streams in the south.

6 They that <sup>c</sup> sow in tears

Shall reap in joy.

6 He that <sup>d</sup> goeth forth weeping,

Bearing the seed for sowing,

Shall doubtless come again with rejoicing,

Bringing his sheaves.

A Song of* the goings up. Of Solomon.

<sup>1</sup> EXCEPT <sup>a</sup> the LORD build the house,
They labour in vain that build it;
Except <sup>b</sup> the LORD keep the city,
The keeper watcheth in vain.

<sup>2</sup> Vain is it for you who rise up early,
who sit up late,
Who <sup>c</sup> eat the bread of sorrows;
So he giveth to his beloved sleep†.

<sup>5</sup> Happy is the man that hath filled his

PSALM CXXVIII.

The happiness of the man who fears and serves God.

<sup>4</sup> Behold, surely thus shall the man be blessed
That feareth the LORD.

And <sup>f</sup> mayest thou behold the good of Peace <sup>g</sup> be upon Israel!

PSALM CXXIX.

Israel's many past deliverances an earnest of future mercies and final victory.

A Song of¶ the goings up

<sup>1</sup> MANY a time <sup>a</sup> have they oppressed

<sup>2</sup> Many a time have they oppressed me

The blessing of the LORD <sup>f</sup> be upon you,

A Song of* the goings up.

<sup>1</sup> OUT <sup>a</sup> of the depths I call unto thee,

<sup>2</sup> Lord, hear my voice,
Let thine ears be attentive
To the voice of my supplications.

<sup>3</sup> Israel, <sup>b</sup> hope thou in the LORD, Henceforth, even for ever.

PSALM CXXXII*.

A prayer (1) recording David's holy zeal and vow, and (2) supplicating God's presence in the place prepared for his worship; (11) in fulfilment of his promises to David and his people.

A Song of † the goings up.

<sup>1</sup> LORD, remember for David
All his trouble;

<sup>2</sup> How <sup>a</sup> he sware unto the LORD,

And vowed unto the mighty One of Jacob;

<sup>3</sup> Surely I will not come into the tent of my house,

Nor go up into the couch of my bed;

<sup>4</sup> I will not give sleep to mine eyes,
Slumber to mine eyelids

<sup>5</sup> Until I <sup>b</sup> find a place for the LORD, Tabernacles for the mighty One of Jacob.

<sup>6</sup> Lo, we heard of it at Ephratah,
We found it in the fields of the wood :

<sup>7</sup> Let us go into his tabernacles,
Let us worship at his footstool.

<sup>8</sup> Arise, <sup>c</sup> O LORD, into thy resting-place,
Thou, and <sup>d</sup> the ark of thy strength.

<sup>9</sup> Let thy priests <sup>e</sup> be clothed with righteousness,

And let thy saints shout for joy.

<sup>10</sup> For thy servant David's sake,
Turn not away the face of thine anointed.

<sup>11</sup> The LORD <sup>f</sup> sware truth unto David,
He will not turn back from it ;
Of <sup>g</sup> the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne.

<sup>12</sup> If <sup>h</sup> thy sons will keep my covenant,
And my testimony, that I shall teach them,
Their sons also, for evermore,
Shall sit upon thy throne.

<sup>13</sup> For <sup>i</sup> the LORD hath chosen Zion,
He hath desired it for his habitation.

<sup>14</sup> This is <sup>k</sup> my resting-place for ever,
Here will I dwell, for I have desired it.

<sup>15</sup> I will abundantly bless her provision,
I will satisfy her poor with bread.

<sup>16</sup> And I will clothe her priests with salvation,

And her saints shall shout aloud for joy.

<sup>17</sup> There will I <sup>l</sup> make a horn to shoot forth for David ;

I have prepared a <sup>m</sup> lamp for mine anoint-ed.

<sup>18</sup> His enemies will I <sup>n</sup> clothe with shame,
But upon him shall his crown flourish.

PSALM CXXXIII.

The blessedness of brotherly love and unity.

A Song of || the goings up. Of David.

<sup>1</sup> BEHOLD, how good it is, and how pleasant,

For brethren to dwell together in unity !

<sup>2</sup> It is like <sup>a</sup> the precious oil upon the head,

Descending upon the beard, Aaron's beard,
That descended to the border of his garments ;

<sup>3</sup> Like the dew of <sup>b</sup> Hermon,
That descendeth upon the mountains of Zion :

For <sup>c</sup> there the LORD hath commanded the blessing,

Life for evermore.

PSALM CXXXIV.

The people's salutation to the Levites keeping watch by night in the temple, and (3) their responding benediction.

A Song of <sup>a</sup> the goings up.

<sup>1</sup> BEHOLD, bless ye the LORD, all ye servants of the LORD,

Who <sup>a</sup> stand by night in the house of the LORD ;

<sup>2</sup> Lift <sup>b</sup> up your hands in the sanctuary <sup>t</sup>,
And bless ye the LORD.

<sup>3</sup> The LORD, the Maker of heaven and earth,

Bless <sup>c</sup> thee out of Zion.

PSALM CXXXV.

Praise to God for his power manifested (5) in creation, and (8) in his great doings for his people; (15) contrasted with the nothingness of idols.

Praise ye the name of the LORD,

Praise, <sup>a</sup> ye servants of the LORD !

<sup>2</sup> Ye <sup>b</sup> that stand in the house of the LORD,
In the courts of the house of our God !

<sup>3</sup> Praise ye the LORD, for <sup>c</sup> the LORD is good ;
Sing praises || unto his name, <sup>d</sup> for it is pleasant.

<sup>4</sup> For <sup>e</sup> the LORD § hath chosen Jacob for himself,

Israel for his <sup>f</sup> peculiar treasure¶.

In heaven and in earth,
In the seas and all depths.

<sup>7</sup> He <sup>i</sup> causeth vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth,

He <sup>k</sup> maketh lightnings for the rain,
He sendeth forth the wind out of his <sup>l</sup> treasures.

Both of man and beast.

<sup>9</sup> Who <sup>n</sup> sent tokens and wonders into the midst of thee, O Egypt,

Upon <sup>o</sup> Pharaoh, and upon all his servants.

PSALM CXXXVIII.

Praise to God (2) for his goodness and faithfulness; (4) which shall be acknowledged by all the kings of the earth; and (7) in which the psalmist will ever trust.

<sup>1</sup> I <sup>a</sup> WILL give thanks unto thee with my whole heart,

Before <sup>b</sup> the gods will I sing praise unto thee.

<sup>2</sup> I <sup>c</sup> will worship toward thy holy temple,
And give thanks unto thy name, for thy lovingkindness and for thy truth;
For thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name.

<sup>3</sup> In <sup>d</sup> the day when I called, thou answer-edst me,

Thou didst strengthen* me <sup>e</sup> with strength in my soul.

<sup>4</sup> All <sup>f</sup> the kings of the earth shall praise thee, O LORD,

When they hear the words of thy mouth;
<sup>5</sup> Yea, they shall sing of the ways of the LORD;

That <sup>g</sup> great is the glory of the LORD.

<sup>6</sup> For the LORD is high, <sup>h</sup> but he hath respect unto the lowly,
And the proud he knoweth afar off.

<sup>7</sup> Though <sup>i</sup> I walk in the midst of trouble, thou wilt revive me;

Thou <sup>k</sup> wilt stretch forth thy hand against the wrath of mine enemies,

And <sup>l</sup> thy right hand shall save me.

<sup>8</sup> The <sup>m</sup> LORD will perfect that which con-cerneth me;

Thy mercy, O LORD, is for ever;
Forsake not the works of thine own hands.

PSALM CXXXIX.

The omniscience and omnipresence of God devoutly contemplated—(19) Prayer for the overthrow of the wicked, and (23) for real separation in character from them.

For the Chief musician. A Psalm of David.

<sup>1</sup> O LORD, <sup>a</sup> thou hast searched me, and thou knowest me,

<sup>2</sup> Thou knowest my down-sitting and mine up-rising,

Thou <sup>b</sup> understandest my thought afar off.

<sup>3</sup> Thou <sup>c</sup> examinest my path and my lying down,

And <sup>d</sup> art acquainted with all my ways.

<sup>4</sup> For there is not a word in my tongue,

But lo, O LORD, <sup>e</sup> thou knowest it all.

<sup>5</sup> Behind and before thou hast beset me,
And laid thy hand upon me.

<sup>6</sup> Knowledge <sup>f</sup> too wonderful for me!

It is high, I cannot attain unto it.

<sup>7</sup> Whither shall I flee from thy Spirit?

Or <sup>g</sup> whither shall I go from thy presence?

<sup>8</sup> If <sup>h</sup> I ascend up into heaven, thou art there,

If I make my bed in Sheol*, behold <sup>i</sup> thou art there.

<sup>9</sup> If I take the wings of the morning,
And dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea,

<sup>10</sup> Even there shall thy hand lead me,
And thy right hand shall hold me.

<sup>11</sup> And if I say, <sup>k</sup> Surely the darkness shall cover me,

And the light around me be night;
<sup>12</sup> Even <sup>l</sup> darkness will not hide from thee,

But the night will shine as the day;
Darkness is as light to thee.

<sup>13</sup> For thou didst form my reins,

Thou <sup>m</sup> didst cover† me in my mother's womb.

<sup>14</sup> I will praise thee, for I am fearfully, wonderfully, made:

Wonderful are thy works,

And my soul knoweth it well.

<sup>15</sup> My substance† was not hidden from thee,
When I was made in secret,

When I was curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth.

<sup>16</sup> Thine eyes saw my unformed substance;
And in thy book all my members were written,

In the days they were fashioned, when there was none of them.

<sup>17</sup> And how precious are thy thoughts unto me, O God!

How <sup>n</sup> great is the sum of them!

<sup>18</sup> If I recount them, they are more in number than the sand;

When I awake, I am still with thee.

<sup>19</sup> Surely thou wilt slay the wicked, O God!

Depart from me therefore, ye bloody men.

<sup>20</sup> For they <sup>o</sup> speak against thee wickedly,
Thine enemies take thy name in vain!

<sup>21</sup> Shall not I hate them, O LORD, that hate thee?

And shall I not be grieved with those that rise up against thee?

Prayer for (1) pardoning mercy, (3) for deliverance from enemies, and (5) for Divine teaching and guidance.

A Psalm of David.

<sup>1</sup> HEAR my prayer, O LORD,

Oh give ear to my supplications ;

In <sup>a</sup>thy faithfulness answer me, and in thy righteousness.

<sup>2</sup> And enter not into judgment with thy servant,

For <sup>b</sup>in thy sight no one living is righteous.

<sup>3</sup> For <sup>c</sup>the enemy hath persecuted my soul,

He hath smitten my life down to the ground,

He hath made me dwell in darkness, like those that have been long dead.

<sup>4</sup> And <sup>d</sup>my spirit fainteth within me,
My heart within me is desolate.

<sup>6</sup> I <sup>f</sup>stretch forth my hands unto thee,

My <sup>g</sup>soul, thirsting for thee, is as a parched land. Selah.

For in thee do I trust.

should walk,

For <sup>m</sup>unto thee do I lift up my soul.

<sup>9</sup> Deliver me, O LORD, from mine enemies ;

Unto thee I flee for refuge.

<sup>10</sup> Teach <sup>n</sup>me to do thy will,

And destroy all them that afflict my soul ;

For I am thy servant.

The king's thanksgiving for Divine help in battle and in distress—(3) Man's frailty and nothingness contrasted with God's greatness—(5) Prayer for deliverance from treacherous enemies, and (12) for national prosperity.

<sup>8</sup> Whose mouth <sup>m</sup>speaketh deceit,

PSALM CXLVII.

Praise to God for his works and ways in creation and in providence, and (12) especially for his deliverance and restoration of Israel.

1 PRAISE ye the LORD ! *

For <sup>a</sup> it is good to sing praises † unto our God,
For it is pleasant, and <sup>b</sup> praise is comely.

2 The LORD doth <sup>c</sup> build up Jerusalem,
He <sup>d</sup> will gather together the outcasts of Israel.

3 He <sup>e</sup> healeth the broken in heart,
And bindeth up their wounds.

4 He <sup>f</sup> counteth the number of the stars,
He calleth them all by their names.

5 Great is our Lord, and of great power,
His <sup>g</sup> understanding is infinite.

6 The LORD <sup>h</sup> raiseth up the lowly,
He casteth the wicked down to the ground.

7 Sing ye unto the LORD with thanksgiving,
Sing praise upon the harp † unto our God :

8 Who <sup>i</sup> covereth the heaven with clouds,
Who prepareth rain for the earth,
Who maketh grass to grow upon the mountains.

9 He <sup>k</sup> giveth to the cattle their food,
And to <sup>l</sup> the young ravens which cry.

10 He <sup>m</sup> delighteth not in the strength of the horse,
He taketh not pleasure in the legs of a man.

11 The LORD <sup>n</sup> taketh pleasure in them that fear him,
In them that hope in his mercy.

12 Praise the LORD, O Jerusalem,
Praise <sup>o</sup> thy God, O Zion !

13 For <sup>p</sup> he hath strengthened the bars of thy gates,
He hath blessed thy children within thee.

14 He <sup>q</sup> maketh thy border peace,
He <sup>r</sup> satisfieth thee with the finest of the wheat. †

15 He <sup>s</sup> sendeth his commandment to the earth,
His word runneth very swiftly.

16 He <sup>t</sup> giveth snow like wool,
He scattereth the hoarfrost like ashes ;

17 He casteth forth his ice like morsels ;
Who can stand before his cold ?

18 He <sup>u</sup> sendeth out his word, and melteth them,
He causeth his wind to blow, and the waters flow.

19 He <sup>v</sup> declareth his word unto Jacob,
His <sup>x</sup> statutes and his judgments unto Israel.

20 He <sup>y</sup> hath not dealt so with any nation,
And as for his judgments, they know them not.

Praise ye the LORD ! *

PSALM CXLVIII.

A call to all creatures, (1) in the heavens and (7) on earth, to praise their almighty Creator and Preserver.

1 PRAISE ye the LORD !

Praise ye the LORD <sup>a</sup> from the heavens,
Praise him in the heights.

2 Praise him, <sup>b</sup> all his angels,
Praise him, all his hosts !

3 Praise him, sun and moon,
Praise him, all ye stars of light !

4 Praise him, <sup>c</sup> ye heavens of heavens,
And <sup>d</sup> ye waters that are above the heavens !

5 Let them praise the name of the LORD ;
For <sup>e</sup> he commanded, and they were created ;

6 And he established <sup>f</sup> them for ever and ever,
He set a bound, which none shall pass over.

7 Praise the LORD from the earth,
Ye <sup>g</sup> sea-monsters, and all deeps !

8 Fire and hail, snow and vapours,
Stormy wind, <sup>h</sup> fulfilling his word !

9 Ye mountains <sup>i</sup> and all hills,
Fruit-trees and all cedars ;

10 Wild beasts and all cattle,
Creeping things and winged birds !

11 Kings of the earth and all peoples,
Princes, and all judges of the earth ;

12 Both young men and maidens,
Both old men and children !

13 Let them praise the name of the LORD ;
For <sup>k</sup> his name alone is exalted,
His majesty is above earth and heaven.

14 And he <sup>l</sup> hath lifted up a horn for his people,

A praise for all his saints ;
For the children of Israel,
The people <sup>m</sup> near unto him.

Praise ye the LORD !

PSALM CXLIX.

Praise to the God of Israel, for (2) his mercies to his people, and (5) judgments on their enemies.

1 PRAISE ye the LORD !

O sing <sup>a</sup> unto the LORD a new song,
His praise in the congregation of saints.

2 Let Israel rejoice in his Maker,
Let the children of Zion <sup>b</sup> be joyful in their King.

PROVERBS, I.—III.

She uttereth her voice in the broadways; <sup>21</sup> She crieth in the chief place of con- course, At the entrance of the gates, In the city, she uttereth her words: <sup>22</sup> How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity, And scorners delight themselves in scorn- ing, And fools hate knowledge? <sup>23</sup> Turn <sup>b</sup> ye at my reproof; Behold, <sup>c</sup> I will pour forth my spirit unto you, I will make known to you my words. <sup>24</sup> Because <sup>d</sup> I have called, and ye re- fused, I have <sup>e</sup> stretched out my hand, and no one regarded; <sup>25</sup> And ye have <sup>f</sup> set at nought all my counsel, And would none of my reproof; <sup>26</sup> So <sup>g</sup> I <sup>h</sup> will laugh at your calamity, I will mock when your fear cometh; <sup>27</sup> When <sup>i</sup> your fear cometh like a storm, And your calamity cometh like a whirl- wind, When distress and <sup>j</sup> anguish come upon you. <sup>28</sup> Then <sup>k</sup> will they call upon me, but I will not answer; They will seek me early, but they will not find me. <sup>29</sup> Because they hated knowledge, And did not choose the fear of the LORD; <sup>30</sup> They <sup>k</sup> would none of my counsel, They despised all my reproof. <sup>31</sup> Therefore <sup>l</sup> shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, And be filled with their own devices. <sup>32</sup> For the turning aside of the simple shall slay them, And the security of fools shall destroy them. <sup>33</sup> But <sup>m</sup> whose hearkeneth unto me shall dwell safely, And <sup>n</sup> shall be at rest, without fear of evil. The excellencies and advantages of wisdom. 2. PROVERBS, VII, VIII.

	In the black and dark night.	4 Unto you, men, I call,
10	And behold, there met him a woman,	And my voice is to the sons of man.
	In the attire of a harlot, and subtle of heart.	5 Ye <sup>b</sup> simple, understand wisdom,	b ch. 1. 22.
p ch. 9. 13, 15.	11 She is <sup>p</sup> loud and stubborn,	And, ye fools, be of an understanding heart.
	Her feet abide not in her house ;	6 Hear, for I speak excellent things,
	12 Now in the street, now in the broad-ways,	And the opening of my lips is right things.
7 ch. 23. 23.	Yea <sup>q</sup> at every corner, she lieth in wait.	7 For my mouth uttereth truth,
	13 And she caught him and kissed him ;	And wickedness is abomination to my lips.
	With an impudent face she said unto him,	8 All <sup>e</sup> the words of my mouth are in righteousness,	e Is. 65. 1.
	14 Peace offerings are binding upon me,	There is nothing froward or perverse in them.
	This day have I paid my vows.	9 They are all plain to him that understandeth,
	15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee,	And right* to them that find knowledge.	* or, straight.
	To seek out thy face; and I have found thee.	10 Receive ye my instruction, and not silver,
r 1 Ki. 10. 27. 7.	16 I have decked my bed with coverlets,	And knowledge rather than choice gold.	d ch. 3. 14, 15; 1 Ps. 19. 10.
	With striped cloths of <sup>r</sup> Egyptian yarn.	11 For <sup>d</sup> wisdom is better than pearls,
	17 I have sprinkled my bed	And all the things desired are not equal to it.
	With myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.	12 I wisdom dwell with prudence,
	18 Come thou, let us take our fill of love until the morning,	And I find out the knowledge of wise counsels.
	Let us delight ourselves with loves.	13 The fear of the LORD is to hate evil ;
	19 For the husband is not at home,	Pride <sup>e</sup> and arrogance, and the evil way,	e ch. 6. 17.
	He is gone a long journey ;	And a perverse mouth, do I hate.
	20 He hath taken the bag of money in his hand,	14 Counsel is mine, and success :
	On the day of the full moon will he come home.	I am understanding, <sup>f</sup> I have strength.	f Ecc. 7. 19.
a ch. 5. 3.	21 By her <sup>g</sup> much enticement she causeth him to yield,	15 By <sup>y</sup> me kings reign,	g Dan. 2. 21; 1 Tim. 13. 1.
	By the flattering of her lips she seduceth him.	And rulers decree justice.
	22 He goeth after her forthwith,	16 By me princes rule,
	As an ox goeth to the slaughter,	And nobles, all the judges of the earth.
t Jer. 20. 24.	Or as a fool <sup>t</sup> to the stocks for correction ;	17 I love them that love me,	h Jam. 1. 5.
	23 Till a dart cleave his liver ;	And <sup>h</sup> those that seek me early† shall find me.	† or, that seek after me.
u ch. 9. 18.	As a bird hasteth into the snare,	18 Riches and honour are with me,
	And <sup>u</sup> knoweth not that it is for its life.	Durable riches and righteousness.
	24 And now, ye sons, hearken unto me,	19 My fruit is better than gold, yea than fine gold,
	And attend to the words of my mouth.	And my revenue than choice silver.
	25 Let not thy heart turn aside to her ways,	20 I <sup>i</sup> walk in the way of righteousness,	i ch. 4. 11, 12.
	Go not astray in her paths.	In the midst of the paths of judgment :
x ch. 6. 33.	26 For <sup>z</sup> she hath cast down many wounded,	21 That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance,
	Yea very many have been slain by her.	And I will fill their treasuries.
y ch. 2. 18. * Heb. Sheol.	27 The <sup>y</sup> ways to hell* are in her house,	22 The LORD possessed† me in <sup>k</sup> the beginning of his way,	† or, prepared. k ch. 3. 19; John 1. 1, 2; Col. 1. 15-17.    Heb. anointed.

a ch. 1. 20; 9. 3.	8. DOTH not <sup>a</sup> wisdom cry,	From the beginnings of the earth.
	And understanding put forth her voice ?	24 When there were no depths, I was brought forth,
	2 On the top of the high places, by the way,	When there were no fountains abounding with water.
	At the cross-paths,	25 Before <sup>l</sup> the mountains were settled,	l Ps. 90. 2.
	She standeth up ;	Before the hills, was I brought forth.
	3 Beside the gates, at the entry of the city,	26 While as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields,
	At the entrance of the doors,	Nor the first clouds of the world.
	She crieth aloud :

Precepts concerning righteousness and practical wisdom.

- <sup>17</sup> INCLINE thine ear and hear the words of the wise,
And apply thy heart unto my knowledge;
<sup>18</sup> For it is pleasant if thou keep them within thee;

In counsels and knowledge?

7 For it is <sup>d</sup> better that it be said to thee,
Come up hither,

Than that thou shouldest be put lower in

ECCLESIASTES;

OR,

THE PREACHER.

Introduction, (1) describing the writer and the subject of the book—(4) The vanity of earthly things illustrated by the incessant round of changes in nature and in human life.

1. THE words of the Preacher*, the son of David, king in Jerusalem.

2 VANITY of <sup>a</sup> vanities! saith the Preacher; vanity of vanities! All is vanity.

3 What profit hath man of all his labour which he laboureth under the sun?

4 One generation goeth, and another generation cometh; but <sup>b</sup> the earth abideth for ever.

5 The <sup>c</sup> sun also ariseth, and the sun goeth down, and hasteth to his place where he arose †.

6 The <sup>d</sup> wind goeth towards the South, and turneth about unto the North, turning about continually; and the wind returneth to its turnings about.

7 All <sup>e</sup> the rivers run into the sea, yet the sea is not full; unto the place from whence the rivers come, thither they return again.

8 All words fail†; man cannot tell it. / The eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.

9 What <sup>g</sup> hath been is what shall be, and what hath been done is what shall be done; and there is nothing new under the sun.
<sup>10</sup> Is there a thing whereof it is said, See, this is new? Already hath it been of old time, which was before us.

11 There is no remembrance of the former things†; <sup>h</sup> neither shall there be remembrance of the later things<sup>11</sup>, among those that shall be afterwards.

The disappointment attending all human labour, and (17) even the pursuit of wisdom.

12 I THE Preacher was king over Israel, in Jerusalem. <sup>13</sup> And <sup>i</sup> I gave my heart to seek and search out by wisdom concerning all that is done under heaven. This sore travail hath God given to the sons of men to travail therewith.

14 I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and behold, all is vanity and vexation of spirit†. <sup>15</sup> The crooked <sup>k</sup> cannot be made straight, and what is lacking cannot be numbered†.

16 I communed with my own heart, saying: Lo, I am come to great estate, and have gotten <sup>l</sup> wisdom above all that have been before me over Jerusalem; yea, my heart hath seen much of wisdom and knowledge. <sup>17</sup> And I gave my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly. I perceived that this also is vexation of spirit. <sup>18</sup> For in much wisdom is much grief, and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow.

The unsatisfactoriness of (1) sensual pleasure and (4) worldly magnificence.

2. I SAID in my heart: Go to now, <sup>b</sup> I will prove thee with mirth; therefore enjoy good. And behold, this also is vanity; <sup>2</sup> I said of <sup>m</sup> laughter, It is mad; and of mirth, What doeth this?

3 I sought in my heart to comfort my flesh with wine, (yet acquainting my heart with wisdom); and to lay hold on folly; till I might see what was good for the sons of men, which they should do under the heaven, all the days of their life.

e 1 Ki. 7. 1 —12; 9. 15 —19.	<sup>4</sup> I <sup>e</sup> made me great works; I built me houses, I planted me vineyards; <sup>5</sup> I made me gardens and parks, and I planted in them trees of all fruits; <sup>6</sup> I made me pools of water, to water therewith the forest that bringeth forth trees. <sup>7</sup> I got servants and maidens, and I had home-born servants; also I had great possessions of cattle and sheep, above all that were in Jerusalem before me. <sup>8</sup> I gathered me also silver and gold, even the property of kings and of the provinces. I gat me men-singers and women-singers, and the delights of the sons of men, a wife and wives.	shall he rule over all my labour which I have laboured, and wherein I have been wise under the sun. This also is vanity.
f 1 Ki. 9. 14, 28; 10. 10, 14, 25.	<sup>9</sup> So <sup>o</sup> I was great, and amassed more than all that were before me in Jerusalem; also my wisdom remained with me; <sup>10</sup> and whatsoever mine eyes desired I put not aside from them; I withheld not my heart from any joy. For my heart rejoiced in all my labour, and <sup>h</sup> this was my portion from all my labour.	<sup>20</sup> And I turned to cause my heart to despair concerning all the labour which I laboured under the sun. <sup>21</sup> For there is a man whose labour is in wisdom and in knowledge, and in prosperity; yet to a man that hath not laboured therein shall he leave it for his portion. This also is vanity and a great evil. <sup>22</sup> For what hath the man of all his labour, and of the desire of his heart, for which he hath laboured under the sun? <sup>23</sup> For all his days are <sup>f</sup> sorrows and his travail grief; even in the night his heart resteth not. This also I saw, that it was from the hand of God. <sup>25</sup> For who eateth, and who hath appetite, more than I? <sup>26</sup> For to a man that is good in his sight He giveth wisdom and knowledge and joy; but to the sinner he giveth travail <sup>h</sup> to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him that is good before God. ## THE SONG OF SOLOMON.

	Part 1. The king and the bride, and daughters of Jerusalem, her companions. Daughters of Jerusalem.	Solomon.
<sup>d</sup> ch. 2. 4; <sup>e</sup> Ps. 45. 14, 15.	We will be glad and rejoice in thee, We will praise thy love <sup>t</sup> more than wine: Truly do they love thee.	The Shulamite.	<sup>i</sup> ch. 4. 9.
<sup>e</sup> Ps. 120. 5.	<sup>5</sup> Dark am I, but comely, ye daughters of Jerusalem; Like the tents of <sup>e</sup> Kedar, Like the curtains of Solomon. <sup>6</sup> Look ye not upon me, that I am dark, That the sun hath scorched me. My mother's sons were angry with me; They made me keeper of the vineyards; But mine own vineyard have I not kept.	In the vineyards of <sup>n</sup> En-gedi.	<sup>m</sup> ch. 4. 13. <sup>n</sup> 1 Sam. 24. 1.
<sup>f</sup> ch. 5. 1, 3.	<sup>7</sup> Tell me, thou <sup>f</sup> whom my soul loveth, Where thou feedest thy flock , Where thou makest it to lie down at noon; For why should I be as one that turneth aside, Beside the flocks of thy companions? Daughters of Jerusalem.	Solomon.	<sup>o</sup> ch. 4. 1; 5. 12.

		<sup>2.</sup> I am the flower of Sharon, A lily <sup>r</sup> of the valleys. Solomon.

 And Judah falleth;
 Because <sup>o</sup> their tongue and their doings are against the LORD,
 To provoke the eyes of his glory*.
<sup>9</sup> The <sup>p</sup> show of their countenance† doth witness against them,
 And they <sup>q</sup> declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not.
 Woe unto their soul!
 For they reward evil unto themselves.
<sup>10</sup> Say ye, that the righteous <sup>r</sup> is happy;
 For <sup>s</sup> they shall eat the fruit of their doings.
<sup>11</sup> Woe unto the wicked! <sup>t</sup> Miserable is he,
 For <sup>u</sup> the reward of his hands shall be given him.
<sup>12</sup> As for my people, children are their oppressors,
 And women rule over them:
 My people, <sup>x</sup> thy leaders cause thee to err,
 And they destroy the way of thy paths.
<sup>13</sup> The LORD setteth himself up <sup>y</sup> to plead,
 And standeth to judge the peoples.
<sup>14</sup> The LORD will enter into judgment Against the ancients of his people, and their princes.
 For <sup>z</sup> ye have eaten up the vineyard,
 The spoil of the poor is in your houses.
<sup>15</sup> What mean ye that ye <sup>a</sup> beat my people to pieces,
 And grind the faces of the poor?
 Saith the Lord, the God of hosts.
<sup>16</sup> Moreover the LORD saith:
 Because the daughters of Zion are haughty,
 And walk with stretched forth neck and wanton eyes,
 Walking and mincing they go,
 And they wear anklets on their feet;
<sup>17</sup> Therefore the Lord will <sup>b</sup> make bald the crown of the head of the daughters of Zion;
 And the LORD will <sup>c</sup> discover their secret parts.
<sup>18</sup> In that day the Lord will take away the ornament of the anklets,
 And the nettings and the crescents, <sup>19</sup> The earrings and the bracelets and the veils,
<sup>20</sup> The turbans and the foot-chains and the girdles,
 The perfume-bottles and the amulets,
<sup>21</sup> The signets; and the nose-rings,
<sup>22</sup> The robes and the cloaks,
 And the mantles and the purses ||,
<sup>23</sup> The mirrors and the fine linen garments,
 And the head-bands and the flowing veils.

<sup>24</sup> And it shall come to pass
 That instead of sweet smell there shall be rottenness,
 And instead of a girdle, a rope,
 And instead of ringlet-work, <sup>d</sup> baldness,
 And instead of a flowing robe*, a girding of sackcloth,
 And a brand instead of beauty.

<sup>25</sup> Thy <sup>e</sup> men shall fall by the sword,
 And thy mighty in the war.
<sup>26</sup> And <sup>f</sup> her gates shall lament and mourn;
 And desolate <sup>g</sup> she shall sit upon the ground.

<sup>4.</sup> And in that day <sup>h</sup> seven women shall take hold of one man, saying:
 We <sup>i</sup> will eat our own bread, and wear our own apparel;
 Only let us be called by thy name;
 Take thou away <sup>k</sup> our reproach.

<sup>2</sup> In that day shall <sup>l</sup> the branch of the LORD be beautiful and glorious,
 And the fruit of the land excellent and comely,

For them <sup>m</sup> that are escaped of Israel.
<sup>3</sup> And it shall come to pass,
 That he that is left in Zion,
 And he that remaineth in Jerusalem,
 Shall <sup>n</sup> be called holy;
 Every one that is <sup>o</sup> written among the living in Jerusalem;

<sup>4</sup> When <sup>p</sup> the LORD shall wash away the filth of the daughters of Zion,
 And shall cleanse the blood† of Jerusalem
 from the midst thereof;
 By the spirit of judgment and by <sup>q</sup> the spirit of burning.

<sup>5</sup> And the LORD will create over every dwelling place† of mount Zion,
 And over her assemblies,
 A <sup>r</sup> cloud by day, and smoke,
 And <sup>s</sup> the shining of a flaming fire by night;

For over all the glory shall be a covering;
<sup>6</sup> And there shall be <sup>t</sup> a tabernacle,
 For shade in the daytime from the heat,
 And <sup>u</sup> for refuge, and for shelter from storm and from rain.

Take heed <sup>e</sup> and be quiet,
Fear <sup>f</sup> not, nor be fainthearted,
Because of the two tails* of these smoking
firebrands,
Because of the fierce anger of Rezin with Syria, and of the son of Remaliah.

<sup>5</sup> Because Syria, Ephraim, and the son of Remaliah,

Have committed evil against thee, saying :

<sup>6</sup> Let us go up against Judah, and terrify it,
And let us make a breach therein for us ;
And set a king in the midst of it, the son of Tabeal :

<sup>7</sup> Thus saith the Lord GOD ;

It <sup>g</sup> shall not stand,

Nor shall it come to pass.

<sup>8</sup> For the head of Syria is <sup>h</sup> Damascus,
And the head of Damascus is Rezin ;
And within sixty and five years shall <sup>i</sup> Ephraim be broken,

That it be not a people :

<sup>9</sup> And <sup>k</sup> the head of Ephraim is Samaria,
And the head of Samaria is Remaliah's son.

If <sup>l</sup> ye will not believe,
Surely ye shall not be established.

<sup>10</sup> And the LORD spake again unto Ahaz, saying : <sup>11</sup> Ask <sup>m</sup> thee a sign from the LORD thy God ; ask it either in the depth, or in the height above. <sup>12</sup> But Ahaz said :
I will not ask, nor will I tempt the LORD.
<sup>13</sup> And he said :

Hear now, ye house of David !

Is it too little for you to weary men ?

But will ye weary my God also ?

<sup>14</sup> Therefore the Lord himself will give you a sign ;

Behold, the <sup>n</sup> virgin shall conceive, and bear a son,

And shall call his name <sup>o</sup> Immanuel.

<sup>15</sup> Butter ; and honey shall he eat,
Until he know to refuse the evil and choose the good.

<sup>16</sup> For <sup>p</sup> before the child shall know to refuse the evil and choose the good,
The land shall be forsaken, which thou fearest, because of her two kings.

<sup>17</sup> The <sup>q</sup> LORD will bring upon thee,
And upon thy people, and upon thy father's house,

Days that have not come,

Since the day that <sup>r</sup> Ephraim turned away from Judah ;

(Even the king of Assyria).

<sup>18</sup> And it shall come to pass in that day,
The LORD <sup>s</sup> will hiss for the fly that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Egypt,

And for the bee that is in the land of Assyria :

<sup>19</sup> And they shall come, and shall rest all of them in the desolate valleys,
And <sup>t</sup> in the holes of the cliffs ;
And upon all the thorn-hedges, and upon all the pastures.

<sup>20</sup> In that day will the Lord shave by <sup>u</sup> a razor that is hired,
Namely by the regions beyond the river<sup>v</sup>,
(By the king of Assyria),
The head and the hair of the feet ;
And it shall also remove the beard.

<sup>21</sup> And it shall come to pass in that day,

That a man shall nourish a young cow and two sheep ;

<sup>22</sup> And it shall come to pass, for the abundance of milk they shall give, that he shall eat butter<sup>w</sup> ;

For butter and honey shall every one eat that is left in the land.

<sup>23</sup> And it shall come to pass in that day,
That every place shall be, where there were a thousand vines, at <sup>z</sup> a thousand sil-verlings,

It shall be for briars <sup>y</sup> and thorns.

<sup>24</sup> With arrows and with bow shall they come thither,

Because all the land shall become thorns and briars ;

<sup>25</sup> And on all the hills that should be digged with the mattock,

Thou shalt not come thither, for fear of thorns and briars ;

But it shall be for the sending forth of oxen,

And for the treading of small cattle.

Another prophecy of the speedy fall of Syria and Israel ; and (5) the subsequent conquest of Judah by Assyria—but (11) those who trust in Jehovah shall be preserved ; and (ch. 9. 1) these calamities shall be followed by deliverance, and (6) by the everlasting reign of the divine Prince of Peace.

<sup>8.</sup> AND the LORD said unto me : <sup>a</sup> Take thee a great tablet, and write on it with a man's pen concerning Maher-shalal-hash-baz [i. e. Plunder speedeth, spoil hasteneth], <sup>2</sup> And I will take to witness for me credible witnesses ; <sup>b</sup> Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.

<sup>3</sup> And I went unto the prophetess : and she conceived, and bare a son. Then said the LORD to me, Call his name Maher-shalal-hash-baz [i. e. Plunder speedeth, spoil hasteneth].

<sup>4</sup> For before the child shall have knowledge to cry, My father and my mother, <sup>c</sup> the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria shall be taken away before the king of Assyria.

<sup>r</sup> Dan. 7. 14.	7 Of the increase of his government and peace <sup>r</sup> there shall be no end, Upon the throne of David and over his kingdom;	And they mount up <sup>in</sup> a column of smoke. 19 Through the wrath of the LORD of hosts is the land burned up, And the people are as the fuel for fire; No man spareth his brother: 20 And he snatcheth on the right hand, and is hungry, And he eateth on the left hand, and they are not satisfied; They <sup>re</sup> eat every man the flesh of his own arm: 21 Manasseh Ephraim; and Ephraim, Ma- nasseh; Together they are against Judah.
<sup>s</sup> ch. 11. 3 —5.	To order it and <sup>s</sup> to establish it, With judgment and with justice; From henceforth even for ever, The <sup>s</sup> zeal of the LORD of hosts will do this.	For all this his anger is not turned away, But his hand is stretched out still.
<sup>t</sup> ch. 37. 32.	Warnings of judgments for prevailing sins— (9) pride, (13) impiety, and (ch. 10. 1) injustice —(8) to be punished by foreign invasion and intestine strife. 8 THE LORD sendeth a word unto Jacob, And it lighteth upon Israel. 9 And all the people shall know it; Ephraim and the inhabitants of Samaria; Who say, in pride and stoutness of heart: 10 The bricks are fallen down, But we will build with hewn-stones; The sycamores are cut down, But we will put cedars in their stead.	10. Woe unto them that <sup>o</sup> decree un- righteous decrees, And that write oppression which they pre- scribe; 2 To turn aside the needy from judgment. And to take away the right from the poor of my people; That <sup>p</sup> widows may be their prey, And that they may rob the fatherless. 3 And <sup>q</sup> what will ye do in <sup>r</sup> the day of visi- tation, And in the desolation which shall come from far? To whom will ye flee for help, And where will ye leave your glory? 4 Without <sup>s</sup> me they shall bow down among the prisoners, And they shall fall among the slain.	<sup>u</sup> ch. 49. 29; Jer. 19. 9.

And have not <sup>d</sup> asked at my mouth ;

To strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh,

And to take refuge in the shadow of Egypt.

<sup>3</sup> But to you the strength of Pharaoh shall be <sup>e</sup> a shame,

And the refuge in the shadow of Egypt a confusion.

<sup>4</sup> For his* princes were at <sup>f</sup> Zoan,

And his ambassadors came to <sup>g</sup> Hanes.

<sup>5</sup> They were all <sup>h</sup> ashamed of a people that did not profit them ;

Nor were a help or a profit,

<sup>6</sup> The burden of the beasts : of the South.

Through a land of trouble and anguish,

Whence come the lioness and lion,

The <sup>i</sup> viper and the winged serpent,

They carry their riches, on the shoulder of asses,

And their treasures on the bunches of camels,

To a people who shall not profit.

<sup>7</sup> For <sup>k</sup> the Egyptians shall help in vain and to no purpose ;

Therefore, I cry concerning this, Their strength is to sit still <sup>l</sup>.

<sup>8</sup> Now go, <sup>m</sup> write it before them on a tablet,

And inscribe it in a book ;

That it may be for the time to come,

For ever and ever.

<sup>10</sup> Who <sup>p</sup> say to the Seers, Ye shall not see ; And to the Prophets, Ye shall not prophesy unto us right things ;

Speak <sup>q</sup> unto us smooth things,

Prophecy deceits ;

<sup>11</sup> Turn ye out of the way,

Turn aside out of the path,

Cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from before us.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore thus saith the Holy One of Israel :

Because ye despise this word,

And trust in oppression and perverseness,

And stay yourselves thereon ;

<sup>13</sup> Therefore this iniquity shall be to you

As a breach ready to fall,

Swelling out in a high wall,

Whose breaking cometh suddenly, in an instant ;

<sup>14</sup> And <sup>r</sup> it is broken, like the breaking of a potters' vessel,

That is broken in pieces <sup>s</sup> unsparingly ;

So that there is not found among its fragments* a sherd,

To snatch fire from a burning hearth,

Or to take water out of a cistern.

<sup>15</sup> For thus saith the Lord GOD, the Holy One of Israel :

In turning <sup>t</sup> and rest shall ye be saved,

In <sup>u</sup> quietness and in confidence shall be your strength ;

But ye would not.

<sup>16</sup> But ye say, No, for <sup>v</sup> we will flee upon horses ;

Therefore ye shall flee :

And, We will ride upon the swift.

Therefore shall <sup>w</sup> your pursuers be swift :

<sup>17</sup> A <sup>x</sup> thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one,

At the rebuke of five shall ye flee ;

Till ye are left like a beacon upon the top of a mountain,

<sup>18</sup> And therefore will the LORD <sup>y</sup> wait to be gracious unto you,

33. WOE to thee, <sup>a</sup>the spoiler, and thou wast not spoiled!

<sup>21</sup> But there the LORD is glorious unto us;

And Rabshakeh said unto them: Say ye now to Hezekiah, Thus saith the great king, the king of Assyria: What confidence is this wherein thou trustest? <sup>5</sup> I say, sayest thou (but they are only vain words) I have counsel and strength for the war. Now I on whom dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me? <sup>6</sup> Lo, thou trustest upon <sup>o</sup> the staff of this bruised reed, on Egypt, whereon if a man lean it will go into his hand and pierce it; such is Pharaoh, the king of Egypt, to all that trust in him. <sup>7</sup> But if thou say to me, We trust in the LORD our God; is it not he whose <sup>h</sup> high places and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and said to Judah and to Jerusalem, <sup>4</sup> Ye shall worship before this altar? <sup>8</sup> But now give pledges, I pray thee, to my master, the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them. <sup>9</sup> And how wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants; and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen? <sup>10</sup> And am I now come up without the LORD against this land to destroy it? The LORD said unto me, Go up against this land and destroy it.

<sup>11</sup> Then said Eliakim and Shebna and Joah unto Rabshakeh: Speak, I pray thee, unto thy servants in the Syrian* language;
for we understand it; and speak not to us in the Jews† language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall. <sup>12</sup> But Ra-shakeh said: Hath my master sent me to thy master and to thee, to speak these words? Is it not to the men who sit upon the wall, to eat their own dung and drink their own water; with you?

<sup>13</sup> And Rabshakeh stood and cried with a loud voice in the Jews‡ language, and said: Hear ye the words of the great king, the king of Assyria: <sup>14</sup> Thus saith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you; for he shall not be able to deliver you: <sup>15</sup> neither let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying: The LORD will surely deliver us; this city shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Assyria. <sup>16</sup> Hearken not to Hezekiah; for thus saith the king of Assyria: Make peace with me, and come out to me, and <sup>k</sup> eat ye every one of his own vine and every one of his own fig-tree, and drink ye every one the waters of his own cistern; <sup>17</sup> until I come and take you away to a land like <sup>l</sup> your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards;
<sup>18</sup> lest Hezekiah incite you, saying, The LORD will deliver us. Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?
<sup>19</sup> Where are the gods of <sup>m</sup> Hamath and Arphad? Where are the gods of Sephar-vaim? And <sup>n</sup> have they delivered Samaria out of my hand? <sup>20</sup> Who <sup>o</sup> are they among all the gods of these lands that have delivered their land out of my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?

<sup>21</sup> But they held their peace, and answered him not a word; for the king's commandment was, saying: Answer him not.

Asaph the recorder, to Hezekiah, with rent clothes, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

<sup>5</sup> And the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah. <sup>6</sup> And Isaiah said unto them: Thus shall ye say to your master, Thus saith the LORD: Be not afraid because of the words which thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of Assyria have reproached me. <sup>7</sup> Behold, I will <sup>t</sup> send a blast upon him*, and <sup>u</sup> he shall hear a rumour, and shall return to his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.

Sennacherib's second demand of the surrender of Jerusalem—(14) Hezekiah's prayer, and (21) God's answer—(36) Destruction of the Assyrian army.

<sup>9</sup> AND <sup>a</sup> he<sup>t</sup> heard say concerning Tirhakah, the king of Ethiopia: He is come forth to make war with thee. And when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying: <sup>10</sup> Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah, the king of Judah, saying, Let not thy God, in whom thou trustest, deceive thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria. <sup>11</sup> Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, by destroying them utterly; and shalt thou be delivered? <sup>12</sup> Have the gods of the nations which my fathers have destroyed, delivered them; <sup>b</sup> Gozan and <sup>c</sup> Haran and Rezeph, and the children of <sup>d</sup> Eden who were in Telassar? <sup>13</sup> Where <sup>e</sup> is the king of <sup>f</sup> Hamath and the king of Arphad and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, Hena and Ivah?

<sup>14</sup> And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it; and Hezekiah went up into the house of the LORD, and spread it before the LORD. <sup>15</sup> And Hezekiah prayed unto the LORD saying: <sup>16</sup> O LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, who sittest <sup>g</sup> on the cherubim! <sup>h</sup> Thou art the God, thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth. Thou hast made the heavens and the earth. <sup>17</sup> Incline <sup>i</sup> thine ear, O LORD, and hear; <sup>j</sup> open thine eyes, O LORD, and see; and hear all the words of Sennacherib, which he hath sent to blaspheme the living God. <sup>18</sup> Of a truth, LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the nations and their countries, <sup>19</sup> and have cast their gods into the fire; for they were not gods, but <sup>k</sup> the work of men's hands, wood and stone; so they have destroyed them. <sup>20</sup> And now, O LORD our God, save us from his hand; that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that <sup>l</sup> thou, thou only, art the LORD.

<sup>21</sup> And <sup>m</sup> Isaiah the son of Amoz sent unto Hezekiah, saying: Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Whereas thou hast prayed to me against Sennacherib, the king of Assyria, <sup>22</sup> this is the word which the LORD hath spoken concerning him:

The virgin, the daughter of Zion. Despiseth thee, she laugheth thee to scorn; The daughter of Jerusalem Shaketh her head at thee.

<sup>23</sup> Whom <sup>n</sup> hast thou blasphemed and reproached, And against whom hast thou exalted thy voice,

And lifted up thine eyes on high? Against the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>24</sup> By thy servants hast thou blasphemed the LORD,

And thou hast said, With the multitude of my chariots I am come up,

To the height of the mountains, To the recesses of <sup>o</sup> Lebanon, And I will cut down its tall cedars, its choice cypresses;

And I will enter into its highest extremity, its garden* forest.

<sup>25</sup> I have digged, and have drunk water; And with the sole of my feet have I dried up all the streams of Egypt.

<sup>26</sup> Hast thou not heard that long ago, I did it, That from ancient times I purposed it? Now have I brought it to pass.

That <sup>p</sup> thou shouldst be to lay waste fortified cities into ruinous heaps.

Embassy from Babylon, and its reception by Hezekiah; (3) giving occasion to the prediction of the Babylonian captivity.

<sup>39</sup> AT <sup>a</sup> that time Merodach-baladan, the son of Baladan, the king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah; for he heard that he had been sick and was recovered. <sup>2</sup> And <sup>b</sup> Hezekiah was glad because of them; and he showed them the house of his precious things, the silver and the gold, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures;
there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah did not show them.

<sup>3</sup> Then came Isaiah the prophet unto king Hezekiah, and said unto him: What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hezekiah said: They are come from a far country unto me, from Babylon. <sup>4</sup> And he said: What have they seen in thy house? And Hezekiah answered: All that is in my house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not showed them.

<sup>5</sup> And Isaiah said unto Hezekiah: Hear the word of the LORD of hosts: <sup>6</sup> Behold, the days come that <sup>c</sup> all that is in thy house, and what thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Babylon;
nothing shall be left, saith the LORD.

<sup>7</sup> And of thy sons that shall issue from thee, whom thou shalt beget, shall they take away; and <sup>d</sup> they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.

<sup>8</sup> Then said Hezekiah to Isaiah: <sup>e</sup> Good is the word of the LORD which thou hast spoken. He said moreover: For there shall be peace and truth in my days.

15 Then shall it be for a man to burn,

And he who formed thee from the womb;

I am the LORD who doeth all;
Who <sup>a</sup> stretcheth forth the heavens alone,
Who spreadeth abroad the earth by my-

28 Who saith to Cyrus, My shepherd!

Even saying to Jerusalem, <sup>g</sup> Thou shalt be to Cyrus,

Whom I hold by his right hand;

To <sup>a</sup> subdue nations before him,

And I will <sup>b</sup> loose the loins of kings;

To <sup>c</sup> open before him the two-leaved gates,

And the gates shall not be shut.

2 I will go before thee,

I will break in pieces the gates of brass*,

And cut in sunder the bars of iron.

3 And I will give thee the treasures of 15 So shall he sprinkle* many nations,

For <sup>d</sup> what had not been told them shall they see,
And what they had not heard shall they consider.

53. Who <sup>e</sup> hath believed our report?
And to whom is <sup>f</sup> the arm of the LORD revealed?

2 For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant†,
And as a root; out of dry ground.
He hath no form nor comeliness,
And when we see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

3 He <sup>g</sup> is despised and rejected of men,
A man of sorrows, and <sup>h</sup> acquainted with grief‖;
And like one causing men to hide their faces from him,

He <sup>i</sup> is despised, and <sup>j</sup> we esteem him not.

4 Surely <sup>k</sup> he bare our sicknesses,
And he carried our sorrows;
Yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God and afflicted.

5 But he was <sup>l</sup> wounded for our transgressions,
Bruised for our iniquities;
The chastisement of our peace was upon him,

And <sup>m</sup> by his stripes we are healed.

6 All <sup>n</sup> we like sheep have gone astray,
We <sup>o</sup> have turned every one to his own way;

And <sup>p</sup> the LORD laid on him the iniquity of us all.

7 He was oppressed and he was afflicted,
Yet <sup>q</sup> he opened not his mouth;
He <sup>r</sup> is brought as a lamb to the slaughter,
And as a sheep before her shearers is dumb,
So he openeth not his mouth.

8 He is taken off by oppression and by judgment,
And who considereth his generation?

For <sup>s</sup> he was cut off out of the land of the living,
Because of the transgression of my people was he stricken.

9 And he made his grave* with the wicked,
And <sup>t</sup> with the rich in his death‡;

He shall see a seed, he <sup>x</sup> shall prolong his days,

And <sup>y</sup> the pleasure of the LORD shall prosper in his hand.

11 He shall see of the travail of his soul, he shall be satisfied;
By his knowledge shall my righteous Servant justify many;
For <sup>z</sup> he shall bear their iniquities.

12 Therefore will I give him a portion among the great,

And <sup>a</sup> he shall divide the spoil with the strong;

Because he <sup>b</sup> poured out his soul unto death,

And he was <sup>c</sup> numbered with the transgressors;

And he bare the sin of many,
And <sup>d</sup> he made intercession for the transgressors.

54. SING aloud, <sup>a</sup> thou barren, who didst not bear!

Break forth into singing and cry aloud, thou that didst not travail with child!

For <sup>b</sup> more are the children of the desolate

Than the children of the married, saith the LORD.

2 Enlarge <sup>c</sup> the place of thy tent,
And let them stretch forth the curtains of thy habitations;

Spare not, lengthen thy cords,
And strengthen thy stakes.

3 For thou shalt break forth on the right hand and on the left;

And <sup>d</sup> thy seed shall take possession of nations,
And <sup>e</sup> shall people desolate cities.

4 Fear not, for thou shalt not be ashamed,
Neither be thou confounded, for thou shalt not be put to shame;
And thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth,

And shalt not remember the reproach of thy widowhood any more.

5 For <sup>f</sup> thy Maker is thy husband,
The LORD of hosts is his name;

And thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel,

The <sup>g</sup> God of the whole earth is he called.

Keep ye judgment and do justice ;
For <sup>a</sup> my salvation is near to come,

<sup>2</sup> Blessed * is the man that doeth this,

Nor let the eunuch say,

<sup>4</sup> For thus saith the LORD :
Unto the eunuchs that keep my Sabbaths,
And choose what I please,
And take hold of my covenant,
<sup>5</sup> Even unto them will I give in <sup>a</sup> my house and within my walls

Better than sons and than daughters ;
I will give them an everlasting name,
That shall not be cut off.

<sup>6</sup> Also the sons of the stranger†, who join themselves to the LORD, to serve him,
And to love the name of the LORD,
To be his servants ;
Every one that keepeth the Sabbath from polluting it,
And taketh hold of my covenant ;

<sup>7</sup> Even them will I bring <sup>e</sup> to my holy

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET

JEREMIAH.

1. THE words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, among the priests who were at <sup>a</sup>Anathoth, in the land of Benjamin; <sup>2</sup> to whom the word of the LORD came, <sup>b</sup> in the days of Josiah, the son of Amon, the king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign: <sup>3</sup> it came also in the days of Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah, the king of Judah, unto <sup>c</sup> the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah, the son of Josiah, the king of Judah, unto <sup>d</sup> the carrying away of Jerusalem captive, in the fifth month.

Jeremiah's (4) call, and (9) consecration, to the prophetic office.

4 AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: <sup>5</sup> Before I <sup>a</sup> formed thee in the belly I <sup>b</sup> knew thee, and before thou camest forth from the womb I <sup>c</sup> sanctified thee; I gave thee for a prophet unto the nations.

<sup>6</sup> Then said I: <sup>d</sup> Ah, Lord GOD, behold, I cannot speak, for I am a youth. <sup>7</sup> But the LORD said unto me, Say not, I am a youth; for thou shalt go to <sup>e</sup> whomsoever I shall send thee, and <sup>f</sup> whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak. <sup>8</sup> Be <sup>g</sup> not afraid of their faces; for <sup>h</sup> I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the LORD.

<sup>9</sup> And the LORD put forth his hand and <sup>i</sup> touched my mouth. And the LORD said unto me: Behold, I <sup>j</sup> put my words in thy mouth. <sup>10</sup> See, I this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, to <sup>k</sup> root out and to pull down, and to ruin and to destroy, to build and to plant.

Two symbolical visions, confirming Jeremiah's divine commission; and representing (11) the nearness of coming judgments, and (13) the quarter whence they will burst forth.

11 AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said: I see a branch of an almond tree. <sup>12</sup> Then said the LORD unto me, Thou hast well seen: for I will watch over my word to perform it.

<sup>13</sup> And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying: What seest thou? And I said: I see <sup>a</sup> a seething-pot, and its face is from the North.

<sup>14</sup> Then the LORD said unto me: Out of <sup>b</sup> the North an evil shall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land. <sup>15</sup> For lo, I will <sup>c</sup> call all the families of the kingdoms of the North, saith the LORD. And they shall come, and <sup>d</sup> they shall set every one his throne <sup>e</sup> at the entering of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all its walls round about, and <sup>f</sup> against all the cities of Judah. <sup>16</sup> And I will utter my judgments against them, for all their wickedness; in that they have <sup>g</sup> forsaken me, and have <sup>h</sup> burned incense unto other gods, and <sup>i</sup> worshipped the works of their hands.

A discourse, setting forth the Lord's mercy and faithfulness, and Israel's ingratitude and obstinate persistence in idolatry in spite of warnings and judgments; with threatenings of further chastisements.

2. AND the word of the LORD came to me, saying, <sup>2</sup> Go and cry in the ears of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the LORD:

I remember for thee <sup>a</sup> the kindness of thy youth, The <sup>b</sup> love of thine espousals; When <sup>c</sup> thou wentest after me in the wilderness, In a land not sown. <sup>3</sup> Israel is <sup>d</sup> holiness unto the LORD, The <sup>e</sup> first fruits of his increase: All <sup>f</sup> that devour him are guilty, Evil shall come upon them, saith the LORD.

<sup>4</sup> Hear the word of the LORD, ye house of Jacob! And all the families of the house of Israel!

They go into the thickets,

<sup>30</sup> And thou spoiled one, what wilt thou do?

Though thou clothest thyself with crimson,
Though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold,

Though thou rendest* thine eyes with <sup>A</sup> paint,

In vain dost thou make thyself fair;

Thy lovers †despise thee,

They <sup>k</sup>seek thy life.

<sup>31</sup> For I hear a voice as of a woman in travail,

Anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first-born:

The voice of the daughter of Zion;
She bewaileth herself, she †stretcheth forth her hands,

Woe <sup>m</sup>now to me!

For my soul fainteth before the murderers.

The prophecy continued.—(1) The universal impiety, idolatry and moral corruption of the people, to be punished (15) by invasion of a barbarous nation.

5. RUN ye to and fro in the streets of Jerusalem,

And see now, and know, and seek in her broad places,

If <sup>a</sup> ye can find a man,

If <sup>b</sup> there be any that doeth judgment, that seeketh after truth;

And <sup>c</sup> I will pardon her.

<sup>2</sup> Even when they say, As the LORD liveth; Surely they <sup>d</sup>swear falsely.

<sup>3</sup> LORD, are not thine eyes upon truth?

Thou <sup>e</sup>smitest them, but they are not pained,
Thou consumest them, but <sup>f</sup>they refuse to receive correction;

They make <sup>g</sup>their faces harder than a rock,
They refuse to return.

<sup>4</sup> Therefore I said,

Surely these are the poor, they are foolish,
For <sup>h</sup>they know not the way of the LORD,
The judgment of their God:

<sup>5</sup> I will get me to the great, and will speak unto them,
For <sup>i</sup>they know the way of the LORD,
The judgment of their God:

But these have altogether broken <sup>k</sup>the yoke,
And burst the bonds.

<sup>6</sup> Therefore <sup>l</sup>a lion out of the forest slayeth them,

A <sup>m</sup>wolf of the evenings †spoileth them;

A <sup>n</sup>leopard watcheth against their cities,

Every one that goeth out thence is torn in pieces;

Because their transgressions are many,
Their backslidings are numerous.

<sup>7</sup> How shall I pardon thee for this?

Thy sons have forsaken me,

And <sup>o</sup>they swear by no-gods*;

And <sup>p</sup>I fed them to the full,

And they have committed adultery,

And they troop to the harlot's house.

<sup>8</sup> They are like well-fed horses in the morning †,

Every one <sup>q</sup>neigheth after his neighbour's wife.

<sup>9</sup> Shall <sup>r</sup>I not visit for these things? saith the LORD,

And shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

<sup>10</sup> Go ye up on her walls and destroy,

But make not a full end;

Take away <sup>s</sup>her tendrils,

For they are not the LORD's.

<sup>11</sup> For <sup>t</sup>the house of Israel and the house of Judah Deal very treacherously against me, saith the LORD.

<sup>12</sup> They deny the LORD,

And say, He is not;

And <sup>u</sup>evil shall not come upon us,

Nor shall we see sword or famine.

<sup>13</sup> And the prophets are become wind,

And he that speaketh is not in them;

Thus shall it be done unto them.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts:

Because ye speak this word;

Behold, <sup>v</sup>I will make my words in thy mouth fire,

And this people wood,

And it shall devour them.

<sup>15</sup> Lo, I will bring <sup>w</sup>a nation upon you from afar,

Ye house of Israel, saith the LORD;

It is <sup>x</sup>a mighty nation,

It is a nation from of old;

A nation whose language thou knowest not,
Neither understandest thou what they say.

<sup>16</sup> Their quiver is as an open sepulchre,

They are all mighty men.

<sup>17</sup> And <sup>y</sup>they shall eat up thy harvest and thy bread,

They shall eat up thy sons and thy daughters,

They shall eat up thy flocks and thy herds.

They shall eat up thy vines and thy fig-trees;

They shall break down thy defenced cities,

Ye have scattered my flock, and driven them away,
And have not visited them.
Behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith the LORD.

3 And <sup>b</sup> I will gather the remnant of my flock

Out of all countries whither I have driven them;
And I will bring them again to their pastures,

And they shall be fruitful and increase.

4 And <sup>c</sup> I will set up over them shepherds,

And they shall be fed;
And they shall no more fear, or be dismayed,

Neither shall they be missing,

5 Behold, <sup>d</sup> the days come, saith the LORD,

6 In <sup>f</sup> his days Judah shall be saved,

7 Therefore behold, <sup>i</sup> the days come, saith the LORD;

9 CONCERNING the prophets:

My heart within me is broken,

All my bones shake;

I am <sup>a</sup> like a drunken man,

And like a man whom wine hath overcome;
Because of the LORD,

And because of the words of his holiness.

10 For <sup>b</sup> the land is full of adulterers;

For because of swearing <sup>c</sup> the land mourneth,

The <sup>d</sup> pastures of the wilderness are dried up;

And their course is evil,

And their might is not right.

11 For <sup>e</sup> both prophet and priest are profane;
Even <sup>f</sup> in my house have I found their wickedness,

12 Therefore <sup>g</sup> their way shall be unto them as slippery places in the darkness,

They shall be driven on, and fall therein;

For <sup>h</sup> I bring evil upon them,

The year of their visitation,

Saith the LORD.

13 Also in the prophets of Samaria have I seen impiety;

They <sup>i</sup> prophesied by Baal,

And <sup>k</sup> caused my people Israel to go astray.

14 And in the prophets of Jerusalem I have seen a horrible thing;

They <sup>l</sup> commit adultery, and walk in lies;
And they <sup>m</sup> strengthen the hands of evil-doers,

That none turneth from his wickedness.

They are all of them unto me as <sup>n</sup> Sodom,

What hath the LORD answered thee?
And, What hath the LORD spoken?
38 But if ye say, The burden* of the LORD,
Then thus saith the LORD:
Because ye say this word, The burden* of the LORD,
And I have sent unto you, saying,
Ye shall not say, The burden* of the LORD;

and the city that I gave to you and to your fathers;

Eze. 5.14, 15. And everlasting shame, which shall not be forgotten.

α Am. 8.1. 24. THE <sup>a</sup> LORD showed me, and behold, two baskets of figs, <sup>b</sup> set before the temple of the LORD; after <sup>c</sup> Nebuchadrezzar, the king of Babylon, had carried away captive <sup>d</sup> Jeconiah, the son of Jehoiakim, the king of Judah, and the princes of Judah, with the craftsmen and the smiths, from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon. <sup>e</sup> One basket had very good figs, like the figs first ripe; and the other basket had <sup>f</sup> very bad figs, which could not be eaten, for badness.
c ch. 29.17.

<sup>3</sup> Then said the LORD unto me: What seest thou, Jeremiah? And I said: Figs; the good figs, very good; and the bad very bad, which cannot be eaten, for badness.

<sup>4</sup> Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, <sup>5</sup> Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: Like these good figs, so will I regard for good the captives of Judah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans. <sup>6</sup> And I will set mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this land. And <sup>7</sup> I will build them, and not pull them down; and I will plant them, and not pluck them up. <sup>8</sup> And I will give them <sup>a</sup> a heart to know me, that I am the LORD: and they shall be <sup>b</sup> my people, and I will be their God; for <sup>k</sup> they shall return unto me with their whole heart.

<sup>9</sup> And as to the <sup>l</sup> bad figs, which cannot be eaten, for badness, surely thus saith the LORD: So <sup>m</sup> will I give Zedekiah, the king of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and <sup>n</sup> them that dwell in the land of Egypt; <sup>o</sup> yea I will give them for vexation <sup>t</sup>, for trouble, unto all the kingdoms of the earth, for <sup>a</sup> a reproach and for a proverb, for a taunt and for <sup>p</sup> a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them. <sup>10</sup> And I will send among them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, till they are consumed from off the land that I gave to them and to their fathers.

Judgments (3) on Judah and neighbouring nations, by the instrumentality of Babylon; (12) also on Babylon afterwards; and (15) on all the nations, beginning with Judah—(30) Judgment on the whole world.

25. THE word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah, <sup>a</sup> in the fourth year of Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah, the king of Judah—(that was the first year of Nebuchadrezzar, the king of Babylon)—<sup>3</sup> which Jeremiah the prophet spake to all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying:

<sup>3</sup> From <sup>b</sup> the thirteenth year of Josiah, the son of Amon, the king of Judah, even unto this day, these three and twenty years, the word of the LORD hath come unto me, and I have spoken unto you, rising early and speaking<sup>c</sup>; but ye have not hearkened. <sup>4</sup> And <sup>c</sup> the LORD hath sent unto you all his servants the prophets, rising early and sending; but ye have not hearkened, nor inclined your ear to hear. <sup>5</sup> They said, <sup>d</sup> Turn ye now every one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell ye in the land that the LORD hath given to you and to your fathers for ever and ever. <sup>6</sup> And go ye not after other gods, to serve them and to worship them; and provoke me not to anger with the works of your hands; and I will do you no hurt. <sup>7</sup> Yet ye have not hearkened unto me, saith the LORD; that ye might <sup>e</sup> provoke me to anger with the works of your hands, to your own hurt.

<sup>8</sup> Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts: Because ye have not heard my words, <sup>9</sup> behold, I will send and take <sup>f</sup> all the families of the North, saith the LORD, and Nebuchadrezzar, the king of Babylon, <sup>g</sup> my servant, and will bring them against this land, and against its inhabitants, and <sup>h</sup> against all these nations round about; and I will utterly destroy them, and <sup>i</sup> make them an astonishment and a hissing and perpetual desolations. <sup>10</sup> And I will cause to perish from them <sup>k</sup> the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the sound of the mill-stones and the light of the lamp. <sup>11</sup> And this whole land shall become a desolation, and an astonishment <sup>t</sup>.

And these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years.

26. IN the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah, the king of Judah, came this word from the LORD, saying; <sup>2</sup> Thus saith the LORD: Stand in <sup>a</sup> the court of the LORD's house, and speak unto* all the cities of Judah, which come to worship in the LORD's house, <sup>b</sup> all the words that I command thee to speak unto them; <sup>c</sup> diminish not a word. <sup>3</sup> Perhaps <sup>d</sup> they will hearken, and turn every man from his evil way; that <sup>e</sup> I may repent me of the evil which I purpose to do unto them, because of the badness of their doings.

<sup>4</sup> And thou shalt say unto them; Thus saith the LORD: <sup>f</sup> If ye will not hearken to me, to walk in my law which I have set before you, <sup>5</sup> to hearken to the words of my servants the prophets, <sup>g</sup> whom I sent unto you, both rising early and sending, but ye have not hearkened; <sup>6</sup> then will I make this house like <sup>h</sup> Shiloh, and I will make this city <sup>a</sup> a curse to all the nations of the earth.

<sup>7</sup> And the priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the LORD.

<sup>8</sup> And it came to pass when Jeremiah made an end of speaking all that the LORD commanded him to speak unto all the people, that <sup>k</sup> the priests and the prophets and all the people laid hold of him, saying: Thou shalt surely die. <sup>9</sup> Why hast thou prophesied in the name of the LORD, saying, This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate without an inhabitant? And all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the house of the LORD.

<sup>10</sup> And the princes of Judah heard these things; and they came up from the king's house unto the house of the LORD; and they sat down in the entry of <sup>l</sup> the new gate of the LORD's house. <sup>11</sup> Then spake the priests and the prophets to the princes and to all the people, saying: This man is worthy to die; <sup>m</sup> for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears.

<sup>12</sup> Then spake Jeremiah unto all the princes and to all the people, saying: <sup>n</sup> The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that ye have heard. <sup>13</sup> Therefore now <sup>o</sup> amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the LORD your God; and the LORD <sup>p</sup> will repent him of the evil that he hath pronounced against you. <sup>14</sup> As for me, behold,

<sup>q</sup> I am in your hand; do with me as seemeth good and right unto you. <sup>15</sup> But know ye for certain, that if ye put me to death, ye will surely bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon its inhabitants. For of a truth the LORD hath sent me unto you to speak all these words in your ears.

<sup>16</sup> And the princes and all the people said unto the priests and to the prophets: This man is not worthy to die*; for in the name of the LORD our God hath he spoken to us.

<sup>17</sup> Then <sup>r</sup> rose up certain of the elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying: <sup>18</sup> Micah <sup>s</sup> the Morasthite prophesied in the days of Hezekiah, the king of Judah; and he spake to all the people of Judah, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts:

Zion shall be ploughed like a field, And Jerusalem shall become heaps, And the mountain of the House like the high places of a forest [Mic. iii. 12].

<sup>19</sup> Did Hezekiah, the king of Judah and all Judah put him at all to death? <sup>4</sup> Did he not fear the LORD, and supplicate the LORD? And the LORD repented him of the evil which he had pronounced against them. Thus should we commit great evil against our own souls.

<sup>20</sup> And there was also a man that prophesied in the name of the LORD, Urijah the son of Shemaiah, of <sup>u</sup> Kirjath-jearim, who prophesied against this city and against this land, according to all the words of Jeremiah. <sup>21</sup> And Jehoiakim the king, with all his mighty men, and all the princes, heard his words; and the king sought to put him to death. And when Urijah heard it, he was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt. <sup>22</sup> And Jehoiakim the king sent men into Egypt; <sup>v</sup> Elnathan the son of Achbor and men with him, into Egypt; <sup>23</sup> and they fetched forth Urijah out of Egypt, and brought him unto Jehoiakim the king; who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graves of the common people.

<sup>24</sup> Nevertheless the hand of <sup>w</sup> Ahikam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, so that <sup>x</sup> they did not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

A message addressed to neighbouring kings, then inviting the Jews to join in throwing off the Chaldean yoke; and (12) a warning to the king of Judah and his people against the flatteries of false prophets.

Judah, came this word unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying:

<sup>2</sup> Thus saith the LORD to me: <sup>a</sup> Make thee bonds and yokes, and put them upon thy neck, <sup>3</sup> and <sup>b</sup> send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the Ammonites, and to the king of Tyre, and to the king of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers who are come to Jerusalem, unto Zedekiah, the king of Judah. <sup>4</sup> And command them to say unto their masters, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say unto your masters; <sup>5</sup> I <sup>c</sup> have made the earth, the man and the beast that are upon the ground, by my great power and by my outstretched arm, and I <sup>d</sup> have given it unto whom it seemed meet unto me. <sup>6</sup> And now <sup>e</sup> have I given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon, <sup>f</sup> my servant; and the beasts of the field have I given him also to serve him. <sup>7</sup> And <sup>g</sup> all nations shall serve him, and his son and his son's son, <sup>h</sup> until the time of his land also come: and then many nations and great kings shall exact service of him. <sup>8</sup> And it shall come to pass that the nation and kingdom that will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation will I punish, saith the LORD, with the sword and with the famine and with the pestilence, until I have consumed them by his hand.

<sup>12</sup> I spake also to <sup>n</sup> Zedekiah, the king of Judah, according to all these words, saying: Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, and live. <sup>13</sup> Why <sup>o</sup> will ye die, thou and thy people, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; as the LORD hath spoken against the nation that will not serve the king of Babylon? <sup>14</sup> And hearken ye not unto the words of the prophets that speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon; for they prophesy falsehood unto you. <sup>15</sup> For I have not sent them, saith the LORD, and they prophesy falsely in my name; in order that I should drive you out, and ye should perish, ye, and the prophets that prophesy unto you.

<sup>16</sup> Also I spake to the priests and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the LORD: Harken not to the words of your prophets that prophesy unto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the LORD's house shall now shortly be brought again from Babylon: for they prophesy falsehood unto you. <sup>17</sup> Harken not unto them: serve the king of Babylon, and live: wherefore should this city become a desolation?

<sup>18</sup> But if they be prophets, and if the word of the LORD be with them, let them now make intercession to the LORD of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of the LORD and the house of the king of Judah, and in Jerusalem, go not to Babylon. <sup>19</sup> For thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning <sup>p</sup> the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that are left in this city, <sup>20</sup> which Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon, took not, when he carried away captive <sup>q</sup> Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, the king of Judah, from Jerusalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem; <sup>21</sup> yea, thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remain in the house of the LORD and in the house of the king of Judah, and in Jerusalem: <sup>22</sup> To Babylon shall they be <sup>r</sup> carried, and there shall they be until <sup>s</sup> the day that I visit them, saith the LORD, that <sup>t</sup> I may bring them up, and restore them to this place.

28. AND it came to pass in that year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah, the king of Judah, in the fourth year, in the fifth month, that Hananiah, the son of Azur, the prophet, who was of Gibeon, spake unto me, in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests and of all the people, saying: <sup>2</sup> Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, I have broken <sup>a</sup> the yoke of the king of Babylon. <sup>3</sup> Within <sup>b</sup> two full years will I bring again into this place all the vessels of the LORD's house that Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon, took away from this place, and carried them to Babylon; <sup>4</sup> and

I will bring again to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, the king of Judah, with all the captives of Judah, that went to Babylon, saith the LORD; for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.

<sup>6</sup> And the prophet Jeremiah said unto the prophet Hananiah, in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the LORD, <sup>6</sup> even the prophet Jeremiah said: 'Amen, So may the LORD do; may the LORD perform thy words which thou hast prophesied; to bring again the vessels of the LORD's house, and all that is carried away captive, from Babylon unto this place. <sup>7</sup> Nevertheless hear thou now this word that I speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people. <sup>8</sup> The prophets that have been before me and before thee from of old prophesied also concerning many countries and concerning great kingdoms, of war and of calamity and of pestilence. <sup>9</sup> The <sup>d</sup> prophet who prophesieth of peace, when the word of the prophet shall come to pass, shall be known to be the prophet whom the LORD hath sent.

<sup>10</sup> Then Hananiah the prophet took <sup>e</sup> the yoke from off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, and brake it. <sup>11</sup> And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the LORD: Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon, from the neck of all nations, within the space of two full years. And the prophet Jeremiah went his way.

<sup>12</sup> Then the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, after Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, saying: <sup>13</sup> Go and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD: Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou hast made for them yokes of iron. <sup>14</sup> For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon; and they shall serve him; and <sup>15</sup> I have given him the beasts of the field also.

<sup>15</sup> And the prophet Jeremiah said unto Hananiah the prophet, Hear, I pray, Hananiah! The LORD hath not sent thee; but thou <sup>a</sup> makest this people to trust in falsehood. <sup>16</sup> Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will cast thee from off the face of the earth. This year thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken <sup>a</sup> rebellion against the LORD. <sup>17</sup> And Hananiah the prophet died, in that year, in the seventh month.

A letter to the Jewish exiles, (4) directing them to settle peaceably in Babylon, (8) warning them against the flatteries of false prophets. (15) foretelling severe calamities upon the people remaining in Jerusalem, (21) and condemning two wicked prophets in Babylon.

29. NOW these are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem to the residue of the elders of the captivity, and to the priests, and to the prophets, and to all the people, whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away captive from Jerusalem to Babylon, <sup>2</sup> (after <sup>a</sup> Jeconiah the king, and the queen, and the eunuchs, the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, and the craftsmen and the smiths, had departed from Jerusalem), <sup>3</sup> by the hand of Elasah the son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the son of Hilkiah, whom Zedekiah, the king of Judah, sent unto Babylon, to Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon, saying:

<sup>8</sup> For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Let not your prophets and your diviners, that are in the midst of you, <sup>e</sup> deceive you; neither hearken to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamed. <sup>9</sup> For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name; I have not sent them, saith the LORD.

<sup>10</sup> For thus saith the LORD: After <sup>f</sup> seventy years are accomplished for Babylon <sup>g</sup> I will visit you, and perform my good word towards you, in causing you to return to this place. <sup>11</sup> For I know the thoughts that I think towards you, saith the LORD, <sup>a</sup> thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you a latter end† and hope. <sup>12</sup> And <sup>b</sup> ye shall call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you. <sup>13</sup> And <sup>c</sup> ye shall seek me and find me, when ye shall search for me <sup>d</sup> with all your heart. <sup>14</sup> And I will be found of you, saith the LORD: and I will restore your captives; and <sup>e</sup> I will gather you from all the nations and from all the places whither I have driven you, saith the LORD; and I will restore you to the place whence I caused you to be carried away captive.

<sup>15</sup> Because ye say, The LORD hath raised us up prophets in Babylon; <sup>16</sup> yea, thus saith the LORD, of the king that sitteth upon the throne of David, and of all the people that dwelleth in this city, your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity; <sup>17</sup> thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, <sup>18</sup> I will send upon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence; and I will make them like <sup>a</sup> the shocking figs, that cannot be eaten, for badness. <sup>18</sup> And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence; and I <sup>19</sup> will give them for vexation* to all the kingdoms of the earth, to be <sup>a</sup> a curse and an astonishment and a hissing and a reproach, among all the nations whither I have driven them: <sup>19</sup> because they have not hearkened to my words, saith the LORD, which <sup>20</sup> I sent unto them by my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending; but ye obeyed not, saith the LORD.

<sup>20</sup> Hear ye therefore the word of the LORD, all ye of the captivity, whom I have sent from Jerusalem to Babylon:

<sup>21</sup> Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning Ahab the son of Koliaiah, and concerning Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, who prophesy falsehood unto you in my name: Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar, the king of Babylon; and he shall slay them before your eyes; <sup>22</sup> and <sup>a</sup> of them shall be taken up a curse by all the captivity of Judah which are in Babylon, saying, The LORD make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire; <sup>23</sup> because <sup>a</sup> they have committed folly in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbours' wives, and have spoken a word in my name in falsehood, which I did not command them. But <sup>24</sup> I know, and am a witness, saith the LORD.

A false prophet at Babylon having written to the chief officer of the temple at Jerusalem to restrain Jeremiah, (30) the sentence of God is pronounced upon him.

<sup>24</sup> AND thou shalt speak to Shemaiah the Nehelamite, saying, <sup>25</sup> Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying: Because thou hast sent letters in thy name to all the people that are at Jerusalem, and to <sup>a</sup> Zephaniah, the son of Maaseiah, the priest, and to all the priests, saying, <sup>26</sup> The LORD hath made thee priest instead of Jehoiada the priest, that ye should be officers in the house of the LORD, for every man mad and making himself a prophet, that thou shouldst put him in the stocks and in the prison*; <sup>27</sup> and now why hast thou not reproved Jeremiah of Anathoth, who maketh himself a prophet to you? <sup>28</sup> For therefore he sent unto us, to Babylon, saying, It is long; build ye houses and settle, and plant gardens and eat the fruit of them.

<sup>29</sup> And Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the ears of Jeremiah the prophet.

<sup>30</sup> Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying, <sup>31</sup> Send to all the captivity, saying, Thus saith the LORD, concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite; Because Shemaiah hath prophesied unto you, and I sent him not, and he hath caused you to trust in falsehood; <sup>32</sup> therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed: he shall not have a man to dwell among this people; neither shall he behold the good that I will do for my people, saith the LORD; <sup>c</sup> because he hath taught rebellion against the LORD.

The deliverance and restoration of Israel, and judgments upon her oppressors.

30. THE word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, <sup>2</sup> Thus speaketh the LORD, the God of Israel, saying: Write thee in a book all the words that I have spoken unto thee. <sup>3</sup> For lo, the days come, saith the LORD, that <sup>a</sup> I will restore the captivity of my people Israel and Judah, saith the LORD; and <sup>b</sup> I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it. <sup>4</sup> And these are the words that the LORD hath spoken concerning Israel and concerning Judah.

<sup>5</sup> For thus saith the LORD:

We <sup>c</sup> hear the voice of trembling, Of alarm, and not of peace.

<sup>6</sup> Ask ye now, and see, whether a male doth travail with child?

Wherefore do I see every man with his hands on his loins,

Like <sup>a</sup> a woman in travail;

And all faces are turned into paleness*?

<sup>7</sup> Alas! <sup>c</sup> for that day is great,

So <sup>f</sup> that none is like it:

It is even the time of trouble to Jacob,

But he shall be saved out of it.

<sup>8</sup> For it shall come to pass in that day, Saith the LORD of hosts,

I will break his yoke from off thy neck, And will burst thy bonds;

And strangers shall no more exact service of him:

The certainty of Israel's restoration signified by Jeremiah's purchase of a plot of land in the now desolated country. (16) His prayer thereupon, and (26) the Lord's answer.

32. THE word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, <sup>a</sup> in the tenth year of Zedekiah, the king of Judah, (which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar).

<sup>2</sup> For then the king of Babylon's army was besieging Jerusalem; and Jeremiah the prophet was shut up <sup>b</sup> in the court of the prison*, which was in the king of Judah's house. <sup>3</sup> For Zedekiah, the king of Judah, had shut him up, saying: Wherefore dost thou prophesy and say, Thus saith the LORD: Behold, <sup>c</sup> I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it; <sup>4</sup> and <sup>d</sup> Zedekiah, the king of Judah, shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but he shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Baby-

Then I knew that this was the word of the LORD. <sup>9</sup> And I bought from Hanameel my uncle's son the field that was in Anathoth; and I <sup>i</sup> weighed him the money; seventeen shekels was the silver. <sup>10</sup> And I subscribed the writing and sealed it, and <sup>k</sup> took witnesses; and I weighed the money † in the balances. <sup>11</sup> And I took the writing of the purchase, that which was sealed after the command and the statutes, and that which was open, <sup>12</sup> and I gave the writing of the purchase unto <sup>l</sup> Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Maaseiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine uncle † , and in the presence of the witnesses that subscribed the writing of the purchase, before all the Jews who were sitting in the court of the prison    .

<sup>36</sup> And now therefore, thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning this city, whereof ye say, It is delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, by the sword and by the famine and by the pestilence; <sup>37</sup> Behold, I will <sup>q</sup> gather them out of all the countries whither I have driven them, in mine anger and in my fury and in great wrath; and I will bring them again to this place, and I will cause them <sup>r</sup> to dwell safely. <sup>38</sup> And they shall be <sup>s</sup> my people, and I will be their God. <sup>39</sup> And <sup>t</sup> I will give them one heart and one way, that they may fear me for ever, for the good of them and of their children after them. <sup>40</sup> And <sup>u</sup> I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; but I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me. <sup>41</sup> Yea, <sup>v</sup> I will rejoice over them to do them good, and <sup>w</sup> I will plant them in this land assuredly, with my whole heart and with my whole soul.

<sup>42</sup> For thus saith the LORD: <sup>a</sup> As I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them. <sup>43</sup> And fields shall be bought in this land whereof ye say, It is desolate without man or beast, it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans. <sup>44</sup> Men shall buy fields for money, and shall subscribe writings and seal them, and take witnesses, in <sup>a</sup> the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the hill-country, and in the cities of the lowlands, and in the cities of the South. Although the cities of Judah are destroyed, and the land desolated, (6) the cities shall be rebuilt, Israel shall be restored to prosperity and glory; and (14) the divinely-appointed monarchy and priesthood shall endure for ever.

<sup>33</sup> AND the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah the second time, while he was yet <sup>a</sup> shut up in the court of the prison*, saying:

<sup>2</sup> Thus saith the LORD, the <sup>b</sup> maker thereof,

The LORD who formed it, to establish it, The <sup>c</sup> LORD* is his name.

<sup>3</sup> Call <sup>d</sup> unto me, and I will answer thee, And I will show thee great and hidden things, which thou knowest not.

<sup>4</sup> For thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Concerning the houses of this city, And concerning the houses of the kings of Judah;

Which are thrown down because of <sup>e</sup> the mounds and because of the sword.

<sup>5</sup> They <sup>f</sup> come to fight with the Chaldeans, And to fill them with the dead bodies of men,

Whom I have slain in mine anger and in my fury;

And for all whose wickedness I have hidden my face from this city.

<sup>6</sup> Behold, I <sup>g</sup> will bring it healing and cure, and I will cure them, And will reveal unto them an abundance of peace and truth.

<sup>7</sup> And I <sup>h</sup> will restore the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel,

And I <sup>i</sup> will build them, as at the first.

<sup>8</sup> And I <sup>k</sup> will cleanse them from all their iniquity,

Whereby they have sinned against me;

And I <sup>l</sup> will pardon all their iniquities,

Whereby they have sinned,

And whereby they have rebelled against me.

<sup>9</sup> And <sup>m</sup> it shall be to me a name of joy, A praise and an honour before all the nations of the earth;

Who shall hear all the good that I do unto them;

And they shall <sup>n</sup> fear and tremble,

For all the goodness and for all the prosperity that I cause to it.

<sup>10</sup> Thus saith the LORD:

Again shall be heard in this place,

Of which ye say: It is desolate,

In the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem,

Which are desolate, without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast;

For I will restore the captivity of the land,
as at the first,
Saith the LORD.

<sup>12</sup> Thus saith the LORD of hosts :
Again in this place, which is desolate, without man and without beast,
And in all the cities thereof,
Shall be <sup>7</sup> the pasture of shepherds,
Causing their flocks to lie down.

<sup>13</sup> In <sup>8</sup> the cities of the hill-country,
In the cities of the lowland,
And in the cities of the South,
And in the land of Benjamin,
And in the places about Jerusalem,
And in the cities of Judah,
Shall the flocks <sup>2</sup> again pass under the hands of him that counteth them,
Saith the LORD.

<sup>14</sup> Behold, the days come, saith the LORD,
That <sup>4</sup> I will perform the good word,
Which I promised to the house of Israel and to the house of Judah.

<sup>15</sup> In <sup>2</sup> those days and at that time,
Will I cause the Branch of righteousness to grow up unto David ;
And he shall execute judgment and righteousness in the land.

<sup>16</sup> In those days shall Judah be saved,
And Jerusalem shall dwell securely ;
And this is what she shall be called :
The LORD our righteousness.

<sup>17</sup> For thus saith the LORD :
To David shall <sup>7</sup> never be wanting a man,
To sit upon the throne of the house of Israel ;

<sup>18</sup> Neither <sup>2</sup> to the priests, the Levites, shall be wanting a man before me,
To offer burnt-offerings and to burn meal-offerings,
And to do sacrifice continually.

<sup>19</sup> And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, saying :

<sup>20</sup> Thus saith the LORD :
If ye can break <sup>6</sup> my covenant of the day,
and my covenant of the night,
So that there should not be day and night
in their season ;

<sup>21</sup> Then also <sup>6</sup> my covenant shall be broken with David my servant,
That he should not have a son reigning upon his throne ;
And with the Levites, the priests, my ministers.

<sup>22</sup> As <sup>6</sup> the host of heaven cannot be numbered,
Nor the sand of the sea measured ;
So will I multiply the seed of David my servant,
And <sup>4</sup> the Levites that minister unto me.

<sup>23</sup> And the word of the LORD came to
Jeremiah, saying :

<sup>24</sup> Seest thou not what this people speak, saying,
The two families which the LORD hath chosen, he hath even cast them off ?
Thus they despise my people,
That they should be no more a nation before them.

<sup>25</sup> Thus saith the LORD :
If my covenant be not with day and night,
If I have not <sup>6</sup> appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth ;

<sup>26</sup> Then <sup>7</sup> will I also reject the seed of Jacob,
And David my servant,
So as not to take of his seed as rulers
Over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob :

For <sup>9</sup> I will restore their captivity, and <sup>8</sup> have mercy on them.

his own captivity and death.*

nezzar, the king of Babylon, and all his army, and <sup>b</sup> all the kingdoms of the earth of his dominion, and all the nations, were fighting against Jerusalem and against all its cities), saying :

of Judah, and tell him, Thus saith the LORD : Behold, <sup>c</sup> I give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire. <sup>3</sup> And <sup>d</sup> thou shalt not escape out of his hand ; but thou shalt surely be taken, and delivered into his hand ; and <sup>e</sup> thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and his mouth shall speak with thy mouth ; and thou shalt go to Babylon.

<sup>4</sup> Yet hear the word of the LORD, thou Zedekiah, king of Judah ; Thus saith the LORD concerning thee : Thou shalt not die by the sword, <sup>5</sup> thou shalt die in peace ; and with <sup>f</sup> the burnings of thy fathers, the former kings who were before thee, so shall they make a burning for thee ; and <sup>g</sup> they will lament for thee, Ah lord ! For I have these words unto Zedekiah, the king of Judah, in Jerusalem, <sup>7</sup> while the king of that were left ; against Lachish, and against

Condemnation of the king and people, for reducing again to bondage Hebrew servants who had been liberated, as required by the law.

<sup>8</sup> THE word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people who were at Jerusalem, to proclaim liberty unto them; <sup>9</sup> that <sup>a</sup> every man should set free his manservant, and every man his maid-servant, a Hebrew or a Hebrewess; that <sup>b</sup> no man should exact service of them, to wit, of a Jew his brother.

<sup>10</sup> And all the princes and all the people, who had entered into the covenant, heard that every one should set free his manservant, and every one his maid-servant; that none should exact service of them any more; and they obeyed, and let them go. <sup>11</sup> But afterwards they turned, and caused the servants and the handmaids whom they had set free to return, and brought them into subjection for servants and for handmaids.

<sup>12</sup> And the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, <sup>13</sup> Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondmen, saying, <sup>14</sup> At the end of <sup>c</sup> seven years let ye go every man his brother, a Hebrew, who hath been sold unto thee; and when he hath served thee six years thou shalt let him go free from thee. But your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their ear. <sup>15</sup> And ye, this day, were turned, and had done right in my sight, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbour; and ye had made a covenant before me in the house which is called by my name. <sup>16</sup> But ye have turned and have polluted my name; and ye have caused every man his servant, and every man his handmaid, whom he had set at liberty at their pleasure, to return; and ye have brought them into subjection, to be unto you for servants and for handmaids.

<sup>17</sup> Therefore thus saith the LORD: Ye have not hearkened unto me, in proclaiming liberty, every one to his brother, and every man to his neighbour; behold, I proclaim liberty against you, saith the LORD, <sup>d</sup> for the sword, for pestilence, and for famine, and I will give you <sup>e</sup> for vexation* to all the kingdoms of the earth. <sup>18</sup> And I will give the men that have transgressed my covenant, who have not performed the words of the covenant which they made before me, when <sup>f</sup> they cut the calf in twain and passed between the parts thereof, <sup>19</sup> the princes of Judah and the princes of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land, who passed between the parts of the calf—<sup>20</sup> I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life; and <sup>g</sup> their dead bodies shall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven and to the beasts of the earth. <sup>21</sup> And Zedekiah, the king of Judah, and his princes, will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, <sup>h</sup> which are gone up from you. <sup>22</sup> Behold, <sup>i</sup> I command, saith the LORD, and I cause them to return to this city; and they shall fight against it, and <sup>k</sup> take it, and burn it with fire; and <sup>l</sup> I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant.

The filial obedience of the Rechabites tested, and (12) presented as an example to the disobedient Jews, (17) upon whom the threatened calamities shall fall; but (18) the Rechabites' obedience shall be rewarded.

<sup>35</sup> THE word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, the king of Judah, saying: <sup>2</sup> Go to the house of <sup>a</sup> the Rechabites, and speak to them; and bring them into the house of the LORD, into one of <sup>b</sup> the chambers*, and give them wine to drink.

<sup>3</sup> Then I took Jaazaniah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habaziniyah, and his brethren, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites, <sup>4</sup> and I brought them into the house of the LORD, into the chamber† of the sons of Hanan, the son of Igdaliah, a man of God; which was by the chamber† of the princes, which was above the chamber† of Maaseiah the son of Shalum, <sup>c</sup> the keeper of the door. <sup>5</sup> And I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites goblets full of wine, and cups; and I said unto them: Drink ye wine.

<sup>6</sup> But they said: We will drink no wine; for <sup>d</sup> Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us, saying, Ye shall drink no wine, ye and your sons for ever; <sup>7</sup> neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor shall ye have any: but all your days ye shall dwell in tents; that ye may live many days in the land where ye sojourn. <sup>8</sup> And <sup>e</sup> we have obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab our father in all that he hath charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, and our daughters; <sup>9</sup> and not to build houses for us to dwell in; and not to have vineyard, or field, or seed: <sup>10</sup> but we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed and

36. And it came to pass in the fourth year of Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah, the king of Judah, that this word came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying: <sup>2</sup> Take thee <sup>a</sup> a scroll of a book, and write therein all the words that I have spoken to thee, against Israel and against Judah, and against <sup>b</sup> all the nations, from the day I spake unto thee, from the days of <sup>c</sup> Josiah, even unto this day. <sup>3</sup> It <sup>d</sup> may be that the house of Judah will hear all the evil which I purpose to do unto them, that they may <sup>e</sup> return every man from his evil way; that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin.

<sup>4</sup> And Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah; and <sup>f</sup> Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the LORD which he had spoken unto him, upon a scroll of a book.

<sup>5</sup> And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying: <sup>g</sup> I am shut up, I cannot go into the house of the LORD; <sup>6</sup> but go thou, and read in the scroll which thou hast written from my mouth the words of the LORD, in the ears of the people, in the LORD's house, upon <sup>h</sup> the fast-day: and also in the ears of all Judah that come out of their cities thou shalt read them. <sup>7</sup> It <sup>i</sup> may be they will present their supplication * before the LORD, and will return every one from his evil way. For great is the anger and the wrath that the LORD hath pronounced against this people.

<sup>8</sup> And Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, to read in the book the words of the LORD, in the LORD's house.

<sup>9</sup> And it came to pass in the fifth year of Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah, the king of Judah, in the ninth month, they proclaimed a fast before the LORD for all the people in Jerusalem, and for all the people that came from the cities of Judah to Jerusalem.

<sup>10</sup> Then read Baruch in the book the words of Jeremiah, in the house of the LORD, in the chamber† of Gemariah, the son of <sup>k</sup> Shaphan the scribe, in the upper court, at <sup>l</sup> the entry of the new gate of the LORD's house, in the ears of all the people.

<sup>11</sup> And Michaiah, the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, heard out of the book all the words of the LORD. <sup>12</sup> And he went down to the king's house, to the scribe's chamber†. And lo, all the princes were sitting there; Elishama the scribe, and Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, and <sup>m</sup> Elnathan the son of Achbor, and Gemariah the son of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the princes. <sup>13</sup> And Michaiah reported to them all the words that he had heard, when Baruch read the book in the ears of the people.

<sup>14</sup> And all the princes sent Jehudi, the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, to Baruch, saying: The scroll wherein thou hast read in the ears of the people, take it in thy hand, and come. So Baruch the son of Neriah took the scroll in his hand, and came to them. <sup>15</sup> And they said to him: Sit down now, and read it in our ears. And Baruch read it in their ears.

<sup>16</sup> And it came to pass, when they heard all the words, they were afraid, before one and other*; and they said to Baruch: We will surely report to the king all these words. <sup>17</sup> And they asked Baruch, saying: Tell us now, how didst thou write all these words from his mouth? <sup>18</sup> And Baruch said to them: He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book. <sup>19</sup> Then said the princes unto Baruch: Go, hide thee, thou and Jeremiah; and let no man know where ye are.

<sup>20</sup> And they went in to the king into the court; but they laid up the scroll in the chamber of Elishama the scribe; and they reported all the words in the ears of the king. <sup>21</sup> And the king sent Jehudi to fetch the scroll: and he took it out of Elishama the scribe's chamber†. And Jehudi read it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the princes who stood beside the king. <sup>22</sup> Now the king was sitting in the winter-house, in the ninth month, and with the fire-pan burning before him. <sup>23</sup> And it came to pass, when Jehudi had read three or four columns, <sup>24</sup> that he cut it with a penknife, and cast it into the fire that was in the fire-pan, until all the scroll was consumed in the fire that was in the fire-pan.

<sup>25</sup> Yet <sup>26</sup> they were not afraid, nor did they rend their garments, the king and all his servants who heard all these words. <sup>27</sup> And even though Elnathan and Delaiah and Gemariah intreated the king not to burn the scroll, yet he hearkened not to them. <sup>28</sup> And the king commanded Jerahmeel the son of Hammelech‡, and Seraiah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to take Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet; but <sup>29</sup> the LORD hid them.

<sup>30</sup> And after the king had burned the scroll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah, the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying: <sup>31</sup> Take thee again another scroll, and write in it all the former words that were in the former scroll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah hath burned. <sup>32</sup> And concerning Jehoiakim, the king of Judah, thou shalt say, Thus saith the LORD: Thou hast burned this scroll, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, The king of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from it man and beast? <sup>33</sup> Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Jehoiakim, the king of Judah: <sup>34</sup> He shall have none to sit upon the throne of David; and his dead body shall be <sup>35</sup> cast out in the day to the heat and in the night to the frost. <sup>36</sup> And I will punish him and his seed and his servants, for their iniquity; and <sup>37</sup> I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem and upon the men of Judah, all the evil that I pronounced against them, but they hearkened not.

<sup>38</sup> And Jeremiah took another scroll and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah; who wrote therein, from the mouth of Jeremiah, all the words of the book which Jehoiakim, the king of Judah, had burned in the fire; and there were added to them besides many words like them.

<sup>3</sup> And Zedekiah the king sent Jehucal, the son of Shelamiah, and <sup>c</sup> Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah, the priest, to the prophet Jeremiah, saying: <sup>4</sup> Oh! pray thou unto the LORD our God for us. <sup>5</sup> Now Jeremiah came in and went out among the people; for they had not put him into prison. <sup>6</sup> And Pharaoh's army came forth out of Egypt; and when the Chaldeans who were besieging Jerusalem heard tidings of them, they rose up from Jerusalem.

<sup>7</sup> And the word of the LORD came to the prophet Jeremiah, saying: <sup>8</sup> Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: Thus shall ye say to the king of Judah, who sent you unto me to inquire of me: Behold, Pharaoh's army, which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt, into their own land. <sup>9</sup> And <sup>10</sup> the Chaldeans shall come again, and fight against this city; and they shall take it, and burn it with fire. <sup>11</sup> Thus saith the LORD: Deceive not yourselves, saying, The Chaldeans shall surely depart from us; for they shall not depart. <sup>10</sup> For though ye smite the whole army of the Chaldeans that fight against you, and there remain but wounded men among them, they will rise up, every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.

<sup>11</sup> And it came to pass, that when the army of the Chaldeans had risen up from Jerusalem, because of Pharaoh's army, <sup>12</sup> Jeremiah went forth out of Jerusalem, to go into the land of Benjamin, to receive a portion* there among the people. <sup>13</sup> And when he was in the gate of Benjamin, the captain of the guard was there, whose name was Irijah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah; and he took Jeremiah the prophet, saying: Thou art falling away to the Chaldeans. <sup>14</sup> Then said Jeremiah: False! I am not falling away to the Chaldeans. But he hearkened not to him: so Irijah took Jeremiah, and brought him to the princes. <sup>15</sup> And the princes were wroth against Jeremiah; and they smote him, and put him in the place of confinement, in the house of Jonathan the scribe; for they made that the prison. <sup>16</sup> Yea, Jeremiah entered into <sup>f</sup> the dungeon, and into the cells; and Jeremiah remained there many days.

<sup>17</sup> But Zedekiah the king sent and took him out. And the king asked him secretly, in his house, and said: Is there any word from the LORD? And Jeremiah said: There is; for, said he, <sup>g</sup> thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon.

<sup>18</sup> And Jeremiah said to the king Zedekiah: Wherein have I sinned against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye have put me in the prison? <sup>19</sup> Where are <sup>h</sup> your prophets who prophesied unto you, saying, The king of Babylon shall not come against you, nor against this land? <sup>20</sup> And now hear, I pray thee, my lord the king; let my supplication, I pray thee, be accepted before thee; that thou cause me not to return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there.

<sup>21</sup> And Zedekiah the king commanded that they should commit Jeremiah into <sup>i</sup> the court of the prison*, and that they should give him daily a loaf of bread out of the Bakers' Street, <sup>k</sup> until all the bread in the city was spent. And Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison*.

Jeremiah is cast into a miry pit, and (7) is rescued by Ebed-melech—(14) The king asks for a Divine oracle, and (17) the prophet repeats his former message.

38, AND Shephatiah the son of Matan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashur, and

<sup>a</sup> Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and <sup>b</sup> Pashur the son of Malchiah, heard the words that Jeremiah spake to all the people, saying, <sup>2</sup> Thus saith the LORD: <sup>c</sup> He that remaineth in this city shall die by the sword by the famine and by the pestilence; but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans shall live; for he shall have his life for a prey, and shall live. <sup>3</sup> Thus saith the LORD: <sup>d</sup> This city shall surely be given into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which shall take it. <sup>4</sup> And the princes said to the king: We beseech thee, <sup>e</sup> let this man be put to death; for thus he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking to them according to these words; for this man seeketh not the welfare of this people, but the hurt. <sup>5</sup> And Zedekiah the king said: Behold, he is in your hand; for the king prevaileth nothing against you.

<sup>6</sup> Then took they Jeremiah, and cast him into the pit* of Malchiah the son of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison†: and they let down Jeremiah with cords. And in the pit there was no water, but mire; and Jeremiah sank in the mire.

<sup>7</sup> And <sup>f</sup> Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, one of the eunuchs, who was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the pit; (the king then sitting in the gate of Benjamin.) <sup>8</sup> And Ebed-melech went forth out of the king's house, and spake to the king saying: <sup>9</sup> My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the pit; and he will die of hunger in the place where he is, for there is no more bread in the city. <sup>10</sup> Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying: Take from hence thirty men with thee, and bring up Jeremiah the prophet out of the pit, before he die.

<sup>11</sup> So Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went to the house of the king, under the Treasury. And he took thence rags of torn and worn-out clothes; and he let them down by cords into the pit, to Jeremiah. <sup>12</sup> And Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said to Jeremiah: Put now the rags of torn and worn-out clothes under thine arm-holes, under the cords; and Jeremiah did so. <sup>13</sup> And they drew up Jeremiah with the cords, and brought him up out of the pit. third entry that is in the house of the LORD. And the king said unto Jeremiah: I will ask thee a thing; hide nothing from me. <sup>15</sup> Then Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah: When I declare it to thee, wilt thou not surely put me to death? And when I give thee counsel, thou wilt not hearken unto me. <sup>16</sup> And Zedekiah the king swore secretly unto Jeremiah, saying: As the LORD liveth, who made us this soul*, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of these men that seek thy life.

<sup>17</sup> Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah: Thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: <sup>o</sup> If thou wilt assuredly go forth unto <sup>a</sup> the king of Babylon's princes, then thy soul shall live, and this city shall not be burned with fire; and thou shalt live, and thy house. <sup>18</sup> But if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Babylon's princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and <sup>i</sup> thou shalt not escape out of their hand.

<sup>19</sup> And Zedekiah the king said to Jeremiah: I am afraid of the Jews that have fallen away to the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hand, and they mock me. <sup>20</sup> But Jeremiah said: They shall not deliver thee. Obey, <sup>k</sup> I beseech thee, the voice of the LORD, which I speak unto thee; so it shall be well unto thee, and thy soul shall live. <sup>21</sup> But if thou refuse to go forth, this is the word that the LORD hath showed me: <sup>22</sup> And behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judah's house shall be brought forth to the king of Babylon's princes, and those women shall say:

Thy friends have set thee on,
And have prevailed against thee;
Thy feet are sunk in the mire,
And they are turned away back.

<sup>23</sup> And they shall bring out all thy wives and thy <sup>i</sup> children to the Chaldeans; and thou shalt not escape out of their hand, but thou shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon; and thou shalt cause this city to be burned with fire.

<sup>24</sup> Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah: Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die. <sup>25</sup> And if the princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come to thee, and say to thee, Declare to us now what thou hast said to the king; hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death; also what the king said to thee; <sup>26</sup> then thou shalt say unto them, <sup>m</sup> I presented my supplication before the king that he would not cause me to return to <sup>n</sup> Jonathan's house, to die there.

<sup>27</sup> Then came all the princes to Jeremiah, and asked him; and he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded. So they left off speaking with him; for the matter was not perceived.

Capture of Jerusalem by the Chaldeans; (2) destruction of the city; and (9) transportation of the people—(11) Liberation of Jeremiah—(15) Divine promise to Ebed-melech.

39. AND it came to pass, when Jerusalem was taken, in the <sup>a</sup> ninth year of Zedekiah, the king of Judah, in the tenth month, came Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon, and all his army, against Jerusalem, and they besieged it. <sup>2</sup> In the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, the ninth of the month, the city was broken into. <sup>3</sup> And <sup>b</sup> all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and sat <sup>i</sup> in the middle gate; Nergal-sharezer, Samgar-nebo, Sarsechim, Chief of the Eunuchs, Nergal-sharezzer, Chief of the Magi, and all the rest of the princes of the king of Babylon.

<sup>4</sup> And it came to pass, when Zedekiah, the king of Judah, and all the men of war, saw them, that <sup>c</sup> they fled, and went forth out of the city, by night, by the way of the king's garden, by the gate betwixt the two walls: and he went out the way of the plain. <sup>5</sup> And <sup>d</sup> the Chaldeans' army pursued after them, and <sup>e</sup> overtook Zedekiah in the plains <sup>h</sup> of Jericho. And they took him, and brought him up to Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon, to <sup>f</sup> Riblah, in the land of Hamath, where he gave judgment upon him. <sup>6</sup> And the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes; also the king of Babylon slew all the nobles of Judah. <sup>7</sup> And <sup>g</sup> he put out Zedekiah's eyes; and he bound him with chains, to bring him to Babylon. <sup>8</sup> And <sup>h</sup> the Chaldeans burned with fire the king's house, and the houses of the people; and they brake down the walls of Jerusalem.

<sup>9</sup> And <sup>i</sup> Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the body-guard, carried away captive to Babylon the remnant of the people that remained in the city, and the deserters that fell away to him, with the rest of the people that remained. <sup>10</sup> But Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the body-guard, left of the people, the poor who had nothing, in the land of Judah; and he gave to them vineyards and ploughed fields at the same time.

<sup>11</sup> And Nebuchadrezzar, the king of Babylon, gave charge concerning Jeremiah to Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the body-guard, saying: <sup>12</sup> Take him, and look well to him, and <sup>k</sup> do him no harm; but do to him even as he shall say unto thee. <sup>13</sup> So Nebuzar-adan the captain of the body-guard sent, and Nebushasban, Chief of the Eunuchs, and Nergal-sharezer Chief of the Magi, and all the king of Babylon's princes, <sup>14</sup> even they sent and took Jeremiah out of the court of the prison<sup>g</sup>, and committed him unto <sup>l</sup> Gedaliah, the son of <sup>m</sup> Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, that he should send him away to his home. So he dwelt among the people.

<sup>15</sup> And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the prison<sup>t</sup>, saying, <sup>16</sup> Go and speak to <sup>n</sup> Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying:

Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evil, and not for good; and they shall be before thy face in that day. <sup>17</sup> But I will deliver thee in that day, saith the LORD; and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid; <sup>18</sup> for I will surely deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword; but <sup>o</sup> thy life shall be for a prey unto thee; because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the LORD.

Jeremiah, (1) being set at liberty, (6) joins the remnant of the nation at Mizpah—(7) Many Jews who had fled to neighbouring countries return, to dwell under the governor appointed by the king of Babylon.

40. THE word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after that Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the body-guard, had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him, being bound in chains, among all the captives of Jerusalem and Judah, who were carried away captive to Babylon.

<sup>2</sup> And the captain of the body-guard took Jeremiah, and said unto him: <sup>a</sup> The LORD thy God pronounced this evil against this place; <sup>3</sup> now the LORD hath brought it and done according as he hath said. <sup>b</sup> Because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed his voice, so this thing is come upon you. <sup>4</sup> And now, behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which are upon thy hand. If it seem good unto thee to come with me to Babylon, come, and I will look well unto thee; but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me to Babylon, forbear. Behold, <sup>c</sup> all the land is before thee; whither it seemeth good and right for thee to go, thither go.

<sup>5</sup> And while he had not yet answered, he said: Yea, go back to Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, <sup>d</sup> whom the king of Babylon hath appointed over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people; or go wheresoever it seemeth right unto thee to go. And the captain of the body-guard gave him provision for the way and a present, and sent him away.

<sup>6</sup> Then went Jeremiah to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, to <sup>e</sup> Mizpah; and he dwelt with him, among the people that were left in the land.

<sup>7</sup> And <sup>f</sup> all the captains of the forces who were in the fields*, they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land, and had committed unto him men and women and children, and of the poor of the land, of them that were not carried away captive to Babylon; <sup>8</sup> and they came to Gedaliah, to Mizpah; even <sup>g</sup> Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai the <sup>h</sup> Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of a <sup>i</sup> Maachathite, they and their men.

<sup>9</sup> And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan sware to them and to their men, saying: <sup>k</sup> Fear not to serve the Chaldeans; dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you. <sup>10</sup> And as for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah, to stand before the Chaldeans, who will come to us; but ye, gather ye wine and summer-fruits and oil, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that ye hold.

<sup>11</sup> And all the Jews that were <sup>l</sup> in Moab and among the Ammonites and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan; <sup>12</sup> and all the Jews returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah, to Mizpah; and they gathered wine and summer-fruits in great abundance.

bath sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to take thy life? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam believed them not. <sup>15</sup> Then Johanan the son of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying: Let me go, I pray thee, and I will smite Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it. Wherefore should he take thy life; and all the Jews who are gathered unto thee be scattered, and the remnant of Judah perish? <sup>16</sup> But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said to Johanan the son of Kareah: Thou shalt not do this thing, for thou speakest falsehood about Ishmael.

<sup>41</sup> And it came to pass, in the seventh month, that <sup>b</sup> Ishmael the son of Nethaniah the son of Elishama, of the seed royal, and <sup>c</sup> one of the princes* of the king, and ten men with him, came to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, to Mizpah; and there they did eat bread together in Mizpah. <sup>2</sup> Then arose Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and the ten men that were with him, and they smote Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan with the sword; and he killed him whom the king of Babylon had appointed over the land. <sup>3</sup> Ishmael also smote all the Jews that were with him, even with Gedaliah, at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans that were found there, the men of war.

<sup>4</sup> And it came to pass, on the second day after he had killed Gedaliah, and no man knew it, <sup>5</sup> that there came certain men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, fourscore men, <sup>c</sup> having their beards shaven and their clothes rent, and having cut themselves; with offerings and incense in their hand, to bring to the house of the LORD. <sup>6</sup> And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping all along as he went: and it came to pass, as he met them, he said to them; Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam. <sup>7</sup> And it came to pass, when they entered into the midst of the city, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, he, and the men that were with him, slew them and cast them into the midst of the pit. <sup>8</sup> But ten men were found among them that said unto Ishmael: Do not kill us; for we have hidden stores in the field, of wheat and of barley and of oil and of honey. So he forbore, and killed them not among their brethren.

<sup>9</sup> And the pit wherein Ishmael cast all the dead bodies of the men whom he had smitten by the side of: Gedaliah, was that which Asa the king had made for fear of Baasha, the king of Israel; Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with slain.

<sup>10</sup> And Ishmael carried away captive all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah; <sup>d</sup> the king's daughters and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzar-adan the captain of the body-guard had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam; so Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive; and he departed to go over to the Ammonites.

<sup>11</sup> But when Johanan the son of Kareah, and <sup>e</sup> all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done, <sup>12</sup> then they took all the men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah; and they found him by <sup>f</sup> the great waters that are in Gibeon. <sup>13</sup> And it came to pass that when all the people who were with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad. <sup>14</sup> And all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah turned about and went back, and came to Johanan the son of Kareah. <sup>15</sup> But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from before Johanan, with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

<sup>16</sup> And Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, took all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, after he had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam; mighty men of war, and women and children and eunuchs, whom he had brought again from Gibeon; <sup>17</sup> and they went, and stayed at the sojourn-place* of <sup>g</sup> Chimham, which is near Beth-lehem, to go to enter into Egypt, <sup>18</sup> because of the Chaldeans; for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had smitten Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon appointed in the land.

Application of the Jews for Divine direction and (7) the word of God concerning the flight to Egypt—(ch. 43. 1) The people's disobedience.

<sup>42</sup> AND all the captains of the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and Jezaniah the son of Hoshai, and all the people, from the least even to the greatest, came near, <sup>2</sup> and said to Jeremiah the prophet: Let, we beseech thee, our supplication be accepted before thee, and <sup>a</sup> pray for us unto the LORD thy God, for all this remnant (for we are left a few out of many, as thine eyes do behold us) <sup>3</sup> that the LORD thy God may show us <sup>b</sup> the way wherein we should walk and the thing that we should do.

<sup>4</sup> Then Jeremiah the prophet said to them: I have heard you; behold, I will pray unto the LORD your God according to your words; and it shall come to pass that <sup>c</sup> whatsoever thing the LORD shall answer you, I will declare unto you; I will keep nothing back from you.

<sup>5</sup> Then they said to Jeremiah: <sup>a</sup> The LORD be a true and faithful witness against us, if we do not even according to all things for which the LORD thy God shall send thee to us. <sup>6</sup> Whether good or whether evil, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God, to whom we send thee; <sup>6</sup> that it may be well with us because we obey the voice of the LORD our God.

<sup>7</sup> And it came to pass after ten days, that the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah. <sup>8</sup> And he called Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces who were with him, and all the people, from the least even to the greatest: <sup>9</sup> and he said unto them: Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, to whom ye sent me to lay your supplication before him:

<sup>10</sup> If ye will still abide in this land, then <sup>f</sup> will I build you and not pull down, and I will plant you and not pluck up; for <sup>g</sup> I repent me of the evil that I have done unto you. <sup>11</sup> Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid; he not afraid of him, saith the LORD; for I am with you, to save you and to deliver you from his hand; <sup>12</sup> and <sup>h</sup> I will grant mercies to you, so that he shall have mercy upon you, and cause you to return to your own land.

<sup>13</sup> But if ye say, <sup>i</sup> We will not dwell in this land, so as not to obey the voice of the LORD your God, <sup>14</sup> saying, No, but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger for bread, and there will we dwell—<sup>15</sup> now therefore hear the word of the LORD, ye remnant of Judah: Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: If ye <sup>k</sup> wholly set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to sojourn there; <sup>16</sup> then it shall come to pass that the sword <sup>l</sup> which ye fear shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt; and the famine whereof ye are afraid shall follow close after you there in Egypt; and there ye shall die. <sup>17</sup> So shall it be with all the men that set their faces to go into Egypt to sojourn there. They shall die <sup>m</sup> by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; and <sup>n</sup> none of them shall remain or escape from the evil that I bring upon them. <sup>18</sup> For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: As mine anger and my fury hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so shall my fury be poured forth upon you, when ye enter into Egypt; and <sup>o</sup> ye shall be an execration and an astonishment* and a curse and a reproach; and ye shall see this place no more.

<sup>19</sup> The LORD hath said to you, the remnant of Judah, <sup>p</sup> Go ye not into Egypt. Know certainly that I have admonished you this day. <sup>20</sup> For ye erred against your own souls† when ye sent me to the LORD your God, saying, Pray for us unto the LORD our God; and according to all that the LORD our God shall say, so declare to us, and we will do it. <sup>21</sup> And I have this day declared it to you; but ye have not obeyed the voice of the LORD your God, nor any thing for which he hath sent me unto you. <sup>22</sup> And now know ye certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to go, to sojourn.

<sup>43.</sup> And it came to pass, that when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking to all the people all the words of the LORD their God, for which the LORD their God had sent him to them, even all these words, <sup>2</sup> then spake Azariah the son of Hoshaiah, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud‡ men, saying unto Jeremiah: <sup>3</sup> Thou speakest falsehood; the LORD our God hath not sent thee to say, Go not into Egypt to sojourn there; <sup>3</sup> but Baruch the son of Neriah setteth thee on against us, in order to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they may put us to death, and carry us away captive to Babylon.

<sup>4</sup> So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, obeyed not the voice of the LORD, to dwell in the land of Judah. <sup>5</sup> But Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, took <sup>r</sup> all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all the nations whither they had been driven, to dwell in the land of Judah; <sup>6</sup> the men and the women and the children, and <sup>s</sup> the king's daughters, and <sup>t</sup> every person that Nebuzar-adan the captain of the body-guard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch the son of Neriah; <sup>7</sup> and they entered the land of Egypt; for they obeyed not the voice of the LORD; and they entered as far as <sup>u</sup> Tahpanhes.

A prophecy delivered to the Jews in Egypt, warning them of the conquest of that country by the Chaldeans.

<sup>8</sup> AND the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying: <sup>9</sup> Take great stones in thy hand, and hide them in the clay*, in the brick-kiln which is at the entry of Pharaoh's house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the men of Judah; <sup>10</sup> and say to them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel:

Behold, <sup>a</sup> I will send and take Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, <sup>b</sup> my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hidden; and he shall spread his pavilion over them. <sup>11</sup> And <sup>c</sup> he shall come and smite the land of Egypt; <sup>d</sup> what is for death to death, and what is for captivity to captivity, and what is for the sword to the sword. <sup>12</sup> And I will kindle a fire in the houses of <sup>e</sup> the gods of Egypt; and he shall burn them, and shall carry them away captives. And he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment; and he shall go forth from thence in peace. <sup>13</sup> And he shall break the images of Beth-shemesh†, that is in the land of Egypt; and the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall be burn with fire.

Messages addressed to the Jews in Egypt; rebuking their idolatry, and threatening punishment.

44. THE word that came to Jeremiah for all the Jews who dwelt in the land of Egypt, who dwelt at <sup>a</sup> Migdol, and at <sup>b</sup> Tahpanhes, and at <sup>c</sup> Noph, and in the country of <sup>d</sup> Pathros, saying:

<sup>2</sup> Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: <sup>e</sup> Ye yourselves have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem and upon all the cities of Judah; and behold, this day they are <sup>f</sup> a desolation, and no man dwelleth therein; <sup>3</sup> <sup>g</sup> because of their wickedness which they have committed, to provoke me to anger, by going <sup>h</sup> to burn incense, to serve other gods, whom they knew not, neither they, nor ye, nor your fathers. <sup>4</sup> And I <sup>i</sup> sent to you all my servants the prophets, rising early and sending, saying, Oh, do not this abominable thing that I hate. <sup>5</sup> But <sup>j</sup> they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear, to turn from their wickedness, to burn no incense unto other gods. <sup>6</sup> And my fury and mine anger was poured forth and was kindled, in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and they are become a waste, a desolation, as at this day.

<sup>7</sup> And now thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Wherefore commit ye great evil against your souls, to cut off from you man and woman, child and suckling, out of Judah, to leave you none to remain; <sup>8</sup> to provoke me to wrath with the works of your hands, burning incense to other gods, in the land of Egypt, whither ye are gone to dwell; that ye should cut yourselves off, and that ye should be <sup>k</sup> a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth? <sup>9</sup> Have ye forgotten <sup>m</sup> the wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they have committed in the land of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem? <sup>10</sup> They <sup>n</sup> are not humbled unto this day, neither have they feared, nor have they walked in my law, nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

<sup>11</sup> Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, <sup>o</sup> I will set my face against you for evil, and to cut off all Judah. <sup>12</sup> And I will take the remnant of Judah, who have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt, to sojourn there, and <sup>p</sup> they shall all be consumed; they shall fall in the land of Egypt; they shall be consumed by the sword, and by the famine; they shall die, from the least even to the greatest, by the sword and by the famine; and they shall be an execration, an astonishment* and a curse and a reproach. <sup>13</sup> And I will punish those that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine and by the pestilence; <sup>14</sup> so that none of the remnant of Judah who are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there shall escape or remain, that they should return into the land of Judah, to which they have a desire to return, to dwell there; for none shall return but fugitives.

<sup>15</sup> Then all the men who knew that their wives burned incense to other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great multitude, even all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, answered Jeremiah, saying:

<sup>16</sup> As for the word that thou hast spoken unto us in the name of the LORD, <sup>q</sup> we will not hearken unto thee. <sup>17</sup> But we will certainly do everything that hath gone forth out of our own mouth, to burn incense to <sup>r</sup> the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings to her, as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and we had plenty of bread, and were well, and we saw no evil. <sup>18</sup> But since we left off to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings to her, we have lacked all, and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine. <sup>19</sup> And when we burned incense to the queen of heaven, and poured out drink-offerings unto her, did we make for her cakes, to worship her, and pour out drink offerings to her, without our husbands?

<sup>20</sup> Then Jeremiah spake to all the people, to the men and to the women and to all the people who had given him answer, saying: <sup>21</sup> The incense that ye burned in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem, ye and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, <sup>a</sup> did not the LORD remember them, and came it not into his heart? <sup>22</sup> So that the LORD <sup>c</sup> could no longer bear, because of the evil of your doings, because of the abominations which ye have committed. Therefore is your land <sup>a</sup> a desolation and an astonishment* and a curse, without an inhabitant, as at this day. <sup>23</sup> Because ye have burned incense, and because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies, <sup>d</sup> therefore this evil is happened unto you, as at this day.

<sup>24</sup> And Jeremiah said to all the people, and to all the women: Hear the word of the LORD, all Judah that are in the land of Egypt: <sup>25</sup> Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying: Ye and your wives have both spoken with your mouths and fulfilled with your hand, saying, We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her; ye will surely accomplish your vows, and surely perform your vows.

<sup>26</sup> Therefore hear ye the word of the LORD, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt: Behold, <sup>e</sup> I swear by my great name, saith the LORD, that <sup>f</sup> my name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, As the Lord God liveth. <sup>27</sup> Behold <sup>g</sup> I will watch over them for evil and not for good; and all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until there be an end of them. <sup>28</sup> Yet <sup>h</sup> a small number that escape the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah; and all the remnant of Judah that are gone into the land of Egypt, to sojourn there, shall know whose words shall stand, mine or theirs.

<sup>29</sup> And this shall be the sign unto you, saith the LORD, that I will punish you in this place; that ye may know that <sup>i</sup> my words shall surely stand against you for evil: <sup>30</sup> Thus saith the LORD: Behold, <sup>j</sup> I will give Pharaoh-hophra, the king of Egypt, into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seek his life; as I gave <sup>k</sup> Zedekiah, the king of Judah, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar, the king of Babylon, his enemy, and the seeker of his life.

Admonition and promise to Baruch.

45. THE <sup>a</sup> word that Jeremiah the prophet spake unto Baruch the son of Neriah, when he wrote these words in a book, from the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, the king of Judah, saying:

<sup>2</sup> Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, unto thee, Baruch: <sup>3</sup> Thou sayest, Woe is me now! For the LORD hath added grief to my sorrow; I am wearied with my sighing, and I find no rest. <sup>4</sup> Thus shalt thou say unto him: The LORD saith thus; Behold, <sup>b</sup> what I have built I myself overthrow, and what I have planted I pluck up, even this whole land; <sup>5</sup> and thou, seekest thou great things for thyself? Seek them not; for behold, <sup>c</sup> I will bring evil upon all flesh, saith the LORD; but I will give to thee <sup>d</sup> thy life for a prey, in all places whither thou goest.

Ye plunderers of my heritage;

Because ye frisk, like a threshing heifer,

Behold, the end <sup>v</sup> of the nations!

A wilderness, a dry land, and a desert!

<sup>13</sup> Because of the wrath of the LORD

It shall not be inhabited,

But <sup>w</sup> it shall be wholly desolate;

Every one that goeth by Babylon shall be astonished and shall hiss,

Because of all her plagues.

All ye that bend the bow;

Shoot at her, spare no arrows;

The prophecy concerning Babylon (60) written by Jeremiah (61) is delivered to a Jewish exile to be read by him on the very spot (63) accompanied by a symbolical action.

<sup>59</sup> THE word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Maaseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah to Babylon, in the fourth year of his reign. And Seraiah was chief over the resting-place*.

<sup>60</sup> And Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that should come upon Babylon, all these words that are written against Babylon. <sup>61</sup> And Jeremiah said to Seraiah; When thou comest to Babylon, then see that thou read all these words, <sup>62</sup> and say: O LORD, thou hast spoken concerning this place, to cut it off, that none shall remain in it, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be desolate for ever. <sup>63</sup> And it shall be, when thou hast made an end of reading this book, thou shalt <sup>a</sup> bind a stone to it, and shalt cast it into the midst of the Euphrates: <sup>64</sup> and thou shalt say, Thus shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise, because of the evil that I bring upon her; and they shall weary themselves.

Thus far the words of Jeremiah.

<sup>52</sup> ZEDEKIAH was <sup>a</sup> one and twenty years old when he became king, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah. <sup>2</sup> And he did what was evil in the eyes of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done. <sup>3</sup> For on account of the LORD's anger it came to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, till he had cast them out from his presence, that Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

<sup>4</sup> And it came to pass in the <sup>b</sup> ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, on the tenth of the month, that Nebuchadrezzar, the king of Babylon, came, he and all his army, against Jerusalem; and they encamped against it, and built siege-towers against it round about. <sup>5</sup> So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of king Zedekiah.

<sup>6</sup> And in the fourth month, on the ninth of the month, the famine prevailed in the city, and there was no bread for the people of the land. <sup>7</sup> And the city was broken into; and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden, (and the Chaldeans were by the city round about), and they went by the way of the plain. <sup>8</sup> And the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains* of Jericho; and all his army was scattered from him.

<sup>9</sup> And <sup>c</sup> they took the king, and carried him up to the king of Babylon, to Bבלah, in the land of Hamath; where he gave judgment upon him. <sup>10</sup> And the king of * ELERY L. Lamentation of Jerusalem over the destruction of the city, the nation, and the temple; with confession of sin and prayer for deliverance.

1. HOW doth the city sit solitary that was full of people!

How is she become as a widow that was <sup>a</sup> great among the nations!

A <sup>b</sup> princess among the provinces, <sup>c</sup> how is she become a vassal!

2 She <sup>d</sup> weepeth sore in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks;

Among <sup>e</sup> all her lovers she hath no comforter;

All <sup>f</sup> her friends deal treacherously with her, they are become her enemies.

3 Judah <sup>g</sup> is gone into captivity, because of affliction and because of great servitude;

She <sup>h</sup> dwelleth among the nations, she findeth no rest;

All <sup>i</sup> her pursuers overtook her between the straits.

4 The <sup>j</sup> ways of Zion mourn, because none come to the solemn feasts;

All her gates are desolate, her priests sigh; Her virgins are afflicted, and she is in bitterness.

5 Her <sup>k</sup> adversaries are chief, her enemies prosper;

For the LORD hath afflicted her <sup>m</sup> for the multitude of her transgressions;

Her children are gone into captivity before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her beauty is departed;

Her princes are become like harts that find no pasture.

And they are gone, without strength, before the pursuer.

7 In the days of her affliction and of her miseries, Jerusalem remembereth all her precious things that were in the days of old;

When her people fall into <sup>n</sup> the hand of the enemy, and there is none to help her; The adversaries see her, they mock at her desolations.

8 Jerusalem <sup>o</sup> hath grievously sinned, therefore she is become an abomination; All that honoured her despise her, because <sup>p</sup> they see her nakedness;

Yea she sigheth, and turneth backward.

9 Her filthiness is in her skirts; she <sup>q</sup> remembered not her last end;

Therefore she hath come down wonderfully, she hath no comforter:

LORD, behold my affliction, for the enemy magnifieth himself.

10 The adversary hath spread out his hand upon all her precious things;

For she seeth that the heathen have <sup>r</sup> entered into her sanctuary,

Whom thou didst command that <sup>s</sup> they should not enter into thy congregation.

11 All her people sigh, <sup>t</sup> they seek bread; They give their precious things for food, to revive the soul <sup>u</sup>.

See, O LORD, and consider, for I am become despised.

12 Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by? Behold and see <sup>v</sup> if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done to me;

Wherewith the LORD afflicteth me in the day of his fierce anger.

13 From above he sendeth fire into my bones, and it prevaileth against them; He <sup>w</sup> spreadeth a net for my feet, he turneth me back;

He maketh me desolate, and faint all the day.

14 The <sup>x</sup> yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand;

They are wretched, they come up upon my neck; he maketh my strength to fall;

The <sup>y</sup> LORD delivereth me into the hands of those I am not able to stand against.

15 The LORD hath trodden under foot all my mighty men in the midst of me;

He hath called an assembly against me, to crush my young men;

The LORD <sup>z</sup> hath trodden the virgin, the daughter of Judah, as in a wine-press.

ELEGY V. Complaints of disgrace and misery with confessions of sin as their cause, and prayer for mercy and restoration.

5. REMEMBER, LORD, what is come upon us,

Consider, and behold <sup>a</sup> our reproach.

<sup>2</sup> Our inheritance is turned to strangers, Our houses to aliens.

<sup>3</sup> We are orphans, without a father, Our mothers are as widows.

<sup>5</sup> By our necks are we driven;

We <sup>b</sup> labour, we have no rest.

<sup>6</sup> We have given the hand <sup>c</sup> to the Egyptians,

And to the Assyrians, to be satisfied with bread.

<sup>7</sup> Our fathers have sinned, and they are not,

And <sup>d</sup> we bear their iniquities.

<sup>8</sup> Slaves rule over us,

There is no deliverer out of their hand.

<sup>9</sup> We bring in our bread at the risk of our lives.

Because of the sword of the wilderness,

<sup>10</sup> Our skin is black like an oven,

Because of the fevers of the famine.

<sup>11</sup> They have humbled the women in Zion, The virgins in the cities of Judah.

<sup>15</sup> The joy of our heart is ceased, Our dance is turned into mourning.

<sup>16</sup> The crown* of our head is fallen;

Woe indeed unto us, because we have sinned!

<sup>17</sup> Because of this our heart is faint,

Because of these things our eyes are dim:

<sup>18</sup> Because of mount Zion, which is desolate;

The <sup>f</sup> jackals walk upon it.

<sup>19</sup> Thou, LORD, <sup>g</sup> remainest for ever,

Thy throne is from generation to generation.

<sup>20</sup> Wherefore <sup>h</sup> dost thou forget us for ever, Dost thou forsake us so long time?

<sup>21</sup> Turn <sup>i</sup> thou us unto thee, O LORD, and we shall be turned,

Renew <sup>j</sup> our days as of old.

<sup>22</sup> But thou hast utterly rejected us, Thou art very wroth against us.

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET EZEKIEL.

Prophecies respecting the Jews, before the destruction of Jerusalem—(1) Introductory visions—(4) A storm-cloud from the north; (5) the cherubim and (15) the wheels; and (22) above the whole, the throne of Jehovah.

1. NOW it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, on the fifth of the month, when I was among the captives, <sup>a</sup> by the river Chebar, <sup>b</sup> the heavens were opened, and I saw <sup>c</sup> visions of God. <sup>2</sup> On the fifth of the month (which was the fifth year of <sup>d</sup> king Jehoiachin's captivity), <sup>3</sup> the word of the LORD verily came unto Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans, by the river Chebar; and <sup>e</sup> the hand of the LORD was there upon him.

<sup>4</sup> And I looked, and behold, <sup>f</sup> a whirlwind came out of the north, a great cloud, and a fire infolding itself*; and it had brightness round about, and out of the midst thereof as the appearance† of burnished metal, out of the midst of the fire. <sup>5</sup> And

<sup>g</sup> out of the midst thereof I saw the likeness of four living creatures; and <sup>h</sup> this was their appearance. They had the likeness of a man; <sup>6</sup> and every one had four faces, and every one had four wings; <sup>7</sup> and their feet were upright feet; and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calf's foot; and they sparkled <sup>i</sup> like the appearance* of polished brass. <sup>8</sup> And <sup>k</sup> they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four sides. And they four had their faces and their wings. <sup>9</sup> Their wings were joined one to another; <sup>l</sup> they turned not when they went; they went every one straight forward. <sup>10</sup> As for the likeness of their faces, they four had the face of a man and the face of a lion on the right side; and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; they four also had the face of an eagle: <sup>11</sup> thus were their faces. And their wings were stretched upward; two of every one were joined one to another,

m Is. 6. 2. and <sup>m</sup> two covered their bodies. <sup>12</sup> And <sup>n</sup> they went every one straight forward: <sup>o</sup> whither the spirit was to go, they went; they turned not when they went. <sup>13</sup> As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like <sup>p</sup> burning coals of fire, like the appearance of torches; it went up and down among the living creatures; and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning. <sup>14</sup> And the living creatures ran and returned, like the appearance of lightning.

<sup>15</sup> And as I beheld the living creatures, behold, a wheel upon the earth by the living creatures, towards their four faces. <sup>16</sup> The "appearance of the wheels and their work was <sup>r</sup> like unto the appearance* of a Tarshish stone†; and they four had one likeness; and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel in the middle of a wheel. <sup>17</sup> When they went, they went upon their four sides: they turned not when they went. <sup>18</sup> As for their rings† they were so high that they were dreadful; and their rings† were <sup>s</sup> full of eyes round about all the four.

<sup>19</sup> And when the living creatures went, the wheels went beside them; and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up. <sup>20</sup> Whithersoever the spirit was to go, they went; thither the spirit was to go, and the wheels were lifted up along with them; for the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels. <sup>21</sup> When those went, they went; and when those stood, they stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up along with them; for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels.

<sup>22</sup> And over the heads of the living creatures was the likeness of a firmament‡; like the appearance§ of the wonderful crystal, stretched forth over their heads above. <sup>23</sup> And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one towards the other; every one had two which covered on this side, and every one had two which covered on that side, their bodies. <sup>24</sup> And <sup>t</sup> when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, <sup>u</sup> like the voice of many waters, like <sup>x</sup> the voice of the Almighty; the voice of a throng, like the noise of a host. When they stood, they let down their wings. <sup>25</sup> And there was a voice from the firmament that was over their heads. When they stood they let down their wings.

stone; and upon the likeness of the throne was the likeness as the appearance of a man above upon it. <sup>27</sup> And <sup>a</sup> I saw as the appearance* of burnished† metal, as the appearance of fire round about within it, from the appearance of his loins even upward; and from the appearance of his loins even downward, I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and it had brightness round about. <sup>28</sup> As the appearance of the <sup>b</sup> bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. This was <sup>c</sup> the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD.

And when I saw, <sup>d</sup> I fell upon my face, and I heard the voice of one that spake. <sup>2</sup> And he said unto me: <sup>e</sup> Son of man, <sup>f</sup> stand upon thy feet, and I will speak with thee. <sup>2</sup> And <sup>g</sup> when he spake unto me the spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet; and I heard him that spake unto me.

<sup>3</sup> AND he said unto me: Son of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to the rebellious nation, that hath rebelled against me: <sup>a</sup> they and their fathers have transgressed against me unto this very day; <sup>4</sup> and the sons are impudent; and stiff-hearted. I send thee unto them; and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD. <sup>5</sup> And they, whether they will hear or whether they will forbear, (for they are a rebellious house), yet <sup>b</sup> shall know that there hath been a prophet among them.

<sup>6</sup> And thou, son of man, <sup>c</sup> be not afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words; for <sup>d</sup> briars † and thorns are with thee, and thou dwellest among scorpions; be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, for they are a rebellious house. <sup>7</sup> And thou shalt speak my words unto them, whether they will hear or whether they will forbear; for they are rebellious. <sup>8</sup> And thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee: be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house. Open thy mouth, and eat what I give thee.

<sup>9</sup> And I looked, and behold, <sup>e</sup> a hand stretched out towards me; and lo, <sup>f</sup> a scroll of a book therein. <sup>10</sup> And he spread it before me; and <sup>g</sup> it was written within and without§: and there were written therein <sup>h</sup> lamentations and mourning and woe.

Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this scroll that I give thee. And I ate; and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness.

<sup>4</sup> And he said unto me: Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with my words unto them. <sup>5</sup> For thou art sent not to a people of strange speech and of hard language, but to the house of Israel; <sup>6</sup> not to many peoples of strange speech and of hard language, whose words thou canst not understand. Surely, <sup>7</sup> had I sent thee to them, they would have hearkened unto thee. <sup>8</sup> But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee, for <sup>9</sup> they will not hearken unto me; for <sup>10</sup> all the house of Israel are impudent and hard-hearted*. <sup>11</sup> Behold, I make thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead† strong against their foreheads: <sup>12</sup> like <sup>13</sup> adamant, stronger than flint, I make thy forehead. Fear <sup>14</sup> them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, for they are a rebellious house.

<sup>15</sup> And he said unto me: Son of man, all my words that I shall speak unto thee, receive in thy heart, and hear with thine ears. <sup>16</sup> And go, get thee to the Captivity‡, to the children of thy people; and speak to them and tell them: Thus saith the Lord God; whether they will hear or whether they will forbear.

Symbolical vision of Jehovah's presence and glory—(16) Warning of the responsibility of the prophet's office.

<sup>17</sup> AND <sup>18</sup> the spirit|| took me up, and I heard behind me the voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be <sup>19</sup> the glory of the LORD, from his place! <sup>20</sup> Also <sup>21</sup> the sound of the wings of the living creatures that touched one another, and the sound of <sup>22</sup> the wheels along with them, and the sound of a great rushing. <sup>23</sup> And the <sup>24</sup> spirit§ lifted me up and took me away; and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit; and <sup>25</sup> the hand of the LORD was strong upon me.

<sup>26</sup> Then I came to the Captivity at Telabih, that dwelt by the river Chebar; and <sup>27</sup> I sat where they sat; and I remained there, <sup>28</sup> astonished*, among them, seven days.

<sup>29</sup> And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the word of the LORD came to me, saying: <sup>30</sup> Son of man, I have made thee <sup>31</sup> a watchman unto the house of Israel: and thou shalt hear the word at my mouth, and <sup>32</sup> give them warning from me.

<sup>33</sup> When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, <sup>34</sup> to save his life; that wicked <sup>35</sup> man shall die in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at thy hand.

<sup>36</sup> But if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness and from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity, but <sup>37</sup> thou hast delivered thy soul.

<sup>38</sup> Again, when <sup>39</sup> the righteous turneth from his righteousness and committeth iniquity, and <sup>40</sup> I lay a stumbling-block before him, he shall die; because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteousness which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thy hand. <sup>41</sup> But if thou warnest the righteous not to sin, and he doth not sin, he shall surely live, because he is warned; and <sup>42</sup> thou hast delivered thy soul.

<sup>23</sup> AND <sup>24</sup> the hand of the LORD was there upon me; and he said unto me: Arise, go forth into the valley, and I will there speak with thee. <sup>25</sup> Then I arose, and went forth into the valley; and behold, <sup>26</sup> the glory of the LORD stood there, like the glory which I saw by the river Chebar; and I fell on my face. <sup>27</sup> And the <sup>28</sup> spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet.

And he spake with me, and said unto me: Go, shut thyself within thy house. <sup>29</sup> And thou, son of man, behold, <sup>30</sup> they will put bands upon thee, and will bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them. <sup>31</sup> And <sup>32</sup> I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, so that thou shalt be dumb, and <sup>33</sup> shalt not be to them a reprover; for <sup>34</sup> they are a rebellious house. <sup>35</sup> And <sup>36</sup> when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say to them, Thus saith the Lord God: <sup>37</sup> He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbeareth, let him forbear; for they are a rebellious house.

<sup>5</sup> And thou, son of man, take thee a sharp sword, take thee a barbers' razor, and make <sup>l</sup> it pass over thy head and over thy beard: and take thee weighing-balances, and divide the hair. <sup>2</sup> Thou shalt burn with fire a third part, in the midst of the city, when the days of the siege are fulfilled; and thou shalt take a third part <sup>m</sup> and smite it with the sword round about her<sup>2</sup>; and a third part thou shalt scatter to the wind; and <sup>1</sup> I will draw out a sword after them. <sup>3</sup> And <sup>n</sup> thou shalt take thereof a few in number, and bind them in thy skirts. <sup>4</sup> And take of these again, and <sup>n</sup> cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire. <sup>6</sup> Thus saith the Lord God: This is Jerusalem. I have set it in the midst of the nations and countries round about her; <sup>6</sup> and <sup>o</sup> she hath rebelled against my judgments in wickedness more than the nations, and against my statutes more than the countries that are round about her. For they have refused my judgments; and my statutes, they have not walked in them. <sup>7</sup> Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Because ye have been tumultuous more than the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my statutes, neither have kept my judgment <sup>p</sup> and have not done according to the judgments of the nations that are round about you; <sup>8</sup> therefore thus saith the Lord God; Behold I, even I, am against thee, and <sup>q</sup> I will execute judgments in the midst of thee, in the sight of the nations. <sup>9</sup> And <sup>r</sup> I will do in thee that which I have not done, and the like of which I will not do any more, because of all thine abominations. <sup>10</sup> Therefore the fathers <sup>s</sup> shall eat the sons in the midst of thee, and the sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments in thee; and the whole remnant of thee will I <sup>t</sup> scatter to all the winds.

<sup>11</sup> Wherefore, as I live, saith the Lord God, surely, because thou hast <sup>u</sup> defiled my sanctuary with all thy detestable things and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also cut <sup>v</sup> thee off; and mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have any pity. <sup>12</sup> A third <sup>w</sup> part of <sup>v</sup> thee shall die with the pestilence, and with the famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee; and a third part shall fall by the sword round about thee; and <sup>x</sup> I will scatter a third part to all the winds, and I will draw out a sword after them.

A vision of (6) the idolatries practised at Jerusalem, by (7) the elders, (14) the women, and (15) the priests—(17) Sentences of punishment.

8, AND it came to pass in the sixth year, in the sixth month, on the fifth of the month, as I was sitting in my house, and <sup>a</sup> the elders of Judah were sitting before me, that <sup>b</sup> the hand of the Lord God fell there upon me. <sup>2</sup> And I beheld, and lo, <sup>c</sup> a likeness*, as the appearance of fire; from the appearance of his loins even downward, fire; and from his loins even upward, as the appearance of brightness, <sup>d</sup> as the appearance† of burnished metal. <sup>3</sup> And he put forth the form of a hand, and took me by the fore-lock of my head; and <sup>e</sup> the spirit† lifted me up between the earth and the heaven, and <sup>f</sup> brought me, in the visions of God, to Jerusalem, to the door of the inner gate that looketh towards the north; <sup>9</sup> where was the seat of the image of jealousy, which <sup>h</sup> provoketh to jealousy. <sup>4</sup> And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, like <sup>i</sup> the vision that I saw in the valley.

<sup>5</sup> Then said he unto me: Son of man, lift up thine eyes now the way towards the north. So I lifted up mine eyes the way towards the north, and behold, northward, at the gate of the altar, this image of jealousy in the entry.

<sup>6</sup> And he said unto me: Son of man, seest thou what they do; the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here; that I should go far off from my sanctuary? But yet again thou shalt see great abominations.

<sup>7</sup> And he brought me to the door of the court; and I looked, and behold, a hole in the wall. <sup>8</sup> Then said he unto me: Son of man, dig now through the wall. And I digged through the wall, and behold, a door. <sup>9</sup> And he said unto me: Go in, and behold the wicked abominations that they do here.

<sup>10</sup> So I went in and saw, and behold, <sup>k</sup> every form of reptile and abominable beast, and all the idols of the house of Israel, poured upon the wall all around. <sup>11</sup> And there stood before them <sup>l</sup> seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel; and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, every man with his censor in his hand; and a thick cloud* of incense went up.

<sup>12</sup> Then said he unto me: Son of man, seest thou what the elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in his chambers of imagery†? For they say, <sup>m</sup> The LORD seeth us not, the LORD hath forsaken the land. <sup>13</sup> And he said unto me, Yet again thou shalt see great abominations that they do.

<sup>14</sup> And he brought me to the door of the gate of the LORD's house which was towards the North; and behold, women sitting weeping for Tammuz. <sup>15</sup> And he said unto me: Seest thou, son of man? Yet again thou shalt see greater abominations than these.

<sup>16</sup> And he brought me into the inner court of the LORD's house; and behold, at the door of the temple of the LORD, between the porch and the altar, were <sup>n</sup> about five and twenty men, <sup>o</sup> with their backs towards the temple of the LORD and their faces towards the east; and <sup>p</sup> they worshipped the sun towards the east.

<sup>17</sup> And he said unto me: Seest thou, son of man? Is it too little for the house of Judah to commit the abominations which they commit here, that they fill the land with violence, and again provoke me to anger? And lo, they put the vine-branch to their nose. <sup>18</sup> Therefore <sup>q</sup> will I also deal in wrath: <sup>r</sup> mine eye shall not spare, nor will I have pity; and <sup>s</sup> they shall cry in mine ears with a loud voice, but I will not hear them.

The vision continued—(1) Destruction of the wicked in Jerusalem; a faithful remnant being preserved—(8) The prophet's intercession, and (9) the Lord's answer.

9, AND he cried in mine ears with a loud voice, saying: Bring ye near them that have charge over the city†, even every man with his destroying weapon in his hand.

<sup>2</sup> And behold, six men came from the way of the higher gate, which lieth towards the north, and every man a slaughter-weapon in his hand; and among them one man clothed with linen, with a writer's ink-horn by his side†; and they went in, and stood beside the brasen‡ altar. <sup>3</sup> And <sup>a</sup> the glory of the God of Israel went up from over the cherub, whereupon it was, to the threshold of the house. And he called to the man clothed with the linen, who had the writer's ink-horn by his side; <sup>4</sup> and the LORD said unto him: Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and <sup>b</sup> make a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that groan for all the

And behold, <sup>b</sup>at the door of the gate five and twenty men; among whom I saw <sup>c</sup>Jaazaniah the son of Azur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, princes† of the people.

2 And he said unto me: Son of man, <sup>d</sup>these are the men who devise mischief and give wicked counsel in this city; <sup>e</sup>who say, <sup>f</sup>It is not near, to build houses. This city is <sup>f</sup>the caldron, and we the flesh. <sup>g</sup>Therefore <sup>g</sup>prophecy against them, prophesy, thou son of man.

3 And the Spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and said unto me: Say, thus saith the LORD: Thus ye say, ye house of Israel; and I know what things come into your mind, every one of them.

Conclusion of the vision—(13) Consolatory promises to the Jewish exiles, assuring them of present protection, and (17) future national and spiritual restoration.

14 AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: <sup>u</sup>Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel, the whole of it, are they unto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem say, Get you far from the LORD; unto us is this land given in possession.

16 Therefore say, thus saith the Lord GOD: Although I have cast them far off among the nations, and although I have scattered them among the countries, yet <sup>v</sup>will I be to them for a little sanctuary* in the countries whither they are come.

17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; <sup>w</sup>I will even gather you from the nations, and assemble you out of the countries where ye have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel. <sup>x</sup>And they shall come thither, and they <sup>y</sup>shall take away from thence all its detestable things and all its abominations. <sup>z</sup>And <sup>z</sup>I will give them one heart, and I will put <sup>a</sup>a new spirit within you; and I will take <sup>b</sup>the heart of stone out of their flesh, and will give them a heart of flesh; <sup>c</sup>that they may walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them. And <sup>d</sup>they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

21 But as for those whose heart walketh after the heart of their detestable things and their abominations, <sup>e</sup>I will recompense their way upon their own heads, saith the Lord GOD.

22 And <sup>f</sup>the cherubim lifted up their wings, and the wheels beside them; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above. <sup>g</sup>And <sup>h</sup>the glory of the LORD went up from the midst of the city, and stood upon <sup>i</sup>the mountain which is on the east side of the city.

24 And the spirit† <sup>j</sup>took me up, and brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God <sup>k</sup>into Chaldea, to the Captivity. And the vision that I had seen went up from me. <sup>l</sup>25 Then I spake unto the Captivity all the things† that the LORD had showed me.

thy hair grew; whereas thou wast naked and bare. <sup>8</sup> And I passed by thee, and I looked upon thee, and behold, thy time was the time of love; and I <sup>9</sup> spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness; and <sup>10</sup> I swore unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord God, and <sup>11</sup> thou becamest mine. <sup>12</sup> And I washed thee with water, and washed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oil. <sup>13</sup> And I clothed thee with brodered work, and shod thee with badger's skin<sup>a</sup>, and I girded thee about with fine linen, and I covered thee with silk. <sup>14</sup> And I decked thee with ornaments, and I <sup>15</sup> put bracelets on thy hands, and a chain on thy neck. <sup>16</sup> And I put a nose-jewel on thy face, and ear-rings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thy head. <sup>17</sup> Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver, and thy raiment was fine linen and silk and brodered work. Thou <sup>18</sup> didst eat fine flour and honey and oil; and thou becamest <sup>19</sup> exceedingly beautiful; and thou didst attain unto royalty. <sup>20</sup> And <sup>21</sup> thy renown went forth among the nations for thy beauty: for it was perfect, <sup>22</sup> through my glory which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord God.

<sup>23</sup> But thou didst trust in thy beauty, and didst <sup>24</sup> play the harlot, because of thy renown, and didst pour out thy fornications on every one that passed by; his it was. <sup>25</sup> And <sup>26</sup> thou didst take of thy garments, and didst deck thy high places with divers colours, and didst play the harlot thereupon; which things should not come and should not be. <sup>27</sup> And thou tookest thy fair jewels, of my gold and of my silver which I gave thee, and madest to thyself images of men, and didst commit whoredom with them; <sup>28</sup> and thou didst take thy brodered garments, and didst cover them; and thou didst set before them mine oil and mine incense. <sup>29</sup> My <sup>30</sup> bread also, which I gave thee, the fine flour and oil and honey, that I fed thee with, thou didst even set it before them for a sweet savour: and thus it was, saith the Lord God.

<sup>36</sup> And in all thine abominations and thy whoredoms thou hast not remembered <sup>37</sup> the days of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast trodden under foot in thy blood.

<sup>38</sup> And it came to pass after all thy wickedness—(Woe, woe unto thee! saith the Lord God)—<sup>39</sup> that thou didst also build for thee an eminent place*, and <sup>40</sup> didst make thee a high place in every street; <sup>41</sup> thou didst build thy high place <sup>42</sup> at the head of every way; and thou didst make thy beauty to be abhorred, and didst open thy feet to every one that passed by, and didst multiply thy whoredoms. <sup>43</sup> And thou didst commit fornication with <sup>44</sup> the Egyptians thy neighbours, great of flesh; and didst increase thy whoredom, to provoke me to anger. <sup>45</sup> And lo! I stretched out my hand over thee, and diminished thy portion; and I <sup>46</sup> delivered thee unto the pleasure of them that hate thee, the daughters of the Philistines, who are ashamed of thy lewd way. <sup>47</sup> Thou <sup>48</sup> didst play the harlot also with the Assyrians, because thou wast unsatiable; yea thou didst play the harlot with them, and yet thou wast not satisfied. <sup>49</sup> And thou didst multiply thy fornication with the land of merchants, in Chaldea; and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

<sup>50</sup> How weak is thy heart, saith the Lord God, in that thou doest all these things, the doings of a harlot without restraint; <sup>51</sup> in that thou didst build thy eminent place† at the head of every way‡, and didst make thy high place in every street! And thou hast not been as a harlot, in that thou scornedst hire; <sup>52</sup> but as a wife that committeth adultery, who taketh strangers instead of her husband. <sup>53</sup> To all harlots they give gifts; but <sup>54</sup> thou givest thy gifts to all thy lovers and hirest them, that they may come unto thee from every side for thy whoredoms; <sup>55</sup> and thou art contrary to other women in thy whoredoms; whereas none followeth thee to commit whoredoms; and in that thou givest a reward, and no reward is given unto thee, therefore thou art contrary.

and I will give thee blood, in wrath and jealousy. <sup>39</sup> And I will also give thee into their hand, and they shall destroy thine eminent place*, and shall break down thy high places. And they shall <sup>40</sup> strip thee of thy clothes, and shall take thy fair jewels, and shall leave thee naked and bare. <sup>41</sup> They shall also <sup>42</sup> bring up a company against thee, and they shall <sup>43</sup> stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords. <sup>44</sup> And they shall <sup>45</sup> burn thy houses with fire, and execute judgments upon thee, in the sight of many women. And I will cause thee <sup>46</sup> to cease from being a harlot, and thou also shalt give no hire any more.

<sup>47</sup> So <sup>48</sup> will I appease my fury against thee; and my jealousy shall depart from thee; and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry. <sup>49</sup> Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast been excited against me in all these things; behold therefore, I also <sup>50</sup> will recompense thy way upon thy head, saith the Lord God, and thou shalt not commit the crime besides all thine abominations.

<sup>58</sup> As I live, saith the Lord God, <sup>59</sup> Sodom thy sister hath not done, she or her daughters, as thou hast done, thou and thy daughters. <sup>60</sup> Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom; pride, <sup>61</sup> fulness of bread and abundance of idleness was in her and in her daughters, and she did not strengthen the hand of the poor and needy. <sup>62</sup> And they were haughty, and <sup>63</sup> committed abomination before me; therefore <sup>64</sup> I took them away, when I saw it.

own shame: by the sins whereby thou hast committed abomination more than they, they are justified more than thou; yea be thou confounded also, and bear thy shame, because thou hast justified thy sisters.

<sup>69</sup> And I will restore <sup>70</sup> their captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and <sup>71</sup> the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, and the captivity of thy captives in the midst of them; <sup>72</sup> that <sup>73</sup> thou mayest bear thy shame, and mayest be confounded for all that thou hast done, when thou comfortest them. <sup>74</sup> And thy sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate, and thou and thy daughters shall return to your former estate. <sup>75</sup> Yet thy sister Sodom was not mentioned by thy mouth, in the day of thy pride, <sup>76</sup> before thy wickedness was discovered, as at the time of the <sup>77</sup> disgrace of the daughters of Syria, and all round about her, the daughters of the Philistines, who despise thee round about. <sup>78</sup> Thou <sup>79</sup> bearest thy crime and thine abominations, saith the LORD.

<sup>80</sup> For thus saith the Lord God; <sup>81</sup> I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, who <sup>82</sup> hast despised the oath in breaking the covenant. <sup>83</sup> Nevertheless I <sup>84</sup> will remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee <sup>85</sup> an everlasting covenant. <sup>86</sup> Then thou <sup>87</sup> shalt remember thy ways, and be ashamed, <sup>88</sup> when thou shalt receive thy sisters, thine elder and thy younger; and I will give them unto thee for daughters, but not by thy covenant. <sup>89</sup> And <sup>90</sup> I will establish my covenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD: <sup>91</sup> that thou mayest remember, and be confounded, and <sup>92</sup> never open thy mouth any more, because of thy shame, when I forgive thee for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord God.

e comp. Jer. 2. 18. <sup>7</sup> And there was another great eagle with great wings and many feathers; and behold, this vine turned its roots towards him, and shot forth its branches towards him, that <sup>e</sup> he might water it from the furrows of its plantation. <sup>8</sup> It was planted in a good soil, by many waters, that it might bring forth branches and bear fruit; that it might be a goodly vine.

f 2 Ki. 25. 7. <sup>9</sup> Say thou, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Shall it prosper? Will <sup>f</sup> he not pull up its roots, and cut off its fruit, that it wither? It shall wither in all the leaves of its sprouting, even <sup>g</sup> without great power or many people to pluck it up by its roots. <sup>10</sup> Yea behold, being planted, shall it prosper? Shall <sup>h</sup> it not utterly wither when the East wind toucheth it? It shall wither in the furrows where it grew.

<sup>11</sup> And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: <sup>12</sup> Say now to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? Say thou, Behold, <sup>i</sup> the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and he took its king and its princes, and led them with him to Babylon; <sup>13</sup> and <sup>k</sup> he took of the king's seed, and made a covenant with him, and <sup>l</sup> took an oath of him: <sup>m</sup> he took also the mighty of the land; <sup>14</sup> that the kingdom might be abased, that it might not lift itself up; that <sup>n</sup> his covenant should be kept and should stand. <sup>15</sup> But he* rebelled against him by sending his ambassadors to Egypt, that <sup>p</sup> they might give him horses and much people. Shall he that doeth such things <sup>q</sup> prosper? Shall he escape? Or shall he break the covenant, and be delivered?

<sup>16</sup> As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely <sup>r</sup> in the dwelling-place of the king that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even with him, in the midst of Babylon, he shall die. <sup>17</sup> And <sup>s</sup> Pharaoh, with a mighty army and great company, shall not make for him in the war, by casting up embankments and building forts, to cut off many persons. <sup>18</sup> Seeing he despised the oath by breaking the covenant, when lo, he had <sup>t</sup> given his hand, and he hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

<sup>19</sup> Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; As I live, surely <sup>u</sup> mine oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, even it will I recompense upon his own head. <sup>20</sup> And I <sup>x</sup> will spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and <sup>y</sup> will judge him there for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me. <sup>21</sup> And <sup>z</sup> all his fugitives, with all his troops, shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered towards all winds. And ye shall know that I the LORD have spoken it.

<sup>22</sup> Thus saith the Lord GOD: I will also take of the highest <sup>a</sup> branch of the high cedar, and will set it; I will crop off from the top of his young shoots <sup>b</sup> a tender one, and <sup>c</sup> will plant it upon a high mountain and eminent. <sup>23</sup> In <sup>d</sup> the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it; and it shall bring forth boughs and bear fruit, and become a goodly cedar. And <sup>e</sup> under it shall dwell all birds of every wing; in the shadow of its branches shall they dwell. <sup>24</sup> And all the trees of the field shall know that I, the LORD, <sup>f</sup> have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish. I the LORD have spoken, and have done it.

18. THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME UNTO ME AGAIN, SAYING:

<sup>2</sup> What mean ye that ye use this proverb in the land of Israel, saying, <sup>a</sup> The fathers have eaten sour grapes and the children's teeth are set on edge? <sup>3</sup> As I live, saith the Lord GOD, ye shall not have any more to use this proverb in Israel. <sup>4</sup> Behold, <sup>b</sup> all souls are mine; as the soul of the father so also the soul of the son is mine; <sup>c</sup> the soul that sinneth, it shall die.

<sup>5</sup> And if a man is just and doth judgment and justice, <sup>d</sup> and <sup>e</sup> doth not eat upon the mountains, nor lift up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, nor <sup>f</sup> defile his neighbour's wife, nor come near to <sup>g</sup> a woman in her uncleanness; <sup>7</sup> and <sup>h</sup> doth not oppress any; <sup>i</sup> restoreth to the debtor his pledge; doth not spoil any by violence; <sup>j</sup> giveth his bread to the hungry, and covereth the naked with a garment; <sup>k</sup> giveth not forth upon <sup>l</sup> usury, nor taketh increase; turneth away his hand from iniquity, <sup>m</sup> executeth true judgment between man and man, <sup>n</sup> walketh in my statutes, and keepeth my judgments, to deal truly; <sup>o</sup> he is just, he shall surely live, saith the Lord GOD.

<sup>10</sup> But if he beget a son who is a robber, a shedder of blood, and doeth the like to* any of these wrongs, <sup>11</sup> and doeth not any of those duties; but even eateth upon the mountains, and defileth his neighbour's wife; <sup>12</sup> oppresseth the poor and needy, spoileth by violence, restoreth not a pledge; lifteth up his eyes to the idols, and committeth abomination; <sup>13</sup> giveth forth upon usury and taketh increase; shall he then live? He shall not live: he hath done all these abominations; he shall surely die; <sup>14</sup> his blood shall be upon him.

<sup>14</sup> But lo, if he beget a son who seeth all his father's sins which he hath done, and considereth, and doeth not such like; <sup>15</sup> he eateth not upon the mountains, nor lifteth up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel; he defileth not his neighbour's wife, <sup>16</sup> nor oppresseth a man, nor withholdeth a pledge, nor spoileth by violence; he giveth his bread to the hungry, and covereth the naked with a garment; <sup>17</sup> he turneth away his hand from the poor, receiveth not usury nor increase; executeth my judgments, walketh in my statutes; that one shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live. <sup>18</sup> As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, spoiled his brother by violence, and did what is not good among his people, then lo, <sup>19</sup> he shall die by his iniquity.

<sup>19</sup> But ye say, Why, doth not <sup>20</sup> the son bear the iniquity of the father? When the son doeth judgment and justice, keepeth all my statutes and doeth them, he shall surely live. <sup>20</sup> The soul that sinneth, it shall die. <sup>21</sup> The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, nor shall the father bear the iniquity of the son. The <sup>22</sup> righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him. <sup>21</sup> But <sup>22</sup> if the wicked turneth from all his sins that he hath committed, and keepeth all my statutes, and doeth judgment and justice, he shall surely live, he shall not die. <sup>22</sup> All <sup>23</sup> his transgressions that he hath committed shall not be mentioned against him; <sup>24</sup> in his righteousness that he doeth he shall live.

<sup>23</sup> Have <sup>24</sup> I any pleasure at all in the death of the wicked, saith the Lord GOD; is it not <sup>25</sup> in his turning away from his ways, that he may live?

<sup>24</sup> And if <sup>25</sup> the righteous turneth away from his righteousness and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked doeth, shall he live! All his righteousness that he hath done shall not be mentioned: for his treachery that he hath committed, and for his sin that he hath sinned, for them shall he die.

<sup>25</sup> Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. Hear now, ye house of Israel; Is <sup>26</sup> not my way equal? Are not your ways unequal? <sup>26</sup> If the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and dieth therein; for his iniquity that he hath done shall he die. <sup>27</sup> And <sup>28</sup> if the wicked turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth judgment and justice, he shall keep his soul alive. <sup>28</sup> Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die.

<sup>29</sup> Yet <sup>30</sup> saith the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. Ye house of Israel, Are not my ways equal? Are not your ways unequal? <sup>30</sup> Therefore, ye house of Israel, <sup>31</sup> I will judge you, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord GOD.

Repent and <sup>32</sup> turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin. <sup>31</sup> Cast <sup>32</sup> away from you all your transgressions whereby ye have transgressed, and make you <sup>33</sup> a new heart and a new spirit. And <sup>34</sup> why will ye die, ye house of Israel? <sup>32</sup> For <sup>33</sup> I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord GOD. Wherefore turn yourselves, and live ye.

* or, their widows.	And he learned to catch the prey, he devoured men. 7 And he knew their desolate palaces*, And he laid waste their cities; And the land was desolated and its fulness, By the noise of his roaring.	5 And say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD: In the day when <sup>d</sup> I chose Israel, and <sup>e</sup> I lifted up my hand unto the seed of the house of Jacob, and <sup>f</sup> I made myself known unto them in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up my hand unto them, saying, <sup>g</sup> I am the LORD your God; <sup>h</sup> in that day I lifted up my hand unto them, <sup>i</sup> to bring them forth from the land of Egypt into a land that I had espied for them, flowing with milk and honey, <sup>j</sup> which is the glory of all lands; <sup>k</sup> and I said unto them, Cast ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with <sup>l</sup> the idols of Egypt: I am the LORD your God.	d Deu.7.6. e Deu. 32. f Ex. 4.31.
g 2 Ki. 24. 2.	8 Then <sup>o</sup> the nations set against him, On every side from the provinces, And spread their net over him; He was taken in their pit.	8 But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken unto me; they did not every man cast away the abominations of their eyes, <sup>n</sup> nor did they forsake the idols of Egypt. Then I <sup>m</sup> thought to pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them, in the midst of the land of Egypt. <sup>o</sup> But <sup>p</sup> I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned before the nations, among whom they were, <sup>q</sup> in whose sight I made myself known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt. <sup>r</sup> And <sup>s</sup> I caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness. <sup>t</sup> And <sup>u</sup> I gave them my statutes, and made them know my judgments, <sup>v</sup> which a man shall do, that he may live by them. <sup>w</sup> And I gave them also my <sup>x</sup> sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I, the LORD, do sanctify them.	g Ex. 3. 6. h Ex. 3.17; ch. 14; ch. 15; Jer. 32. 22. i Dan. 11. 41; Zec.7. 14.
h 2 Chr. 36. 6.	9 And <sup>a</sup> they put him in a cage, with nose-rings, And brought him to the king of Babylon; They brought him into strongholds; That his voice should no more be heard upon the mountains of Israel.	13 But the house of Israel <sup>t</sup> rebelled against me in the wilderness; they walked not in my statutes, and they despised my judgments, which a man shall do, that he may live by them; and my sabbaths they greatly profaned. And I <sup>u</sup> thought to pour out my fury upon them in the wilderness, to consume them. <sup>v</sup> But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned before the nations, in whose sight I brought them out.	k Deu. 29. 16-18; Jos.24.14.
i ch. 17. 6. * or, thy likeness.	10 Thy mother was like <sup>a</sup> a vine, in thy blood <sup>t</sup> , Planted by the waters; It was fruitful <sup>k</sup> and full of branches, By reason of many waters.	13 But the house of Israel <sup>t</sup> rebelled against me in the wilderness; they walked not in my statutes, and they despised my judgments, which a man shall do, that he may live by them; and my sabbaths they greatly profaned. And I <sup>u</sup> thought to pour out my fury upon them in the wilderness, to consume them. <sup>v</sup> But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned before the nations, in whose sight I brought them out.	l Ex. 32.3, 4. m ch. 7. 8.
